

This is Colorado Football

The University of Colorado Football Program is one of the premier and most respected programs in the United States. Over the course of the last decade, Colorado is firmly entrenched as one of the nation's top 10 winningest programs, has been one of America's most televised schools and has emerged as one of the most popular schools for high school seniors to consider.

- ♦ Colorado is 98-30-4 overall since the 1989 season, the nation's eighth best record in this time frame;
- ◆ CU is the nation's sixth winningest team on the road over the course of the last 12 years, posting an incredible 42-16-1 record, a 72.1 winning percentage. Only three schools have won more road games and many of CU's road contests have been against ranked teams (CU owns a 12-14 mark);
- ◆ Colorado owned the fourth longest streak in the NCAA of consecutive weeks ranked in the nation's top 25 last decade. It was a run of 143 straight weeks, or every Associated Press and Coaches poll since the start of 1989 into the '97 season. It stands as the longest in CU history and was topped only by Nebraska at the time, Florida State and Florida both recently passed it. It's pretty good company, as the four schools have combined to win seven of the last 11 national championships;
- Colorado has played in 13 bowl games over the course of the last 15 seasons, and owns the nation's longest active bowl game winning streak of six;
- ◆ Colorado was on national or regional television 74 times in the 1990s, making the Buffs one of the five most televised schools in the country:
- ♦ In the 1990s, Colorado played 57 ranked teams, the second most in the nation and one reason why CU is televised as much as it is—the Buffs will take on all-comers; the Buffs have defeated a nationally ranked team 12 straight years, the second longest streak in the nation;
- ◆ Colorado had 12 consecutive winning seasons between 1985 and 1997, one of only nine schools nationally with a streak that long and won at least 10 games in 1994, 1995 and 1996 (one of four to accomplish that feat) and eight or more in 10 of the last 12 seasons;

- ◆ Colorado has produced the fourth-most active players in the National Football League, as 34 former Buffaloes were on the final 1999 NFL rosters, and 40 were in training camps at the start of the 2000 season. Such Buff alumni included Kordell Stewart and Joel Steed (Pittsburgh), Alfred Williams and Tom Rouen (of two-time Super Bowl champion Denver), Charles Johnson, Koy Detmer and Eric Bieniemy (Pittsburgh), Greg Biekert (Oakland), Michael Westbrook (Washington), Deon Figures (Jacksonville), Chris Hudson (Chicago) and Ted Johnson (New England);
- ◆ Colorado athletes won seven of college football's top postseason honors in the 1990s, the third most in the nation. These include a Heisman Trophy winner (Rashaan Salaam), two Butkus Award winners (Alfred Williams, Matt Russell) and two Thorpe Award winners (Deon Figures and Chris Hudson);
- ◆ In its history, Colorado football players have won five Rhodes Scholarships (considered the pinnacle of academic achievement), the most, and only, by any school in the Big 12 Conference;
- ◆ The team grade point average for the 2000 spring semester was 2.55, comparable to that of the Boulder campus (2.76), amidst a student body of over 25,000 at one of the premier academic institutions in Division I-A.

This is the University of Colorado

- ◆ Situated in Boulder, a Rocky Mountain foothills community of 95,000 located 25 miles northwest of Denver, the nation's 17th largest metropolitan area selected five straight years as one of the top two places to live in the nation.
- ◆ Year Founded: 1876 (Boulder and Canon City vied for the state university and the state prison; Boulder received the university). Boulder originally was part of the territory included in the Louisiana Purchase in 1803, and Boulder County is comprised of 753 square miles, with elevations ranging from 5,000 feet (plains) to 14,000-foot peaks of the Continental Divide.
- ◆ Enrollment of 28,373 in the spring of 2000, including 22,660 undergraduates and 5,713 graduate students.
- ◆ Average Test Scores: 22-28 (ACT), 1080-1260 (SAT).
- In-State Tuition: $2,514; Out-of-State Tuition: $15,832; Room & Board: $5,538; Books: $750; Fees $850. The approximate value of a four-year scholarship offered by intercollegiate athletics: $38,600 (in-state), $92,000 (out-of-state). Sixty-eight percent are Colorado residents.
- → Degrees Conferred (1998-99): 3,900 bachelor's, 1,115 masters, 481 doctorate.
- ♦ Male-to-Female Ratio: 52% to 48%.
- ◆ Student-to-Faculty Ratio: 14 to 1. Fifty-four percent of all undergraduate classes enroll no more than 22 students, and 84 percent enroll fewer than 50 students.
- Top Three Academic Programs: Space Sciences, Engineering, Molecular Biology.
- Holidays Observed In-Semester: Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Martin Luther King Day, Spring Break.
- ◆ One of the four most outstanding universities in the United States according to the 2000 Fiske Guide to Colleges (with Brown, Stanford and Virginia), based on academics, social life and quality of life.

Academics

When it comes to academics, the University of Colorado has been referred to as "the Harvard of the Rockies." CU-Boulder has long been considered one of the premier public institutions west of the Mississippi River, consistently ranked at the top of all Big 12 Conference member schools when the annual rankings are issued by nationally respected publications like The Fiske Guide to Colleges and U.S. News and World Report.

While grade point average has been the standard measure for academic all-conference and all-America honors, it's not a true gauge to compare institutions. CU-Boulder doesn't have an open admittance policy like most of the schools in the conference, and in Division I-A for that matter. Yet in the latest compilation of UCB statistics, the average GPA of CU's 310 student-athletes was 2.790, a shade higher than that of the rest of CU's 28,000-plus student body (and was an impressive 2.894 for the spring semester). Over 84 percent of the student-athletes who exhaust their eligibility at CU graduate, one of the highest figures in the Big 12 Conference.

Jim Hansen became the fifth CU football player to be awarded the prestigious Rhodes Scholarship in 1992

The ultimate of all academic honors for the student-athlete is being awarded the Rhodes Scholarship. Five CU football players have been afforded the Rhodes, the last coming in 1992 when Jim Hansen earned the honor, with several others reaching the finalist stage (last accomplished by Eric McCarty in 1988). It is the belief that a University of Colorado education prepares one to be in position to challenge for the Rhodes; only five schools have produced more football players who have won the Rhodes than Colorado: Dartmouth, Princeton, Sewanee, Virginia and Wesleyan, some impressive academic company. In the Big 12, only Texas (one in football) and Iowa State (one in women's track) join Colorado to have had athletes honored with the Rhodes.

Each year, CU selects an "Academic Starters" team, as those players with the highest grade point average at each position earn the honor. The 24 players on this year's team combined for a cumulative GPA of 2.922, also a bit above the campus average.

Dal Ward Athletic Center

The 1990-91 athletic season is landmark for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced national championships in football (its first) and skiing (its 14th at the time), and the men's basketball team reached the NIT Final Four.

That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality. The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December, 1990, to completion the following August.

The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. This multifunctional, state-of-the-art structure is one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics.

The Dal Ward Center boasts 92,000 square feet that includes a massive academic center, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and daily dining area, an auditorium, men's and women's lockerrooms, a player's lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November, 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February, 1991. The structure was available for the football team's use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, which made him the third-winningest coach in CU history at the time. His teams, noted for the single wing offense, were a constant threat to Oklahoma's supremacy in the Big Seven Conference.

The facility has several outstanding attributes, which benefit both the athletic department and the entire CU-Boulder campus. The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italinate architecture were selected to compliment the style of the Boulder campus. The Center also establishes a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two-story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase.

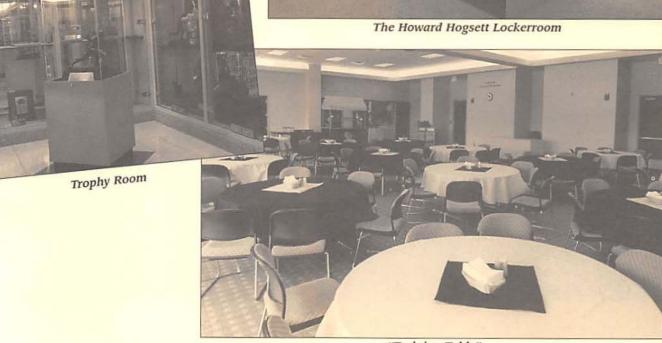

The Dal Ward Center allows CU athletics to provide a facility that is competitive with equivalent successful NCAA athletic programs. "We have built something that will truly give our athletes a chance to compete with the best," then-athletic director Bill Marolt said.

The building was designed by the architectural firm of Sink Combs Dethlefs of Denver, with construction performed by Gerald H. Phipps, Inc.

Strength & Conditioning

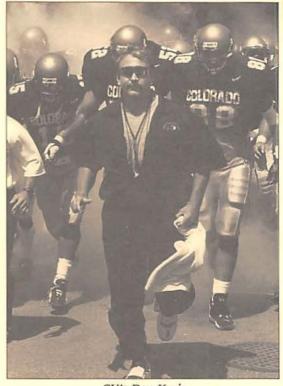

Colorado has one of the most popular and revered speedstrength and conditioning coaches in the country in E.J. "Doc" Kreis. If he looks familiar, it might be because he has had infomercials running on television with "Body by Jake." He has also helped train several Olympic and world class athletes.

But his main focus is developing the student-athletes who make up CU's 17 intercollegiate sport programs. To that end, Doc keeps up with the latest in both equipment and technologies, constantly integrating both to make Colorado's among the best conditioned in the country.

The speed-strength and conditioning center is located on the main floor of the Dal Ward building. Overlooking Folsom Field, it's one of the most aesthetic in the nation.

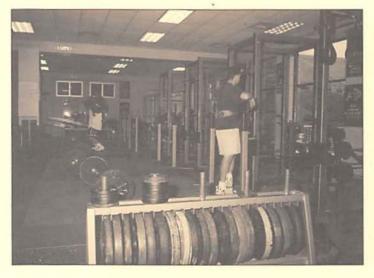

Training at altitude has its advantages as well. It builds stamina and endurance, which is why many of the world's top road racers live in Boulder, home of the world's fourth largest race (the Bolder Boulder, run every Memorial Day). It's also one of the reasons that CU has won 49 consecutive games in which it has had a two-score or more lead at any point during the game, as the Buffaloes have a history of finishing strong.

CU's Doc Kreis

Awards

In the 1990s, Colorado athletes won seven trophies, tying for the third most nationally. The postseason "hardware" includes the Heisman Trophy and the Lombardi, Maxwell, Walter Camp, Butkus, Thorpe, O'Brien, Unitas, Groza, Biletnikoff, Walker, Bednarik, Nagurski and Tatupu awards.

Aside from the winners, the Buffaloes have had over three dozen athletes seriously contend for these prestigious postseason awards since the 1988 season. There hasn't been a trophy or award during this time that at one time or another a CU player hasn't been in the hunt for. Chalk most of it up to the personal accomplishments and dedication of the individual student-athlete, along with the name recognition that the Colorado program has brought to the table. teams in college football and being a regular contender for conference titles and for the national championship in 1989, 1990 and 1994, the exposure the players receive on national television is second to none.

Schools that have had the most winners in the last decade have been Ohio State 12, Florida State 8, Colorado 7, Florida 7, Miami, Fla. 7, Michigan 7, Arizona 5, Nebraska 5, Penn State 5, BYU 4, Texas 4, Wisconsin 4, Notre Dame 3, Tennessee 3, UCLA 3 and Washington 3. Ohio State has had the most different players win with six, followed by Colorado with five: Alfred Williams (Butkus), Deon Figures (Thorpe), Chris Hudson (Thorpe), Rashaan Salaam (Heisman, Walter Camp, Doak Walker) and Matt Russell (Butkus).

Buffs in the National Football League

In 1979, Colorado led the nation with 47 active players in the National Football League. That number dipped a bit in the 1980s, but last decade, CU returned to the top five, leading both the Big Eight and Big 12 conferences the entire decade in active players in the NFL.

With 34 active players at the end of the 1999 season, Colorado trailed only Notre Dame (40), Florida State (39) and Southern California (38). In 1999 training camps, there were 45 former Buffaloes on the opening rosters, with a similar number in 2000.

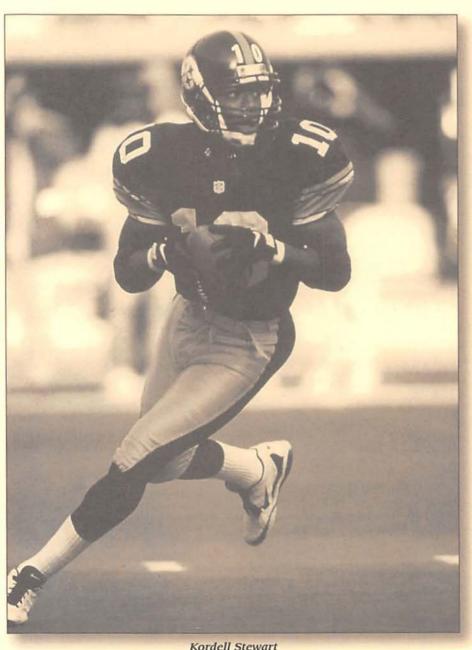

And it's not by accident. Ask any professional scout, and he'll tell you that Colorado treats pro scouts better than any school in the country. From bending over backwards to provide video highlights and seating in the press box at all home games, to CU's very own "Pro-Timing Day" every March (an exclusive mini-combine for Colorado players), the people in CU athletics go that extra mile.

CU leads the nation in postseason all-star game appearances with 28 over the last five years; no other program has placed that many of its players into these vital all-star games, witnessed by hundreds of scouts from every team in the National Football League. Two staffers, sports information director Dave Plati and director of equipment Mike Smith have worked a combined eight Hula Bowls, one of the postseason all-star showcases for senior student-athletes. Their efforts help maintain solid relationships with pro scouts year-round.

Through the years, Colorado has been the leading producer for its neighbor, the two-time defending world champion Denver Broncos. A total of 26 Buffaloes have made the Denver rosters through the years, but it's not just those players who suit up for the Broncos who have called the Denver area home.

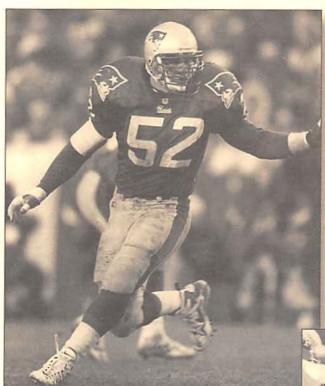

Ranked either first or second the last five years as both the nation's No. 1 sports metropolitan area and Fortune Magazine's best U.S. cities to live, many former Buffs have made

Mentor Program (UCAMP)

The University of Colorado has begun a most unique program to intercollegiate athletics: the University of Colorado Athletic Mentor Program, known as UCAMP.

The program was created to fill a void in the educational process of student-athletes in today's world. While many athletes aspire to become a professional athlete, the reality is that less than 3 percent actually advance to the next level (and for those who, the average career in the National Football League is approximately three years).

The main purpose of UCAMP is to expose CU's student-athletes to the real world: its demands, its rules and its rewards. Since this aspect of their education cannot be learned in a classroom, this is a rewarding experience provided to the student-athlete. The hope is that UCAMP will complete the collegiate experience for our students, and provide them with the tools for post-graduation success.

Jeannie Potts-Dixon, CU's assistant athletic director for community relations, is the coordinator of UCAMP. Her position is also another unique one in college athletics. While in existence with almost all professional teams, CU was a trailblazer and was one of the first to staff a community relations department strictly for athletics. The program signed up an impressive 88 mentors from all walks of life in just its first six months of existence, with the goal to have a mentor for all 300-plus of CU's student-athletes.

Not just anyone can be a mentor. They are often referred to the department, and all are interviewed. They attend training sessions, special events and occasional games, and have to be in contact with their student-athlete no less than four hours a month.

Rashidi Barnes, a four-year letterman, celebrating his 2000 graduation.

Mentors in the program are best described as follows. They're a connection, a guide, a listener, an adviser, a responsible adult, a wise and trusted friend, someone who has been there and a source of career information. Successful mentors boast several traits, including a desire to help student-athletes and to value them as people; an interest in establishing a personal relationship with a student-athlete; a willingness to commit time and effort to developing that relationship; an ability to establish trust and maintain confidentiality; excellent listening skills; and an ability to provide constructive feedback.

The goals of the program are to introduce the student-athlete to post graduate life skills and career development; to place student-athletes in viable community service projects; and to assist with opportunities in degree directed internships and employment prior to graduation. UCAMP is thus a compliment to the rigorous schedule the student-athlete already faces, but is a welcome one and has proven to be a most positive experience for all those involved.

Boulder & Denver

- ♦ In Money magazine's annual ranking of the best places to live in America, topping the list in its 1999 issue was Boulder for medium-sized city areas in the western half of the United States. Several facets were factored in the rankings, including economy, housing, crime rate, pollution, weather and overall quality of life. Boulder was joined by only nearby Fort Collins and Seattle of 12 city areas honored nationwide in four geographical regions—and those were the only three cities west of the Mississippi selected. Denver came in second to Seattle in the large city category.
- ◆ The Denver-Boulder metropolitan area is the 22nd largest (1.9 million) in the United States, according to population estimates in 1995. Denver was the 26th largest city in the 1990 census, with a population of 468,000. Boulder's population was estimated at 95,662, including students, in 1995.
- ◆ Denver is located just 25 miles southeast of the University of Colorado campus. Boulder is not classified as a suburb of Denver; it's nestled in its own valley at the foothills of the rugged Rocky Mountains. Thus, CU students and employees can live and work with the knowledge that they're in a unique situation of being "close to a big metropolitan city, yet far enough away."

Eldora Ski Resort

Denver Skyline

Boulder Mall

- ◆ Called the "Mile High City" because it is exactly 5,280 feet above sea level, Denver's central location in the United States provides convenient access for the entire country. The $5 billion Denver International Airport, which opened in 1995, is the fourth busiest airport in the nation, serving 200 U.S. cities and over three dozen foreign countries.
- ◆ Boulder is a sports-oriented town, and has been named the No. 1 outdoor sports town by Outdoor Magazine. It is home of the Bolder Boulder, the second largest 10K race in the nation (45,000 runners every Memorial Day). Boulder is also the home and training ground for several of the world's Olympicclass athletes.
- As for the climate, there is an average of 250 sunny days per year with clear weather, and about 320 days annually where the sun will shine. It is not unusual to have 60 and 70 degree days during the winter months, and the humidity hovers at a low percentage year round. Larger snowfalls are usually confined to the mountain areas, providing the base for dozens of Colorado ski resorts and some of the best skiing in the world.

The Colorado High Country

Some of the most scenic landscapes in the nation, not to mention the world, are right here in Colorado. There are very few places that exist where you can live with a cosmopolitan lifestyle like the Denver-Boulder area has to offer, yet be only an hour or two away from some of the most beautiful country

Colorado Sports Scene

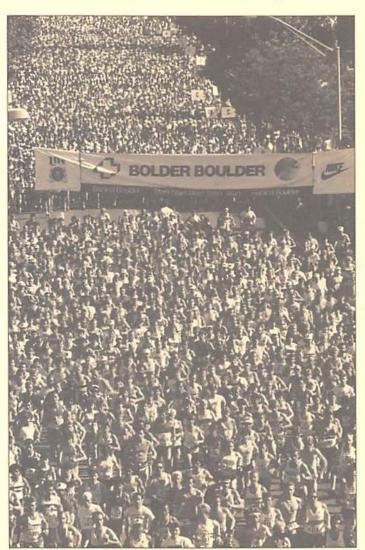

Few would argue that Colorado and the Denver-Boulder area in particular has been the hot spot for sports in the 1990s. In 1997, The Sporting News ranked the Denver area as the nation's No. 1 sports city. To qualify, a city had to have a franchise in all four major leagues (NFL, NBA, NHL and baseball), and also claim a university for Division I football and basketball.

In the '90s, the area was home to three national champions in college football (CU in 1990, Northern Colorado in 1996 and 1997), four NCAA ski champions (CU, all four times), two Super Bowl champions (Denver Broncos, in 1997 and 1998) and a Stanley Cup champion (Colorado Avalanche, in 1996).

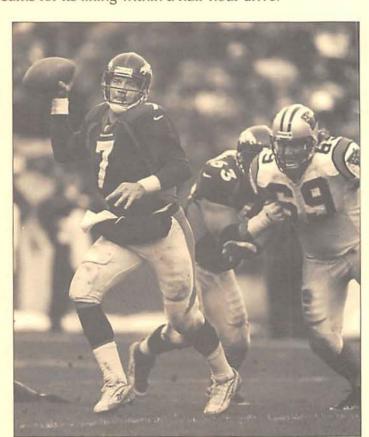

Denver is one of the few cities to have a franchise in five major sports: football (Broncos), basketball (Denver Nuggets), baseball (Colorado Rockies), hockey (Avalanche), and soccer (Colorado Rapids). The area also plays host to a major stop on the PGA Tour (the Sprint International) and the world's fourth largest road race (the Bolder Boulder, which had 44,000-plus runners in 2000). In the 1990s, Denver has been the host city for an NCAA Final Four and the NBA and

Major League Baseball All-Star games, and NCAA men's and women's basketball regionals are common in both Denver and Boulder. The Winter "X" Games have found a home in Crested Butte, a tiny mountain community three hours to the southwest.

The University of Colorado fits right in, as the main Boulder campus is just 25 miles northwest of Denver, offering major college athletic competition right along with the best professional sports has to offer. In fact, CU is one of just three schools in the nation that is not located within a major city, yet has four major league teams for its liking within a half-hour drive.

A Program of Finishers

The University of Colorado has long been known as a program of finishers, full of student-athletes and coaches who know how to get the job done.

There's no better way to describe the attitude in Boulder. Fueled by a collective spirit, Colorado coaches, studentathletes and administrators not only set lofty goals, but they also make lofty achievements.

In 1996, Colorado was one of just three schools to place a team in the final top 25 polls for men's basketball, women's basketball, football and volleyball, further establishing itself as a leader in NCAA competition. The four-sport accomplishment is one of the rarest in intercollegiate athletics.

Looking beyond the national headline-grabbing sports, CU is among the leaders in the NCAA. The Colorado ski team has won 16 national titles, including four in the 1990s (1991-95-98-99), leaving the millennium as the team of the decade.

Several Colorado players secured individual NCAA titles in 2000, including Aimee-Noel Hartley (a second straight women's giant slalom crown), Andy LeRoy (women's slalom) and Katka Hanusova (women's 10k classical). Nine Buffaloes earned All-America honors.

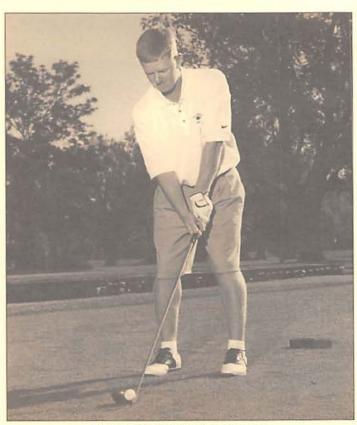

In men's cross country, the Buffs won their fifth consecutive conference title (one Big Eight, four Big 12 titles) and to a seventh place finish in the NCAA. Kara Wheeler was the Big 12 champion in leading CU to its third women's title in the four-year existence of the conference.

CU has been a mainstay in the top 25 of the Sears Cup competition, developed by NACDA (National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics) in 1993 to compare of intercollegiate athletic programs around the country. When points earned in the Sears Cup standings are divided by the number of sports a school offers, CU has been in the top 20 for six years in a row.

The University of Colorado sponsors 17 intercollegiate athletic programs, and it is the department goal to put each in the position to contend for the Big 12 Conference championship. In the process, the national championship is within realistic reach, thanks to the Big 12 being one of the strongest in the nation virtually across the board in every sport it sponsors.

The Ski Team won back-to-back National Championships in 1998 and 1999.

Matt Call played as an amateur in the 1999 U.S. Open.

The Buffs In the 1990s

- The football team had a 87-29-4 record (a 74.2 winning percentage), the 1990 National Championship, two conference championships and a 7-2 record in bowl games, including a nations-best six straight wins, and at one point spent a school record 143 consecutive weeks ranked in the nation's Top 25;
- ◆ The ski team was the program of the 1990s in winning four national championships (1991-95-98-99), producing 89 All-Americans and 19 individual NCAA champions in the process.
- The cross country teams have been among the elite in the nation. The Buffs have six men's and six women's conference championships, along with six men's and two women's regional championships last decade. The men's team has six top five NCAA finishes with a second place finish in 1994 and two third-place efforts, while the women have four top five finishes with a runner-up finish in 1995. Adam Goucher was the individual NCAA champion in 1998.
- The volleyball team had a 214-98 record (.686), three NCAA Sweet 16 appearances and appeared in a postseason tournament every year. CU has finished in the top three in the conference every year but one, including six second-place finishes and the 1993 Big Eight Championship;
- The women's basketball team had a 208-98 record (.680), finishing in the top 10 in the final Associated Press poll five times. They have made six NCAA Championship appearances, have won four conference tournament titles and three conference championships, with the 1994-95 team finishing 30-3 in advancing to the Elite Eight in the NCAA Tournament.
- ◆ The men's basketball team made its first NCAA Championships appearance for the first time in 27 years in 1996 behind current NBA star Chauncey Billups. CU also had three NIT postseason tournament appearances, advancing to the NIT Final Four (in New York) and finishing third in 1991.
- The indoor and outdoor track & field teams have produced 48 men's and 55 women's All-Americans, with the 1996 women's outdoor team winning the inaugural Big 12 Championship. Both teams were well represented at the 2000 Olympic Trials, as eight athletes competed for spots for the Sydney games (with two qualifying as of press time).

Kara Wheeler was the CU female athlete of the year as she earned All-America honors in both cross country and track and qualified for the 2000 Summer Olympic Trials.

Jaquay Walls was the CU male co-athlete of the year, leading the CU basketball team to its first back-to-back winning seasons in 19 years and to a berth in the NIT.

- The men's tennis team had a 175-98 record (.641), winning the 1993 Big Eight Conference title, along with two second place and three third place conference finishes. Eleven Buffs have won individual conference titles and four doubles tandems were conference champions.
- The women's tennis team has a 160-96 record (.625), finishing second in the Big 12 in 1999 after taking third in 1998. CU had three conference champions in singles play and two league champs in doubles competition.
- ◆ The men's golf team had seven NCAA Championship appearances, including a trips to the NCAA Finals in 1994 and 1999. The Buffs won five tournaments last decade, along with one second and three third place finishes in league play. CU had three All-Americans in the decade, with Bob Kalinowski a twotime conference champion in 1993 and 1994.
- ◆ The women's golf team began play in 1994 and has steadily improved in each of its six seasons in its young history. The last two teams have set numerous school records, saw Sarah Bellinger finish an impressive fourth in the Big 12 meet, and had Michelle Thomas become the first-ever CU individual to win a tournament by claiming the 1998 Heather Farr Memorial.
- ◆ The women's soccer team began play in 1996 and had a 28-42-5 record (.407). The program but has annually played one of the nation's toughest schedules, setting the stage for success, which they tasted in 1999 by posting the school's first-ever winning season (11-8-1);
- Academically, CU has improved as the decade has progressed, with the cumulative grade point average of its 310 student-athletes at 2.790 following the 2000 spring semester (in which they combined for a 2.894 GPA). That figure is a shade above the average of the entire Boulder campus, quite an accomplishment considering the academic honors bestowed on the University that very few peers seldom receive.

CU & the Bowls

Colorado is 11-12 in bowl games, and is currently among the elite in bowl appearances and winning streaks. Only five schools have been to more bowls since 1985 than the Buffaloes, and CU owns the nation's longest active winning streak at six games. Colorado's first bowl game ever was the second annual Cotton Bowl Classic on Jan. 1, 1938. The Buffaloes were heavy underdogs, but held their own in a 28-14 lost to Southwest powerhouse Rice (CU led 14-0 at one point with All-American Byron "Whizzer" White calling the shots).

Other Bowl Tidbits

- Colorado has played only four teams more than once in the postseason bowls: Notre Dame three times, and Alabama, Oregon and Washington twice.
- ◆ Colorado's 23 postseason bowl appearances ranks 21st all-time (Alabama leads with 50, with Tennessee second at 40). CU has played the fifth most bowl games by members of the Big 12 Conference, trailing Texas (39), Nebraska (38), Oklahoma (33) and Texas A & M (25).
- ◆ Since 1985, Colorado is tied for sixth in the most bowl appearances with 13, trailing only Florida State, Michigan and Nebraska, all with 15, and Penn State and Tennessee, each with 14. Alabama, BYU and Miami, Fla., are tied with the Buffs at 13, while Ohio State, Syracuse, Texas A & M and Washington have been to 12 bowls in the last 15 seasons.
- ◆ The Buffs are 20-3 in regular season finales prior to bowl games, losing for the first time ever in 1996 at Nebraska, who also beat the Buffs in 1998 and 1999.

The Schedule

In 1977, the NCAA officially started tracking which schools played the toughest schedules among all Division I-A members every year.

Colorado had unofficially played the nation's toughest in 1971, a roll call that included No. 9 Louisiana State, No. 6 Ohio State, No. 2 Oklahoma, No. 1 Nebraska and No. 15 Houston in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl. It played a large part in the 10-2 Buffaloes being ranked No. 3 in the final polls that year.

Since 1977, only four schools have played the country's most severe schedule on more than one occasion: Notre Dame (five times), Penn State (three), Colorado (two) and Florida (two). Penn State (1982), CU (1990) and Florida (1996) are the only three schools to have won the national championship after playing what was determined to be the nation's toughest schedule.

The Buffaloes had the toughest twice last decade, in 1990 when they went 11-1-1 to win the school's first national championship, and in 1997, when opponents combined to go 81-40, proving to be the sixth hardest schedule of all-time.

Colorado could be in position to play the nation's toughest grid schedule for the third time in the last 11 years. Based solely on won-lost record from last year, the opponents on CU's 2000 schedule combined for a 79-53 record, a 59.8 winning percentage. That ranks the schedule eighth on previous years' record alone; see the full chart on the next page.

No other Big 12 Conference member school has ever played the nation's top schedule, and on only one occasion (Oklahoma in 1994) has a team ever finished second.

The philosophy has long been and will remain that Colorado wants to play the best teams when it comes to non-conference scheduling. And it has led to the Buffaloes being one of the top five most televised teams on a national and regional basis in the 1990s.

In the last 15 years, CU has played many intersectional opponents ranked in the nation's top 25, including the likes of Tennessee, Michigan, Ohio State, Arizona, UCLA, Wisconsin, Illinois, Washington, Notre Dame and Colorado State, along with Texas and Texas A&M before they became members of the Big 12. And that list doesn't include bowl game foes Alabama, Syracuse, BYU and Oregon.

And nothing will change this decade, as schools that dot the non-league schedule include Southern Cal, UCLA, Florida State, Washington, Penn State, North Carolina, Arizona and Arizona State.

And despite playing these kinds of schedules, CU has consistantly been ranked among the nation's elite, finishing in the top 20 for eight straight seasons (1989-96), and five times in the top eight.

What's it all mean? Everything, when looking at the criteria for the Bowl Championship Standings and the huge part strength of schedule plays. And student-athletes want to play the best, to see if their best matches up with the other top programs in the country.

(#)—indicates has that number pick for a conference, not necessarily the school that finishes in that position in the conference standings.
*—The Jeep Oahu/Aloha Bowls has the right to select, if eligible, either the fourth or fifth team out of the ACC, a Big East school, Notre Dame or Hawaii.

THE BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

When not hosting the national championship game or having a conference champion participating in the national championship game, the following bowls will have these conference champions serving as host teams: Fiesta (Big 12), Orange (ACC or Big East), Rose (Big 10 and Pac-10) and Sugar (SEC). For the 2000 season, the Orange Bowl has the right to host the national championship game, to be followed by the Rose Bowl (2001; the Fiesta Bowl hosted the 1998 season and the Sugar Bowl in '99). The champions of the ACC, Big East, Big 10, Big 12, Pac 10 and SEC have automatic berths into the BCS. However, criteria is in place to allow for the Conference USA, Mountain West and WAC champions, major independents and other at-large teams to be eligible (must be ranked sixth or higher in the BCS Standings). Any Division I-A team can quality for selection in the BCS if they have won a minimum of nine games (not including wins in exempted games and are ranked in the top 12 of the BCS Standings. The standings will be formulated from a statistical rating system calculated from both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches polls, eight nationally published computer rankings, strength of schedule and team record; all four components are then added together to create a school's ranking.

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

A brief history of 124 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state. The doors of Old Main opened the following year with 44 students, an instructor, and the president who taught and lived there with his family, pasturing his horse nearby.

Here at the foot of the Flatirons, the distinguished faculty and students from a variety of backgrounds work together to create a lively academic environment. CU-Boulder's challenging academic programs, inspiring natural setting, and acclaimed architecture attract about 28,000 students from this country and around the globe. Another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in Denver, the University of Colorado at Denver and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. The four-campus system is led by the President and nine elected Regents, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer.

The University System, and especially the flagship institution in Boulder, has played a key role in the economic development of the state and the Rocky Mountain region. CU ranks 10th among all public institutions in federally sponsored research and 17th among the top 100 public universities and colleges in overall research expenditures. Many of the high-tech companies located along the Front Range owe their origins to CU-Boulder's cutting-edge science.

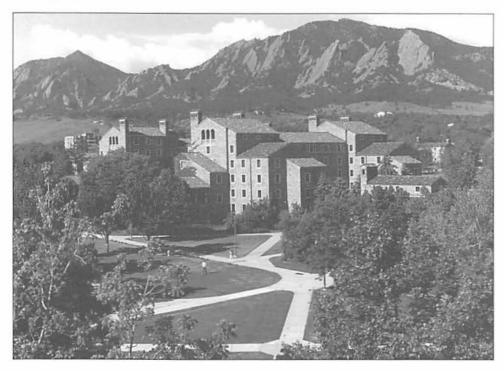

CU has shown that RNA can act as a catalyst in biochemical reactions, developed the first classification system of human chromosomes, created the first national model to assess child development, successfully completed the first instance of human cloning, identified the battered child syndrome, discovered the process of aging is under direct genetic control, developed ways of dealing with natural hazards, created the coldest temperature on Earth, and alerted the nation to heightened academic pressures on kindergarten children.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 15 men and women who became astronauts. CU-Boulder is the only university where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields of study representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions.

Teaching, research, and creative work are closely linked, providing students with a broad range of experiences in classrooms, laboratories, seminars, field work, and study abroad opportunities. Some programs provide off-campus internships for on-the-job learning while others require a commitment by students to public service. For those whose interests cross traditional lines, a number of interdisciplinary programs are available.

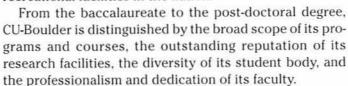

Visitors can experience the University's cosmopolitan atmosphere by visiting Fiske Planetarium, Sommers-Bausch Observatory, the Heritage Center in the original Old Main, the University of Colorado Museum, and Norlin Library. Lively performances are staged by the Artist Series, Department of Theatre and Dance, and the College of Music, and movie fans can relax with classic, contemporary, and avant garde films.

At CU-Boulder, the students and faculty recognize the mind-body connection, taking advantage of Boulder's foothills location to participate year-round in recreational and sports activities. In addition to intercollegiate programs for men and women, the Student Recreation Center offers clubs and intramural sports in one of the finest college recreational facilities in the nation.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents consists of nine members, serving staggered six-year terms, one each elected from the state's six congressional districts and three from the state at large. The members select their own chairman and vice chairman, and operate without any pay. Serving as chair for the 2000-2001 academic year is Jerry Rutledge, with Susan Kirk as the vice chair. Millie Caraballo serves as Secretary of the University and the Board of Regents.

The Board governs all four campuses of the University of Colorado. It is charged constitutionally with the general supervision of the University and the exclusive control and direction of all funds of and appropriations to the University, unless otherwise provided by law. A quick look at the nine current members of the Board of Regents:

HENRY F. ANTON, Jr.—Republican, Pueblo insurance broker; graduated with a B.S. degree in accounting from the University of Colorado at Boulder in 1960; served in the United States Army and Army Reserve from 1960 to 1966. He was elected to the Board in 1994 from Congressional District 3 for a six-year term, which will expire in 2000.

MAUREEN JOHNSON—Republican, political consultant. Attended the University of Colorado and majored in political science and environmental sciences. Raised on the western slope, she is the only student to ever run for Regent. Elected to the Board as an at-large candidate in 1996, she is serving a six-year term that will expire in 2002.

SUSAN C. KIRK—Democrat, Denver public affairs consultant; graduated from Vassar College in 1955 with a B.A. in sociology. She was elected to the Board from Congressional District 1 in 1992 and 1998, and her six-year term will expire in 2004.

THOMAS J. LUCERO, Jr.—Republican, Johnstown businessman; graduated with a B.A. degree in political science from the University of Colorado at Denver in 1992. He was elected to the Board in 1998 from Congressional District 4 for a six-year term, which will expire in 2004.

JAMES A. MARTIN, Jr.—Republican, Boulder businessman; received a B.A. in political science in 1973 and an M.P.A. in 1975 from the University of Colorado, and a J.D. from the University of Denver in 1989. He was elected to a statewide seat on the Board in 1992 and 1998, and his current six-year term will expire in 2004.

NORWOOD L. ROBB—Republican, Littleton businessman; received a B.S. in 1960 and an M.B.A. in 1961 from the University of Denver. Elected to the Board from Congressional District 6 in 1984, 1990 and 1996, his term will expire in 2002.

JERRY RUTLEDGE—Republican, Colorado Springs businessman; attended the University of Colorado at Boulder from 1962 to 1966. He has been the president of the Colorado Springs Buff Club for several years. He was elected to the Board in 1994 from Congressional District 5 for a six-year term, which will expire in 2000.

ROBERT E. SIEVERS—Democrat, Professor, University of Colorado at Boulder; graduated with a B. Chem. degree from the University of Tulsa in 1956 and earned his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in 1960. Elected to the Board from Congressional District 2 in 1990 and 1996, his current term will expire in 2002.

PETER F. STEINHAUER, D.D.S.—Republican, Boulder oral surgeon; attended the University of Colorado at Boulder from 1954 to 1958; received his D.D.S. from the University of Missouri at Kansas City in 1962, and completed his residency in 1965. A United States Navy and Vietnam Veteran, he was elected in 1994 to a statewide seat for a six-year term, which will expire in 2000.

PRESIDENT SANDY BRACKEN

Dr. Alexander E. "Sandy" Bracken began his term as the 19th president of the four-campus, 44,000-student University of Colorado System on June 1, 2000. The Board of Regents appointed Dr. Bracken on an interim basis on April 28, as he is bridging the gap between Dr. John Buechner, who retired after four years as president, and the eventual selection of his replacement.

Prior to his appointment, Dr. Bracken sat on the Colorado Commission on Higher Education (CCHE), an 11-member committee appointed by the governor to oversee higher education for Colorado, for more than eight years, serving as its chair from October 1997 through May 2000. Dr. Bracken also held the position of vice president of public affairs for Ball Aerospace and Technologies Corp. in Boulder from 1993 until he began his presidential term at CU, and is currently on an indefinite leave of absence from Ball.

Dr. Bracken, 53, is utilizing his unique background in higher education and business to strengthen the University of Colorado System. He is actively working with the state legislature and the CCHE to ensure the advancement of CU's public and private goals, meeting with the state's congressional delegation in Washington to identify new federal dollars, targeting foundations and industry to increase private philanthropy and corporate support, and working closely with faculty, staff and students to improve upon CU's legacy of world-class teaching and research.

With 18 years of experience in public affairs, Dr. Bracken's skill in building internal and external relationships with the media and a variety of stakeholders, ability to negotiate with the legislature, success conducting community relations activities, and effective management of Ball Aerospace's internal and external relations activities greatly helped develop the company into one of the nation's business leaders in technology.

Before joining Ball Aerospace in 1982, Dr. Bracken served as a history professor and Director of Educational Partnerships at Anderson College in Indiana. His curriculum focused on the histories of American business, American urban studies and the 20th century. He was also responsible for directing the office that developed partnerships between the college and area businesses.

Dr. Bracken earned his bachelor's degree from Carleton College in 1969, and his master's from Ball State in 1973. In 1978, he earned his Ph.D. in American History, also from Ball State. He also holds a master's degree in American History from Ball State University and a bachelor's degree in Government and International Relations from Carleton College in Minnesota.

Dr. Bracken and his wife, Sally, of 30 years have two grown daughters and have lived in the Boulder area for nearly two decades.

CHANCELLOR RICHARD BYYNY

Dr. Richard Byyny is his fourth year as the chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder, as he was named to the position on May 8, 1997, after serving in an interim capacity for four months prior to the full-time appointment.

Byyny, 61, has been associated with CU since 1977, when he came to Colorado from the University of Chicago to accept the vice chairman position in the Department of Medicine at the Health Sciences Center in Denver. He was serving in a similar capacity at Chicago when he moved out west to begin his career at CU.

In conjunction with his vice chairman position with the Department of Medicine, he also served as the Head of the Division of Internal Medicine, a position he held until 1994. He was responsible for developing the first Division of General Internal Medicine for CU, taking the program from the foundation stage to one that operated programs in three hospitals and two neighborhood health care centers.

In 1988, Dr. Byyny became the director of CU's General Internal Medicine Faculty Development and Fellowship Program, a position he would hold for seven years. He planned and acquired grant support, implemented and directed faculty development and postgraduate fellowship programs (including curriculum, academic experiences and evaluation) to prepare participants for careers in academic general internal medicine.

He was promoted to Executive Vice Chancellor of the Health Sciences Center in February, 1994, a job he performed for the next 18 months. In August, 1995, he made the move to the Boulder campus, accepting the position of Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Research and Dean of the System Graduate School. In that position, he was the chief academic officer of CU's four-campus system, a $1 billion entity serving some 40,000 students. He worked with all facets of the University, including the Board of Regents, the President, the chancellors, all vice chancellors and the faculty.

Dr. Byyny was selected the University of Colorado's Administrator of the Year for 1996, as he was the choice for the honor by the University System-wide Faculty Council and Senate.

He is a 1960 graduate of the University of Southern California, earning his bachelor's degree in history. He earned his doctor of medicine degree from USC in 1964. He has also studied at Stanford, Vanderbilt, Columbia and the University of Sydney in Australia to enhance his postgraduate education. He has earned a total of 16 awards and fellowships.

Born Jan. 6, 1939, in South Gate, Calif., he is married to the former Jo Garverick. The couple have three grown children, Kristen, Jan and Richard, Jr. He lettered in swimming and water polo as a prep at Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach, Calif.

Dr. Byyny was elected secretary of the four-member Big 12 Conference executive committee for the 2000-01 academic year.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE PHIL DISTEFANO

Dr. Philip P. DiStefano is in his first year as the University of Colorado's faculty representative to the Big 12 Conference, assuming the role on June 1, 2000.

He is just the fifth faculty representative to serve in this capacity for CU since 1947, as he replaced Dr. Jim Corbridge, who held the position from 1989 until his retirement in the spring of 2000.

DiStefano, 53, is currently Colorado's Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs, promoted to the position in July, 1998, after serving on an interim basis for 10 months.

He came to CU in 1974 from Ohio State University, where he earned his Doctorate in Philosophy in Humanities Education in June of that year. While at OSU, he spent three years as a teaching and research associate in humanities education.

DiStefano's first position at CU was that of an assistant professor for curriculum and instruction. He held that appointment for six years, and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1981. In June 1986, he was named professor of curriculum and instruction, a position he has maintained as vice chancellor. Also within that time frame, he served as an associate dean (1984-85) and as the director of graduate studies (1985-86).

In July of 1986, he was named the Dean for the School of Education, a post he would hold for the next 10 years. In September 1996, he was appointed as the associate vice chancellor for academic affairs, serving in that role for one year until assuming his current capacity on an interim basis in September of 1997.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Ohio State in humanities education in 1968, and received his master's in secondary education (English) from West Virginia University in 1971.

He was born Sept. 21, 1946 in Steubenville, Ohio, and graduated from Steubenville Catholic Central High School. He is married to the former Yvonne Pasquarella, and they have three daughters, Gia, Nicole and Jennifer.

A life long sports enthusiast, one of his childhood friends is former major league baseball player Rich Donnelly, who is currently the third base coach for the Colorado Rockies.

He is very active in the Boulder community, serving on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce as well as the Rotary Club. His hobbies include reading mysteries and biographies.

THE UNIVERSITY... DID YOU KNOW?

Here are some intriguing facts about the University of Colorado:

Once again, the University of Colorado has been ranked among the most outstanding universities in the United States in the 2000 Fiske Guide to Colleges (written by the former education writer at the New York Times). CU was joined by Brown, Stanford and Virginia, its usual company, in receiving 14 out of a maximum 15 points (no school received the full allotment). Points are assigned for academics, social life and qualify of life; CU received four points in academics and five each in the other two areas. Very few schools receive four or more academic points, with CU joined only by Boston University, Notre Dame, Rutgers, Texas and Tufts. The University of Colorado has often been referred to as a "Public lvy." The publication has also designated CU as one of 21 "best buys" in public higher education in the country.

The Apollo 13 astronaut Jack Swigert (played by Kevin Bacon in Ron Howard's 1995 movie) lettered in football at the University of Colorado from 1950 to 1952. Swigert was one of 15 CU graduates to fly in a NASA mission. Swigert passed away from cancer at the age of 52 several years ago. CU has several ties with NASA, ranks fourth in "astronauts produced" behind only MIT, Purdue and Stanford (excluding military academies), and has been heavily involved in the Hubble Telescope and the Galileo probe of Jupiter's atmosphere and moons. CU's first astronaut, Scott Carpenter, was America's second man in orbit.

The University of Colorado's graduate atomic and molecular physics program was ranked first in the nation in 1999 by U.S. News and World Report. The honor enabled CU to surpass perennial powers Harvard and M.I.T. in this field of study. Two CU physicists, Eric Cornell and Carl Wieman, created a new state of matter in the summer of 1995, which Albert Einstein first predicted would occur some 70 years ago.

CU is among the top universities in the country in gaining research support. Revenues from contracts and grants reached over $321.9 million in 1995, ranking CU 17th among the top 100 public research universities in overall research and expenditures. CU emphasizes both quality teaching and research as dual components of fine scholarship.

CU's 310-plus student athletes posted a cumulative 2.79 grade point average last semester, slightly higher than that of the campus overall—the fifth consecutive semester that has happened. The student-athletes are accomplishing this among a student body that averages 26 on the ACT and 1180 on the SAT (and unlike most of its Big 12 counterparts, CU does not have an open enrollment.)

U.S. News & World Report ranked CU-Boulder 31st among the nation's Top 50 National Public Universities in its 2000 Best Colleges issue. The rankings were based on factors such as academic reputation, retention, faculty resources, student selectivity and financial resources. Texas (13th), Iowa State (tie, 38th), Kansas (tie, 38th) and Missouri (48th) joined CU on the list from the Big 12.

CU-Boulder professors created a Web site called Physics 2000, where users can conduct more than 35 interactive "virtual experiments" on their computer screens. The site explains the workings of microwave ovens, X-rays and much more at www.colorado.edu/physics/2000.

The University of Colorado earns more research grant money than any other institution between California and Chicago. According to 1997-98 figures, CU's four-campus system received $181.7 million in research grants, placing the University in the same company as the Stanford's and the MIT's of the nation. Major contributors to CU included NASA, the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and the Commerce Department.

HLETIC DIRECTOR DICK THAR

Dick Tharp is in his fifth year as athletic director, as he was selected for a permanent appointment offered by the President and Chancellor on May 20, 1997, and was approved by the University of Colorado Board of Regents on June 4, 1997. He was athletic director in an interim capacity for the 1996-97 athletic year.

He is only the fourth athletic director in University of Colorado history, as he succeeded his good friend, Bill Marolt, when Marolt was named chief operating officer of U.S. Skiing, Marolt held the position between 1984 and 1996, and he followed Eddie Crowder (1965-84) and Harry Carlson (1927-65).

Tharp, 52, rejoined CU from private law practice, in which he had been engaged since leaving the University in 1994. Tharp has enjoyed a long association with the Boulder campus, dating back to his days as a student in CU's School of Law, earning his juris doctorate degree in 1973.

Following his graduation from CU, he became the school's assistant university counsel, a position he held until 1976, when he was named acting university counsel. He remained in that capacity through 1983.

He left CU in 1984 to become a full-time partner with the Boulder law firm of Martin and Mehaffy, a firm he has been a partner in since 1976. He worked with Martin and Mehaffy exclusively until 1989, when he returned to CU after being named vice president and university counsel by then-President Dr. Gordon Gee. He spent six years in that capacity before returning to his private practice.

Born March 10, 1948, in St. Louis, Mo., Tharp graduated from Omaha (Neb.) Westside High School, where he lettered in basketball, football and baseball. He went on to attend DePauw University (Greencastle, Ind.) on a basketball scholarship, earning a bachelor of arts degree in history in 1970. He graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

At DePauw, he lettered twice in basketball (sophomore and senior years), and was the team's most valuable player his senior season, when he averaged 24.5 points per game (which to this day remains DePauw's scoring average record for a single season). As a senior, he was also the school's most outstanding student-athlete, an Academic All-American and winner of an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

DePauw inducted him into its Athletic Hall-of-Fame in the class of 1999, citing his "exceptional contributions to the achievements and prestige of DePauw University in the field of athletics and who has continued to demonstrate in his life the values imparted by intercollegiate athletics."

He spent his junior year in college attending St. Andrews University in Scotland, where he also played basketball. He was named to the All-Scottish and All-British university basketball teams, and earned the highest university sports award in Britain in 1969 when he was awarded a British Blue. During his previous employment at CU, he was involved with athletic issues which included NCAA relationships, conference alignment, television contracts, coaches' contracts and negotiations, policies and regulations of the athletic department and compliance with Title IX.

Tharp is a member of the Colorado Bar Association, and was admitted to practice law in the Courts of Colorado, U.S. District Court, 10th Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court (by special admission). He has also been very active in community and charitable events in and around Boulder County, and has won several awards for his work. He is a former director of the Boulder Community Hospital Foundation (1986-90), and has been the director of Lifecare International since 1985. He is also an honorary member of the Alumni C-Club at Colorado.

He has been married to the former Melinda Siebert for 29 years, and they are the parents of three boys, Travis (20, a sophomore on the baseball team at Northwestern), Taylor (15) and Tucker (8).

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has the most unique mascot in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie. The live buffalo mascot leads the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half. It is truly one of the special sights that exists anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver and Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, some students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf mascot along with a real cowboy as his keeper. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The campus newspaper announced the contest in the fall of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted Buffaloes as their entry. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Buffs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

The first buffalo, "Mr. Chips," was eventually given to the University by Mahlon White. The buffalo was a regular at CU home games through the 1950's and was cared for by a men's honorary.

The CU football teams were without a mascot for several years before the original Ralphie made its first appearance at a CU function in 1966 (and as a six-month-old calf). For awhile, she was billed as Ralph, the name given by the student body. An astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a girl, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including bowl games), and retired at the end of the 1978 season.

Ralphie's replacement on the sidelines was Ralphie II, making her first-ever appearance at CU's final home game of the 1978 season. The buffalo's original name was Moon, short for Moonshine, but the name Ralphie had become so popular and traditional that it was restored. The Bank of Boulder, a significant contributor through the years to the Ralphie program, purchased and donated Ralphie II to CU. At the age of 12, and after serving the Buffs for 10 years, Ralphie II passed away on Sept. 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Ralphie III was pressed into action earlier than anticipated, as she had been in training for the 1988 season. Originally named "Tequila," she made her debut on Nov. 7, 1987, when the Buffs beat Missouri, 27-10. After over 10 years of service, she passed away in January, 1998, at the age of 13.

Colorado's latest mascot is Ralphie IV, donated to the university as a yearling in April, 1998, by media and sports entrepreneur Ted Turner.

Ralphie IV was born in April, 1997 on the Flying D Ranch in Gallatin Gateway, Montana, which is a part of Turner Ranches, the largest ranch operation in the United States. Named "Rowdy" by ranch hands, she was separated from her mother when she was about a month old and was literally found in the jaws of a coyote with bite marks around her neck. She survived the attack and was bottle-fed by the hands for four months. She was released back to the herd but wouldn't bond with them, so the ranch hands took her back in and fed her grasses and grain. John Parker, who trained and housed both Ralphie II and III, brought her back to Colorado from Montana and supervised all of her early training.

Parker retired as Ralphie's caretaker last May, and is now cared for on the farm on long-time CU supporters Dale and Lynn Johnson in rural Weld County, just east of Boulder. Ted Davis, who assisted Parker for over a decade, has assumed program duties, which include hiring of the student handlers as well as all aspects of training.

Ralphie IV, rapidly growing and maturing, will weigh in at about 1,000 pounds this year, well over twice her weight when she made her debut against Colorado State at Mile High Stadium in Denver on Sept. 5, 1998. She is much stronger and can reach speeds of 25 miles per hour.

CU & NIKE

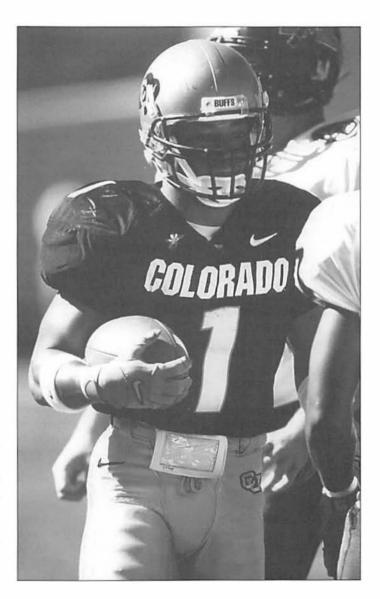

The University of Colorado and NIKE, Inc., are in the final year of a six-year agreement which has the world's largest shoe manufacturer to providing both equipment and financial support to the CU athletic department.

Being the well-renowned leader in the athletic shoe industry, NIKE has made a foray into the athletic apparel venue and is striving to create the absolute best quality workout gear and uniforms available to any college student-athlete. The University of Colorado has benefitted from NIKE's foresight as the company lends its research for new products and designs to make things better for the student-athlete.

The agreement, which has a value of at least $6 million, is one of the best arrangements between a corporate sponsor and a university in the nation. NIKE will supply all 17 of CU's intercollegiate sports programs and its 300-plus student-athletes with equipment as well as game uniforms, promotional support for coaches' camps and team performance bonus provisions. NIKE also will contribute over $2.7 million in cash to the athletic department over the course of the contract.

"It's difficult to value the entire transaction, given price fluctuations in equipment, but I think it's fair to say that the agreement has a minimum value of approximately $6 million," CU athletic director Dick Tharp said. "The equipment needs for our athletes is extensive, and this is probably the best product supply agreement in the country. I was pleased with the final agreement and NIKE's good faith efforts."

NIKE, a powerhouse in the world of sports, makes shoes for about every activity imaginable, including football, basketball, baseball, volleyball, golf, soccer, tennis, wrestling, cross-training and cheerleading. The company also makes casual shoes in addition to its growing line of athletic wear, which features shirts, shorts, uniforms, running clothes, caps and leotards. NIKE sells it products in over 80 countries world-wide, is listed on the New York Stock Exchange, employs over 17,000 people and did over $4.5 billion is business for its fiscal 1999 year.

HEAD COACH GARY BARNETT

Gary Barnett was officially named the 22nd head football coach in University of Colorado history on Jan. 20, 1999, returning to where he spent eight seasons as an assistant under Bill McCartney from 1984-91.

Colorado was 7-5 in his first season at the reins of the program, finishing third in the Big 12 North Division with a 5-3 mark. He owns a 50-61-2 overall record as a collegiate head coach, the first two years at NAIA Fort Lewis in Durango and the next seven at Northwestern. Barnett signed a fiveyear contract to coach the Buffs through at least the 2003 season, one of six multi-year deals allowed the University by the state legislature.

His first Buffalo team was ranked 14th nationally in total offense, averaging 424.9 yards per game, and featured a pair of All-Americans in guard Brad Bedell and cornerback Ben Kelly. CU defeated a ranked team for the 12th straight year when it beat No. 24 Oklahoma, and lost games to No. 3 Nebraska and No. 6 Kansas State by a combined nine points.

The Buffs wrapped up his first year on a high note, as CU whipped No. 22 Boston College, 62-68, in the Insight.com Bowl. Colorado raced to a 45-7 halftime lead in setting numerous records en route to the win.

Barnett, 54, returned to CU from Northwestern University, where he had been the Wildcats' head coach since 1992. He took over the Northwestern program on Dec. 18, 1991, after working eight seasons as running backs and/or quarterbacks coach in Boulder, the last one also as offensive coordinator.

He succeeded Rick Neuheisel, who was named head coach at Washington on Jan. 11 after coaching CU since 1995. Neuheisel had replaced McCartney in November, 1994.

In seven seasons at Northwestern, he compiled a 35-45-1 record, which included the outright Big Ten Conference title in 1995 and a shared championship in 1996. He took the Wildcats to their first bowl game in 47 years when the '95 team played USC in the Rose Bowl. His 1996 squad went to the Citrus Bowl, marking the first time Northwestern ever went bowling in back-to-back seasons.

In fact, Barnett led Northwestern to two of its three bowl appearances in its school history, and coached the Wildcats to two winning seasons in his tenure (1995 and 1996), matching the school's total in its previous 31 seasons. NU was 10-2 in 1995, with an 8-0 mark in Big Ten play, and 9-3 in 1996, posting a 7-1 record in league action. He was named the Big 10 Coach-of-the-Year both seasons, and he won 18 different citations as the National Coach-of-the-Year for 1995.

Northwestern was honored with the 1998 AFCA's Outstanding Academic Award, as the Wildcats boasted the nation's highest graduation rate for the class of 1992. All 22 of Barnett's recruits that year graduated, and all doing so in four years.

Northwestern made its first appearance in the national polls in 1995 since Dec. 6, 1971 under Barnett. The Wildcats were ranked No. 8 in the Associated Press and No. 7 in the USA Today/CNN (coaches) final polls that year, and were No. 15 in the AP and No. 16 in the USAT/CNN final ballots for 1996.

Barnett was the toast of the Chicago area, from being bally-hooed by famous Northwestern alums such as Charleston Heston and Ann Margaret, to throwing out the first pitch at a Chicago Cubs game and leading the crowd in "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" during the seventh-inning stretch.

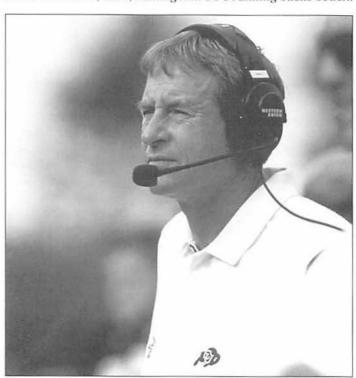

Barnett is the first Colorado head coach to come to Boulder from an immediate head coaching position in the college ranks since 1974, when Bill Mallory joined CU after spending five years as head coach at Miami, Ohio. Chuck Fairbanks came to CU in 1979 from the New England Patriots, Bill McCartney in 1982 from Michigan where he was defensive coordinator, and Rick Neuheisel was promoted in 1995 from within to succeed McCartney.

He got his start in the coaching profession at his alma mater, the University of Missouri. After lettering as a senior at wide receiver for legendary head coach Dan Devine, he graduated from MU with a bachelor's degree in social studies in 1969. He earned his master's in education from MU in 1971, working that spring as a graduate assistant under coach Al Onofrio.

Barnett moved to Colorado that summer and spent the next two years as offensive coordinator at Air Academy High School in Colorado Springs. He was named head coach at Air Academy in 1973, a position he held for the next nine years. At Air Academy, his teams reached the state semifinals twice (1980, 1981) and won six conference titles. He was considered one of the state's finest prep coaches before leaving the school to become head coach at Fort Lewis College in Durango.

He coached the Raiders for two seasons (1982-83), compiling an 8-11-1 mark. In 1982, he guided FLC to a 4-5-1 mark, its best record in five years, and his 1983 team finished 4-6. The 1984 team, made up of players primarily recruited by Barnett, won its first and only Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference title in football.

McCartney brought Barnett into the Division I-A football ranks on Feb. 20, 1984, naming him CU's running backs coach.

A year later, when McCartney made the dramatic announcement that the Buffaloes would switch to the wishbone offense, Barnett coached the quarterbacks and fullbacks, a position he would hold throughout his remaining tenure as a CU assistant. On Dec. 3, 1990, he was promoted to offensive coordinator after Gerry DiNardo resigned to become head coach at Vanderbilt. His first game as OC was in the 1991 Orange Bowl against Notre Dame, a 10-9 Colorado victory that enabled CU to win its first national championship in football.

During his eight seasons as an assistant coach at Colorado, he coached some very high profile players, most notably Lee Rouson, Eric McCarty, Mark Hatcher, the late Sal Aunese, George Hemingway, Erich Kissick, Kordell Stewart and the winningest quarterback in CU history, Darian Hagan. Northwestern was 3-8, 2-9 and 3-7-1 in his first three seasons in Evanston, with the 8-24-1 mark almost identical to McCartney's 7-25-1 in his first three years at Colorado before he turned around the fortunes of the CU program.

Barnett was born May 23, 1946 in Lakeland, Fla., and graduated from Parkway Central High School in Chesterfield, Mo., where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and wrestling. He is married to the former Mary Weil, and they have two children, Courtney (26) and Clay (22). Courtney graduated from Northwestern in 1997, and Clay is a senior at Georgetown. His hobbies include golf and running, and he was the official starter for the 2000 Bolder Boulder.

Q&A WITH GARY BARNETT

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother and father."

Who were your favorite sports heroes growing up? "Ken Boyer, Stan Musial and Johnny Unitas."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A major league baseball player."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "I couldn't live without football. It's in my blood."

What do you personally get out of coaching?

"A lot of headaches, a lot of heartaches but a great sense of fulfillment. I believe in my players, take them to where they cannot take themselves, and want a program that operates with one heartbeat."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive?

"Nelson Mandela."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of?

"The 1996 Rose Bowl (Northwestern-Southern Cal) and the 1991 Orange Bowl (when CU defeated Notre Dame 10-9 to win the national championship.)"

TOP PLAYERS COACHED (when a position coach)—All-Americans (1): Darian Hagan. All-Big Eight Performers (3): Hagan, Eric McCarty, Kordell Stewart. Bowl Game Most Valuable Players (1): Charles Johnson. NFL Players/Draft Picks (4): Hagan, Vance Joseph, Rouson, Stewart.

RECORD—Barnett is 50-61-2 as a head coach: 7-5 at Colorado, 35-45-1 at Northwestern and 8-11-1 at Fort Lewis. He has been a head coach for 113 Division 1-A games, but has coached in 208 games overall when including his eight years as a CU assistant (during which the Buffs posted a 59-34-2 record). He has coached in nine bowl games (four New Year's Day).

CU was 59-34-2 during his tenure as an assistant coach under Bill McCartney. In his last three seasons at Colorado, the Buffaloes did not lose a Big Eight Conference game (20-0-1), He was named head coach at Northwestern on Dec. 18, 1991, but did accompany CU to Miami to coach in the Blockbuster Bowl against Alabama.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

BRIAN CABRAL

Assistant Head Coach/Inside Linebackers

Brian Cabral is in his 12th season at CU, his 11th as a full time assistant coach, as he joined the Buffalo staff as a graduate assistant in 1989. He was promoted to assistant head coach on Feb. 1, 1999, shortly after CU hired Gary Barnett as head coach. He coaches the inside linebackers, and also coaches the punt return unit on special teams.

Cabral, 44, tutored the inside linebackers his first year in Boulder as a grad assistant, and assumed full-time duties in the same capacity in 1990. He has handled the inside linebackers his entire career at CU, and also coached the outside linebackers between 1995-98. He returned to Colorado, his alma mater, from Purdue, where he coached the inside linebackers for two seasons (1987-88). He also is the director of CU's summer football camps (know as the Buffalo Technique School).

He is a 1978 CU graduate, as he earned a B.S. degree in therapeutic recreation. He lettered three seasons for the Buffs at linebacker from 1975 to 1977 under Coach Bill Mallory, as he was a captain and played a big role on CU's Big Eight champion team in 1976. He led CU with 13 tackles (12 solo), in the 1977 Orange Bowl against Ohio State.

He had 297 tackles in his career (120 solo, 177 assisted), a number that still ranks him 11th on Colorado's all-time list. A unique fact is that he has coached five of the players on the list ahead of him: Matt Russell, Greg Biekert, Ted Johnson, Chad Brown and Michael Jones.

He was a nine-year NFL veteran, and was drafted in the fourth round by Atlanta in 1978. He played two seasons with Atlanta, one with Green Bay and six with Chicago. As the captain of the Bears' special teams, he was a member of Chicago's Super Bowl XX champion team in 1985.

Known as one of the top linebacker coaches in the nation, his students have included Russell, the 1996 Butkus Award winner, and all-Big Eight performers Biekert, Brown and Johnson, who have gone on to stardom in the National Football League. He also recruited Rashaan Salaam, the 1994 Heisman trophy winner, and Chris Naeole, a 1996 All-American offensive guard, to Colorado.

He was born June 23, 1956, in Fort Benning, Ga., but grew up in Kailua, Hawaii. He is married to the former Becky Lucas, and the couple have three children, Kyle (22), Maile (18) and Mele (12). He is an active member in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He has authored a book ("Second String Champion"), and his hobbies include surfing, skateboarding and snowboarding.

TOM McMAHON

Co-Defensive Coordinator/Secondary

Tom McMahon is in his second season at Colorado, having joined the CU staff on Feb. 8, 1999 from Notre Dame, where he spent the previous four seasons as secondary coach. He was the final hire by coach Gary Barnett, thus completing his first Buffalo coaching staff. He is the codefensive coordinator, and coaches the secondary as well as the kickoff coverage unit on special teams. Colorado is his ninth collegiate stop as an assistant coach.

McMahon, 51, is actually quite familiar with Colorado and the Rocky Mountain region. A native of Chicago, he lettered twice as a receiver at Montana, where he graduated with his bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1971. Montana won 20 straight games during his tenure as a player, and played for the I-AA national championship in both 1969 and 1970. He began his coaching career on defense at Colorado State in 1973, where he spent six seasons under Sark Arslanian. While at CSU, he earned his master's in administrative education in 1974.

He went on to coach at Wyoming (1979), New Mexico (1980-82), South Carolina (1983-88), East Carolina (1989), Arizona State (1990-91), Wisconsin (1992-94) and Notre Dame (1995-98). He was defensive coordinator for East Carolina in '89, when the Pirates posted their best record in 10 years, and was the secondary coach for Wisconsin's '93 Big Ten co-champion team that defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

At Notre Dame, he engineered pass defenses that were twice ranked in the nation's top 25 and allowed only 16 touchdown passes over the 1997 and 1998 seasons. He has coached the secondary his entire career, and also coached defensive ends at New Mexico and East Carolina.

He was born Nov. 13, 1948 in Chicago, and graduated from Tustin (Calif.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He lettered twice in football at Golden West Junior College (Huntington Beach, Calif.), winning the Rustler-of-the-Year Award. He is married to the former Marilyn Phillips, and they have two sons, Kyle (17) and Kevin (15).

VINCE OKRUCH

Co-Defensive Coordinator/Outside Linebackers

Vince Okruch returned with Gary Barnett to Colorado, where he worked two seasons as a graduate assistant in the 1980s. He was named co-defensive coordinator and outside linebackers coach on Feb. 1, 1999, shortly after Barnett was hired.

He came to CU from Northwestern, where he spent seven seasons on Barnett's staff, including the last two as codefensive coordinator. He also coaches the punt unit with Barnett on special teams.

Okruch, 45, tutored the running backs during his two years in Boulder (1983-84), as he worked directly with Barnett when he first joined Bill McCartney's staff. He moved on to the University of Minnesota, where he coached one more season as a grad assistant before being hired full-time. He coached the running backs for the Golden Gophers, both as a G.A. in 1985 and for his first two years as a full-fledged assistant, and then switched sides of the ball and coached the linebackers for the next four seasons (1988-91).

He made the move to Northwestern in 1992 when Barnett was hired as head coach, coaching the defensive line for five seasons (1992-96) before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator in 1997. He handled that role for the last two years, also coaching the inside linebackers.

He was a four-year letterman at Culver-Stockton College (Canton, Mo.), lettering twice at quarterback and two more times at tight end from 1973-76. He also lettered in four times in baseball.

Okruch graduated from Culver-Stockton in 1977 with a bachelor's degree in physical education, and earned his master's from the school in 1980. He broke into coaching as defensive backs coach at his alma mater in 1977, and then moved on to Northeast Missouri State for two years (1978-79) as a graduate assistant working with the quarterbacks and wide receivers. He returned to Culver-Stockton in 1980, where he was head coach for three seasons.

He was born Aug. 9, 1955 in Buffalo, N.Y., where he prepped at Cardinal O'Hara High School, earning all-city and honorable mention all-state honors at quarterback as a senior. He is married to the former Janet Hammons, and the couple have two children, daughter Taylor (15) and son Jordan (11).

Q&A WITH VINCE OKRUCH

SHAWN WATSON

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Shawn Watson joined the Colorado staff as quarterbacks coach on Jan. 22, 1999, coming to CU from Northwestern with head coach Gary Barnett after holding a similar position for two seasons at Northwestern.

He was named offensive coordinator almost exactly a year later, on Jan. 19, 2000, following the departure of Tom Cable, who had held the position for one season before leaving to become head coach at Idaho.

Watson, 40, was hired by Barnett at Northwestern in 1997 after he spent three seasons as head coach at Southern Illinois. During his three years at the helm of the Salukis, SIU compiled an 11-22 record, vastly improving a program that had won just two games the season before Watson's arrival. In his tenure, SIU produced 20 all-conference players, including Mark Gagliano, who led the nation in punting in 1996, and tight end Damon Jones, who was selected in the fifth round by Jacksonville in the 1997 NFL draft.

Watson tutored quarterback Mike Moschetti his first year in Boulder, watching his senior signal-caller set a school record for completion percentage for a single season, 61.6 percent. Moschetti completed 204 of 331 passes for 2,693 yards, with 18 touchdowns and 12 interceptions. He also helped bring along redshirt freshman Zac Colvin, who became only the fifth freshman to start a game for CU, and just the second to lead the team to victory in CU's 16-12 win at lowa State.

Watson played four years as a strong safety at Southern Illinois, where he began his coaching career as a graduate assistant in 1982, the same year he earned his bachelor's degree in health education. He moved on to the University of Illinois for the next four seasons (1983-86), coaching a host of positions while he earned his master's degree, also in health education. The Illini went to the Rose and Peach bowls during his stay in Champaign.

After working with the wide receivers, tight ends and special teams at Illinois, he moved on to Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where he would coach the next seven seasons. He was the wide receivers and tight ends coach his first three years there (1987-89), then the quarterbacks mentor (1990-93). He was the recruiting coordinator for his entire time with the Redskins.

He was born Sept. 21, 1959 in Carbondale, Ill., and graduated from Carterville (Ill.) High School where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is married to the former Anita Wente and is the father of three, Amber (20), Aaron (14) and Adam (12).

O&A WITH SHAWN WATSON

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My father."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Vince Lombardi."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A coach."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "My high school coach (Mike Deck) and college coach (Rey Dempsey) both extolled the virtues of the business and really got me interested in it."

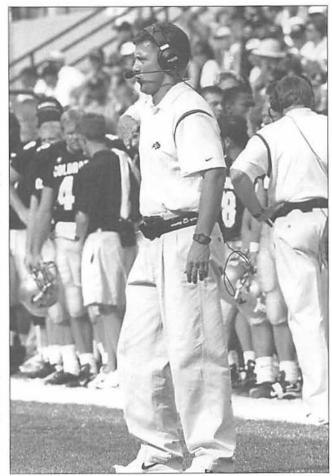

What do you personally get out of coaching? "I enjoy the hard work and challenges coaching provides, as well as developing players both on and off the field in a game I love and respect."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Jesus Christ."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "Chicago Bulls' games and watching Michael Jordan compete."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (5): Coe Bonner, Cap Boso, Mark Gagliano, Damon Jones, David Williams. All-Big 10 Performers (2): Boso, Williams. NFL Players/Draft Picks (2): Boso, Jones.

RECORD—He has been a full-time assistant coach for 159 Division I-A games, along with his 33 as head coach of a Division I-AA program. Illinois was 27-18-1 his four years in Champaign-Urbana, while Miami was 28-44-5 in his seven years and Northwestern 8-16. He has coached in four-bowl games (one New Year's Day).

GREGG BRANDON

Passing Game Coordinator/Receivers

Gregg Brandon and Gary Barnett have a history that dates back to the 1970s, so it made perfect sense that pupil followed teacher from Northwestern to Colorado.

He coached the receivers and kickoff return unit as well as coordinated recruiting for in his first season in Boulder in 1999. He was named passing game coordinator prior to spring practice in 2000, assuming those duties and handed over the recruiting organizational chores to the coordinator of football operations. He is big on teaching his receivers the fundamentals of gaining yards after they catch the ball, and in 1999, CU had 1,567 such yards, or 142.5 per game and 6.7 per catch, both quality numbers.

Brandon, 44, played football for Barnett at Air Academy High School in Colorado Springs, and stayed in close touch with him throughout the years. When Barnett was hired as head coach at Northwestern in 1992, he joined the Wildcat staff as receivers coach. He was also Northwestern's recruiting coordinator for his last two seasons there (1997-98)

In his seven seasons at Northwestern, Brandon assembled an extremely talented group of receivers, including D'Wayne Bates, the second all-time leading receiver in Big Ten history. Bates was a semifinalist for the Biletnikoff Award and an All-America candidate. He also coached the punters at Northwestern, most notably Paul Burton, who led the Big 10 in 1995 and was second in 1996.

Brandon played collegiately as both a defensive back and wide receiver at Mesa State (1974) and Northern Colorado (1975-77). He graduated from UNC in 1978 with a bachelor's degree in education, and began his coaching career that fall as head football coach at Ellicott (Colo.) High School. He spent three seasons there (1978-80) before joining the college ranks at Weber State, where he would coach the next six seasons (1981-86). He coached the tight ends and special teams in his first four seasons, the linebackers in his fifth year and the receivers and tight ends during his final year in Ogden.

He was then named receivers coach at Wyoming, where he would work the next four years (1987-90). During his tenure with head coach Paul Roach, the Cowboys posted a 35-15 record, including a 16-0 run in Western Athletic Conference play in 1987 and 1988, and played in three bowls ('87 and '88 Holiday and '90 Copper). In 1991, he returned to Utah where he coached the line-backers for one season (1991) at Utah State.

He was born Feb. 29, 1956 in Tucson, and is married to the former Robyn Mitchell. They are the parents of two sons, Nicholas (16) and Timothy (8). He lettered in football, basketball and baseball at Air Academy. He enjoys hiking and climbing Colorado's several 14,000-foot peaks with his family.

Q&A WITH GREGG BRANDON

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My parents."

Who were your favorite sports heroes growing up? "Muhammad Ali, John Havlicek, Bart Starr."

What did you want to be when you were little? "An athlete. I didn't really care, as long as it was sports."

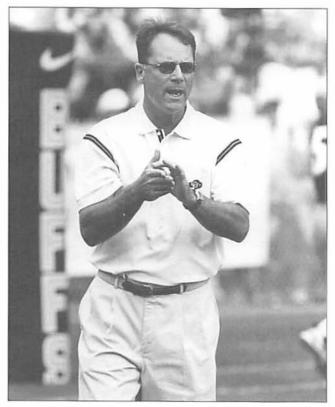

What made you decide to get into coaching? "Gary Barnett convinced me to take a good look at the business."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "Helping kids achieve their goals, taking them to a level they can't reach by themselves, and teach them discipline, work ethic and teamwork. That, and being part of a team."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Vince Lombardi."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "The 1996 Rose Bowl, Northwestern versus Southern Cal."

JON EMBREE Tight Ends

Jon Embree is in his eighth season on the Colorado staff, as he was hired full-time on March 9, 1993. He coached the tight ends his first two seasons, before moving to defense to coach the ends in the first year of the Rick Neuheisel regime (1995). He returned to coaching the tight ends when Gary Barnett was named head coach in January, 1999.

Assigned to recruit Colorado, and particularly the Denver area, Embree played a pivotal role in helping CU to secure Marcus Houston last February.

Houston, out of Denver's Thomas Jefferson High, is considered the most celebrated high school football performer in state history, and Embree's recruiting skills were an integral part of keeping him in his home state.

Embree, 34, worked as a volunteer coach at CU under his collegiate head coach, Bill McCartney, in 1991, also working with the tight ends, and was the receivers and tight ends coach at Douglas County (Colo.) High School in 1992.

He graduated from the University of Colorado with a B.A. degree in communications in 1987. He lettered four seasons (1983-86) as a tight end at Colorado. He ended his career in the top five in both career receptions (80) and yards (1,116) along with scoring five touchdowns. He won CU's Lee Willard Award in 1983 as the coaches selected him the team's most outstanding freshman.

His top season came his sophomore year (1984), when he was first team All-Big Eight and set school records with 51 receptions for 680 yards, both of which stood until 1992. Even though CU abandoned a passing offense for the wishbone his junior year, he still caught the eyes of pro scouts and was a sixth-round draft choice by the Los Angeles Rams in the 1987 NFL Draft. He played two years with the Rams (1987-88) and concluded his career in 1989 with Seattle, playing in 13 games in his pro career.

He was born Oct. 15, 1965 in Los Angeles, Calif. He is married to the former Natalyn Grubb, and they have three children, Taylor (11), Connor (9), and Hannah (4).

Q&A WITH JON EMBREE

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother."

Who were your favorite sports heroes growing up? "Charles White, Dr. J. (Julius Erving), Lester Hayes."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A pro football player."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "Coach Mac (Bill McCartney) asked me to give it a try, and after doing it for just one day, I knew it was what I wanted to do."

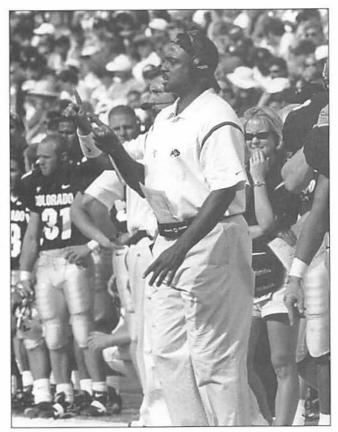

What do you personally get out of coaching? "Seeing the players grow and mature over five years, also seeing them graduating and reaching the goals they set for themselves."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Jackie Robinson."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "Being a senior on the CU team that beat Nebraska in 1986, and (CU's) 'Miracle in Michigan' game in 1994."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Big Eight/12 Performers (1): Christian Fauria. NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Fauria, Greg Jones, Daryl Price.

Offensive Line

Steve Marshall is in his first year as offensive line coach, as he joined the Colorado staff on Jan. 21, 2000. He will also coach the offensive field goal and PAT unit on special teams.

Marshall, 44, came to CU from North Carolina, where he was both the offensive coordinator and line coach for the previous two seasons. He replaced Tom Cable, who left after the Insight.com Bowl to become the head coach at Idaho.

He is a 1979 graduate of the University of Louisville, earning a B.S. degree in both history and physical education. He lettered twice at Louisville in football, at both tight end and guard for coach Vince Gibson, and as a junior, played in the Independence Bowl.

Marshall began his coaching career in 1979 at Plymouth State as the offensive line coach, and then moved on to Tennessee for two years (1980-81) as a part-time assistant coach, also working with the offensive line.

He spent the 1982 and 1983 seasons at Marshall University, coaching both the O-line and the kicking game, and accepted his first full-time job on the Division I-A level at his alma mater, coaching the line as well as the tight ends for the 1984 season. He was the offensive coordinator and line coach for head coach Frank Beamer at Murray State in 1985-86, and then went with Beamer as line coach when he was named head coach at Virginia Tech in 1987.

He was promoted to offensive coordinator for the Hokies a year later and remained in Blacksburg through the 1992 season before returning to Tennessee to coach the offensive line. His second stint in Knoxville was for three years (1993-95), the last also as running game coordinator. He then spent the 1996 season as offensive line coach at UCLA and 1997 at Texas A & M, where he was both coordinator and line coach.

Marshall joined the North Carolina staff under Carl Torbush in 1998 and offensive coordinator and line coach. The Tarheels were beset by injuries, but still increased their scoring against six common opponents from the year before.

He was born June 20, 1956, in Hartford, Conn., and graduated from Rockville High School (Vernon, Conn.), where he lettered in football. He is married to the former Karin Ross, and his hobbies include racquetball and traveling.

O&A WITH STEVE MARSHALL

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My Mom and Dad."

Who was your favorite sports here growing up? "Carl Yastremski, Jim Brown and Bill Russell."

What did you want to be when you were little? "To be a coach, or at least involved in some sort of athletics."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "The influence of outstanding people I've known, and a passion to be around young people and attempt to make a difference."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "To simply have a job where it is exciting to come to work every single day."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Muhammad Ali."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "Nothing really stands out, but I've loved every Saturday in the fall since I started playing football."

CHRIS WILSON

Defensive Line

Chris Wilson joined the Colorado staff as defensive line coach on May 26, 2000, only the second full-time coach hired at the school after the conclusion of spring football since 1982. He will also coach the field goal and PAT defensive unit on special teams.

Wilson, 32, comes to CU from Army, where he had joined the Cadet staff in January, 2000, as defensive line coach when Todd Berry replaced Bob Sutton as head coach following Sutton's dismissal in December. Wilson had spent the 1998 and 1999 seasons with Berry at Illinois State. The Redbirds advanced to the NCAA I-AA semifinals in 1999, finishing with an 11-3 record and a 6-0 league mark to win the Gateway Conference title.

A four-year letterman at linebacker for Oklahoma between 1988-91, he recorded 303 tackles, a number that still stands as 14th best in Sooner history. He had 104 tackles as a sophomore, 86 as a junior, despite missing two-plus games to injury, and posted 97 as a senior. He was a preseason nominee for the '91 Butkus Award. Wilson earned second-team all-Big Eight honors three times and was a third-team All-America selection as a junior by the Football News. A two-time team captain, he graduated from OU with a degree in communications in 1992.

Ironically, some of his top career games came against Colorado, as he had 11 tackles, a pass broken up and a forced fumble in the '89 game in Norman won by CU, 20-3; he was OU's Big Eight defensive player-of-the-week nomination. He had nine tackles in the 1990 game in Boulder and led the Sooners with eight stops in the '91 contest, both games again won by the Buffs. He played for both Barry Switzer and Gary Gibbs at Oklahoma, and played in three bowl games.

The Chicago Bears drafted him in the 12th round in 1992, but eventually did not make the final roster. He entered the coaching ranks in 1993 as a graduate assistant at Indiana State, and was then hired by the Sycamores full-time in the spring of 1994 to tutor the inside linebackers. He moved on to Northern Illinois in 1995, coaching the outside linebackers and coordinating the nickel package. He was the defensive coordinator and line coach for Northeastern Oklahoma A & M in 1996, and then returned to Indiana State for the 1997 season as outside linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator before joining Berry at Illinois State and then Army. He has also had three minority internships with NFL teams, Dallas (1995), Arizona (1997) and Miami (1998).

Wilson was born Jan. 8, 1969 in Dallas, Texas, and graduated from Richardson (Texas) High School, where he lettered in football and track. He is married to the former Tina Brown, a schoolteacher, and they have two children, son Caleb (4) and daughter Colby (born this past May). Hobbies include collecting old music, particularly jazz.

JOHN WRISTEN

Running Backs

John Wristen returned to his native state with Gary Barnett, as he joined the Colorado staff as running backs coach on Jan. 22, 1999. He accompanied Barnett to Northwestern in 1992 after spending two seasons as a graduate assistant on the CU staff.

In his first season as a fulltime coach in Boulder, he helped tutor Cortlen Johnson, who as a sophomore rushed for 1,035 yards including the Insight.com Bowl, where he had 201 yards on just 15 carries.

Wristen, 38, has lived all but seven years of his life in Colorado. He was a star quarterback at the University of Southern Colorado, lettering four years between 1980-83 and earning first-team NAIA All-America honors as a senior. He set 12 school records playing for coach Mike Friedman at USC, was a two-time all-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference selection and led the Indians to a 19-5-1 record as the starting signal caller.

Upon his graduation from "the other" USC in 1983, where he earned his bachelor's degree in physical education, he worked as a student teacher at his alma mater in 1984. He was a free agent in the Denver Broncos' training camp that summer. He got his start in coaching at Weslaco (Texas) High School in 1985, working as the offensive coordinator. He went back to school to earn his master's in special education, which he did from Adams State College (Alamosa, Colo.) in 1988. While attending school at Adams State, he was the head coach at nearby Rocky Ford High School for two years (1986-87).

He popped over to Colorado's western slope for two years, as he was the offensive coordinator at Fort Lewis College in Durango (1988-89), before joining the CU coaching ranks for the first time in 1990 as a graduate assistant. He worked directly for Barnett at Colorado, helping with the quarterbacks and full-backs in CU's national championship season in 1990, and then with the running backs in 1991. He then followed Barnett to Northwestern when he was named head coach in Dec., 1991.

He coached the running backs for seven seasons at Northwestern, including Darnell Autry, an All-American and Heisman Trophy finalist in 1995, and Dennis Lundy. Lundy set many school records under Wristen's tutelage, only to see Autry break most of them just one year later.

He was born April 15, 1962 in Denver, and graduated from Pueblo (Colo.) South High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is the father of three children, daughters JoVanna (13) and Bailey (3) and son Clay (5). His hobbies include golf and fishing.

Q&A WITH JOHN WRISTEN

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother, father and grandmother."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Johnny Unitas."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A pro football quarterback."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "When I knew I couldn't play any more, plus when I though of all the coaches who gave me so much, I decided that I wanted to give that back."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "The joy of taking a player where he can't take himself, both on the field and off. And the relationship with your players."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Garth Brooks."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "The 1996 Rose Bowl (Northwestern versus Southern Cal) and the 1991 Orange Bowl/National Championship (Colorado's 10-9 win over Notre Dame)."

BRIAN McNEELY

Coordinator of Football Operations & Recruiting

Brian McNeely joined the Colorado staff as coordinator of football operations and recruiting last January, returning to the profession he has spent most of his adult life working in.

McNeely, 42, came to CU from private business, as he was the director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes in Denver, a position he had held since April 1998. However, he remained close to the sport, college football, which he had been associated with for over 20 years.

He was head coach at Idaho State for five seasons (1992-96), where he guided the Bengals to a 21-34 record. However, the 6-5 records ISU posted in both 1994 and 1995 marked the school's first back-to-back winning campaigns since the 1980-81 seasons, with his '94 team the first with a winning mark in a decade.

McNeely was a highly successful junior college head coach at two stops in the Kansas Jayhawk Community College Conference, Butler County CC (1982-84) and Garden City CC (1986-91). Butler won two conference titles in his three seasons there, and Garden City captured four league crowns in his six years. He coached in five junior college bowl games, with his teams winning four of them. He was named coach-of-the-year in the Jayhawk Conference on three occasions.

In 1985, between stints as a head coach in the JUCO ranks, he was the linebackers coach at the University of Kansas under coach Mike Gottfried. The Jayhawks went 6-6 that season with two very touch losses to ranked teams: at No. 4 Florida State (24-20) and to No. 12 Oklahoma State (17-10). That team also dropped a 14-3 decision to Colorado in Lawrence.

His first coaching job was secondary coach at Butler CC in 1979, a position he held for two seasons until being named offensive coordinator at Pratt CC, where he spent the 1981 season. In his 20-plus years of coaching, he has either recruited or personally coached over 50 athletes who went on to play in either the National Football League or the Canadian Football League.

He earned his bachelor's degree in natural science from Wichita State University in 1979, and in 1991, received his master's in sports management from the United States Sports Academy (based in Alabama), where he maintained a 4.00 grade point average.

McNeely lettered one season (1975) at both free safety and quarterback at Garden City CC, and earned another letter at quarterback for Emporia State University in 1976 before moving on to Wichita State.

He was born Sept. 29, 1957 in Dodge City, Kan., and graduated from Coldwater (Kan.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball, track and golf. His hobbies include golf, he is a licensed securities broker, and is also an ordained pastor. He is married to the former Elaine Burkhall, and they have three children: daughters Shaunessy (21) and Lorianne (12), and son Jaden (18).

Q&A WITH BRIAN McNEELY

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My father."

Who was your favorite sports here growing up? "Steve Owens, Oklahoma"

What did you want to be when you were little? "A doctor."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "The opportunity to work with young people."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "The thrill of seeing young men mature, work together for a common goal, deal successfully with adversity, and to become better adults as a result of their football experience."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Billy Graham."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "Idaho State versus Boise State in 1992; we won (24-20) with six seconds left. As a teenager, the 1975 Kansas state high school golf championships."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (I-AA; 2): Alfredo Anderson, Josh Hays. All-Big 8 (1): Alvin Walton. All-Big Sky (8): Anderson, Sam Carter, Robert Ford, Hays, Marcus Jackson, Sylvester Jones, Mahe Laiva'a, Telly Lockette. NFL Players/Draft Picks (4): Gerald Dixon, Robert Goff, Skip McClendon, Willie Joe Walker.

RECORD—McNeely coached in over 100 junior college games combined as a head or assistant coach, winning over 75 percent of those contests. He has coached in 12 Division I-A games (Kansas in 1985, 6-6), and 55 Division I-AA (all with Idaho State, 21-34).

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

RUSTY BRADLEY

Graduate Assistant

Rusty Bradley is in his first year as a graduate assistant on the Colorado staff, as he assists coaching the offensive line for assistant coach Steve Marshall. He joined the staff last February and thus was on board in time for CU's 2000 spring drills.

Bradley, 26, came to CU from Louisiana Tech, where as a graduate assistant he spent the 1999 season working with the running backs. That was probably no easy chore, as LTU led the nation in passing, but he did work with a top back, Bobby Ray Tell, who had 552 yards and five touchdowns. He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee Tech in 1998, where he worked with the wide receivers.

A graduate of Georgetown (Ky.) College, he lettered two years as a wide receiver there under coach Bill Cronin and was one of four captains for the Tigers his senior year. Cronin referred to Bradley as, "One of the hardest workers," he had ever seen on the football field. He had four catches for 69 yards and a touchdown his senior year. He started both years he lettered, and earned a bachelor's degree in Math. Georgetown was 5-4 his senior year, but he helped lay the groundwork for what would become a 13-1 team in 1999, finishing as the NAIA runner-up. He also lettered twice, his freshman and sophomore years and also at wide receiver, for Maryville College in Tennessee.

Born April 13, 1974 in Birmingham, Ala., he graduated from Bearden High School in Knoxville, Tenn., where he lettered in football. His hobbies include running (he has run a marathon), and he is single.

VANCE JOSEPH Graduate Assistant

Vance Joseph is in his first year as a graduate assistant on the Colorado staff, but he's no stranger to the CU football program or to many members of the coaching staff.

He was hired last winter and thus worked 2000 spring practice drills. He assists co-defensive coordinator Tom McMahon with the secondary.

Joseph, 27, lettered three times during his collegiate career at CU, which spanned five years (1990-94). He was a true freshman who saw some spot action on Colorado's 1990 national championship team, and as a quarterback, was under the tutelage for two years of current Buff head coach Gary Barnett, who was coaching the quarterbacks and fullbacks as an assistant on Bill McCartney's staff. His redshirt year came in 1992, and he was moved to tailback the spring of his senior year, playing behind Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam and frosh sensation Herchell Troutman in 1994.

Joseph completed 34-of-61 passes for 454 yards and four touchdowns (with no interceptions) during his CU career, and though he never started a game, he often came on in "relief" in injury situations. In one of those games, against Kansas in 1991, he directed an 8-play, 80-yard drive in the final two minutes to rally the Buffs to a 30-24 win. He also had 50 career rushes for 237 yards and a touchdown, and was recruited to CU by then-assistant Bob Simmons, now the head coach at Oklahoma State.

He graduated from CU in the August prior to his senior season (1994), earning his bachelor's degree in marketing. He signed as a free agent with the New York Jets in 1995, but as a defensive back. Pressed into a starting role due to injuries, he would play 17 games in the NFL with New York and Indianapolis over the course of two seasons, and he had two interceptions. He also spent a year working as a salesman for BWD Sports Insurance.

Born Sept. 20, 1972 in Marrero, La., he graduated from Archbishop Shaw High School in Marrero, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. As a 12-year old, he was honored as "Mr. Biddy World," a prestigious award presented to the best 11- and 12-year old basketball player in the country. His hobbies include golf, softball and basketball, and he is married to the former Holly Pittman, who is a registered nurse.

Jean Onaga is in her 15th year with the Colorado football program, and she handles all secretarial duties for the offensive coaches. She graduated from Kapiolani C.C. in Honolulu, Hawai'i, with a degree in business. Onaga's first season with the Buffaloes was in 1986. A native of Honolulu, she is married (Loren).

Dixie Marler is in her 10th year on the staff, and she is the secretary for the defensive coaches. Her first year in the program was 1991 and she is also an assistant director of the Gary Barnett Football Technique School. An Illinois native, she is married (David) and has two children, Jason and Jessica.

Jane Barry is in her second year as the administrative assistant to Gary Barnett. She joined CU from the Hotel Boulderado, where she worked seven years in sales for the popular Boulder landmark. She is a graduate of Southern Illinois University, earning her bachelor's degree in speech. A native of St. Louis, Mo., she is the mother of two, son Joseph and daughter Courtney. Joe played college football at Southern Cal and is now the inside linebacker coach at UNLV, while Courtney is a student at the Art Institute in Seattle. She is the grandmother of one, Camryn Grace.

Courtney Ziegler is in her second year as Colorado's assistant recruiting coordinator, joining the CU staff shortly after Gary Barnett was hired as head coach in January, 1999. A 1998 Northwestern graduate, earning her bachelor's degree in communication science disorders, she had worked as an intern in the recruiting office at Northwestern upon graduation and spent 2½ years overall as a student worker in the Wildcats' football office. A native of Slinger, Wis., she graduated from Slinger High School, where she lettered in volleyball and track (team captain). She is single.

MISTER CONTROL OF CONTROL OF THE PARTY OF TH

Gary Barnett's first season as head coach at the University of Colorado was a bit of a roller coaster ride. The former CU assistant coach started putting his stamp on the program is piloting the Buffaloes to a 7-5 overall record, a third-place finish in the Big 12 North and an impressive win over Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl.

The highs were high and the lows were low. But there was a definite turning point in the season, and it came after a disappointing 31-10 loss at Texas Tech that dropped the Buffs to 3-3. With its senior quarterback out with an injury, CU rallied the following week behind a redshirt freshman and won at lowa State in a game both teams needed badly to stay alive for a bowl bid. That was the catalyst for a 4-2 record over the last half of the year, which included two dominant wins over ranked teams with the two losses coming by a combined nine points and in one overtime to the No. 3 and No. 6 teams in the nation.

"I think that once the players and coaches got through the (coaching staff) transition, which took about six games into the year, that things started happening for us that were really positive," Barnett said. "I think that all of the players and coaches finished the last half of the year really feeling good about where we were going, how things fit together, and about the season in general. I don't think I've ever had more fun coaching than the last six weeks of the season, and I think the kids did too once they realized what they're expectations were. I felt we were good as anybody in the country by the end of the year."

Ah, expectations. They've run high since Colorado made its first run at a national championship by going 11-1 in 1989. It's what everyone associated with the program has come to want, even expect and demand. And it's no different going into the 2000 season.

But before CU contemplates what lies ahead, which may very well be the nation's toughest schedule for the third time in 12 years, numerous questions have to be answered. Those most notably include:

- Who will be quarterback? The pool includes a sophomore with one career start, a junior college transfer and a redshirt freshman walk-on, with a true freshman joining the fray in August. Strides were made in this area in the spring, and the coaches feel good about the position. There's just no clearcut frontrunner heading into fall camp.
- > How will the offensive line shake out? Three senior starters have to be replaced, but the Buffs should put together a pretty solid first unit. The arrival of two junior 369college recruits will bolster this area significantly in the fall, but the Buffs cannot afford many, if any, injuries or other setbacks as depth is the primary concern. The talent exists, but inexperience is the problem.
- How will the secondary be restructured? The Buffs lose a trio of starters who were all drafted into the NFL, and that had made 77 career starts. Fortunately, CU appears fairly well stocked with defensive backs, so it might just be a matter of how long until the next stars emerge.
- Who will handle the kicking chores? CU loses its punter and placekicker, two players who earned eight letters between them and handled almost every single punt, PAT and field goal attempt over the last four years. The pool to replace both is most diverse: a heralded JC transfer, a sophomore with 21 career kickoffs and two career PAT kicks, a sophomore varsity reserve performer, and a redshirt freshman who happens to be only the second woman to ever dress for a Division I game.

Those four areas got a lot of attention in the spring, but other than the quarterback position, a lot of work remains to determine both depth as well as confidence as CU begins with a monster schedule. When Barnett took over the reins of the program in January 1999, he coined the phrase, "Return to Dominance" (or RTD) as the initial goal of his tenure. Here again is that list and an assessment of how the Buffs fared last season:

- Install a balanced offense and bringing back the constant threat of the big play. Selection couldn't have been more balanced, with CU rushing 50.1 percent of the time (passing 49.9 percent), with pass plays yielded 60 percent of the yards, probably in line with what they're designed to do. The threat of the big play blossomed late in the year and in the bowl game, but long runs were virtually non-existent until the Nebraska game.
- Being able to run the football for a first down on third-andshort. CU fared well at times and couldn't produce at others. The Buffs converted overall on third down at a 37.4 rate a year ago, but came in at 48.3 percent (28-of-58) when choosing to run. And CU did make its last eight fourth down tries of the season, six on running plays, so CU did improve as the year progressed.
- Inspiring awe and fear into the opponent. That's something one has to ask opposing players, which they probably wouldn't admit anyway. Regardless, this is an area that has to take place over time.
- Game day discipline, as in cutting down on the number of penalties and correctable mistakes. CU had its fewest penalties, 85, since the 1994 season, and its fewest yards penalized (679) since 1993. The Buffs still had three punts blocked, one for a touchdown and another leading to a score, and probably called too many timeouts earlier than to the coaches' liking.
- Dictating the game against unranked and lesser opponents. While CU did that on several occasions, there were other times where the Buffs were just out of the flow. The Texas Tech game may have been the most disappointing, not because of the Red Raiders being a lesser foe, but due to the fact that they were missing many key players due to injuries and CU didn't take advantage.
- Returning as a mainstay in the national polls, similar to CU's consecutive 143-week run between 1989 and 1997. The Buffs opened the year ranked No. 15, but a 41-14 loss to Colorado State in the first game of the season dropped CU out of the polls, to which Colorado did not return the remainder of the year.
- Playing games in November, December and January that have significant meaning. Despite the setback to Texas Tech, CU was still alive for the Big 12 North title when it ventured into Manhattan to play Kansas State the first week of November. CU came within inches of beating No. 3 Nebraska on Thanksgiving Friday before succumbing 33-30 in overtime, and then blasted Boston College 62-28 on New Year's Eve in the Insight.com Bowl.

The Buffs return 12 starters overall, six each on offense and defense. The Buffs are fairly deep in the skill positions on offense, though inexperienced at quarterback, and have the core nucleus to have a dominant front seven on defense. Overall, 40 lettermen return: 17 on offense, 22 on defense and one specialist.

"I think our team strength will be our speed," Barnett said. "I think it really showed up in the bowl, and between what we've got returning and what we've recruited, will be our strength again. We have great speed at linebacker. We just run well almost at every position. Our weakness will be just inexperience in three key positions, offensive line, secondary and quarterback. Weaknesses are cyclical, though. What's a weakness one year usually turns up as a strength the following year, if you've managed your personnel well."

Sand an March Com March Com March Com

Junior Jashon Sykes is expected to be the team leader on defense, as CU's scheme is largely built around his position, "hawk" linebacker. Sykes, a Butkus Award candidate, flourished in the role last year, finishing second in the Big 12 in tackles and leading the nation in forced fumbles. Junior strong safety Michael Lewis will have to take a leadership role in the secondary as the lone returning starter, with seniors Sean Jarne and Brady McDonnell and junior Justin Bannan likely to do the same up front.

On offense, standout performers should include senior wide receiver Javon Green, a Biletnikoff Award candidate, and junior linemen Andre Gurode and Victor Rogers. Green had three 100yard receiving games against ranked teams a year ago, while Gurode is expected to show why CU coaches feel he is one of the nation's top centers. Rogers has worked hard to overcome seven surgeries in a 15-month span, and hopes to avoid the injury-curse this fall. Junior tailback Cortlen Johnson rushed for 1,035 yards last fall, including 201 in the bowl victory, and has worked hard in the off-season to improve his strength. Heralded recruit Marcus Houston will play this season, and provides immediate depth and could press Johnson for playing time. Tight end Daniel Graham, who has incredible speed, was hobbled a bit due to assorted injuries last fall, but if he can stay healthy, he should make his claim as one of the nations' best at his position.

Sophomore Zac Colvin and JUCO transfer Bobby Pesavento ended the spring listed co-No. 1 on top of the depth chart at quarterback. Both sparkled at times, and each brings his own distinctive style to the position. Barnett and his coaches feel comfortable that whomever emerges can lead the team, and the battle for the spot will resume in August with a third player in the mix, freshman recruit Craig Ochs.

The Buffs averaged 425 yards on offense last year, allowing 348, but stepped up those numbers over the course of the final six games. CU closed with three straight 500-plus yard performances on offense, including an amazing 284-yard fourth quarter against Nebraska, while allowing only 256 yards per game over the final five.

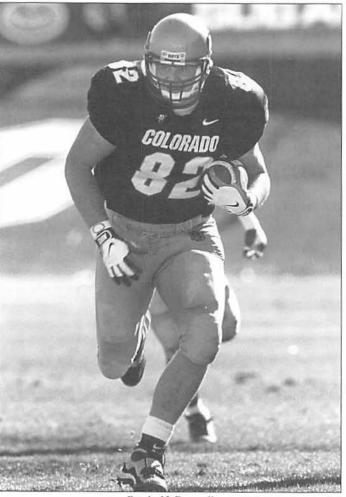

The 2000 schedule is a bear. Six bowl teams from a year ago are on the docket, and combined, the 11 teams were 79-53 in 1999. Right off the bat, CU plays five bowl teams in its first six games, which are, in order, against Colorado State, Southern Cal, Washington, Kansas State, Texas A & M and Texas. They were an aggregate 49-25 last season (66 percent winning percentage), and the lone non-bowl team of that group is USC, which won its last three games in going 6-6 and will get the Buffs at home in Los Angeles.

"We will undoubtedly have the most difficult schedule in Division I football," noted Barnett. "What that allows you is to really get a lot of quality work out of your spring ball and in the preseason, because everyone will understand how important it is. I think at the end of those first six games, we will know a heckuva lot about our football team, whereas after the first six last year, we didn't know who we were at all."

That is a very safe assumption.

IN-DEPTH LOOK AT THE BUFFALOES

Offense

QUARTERBACK: A lot of progress was made here in the spring, but the coaches won't name a starter until well into fall camp. Sophomore Zac Colvin and junior Bobby Pesavento ended drills both tied for the top spot. Colvin is the only player in the program to have started a game at quarterback in Division I-A (just one at that), and showed some moxy in leading the Buffs to a win at lowa State, as he was just the fifth freshman to ever start a game at CU. Pesavento, a JUCO recruit, got plenty of reps and improved upon the kind of play he had at Fort Scott (Kan.) Community College. The only other signal-caller on the roster is Erik Greenberg, a redshirt freshman who was a walk-on last year and saw only scout team duty. Bolstering this trio in the fall will be heralded frosh recruit Craig Ochs out of Boulder's Fairview High, who may very well play as a true freshman.

RUNNING BACK: Junior Cortlen Johnson closed the 1999 season on a high note, as he was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl team for his effort in CU's 62-28 win over Boston College (15 carries, 201 yards, 2 TDs). That put him over 1,000 yards on the year, as he rushed for 835 in the regular season (including 135 against Nebraska). He missed the last two weeks of spring drills with a severe knee sprain, but he'll be ready come fall. The primary backups in the spring had limited experience, with junior Marcques Spivey and sophomore Vince Reed the only ones with game action; Spivey's was at fullback two years ago as he returns after a year away due to academics, and Reed is a converted safety. Redshirt frosh Marcus Moore shined at times in spring ball and had a lot of carries. Sophomore Judd Johns missed the spring, as he had surgery on both his shoulder and quadricep. Two very talented in-state recruits will join this mix in the fall, Marcus Houston (Denver Thomas Jefferson) and Bobby Purify (Colorado Springs Palmer). At FULLBACK, junior David Andrews matured rapidly at the position the second half of the season, after returning to offense after a stint at defensive end. Sophomore Brandon Drumm is maturing as well at the position, and junior Scott Nemeth made the permanent move to offense and also had some spring action.

OFFENSIVE LINE: The position received a lot of attention during spring ball, but with the unit being so thin and inexperienced, it will have the highest priority come fall. Three veteran starters must be replaced, as guards Brad Bedell and Ryan Johanningmeier and tackle Shane Cook had 84 career starts among them, with Bedell earning All-America mention a year ago. However, the coaches have a few players to build around, namely junior Andre Gurode at center, along with junior tackle Victor Rogers and sophomore guard Justin Bates. Gurode matured immensely last fall and could emerge as one of the nation's top centers, while Rogers and Bates each started six games in '99 as Rogers missed that many due to knee surgery (the talented Rogers has had to overcome seven surgeries in the past two years). There are several candidates to round out the first unit, including senior tackle Tom Ashworth (who returned to OT from tight end midway through last season), and sophomore guard Ryan Gray. Gray practiced at both guard and center in the spring as did Gurode. Others who will compete for primo depth chart spots at either guard or tackle include senior Aaron Carber, junior Scott Burg, redshirt freshmen Karl Allis and Jason Gehring, as well as freshman Dan Major. (Major was a '99 recruit but took last fall off from football; he's rejoined the team as a walk-on but will be placed on scholarship later this spring.) Sophomore Joshua Foster joined the above group this spring, moving over from defensive tackle, as did redshirt frosh Gabe Oderberg, who came over from end. A freshman recruit, Marwan Hage, enrolled in classes and practiced during the spring, and two junior college linemen will be in the fold come fall that will figure heavily into the two-deep.

Victor Rogers

RECEIVER: Colorado was seven deep last year at receiver, so with two lost to graduation (Marcus Stiggers, Robert Toler), that still leaves five players who all had quality playing time a year ago, four of whom have multiple career starts. The most heralded is senior Javon Green, who had three 100-yard games against ranked teams last year, and is considered by many as a candidate for the Biletnikoff Award. Another senior, Eric McCready, enjoyed a breakout season in '99 and is one of the best blocking receivers in the nation (and still had 17 receptions). The junior trio of Roman Hollowell, Cedric Cormier and John Minardi combined for 65 receptions a year ago and figure to improve on those numbers this fall. Several others will try to join that rotation, including sophomore Jason Burianek and redshirt freshmen John Donahoe, Derek McCoy, Dan Gonzales and Barry Kunkel.

TIGHT END: The Buffs have one of the nation's premier tight ends in junior Daniel Graham, who caught 19 balls for 264 yards and four touchdowns, numbers which ranked him in the top 20 nationally among tight ends last year, despite missing two games due to assorted injuries. He missed the entire spring after he had surgery to repair a chronic knee injury, but he's expected back full-throttle in the fall. The depth at the position took a hit following the spring semester, as senior Adam Bledsoe transferred to Western Oregon to take one final crack at playing quarterback, and junior Miles Koon, who was slow to rehab from a knee injury, leaving school to attend junior college in his native Texas. Further bolstering the position is frosh redshirt Jake Jones, along with two others moving over from fullback, sophomore Beau Williams, who was hampered by an ankle injury much of last year, and frosh redshirt Joe Merrill. In a pinch, if the line develops, Tom Ashworth could always throw on his old No. 87 jersey and play some tight end if need be.

Defense

DEFENSIVE FRONT: Three of the four down positions feature two returning starters and a third with plenty of experience. Junior Justin Bannan and senior Sean Jarne will anchor the tackle spots with Brady McDonnell the veteran end. Bannan's matured nicely and should contend for all-Big 12 honors and possibly some All-America mention this fall, while Jarne hopes to have an injury-free senior year that would enable him to showcase his talents. McDonnell has been the common denominator up front, as his 23 career starts are the most on the team entering the season. Sophomore Sam Taulealea had some fine moments as a freshman, averaging 12 plays per game, and thus provides some experience at tackle. Redshirt freshmen Pete Friedrich, Brian Keogh, Leon Kiel and Vince Mitchell add depth as all prepare to find their niche on the depth chart. At end, sophomore Tyler Brayton made his presence known last fall, as he had eight quarterback hurries in averaging close to 20 plays per game; he followed that up with an outstanding spring. Junior Robert Haas returns, as he proved to be a steady performer in 1999, seeing action for about 35 plays at both end slots, but was bothered by arthritic knees at the tail end of spring ball. Transfer Anwawn Jones is ready to play after sitting out last year due to an academic snafu, and could wind up making a name for himself without ever playing a down for CU until his senior year. Sophomore James Weingardt and frosh redshirts Taylor Ryan and Ryan Magrum add to the depth at end, and had plenty of spring action. Freshman Rudy Hage, who enrolled in January and practiced during the spring, figures into the mix as well (he also had a trial look at tight end in the spring). A surprise candidate emerged after spring ball, as Ernest Renfroe, a member of CU's basketball team, will try out for the team in August drills, as he has solid defensive end size at 6-7, 250. He will also get a trial at tight end, as the depth there needs to be shored up.

INSIDE LINEBACKER: Colorado has its next Butkus Award candidate in junior Jashon Sykes, as the second-team All-American had the honors roll in as a sophomore. He was second in the Big 12 in tackles (134), led the nation in forced fumbles (7) and was named CU's MVP and the defensive MVP in the Insight.com Bowl. He missed the last half of spring ball to have surgery to repair a chronic shoulder injury, but he'll be full go come fall. Sophomore Joey Johnson and redshirt frosh Dryden Dunsmore got plenty of reps at the "hawk" position with Sykes' absence. The other inside spot ("ike") will be up for grabs in the fall. Ty Gregorak is continuing rehab from surgery for chronic knee and shoulder injuries. Junior Andy Peeke and sophomore Aaron Killion, both of whom made starts last fall, bring a lot to the table and will challenge for the spot come August. Also in the mix is redshirt freshman Jeff Flora.

OUTSIDE LINEBACKER: Sophomore Drew Wahlroos was baptized in '99, starting 10 games at the drop linebacker position, and he responded with 46 tackles and six third down stops in his indoctrination. Sophomore Kory Mossoni gave up his redshirt year to add depth to a thin position a year ago, but the upside is he gained a lot of experience. Two others figure into things at outside 'backer as well, junior Lindsey Conley and redshirt frosh Jason Allison.

SECONDARY: A strength of the team a year ago, three veteran starters are gone (all drafted into the NFL: corners Ben Kelly and Damen Wheeler and safety Rashidi Barnes), so there are definitely opportunities for those waiting in the wings. Leadership in the defensive backfield will be asked of junior Michael Lewis, one of the hardest hitting strong safeties in the Big 12. The group may be devoid of some starters, but plenty of lettermen are back. Juniors Nate Wright, Terrence Wood and Roderick Sneed long with sophomore Donald Strickland and redshirt frosh Phil Jackson should make up the pool for the starting corners to emerge from, as nothing was finalized following spring ball. Others also will get looks at cornerback, including senior Jelani Bryant along with junior Jeff Brunson. At safety, junior Robbie Robinson is a leading candidate to become a starter, but redshirt frosh Medford Moorer and juniors Albus Brooks and Matt Duren figure into the plans as well. Plus, at least three freshman recruits will arrive in August to bolster the depth. In the fall, Damion Barton will get a look at DB as he comes over from running back; it is pending that he meets the requirements set forth to be reinstated to the team, however, as he was suspended for the spring.

Kicking Game/Special Teams

Only one specialist on the team has earned a letter, as PK Derek Moore received one for seeing a couple of plays in 1998. However, junior college recruit Jeremy Flores brings a lot to the table as the second-team JUCO All-American had an outstanding prep career in Missouri as well. He's in line to win both the placekicking and punting jobs after his performance in spring drills. Sophomore Mark Mariscal is running second-team at both after the spring, as he's started to show the form that made him one of the top booters out of high school two years ago. The only other punter on the roster is sophomore Mike Twisselman. who has shown glimpses of solid play in practice. One other placekicker returns: redshirt frosh Katie Hnida, who became only the second woman to ever dress for a Division I-A game last fall (and the first for a bowl game). CU will have to replace deep snapper Brody Heffner Liddiard (136 perfect snaps a year ago) and ace return man Ben Kelly. There are several candidates for both spots that will get looks in the spring, including juniors Roman Hollowell (11 returns in '99) and Cedric Cormier, along with some of the incoming recruits this fall.

Q&AWITH GARY BARNETT

Thoughts On His First Season As Head Coach At Colorado

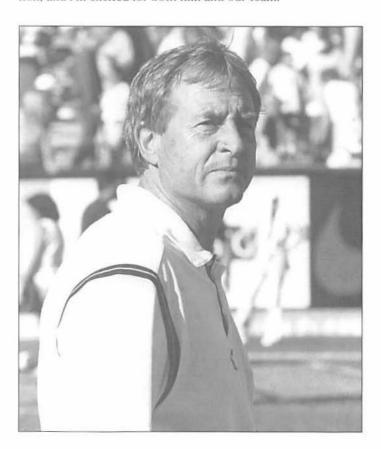

"I think that once the players and coaches got through the transition, which took about six games into the year, that things started happening for us that were really positive. I think that all of the players and coaches finished the last half of the year really feeling good about where we were going, how things fit together, and about the season in general. I don't think I've ever had more fun coaching than the last six weeks of the season, and I think the kids did too once they realized what they're expectations were. I felt we were good as anybody in the country by the end of the year."

On The Offense

"The most critical area on offense is the quarterback position, and then replacing three veteran offensive lineman. Between a returning one-game starter in Zac Colvin and (JUCO) transfer Bobby Pesavento somebody will have to step up, but after watching both in the spring, we feel pretty good about the position. The offensive line needs to be developed, as that area becomes really critical, especially losing three starters, but Tom Ashworth and Justin Bates figure to move into two of the spots. We have the nucleus to be a really good offense, but we still need a lot of work along the offensive line but we made some progress in the spring."

On Shawn Watson Replacing Tom Cable As Offensive Coordinator

"I really wanted to stay with the same offense. I believe in what we ran last year, and want to take it to another level. I felt the best chance to do that was to promote one of our own guys, which also promotes loyalty when you hire from within. Shawn's the perfect guy to do this, especially as the quarterbacks coach. He has a great background, brings a lot of experience to the position, and I'm excited for both him and our team."

On The Defense

"The most obvious places we need to replace are three guys in the backfield, two corners and a safety, and a speed rusher on the edge. We've got a lot of good young guys in the program and we made some headway in the spring. We can and should have a really solid front seven, and I think we're going to be really, really good up front, which I'm excited about. So the pressure will be on the secondary and replacing three multi-year starters, all of whom were drafted into the NFL. Michael Lewis' leadership back there will be critical."

On The Kicking Game

"Obviously, we brought Jeremy Flores in to be our placekicker, as we really have little experience back there. I don't know if its practical to have him do both (punt and placekick), but after watching them in the spring, Flores is a bit ahead but I'd be comfortable going with Mark Mariscal. I'm not as concerned with the placekicking as I am the punting, I think we have the personnel on both those units to be very good, meaning punt and kickoff coverage and deep snappers. We have a number of candidates to be return men, between a lot of guys returning and with the freshmen coming in."

On The Team's Strengths & Weaknesses

"I think our team strength will be our speed. I think it really showed up in the bowl, and between what we've got returning and what we've recruited, will be our strength again. Dan Graham, a tight end runs exceptionally well. We have great speed at linebacker. We just run well almost at every position. Our weakness will be just inexperience in three key positions, offensive line, secondary and quarterback. Weaknesses are cyclical, though. What's a weakness one year usually turns up as a strength the following year, if you've managed your personnel well."

On His Second Recruiting Class

"As a group, we signed a lot of skill and a lot of speed. I think as the years go on here, that this will be our trademark. I think we recruited a class that everyone is going to be proud of in the state. A class that is going to be equal to the challenges they're going to have over the next four or five years and the schedules we're going to play. Our non-conference opponents over the next five years includes USC, Washington, UCLA, Florida State, so this is a class that will meet that challenge and do very well."

On The Big 12

"I think by being in the North, there are three teams that are as good as anyone in the country, and to have them all in one division, is tough sledding right now. And when Oklahoma comes back around, which is going to happen, the same will be said about the South. But right now, the North is a very difficult division to play in. I like the playoff arrangement and divisional play, and I like changing up the teams we play from the south."

On The Schedule

"We will undoubtedly have the most difficult schedule in Division I football. What that allows you is to really get a lot of quality work out of your spring ball and in the preseason, because everyone will understand how important it is. I think at the end of those first six games, we will know a heckuva lot about our football team, whereas after the first six last year, we didn't know who we were at all."

KNOW COLORADO FOOTBALL

1999 SUMMARY... CU posted a 7-5 record in 1999, topped off by the school's nation-best sixth consecutive bowl victory (a 62-28 win over Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl). It was CU's 14th winning season in its last 15 (and 10 of the last 12 with at least eight victories). CU defeated a ranked team for the 12th straight year, second only to Florida State's current streak of 13. The Buffs were 2-2 against ranked teams, owning wins over No. 24 Oklahoma and No. 22 Boston College, with narrow losses to No. 6 Kansas State (20-14) and to No. 3 Nebraska (33-30 in overtime). The 1999 season marked the first time the Buffaloes had ever scored 50 or more points in three games in a season, and firsts of 50-plus in back-to-back games and 60 or more points twice.

HISTORICALLY... Colorado is in its second century of intercollegiate football, as the Buffaloes have completed 110 seasons of competition. With an all-time record of 608-368-36 in 1,012 games, CU currently stands 16th on the all-time win list and is 20th in all-time winning percentage (.619). Only Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska from the Big 12 rank ahead of CU on each list, and only 12 Division I schools have played more seasons of intercollegiate football than Colorado. In Boulder, the Buffs are 259-120-10 in 76 seasons on the "hilltop" (Folsom Field). Against league opposition, CU is 213-184-14 against the other 11 members of the Big 12 Conference, formed in 1996. CU is 19-13 in Big 12 league games in four seasons.

EIGHTH BEST SINCE 1989... Colorado has the nation's eighth best record over the 11 years, or since the start of the 1989 season, as CU is 98-30-4 (.758) in this time frame. That trails only Florida St. (119-15-1), Nebraska (118-18-1), Tennessee (109-23-3), Florida (109-27-1), Miami, Fla. (103-28), Penn State (105-29-1) and Michigan (102-28-3). As for the 1990s (1990-99), CU had the 10th best record (87-29-4, .742) for teams that have been Division I-A the entire decade. Over the last 13 seasons, its 126-49-4 mark 11th nationally, from the time then-coach Bill McCartney reversed CU's fortunes by switching to the wishbone on offense (which Gary Barnett played a big role in).

IN-THE-POLLS... Colorado was not ranked in the final Top 25 in the Associated Press (media) or USA Today/ESPN (coaches) ballots of Wednesday, Jan. 5, but received enough votes to finish 28th and 29th, respectively. CU was ranked No. 15 to open the year in the AP poll and was No. 17 in the USAT/ESPN), marking the 10th time in 11 seasons that CU was ranked in the preseason, in the top 15 all 10 of those years. The Buffs have been ranked in 153 of the last 185 polls, including a tremendous run of 143 consecutive weeks between 1989 and 1997. In this span, CU has played the fourth most nationally ranked opponents in the nation (57), trailing Florida State (61), Michigan (59) and Florida (58). CU was ranked No. 22 in the final New York Times computer poll.

CUMULATIVE RANKINGS... In the 1990s, the Buffaloes were the Associated Press' consensus No. 10 team, with only Nebraska ranked higher (No. 3) from the Big 12 Conference. In the same span, CU ranked No. 8 nationally in recruiting classes according to SuperPrep. Florida State was No. 1 in both polls.

TWELVE AND COUNTING... Colorado has defeated at least one top 25 team for 12 consecutive seasons, the second longest active streak in the nation. CU has defeated at least three ranked teams in six of the last 10 seasons, including five in 1990 and 1995 (three in 1998). Florida State has defeated at least one top 25 team in 13 straight years, followed by Colorado (12), Michigan (11), Tennessee (10) and Washington (10). All five schools extended those streaks in 1999.

DOMINATION... Colorado has only seven losses to unranked teams since dropping the 1987 season opener to Oregon: to BYU (1988 Freedom Bowl), Stanford (1991), Missouri (1997), Kansas (1998) and Colorado State, Washington and Texas Tech (this year). BYU reappeared in the final rankings for 1988; Stanford went 7-1 after the CU game to crack the top 20; Missouri almost beat Nebraska the following week and made its way into rankings for the first time in 14 seasons; and CSU appeared at No. 24 after defeating CU. The Buffs are 51-5-2 in their last 58 games against unranked teams (AP), with records of 67-6-2 in the last 75 and 81-7-2 in the last 90. CU had won 25 straight against unranked teams until the '97 loss to Missouri (and had 29 straight road wins over unranked teams until the Kansas loss). The Buffs are 112-35-4 in regular season games since the start of the 1986 Big Eight Conference season (7-5 in bowls): 74-25-3 in Big 8/12 games and 38-10-1 in non-conference regular season action.

LINEUPS... Colorado used 20 different starting lineups in 12 games last season (12 offense, eight defense). Including 1998, the Buffaloes have now used 43 different starting lineups in their last 24 games, or just five under the maximum. While some of the changes have been due to either personnel calls or game opening formations, many of the switches were dictated by injuries. As for the offense, CU has started a different starting 11 for 29 consecutive games, last opening with the same 11 in the Oklahoma State and Kansas games back in 1997.

BUFFS ON GRASS... Colorado is 22-10-1 in its last 33 games on grass, dating back to the 1985 season (19-4 in the last 23, including eight straight at one point). The Buffs are 24-17-1 on grass dating back to the 1977 season, and in 1999 played their most games on grass since 1970 (nine, including the bowl; CU was 7-2 last year on the real stuff).

ON THE PLASTIC... Colorado is 80-21-3 in its last 104 games on artificial turf dating back to the start of the 1989 season. The only teams to defeat Colorado more than once on artificial surface in this span are Nebraska (7 times), Kansas State (3) and Kansas (2). CU is 49-14-3 in its last 66 conference games on the fake greenery. The Buffs were 0-3 on fake fields in 1999.

SCORING STREAKS... The Buffs have scored in a school record 134 consecutive games (dating back to 1988, the second longest streak in the Big 12 behind Texas), last being shutout on Nov. 12, 1988 at Nebraska (7-0). CU has scored in 77 straight games at home (last shutout: a 28-0 loss to Oklahoma on Nov. 15, 1986 in a game where the Sooners did not attempt a single pass). The Buffs have scored in 54 consecutive road games (68 including neutral sites). CU has scored in 92 straight games against nonconference opponents (last shutout: a 44-0 loss at home to Louisiana State on Sept. 15, 1979). The home shutout losses to Oklahoma in '86 and LSU in '79 are the only two times CU has not scored at home over the course of the last 212 games (all the way back to 1963). CU has been shutout just seven times in its last 367 games (dating back to Oct. 5, 1968), but only four schools have done it: Oklahoma (three times), Nebraska (twice), Louisiana State and Michigan. BIG 12 CONFERENCE CONSECUTIVE GAMES SCOR-ING STREAKS: Texas 227, Colorado 134, Iowa State 93, Nebraska 50, Oklahoma State 50, Kansas State 39, Texas Tech 28, Kansas 16, Oklahoma 12, Baylor 1, Missouri 0, Texas A&M 0. CU was the last team to shutout Kansas State (12-0 in 1996).

STREAKS-N-SUCH... CU is 55-20 in its last 75 games, 10th nationally, with 15 of the losses coming at the hands of ranked programs... Colorado is 42-9 in its last 51 games against teams who were not undefeated at the time of the game... CU is 50-6 against teams with three or more losses dating back to the 1985 season, including wins in 28 straight such games until losing to Missouri in 1997 (and in 25 straight games on the road against teams with three or more losses until the '98 loss to Kansas, or a span of 14 seasons)... CU was 2-2 against ranked teams in 1999, not playing any until the eighth game of the season. CU played six in 1998, going 3-3; it was the seventh time in CU history that the Buffs played as many as six ranked teams in a single season; CU played seven in 1990 (going 5-1-1 en route to the national title) and in 1995 (5-2); CU played six in 1974 (2-4), 1993 (3-3), 1994 (5-1), 1997 (1-5) and 1998 (3-3)... Colorado has now won 49 straight games in which it has had at least a two-score lead at any point during the game.

TRUE FRESHMEN PARTICIPATION CHART... Here's a chart showing the participation of true freshmen at Colorado since 1986, when almost half the incoming recruiting class players saw action. The list is solely scholarship frosh, and does not include three Prop 48 sophomores in 1987, one Prop 48 sophomore in 1991, or one partial qualifier in each 1997 and 1998:

Seasor	Total	Played	Redshirted
1986	20	8	12
1987	19	6	13
1988	20	5	15
1989	18	7	11
1990	11	2	9
1991	21	8	13
1992	25	9	16
1993	19	2	17
1994	16	6	10
1995	23	4	19
1996	19	6	13
1997	19	1	18

NUMBERS GAME... Over the last three seasons, 44 of the 52 incoming freshmen have been redshirted, building up some youth in the program and it provided a little cushion in recruiting with the '99 coaching switch. LB Ty Gregorak was the only freshman to play of the '97 recruiting class (19 players), and only four of the 18 in 1998 played as true rookies (SS Michael Lewis, FS John Minardi, FB Andy Peeke and SLB Jashon Sykes). Last fall, three saw action, all linebackers: Joey Johnson, Aaron Killion and Kory Mossoni.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER... Add a couple of players to last year's letterman list, as OG Ryan Gray and ILB Aaron Killion picked up enough plays in the Insight.com Bowl to earn their first letters. Team guidelines call for a minimum 100 plays on the field (or a special skill), and Gray entered the bowl with 73 plays and Killion 71. Killion, starting and playing most of the game, finished with 118 plays, while Gray finished with 98—official plays; when including while on the field for penalty plays, he had 102.

SENIOR ANALYSIS... Colorado had 22 seniors on its roster in 1999, and most (15) were in the two-deep on the depth chart. Just over half of them (11) were currently listed atop the depth chart at their respective positions: PK Jeremy Aldrich, FS Rashidi Barnes, OG Brad Bedell, OT Shane Cook, OG Ryan Johanningmeier, OLB Fred Jones, QB Mike Moschetti, P Nick Pietsch, WR Marcus Stiggers, DT Jesse Warren and CB Damen Wheeler. WR Robert Toler was starting at wide receiver until a season ending knee injury. Another, Brody Heffner Liddiard, was in a three-way mix at tight end, and he was also the snapper on special teams. Four others were listed second at their positions: TB Dwayne Cherrington, OT Kane Cullum, OG Chris Morgan and OC/G Martin Simmons. Senior reserves include PK Matt Altman, SS Ryan Chiaverini, FS Gabe Leonard, CB Thomas Louden and FB A.J. Page.

OTHERS NOT BACK... Only one player of significance on last year's roster won't return. CB Ben Kelly, who announced in January that he would forego his senior year of eligibility and made himself eligible for this April's National Football League draft (he was the highest Buff drafted, in the third round by Cleveland). He's the fifth to come out early in CU history (all five were drafted) and the first since 1995, when TB Rashaan Salaam and DT Shannon Clavelle left following their junior years. One other scholarship player, C Tony Camp, quit football this spring.

HELLO STRANGERS... A couple of players return after hiatus, as TB Marcques Spivey returns after missing the last year while tending to academics, and OL Dan Major, a 1999 recruit, will return after taking a year off from football. Both are on scholarship.

CHART WATCH... Here's where several Buffs rank on some of CU's all-time statistical charts heading into the 2000 season:

- TB CORTLEN JOHNSON is 42nd in rushing yards (1,010), and is tied for 79th in scoring (48 points);
- TB DAMION BARTON is 92nd in rushing yards (381);
- WR JAVON GREEN is sixth in receiving yards (1,332), is ninth in receptions (88) and is 51st in scoring (80 points);
- WR ROMAN HOLLOWELL is tied for 46th in receptions (33) and is 75th in receiving yards (344);
- TE DANIEL GRAHAM is 74th in receiving yards (347):
- LB JASHON SYKES is 59th in all-time tackles (186).

WATSON PROMOTED TO OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR... Quarterback coach Shawn Watson was promoted to offensive coordinator on Jan. 19, replacing Tom Cable, who left CU for the head coaching job at Idaho following the Buffs' 62-28 win over Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl. "I really wanted to stay with the same offense," coach Gary Barnett said. "I believe in what we ran last year, and want to take it to another level. I felt the best chance to do that was to promote one of our own guys, and that also promotes loyalty when you hire from within. Shawn's the perfect guy to do this, especially as the quarterbacks coach," Barnett added. "He has a great background, brings a lot of experience to the position, and I'm excited for both him and our team."

Colorado averaged 433.1 yards per game, including the bowl, in 1999, and scored 50 or more points three times, the first time a CU team ever accomplished that feat. "I'm really excited and honored to be put in this position," Watson said. "I feel that after the great job that Tom did, there's a great sense of responsibility. We have a really good offense, and I can't wait to get things started this spring." Watson, 40, tutored quarterback Mike Moschetti this past year, watching his senior signal-caller set a school record for completion percentage for a single season, 61.6 percent. Moschetti completed 204 of 331 passes for 2,693 yards, with 18 touchdowns and 12 interceptions. He also helped bring along redshirt freshman Zac Colvin, who became only the fifth freshman to start a game for CU, and just the second to lead the team to victory in CU's 16-12 win at lowa State.

BUFFS LEAD NATION IN POSTSEASON ALL-STAR APPEARANCES... Colorado has zoomed to the top when it comes to postseason all-star games (East-West Shrine, Senior and Hula), leading the nation with 38 appearances over the last six seasons. This perhaps could also be one of the indicators which also has CU as the fourth-leading producer of active players in the NFL (34 at the end of the 1999 season). The Buffs have had 21 players in the Hula Bowl, nine in the Senior Bowl, seven in the East-West Shrine Game and one in the Blue-Gray Game (37 different players, one played in two games). Two players were postseason MVP's, QB Kordell Stewart (1995 Hula) and WR Michael Westbrook (1995 East-West). The list doesn't include 10 other players who were invited but declined the invitation.

SURGERY/INJURY UPDATE... Here's a look at those Buffs who are recovering from surgeries performed at various times since last season and others who were injured in spring practice. All are expected back for August drills:

Pos	Player	Injury
OT	Tom Ashworth	shoulder reconstruction
LB	Dryden Dunsmore	knee sprain
DB	Matt Duren	thumb surgery
TE	Daniel Graham	knee (scar tissue)
LB	Ty Gregorak	shoulder, knee
TE	Rudy Hage	stress fracture (foot)
DE	Robert Haas	knees (arthritis)
TB	Judd Johns	quadracep/shoulder

Pos	Player	Injury
TB	Cortlen Johnson	knee sprain
LB	Joey Johnson	shoulder surgery
TE	Miles Koon	meniscus tear/knee
SS	Michael Lewis	ankle (scar tissue)
WR	Eric McCready	knee (chronic)
FB	Scott Nemeth	shoulders (diagnostic)
CB	Donald Strickland	shoulder (cartilage)
LB	Jashon Sykes	shoulder surgery
CB	Nate Wright	shoulder surgery

POSITION SWITCHES... A couple of major position changes have taken place. TB Damion Barton, pending reinstatement to the team in the fall following a charge for third-degree domestic assault, will shift to defense, probably at corner to utilize his speed, and DT Josh Foster pops over to the other side of the trench and will become an offensive tackle. Redshirt freshman Gabe Oderberg also moved from defensive end to the offensive line. FB Beau Williams moved over a bit and became a tight end full-time. Frosh recruit Rudy Hage switched from defensive end to tight end the final week of spring practice, and redshirt frosh Leon Kiel and Vince Mitchell both moved from fullback to defensive tackle during the spring.

DEFENSIVE DOWN THE STRETCH... Colorado matured in the final half of the season, once the players fully understood and bought into the system. Over the last five regular season games, CU posted several numbers that would have ranked in the top 16 for the season: pass efficiency defense (81.2 rating, second); pass completion percentage (41.2, second); total defense (281.4, fifth); scoring defense (17.8, 14th); and turnover margin (+0.8, 16th). It carried over into the bowl, when CU allowed Boston College just 255 total yards (96 rush, 159 pass). The Eagles were 14-of-35 passing, with three interceptions, for a 70.5 rating in the game. And though they scored 28 points, 14 came on returns (one interception, one blocked punt).

OFFENSE NO SECOND FIDDLE... CU ended the year with three straight 500-yard offensive efforts. Against Baylor and Nebraska, CU had 504 yards in each, and then closed with 523 in the bowl win over Boston College. It had been five years since CU had strung together three straight 500 yards games: back in 1994, CU had 511 at Michigan (yes, The Catch game), 506 at Texas and 502 at Missouri, also the last time CU had three straight road games. On each occasion, two of the three schools were ranked, to boot. For the year, the Buffs averaged 424.9 yards per game, the most since putting 452.1 in the books on the average in 1996. Unfortunately, the 504 yards output against Nebraska were the second most yards gained by the Buffs in losing a game, but it was the most ever by a Colorado team versus the Huskers. CU also had 284 yards in the fourth quarter alone, 50 yards more than NU had been allowing per game for the season. In fact, the 284 yards were more than CU had in 12 of its previous games against the Huskers.

BOWL BEST... Colorado now owns the nation's longest active bowl game winning streak at six (Georgia Tech was tied with CU, but the Yellow Jackets lost their game; North Carolina is next with four). The Buffs have been dominant throughout the entire streak, with only Washington giving CU a real run for its money in the '96 Holiday Bowl. The six game streak is tied for the sixth longest of all-time, and only the ninth time that has happened in NCAA history (and by just eight schools, as USC has achieved it twice). Colorado has also tied the Big 12 school best (six by Nebraska between 1969 and 1974). All-time bowl winning streaks (*—active): Florida State 11, Southern Cal 9, Georgia Tech 8, UCLA 8, Syracuse 7, Alabama 6, *COLORADO 6, Nebraska 6, Southern Cal 6, Alabama 5, Arizona State 5, Clemson 5, Fresno State 5, Georgia Tech 5, Miami, Fla. 5, Mississippi 5, Notre Dame 5, Penn State 5, Tennessee 5 and Texas 5.

BOWL BEST II... CU has scored 266 points in the six games, or an average of 44.3 per game, easily the most in the country in this time frame. The Buffs have also scored in 15 consecutive quarters in bowl games: all four in the '99 Insight.com Bowl (a 62-28 thrashing of Boston College), all four in the '98 Aloha Bowl (a 51-43 win over Oregon), all four in the '96 Holiday Bowl (a 33-21 win over Washington), and the last three in the '96 Cotton Bowl (a 38-6 rout of Oregon). Prior to not scoring in the first quarter of the Cotton Bowl, CU had also scored in 11 consecutive quarters in the post-season. Thus, the Buffs have scored in 26 of the last 27 bowl quarters.

TRENDS 1... Since 1985, when the Buffs returned to their traditional winning ways, Colorado is 126-49-4 (the 11th best record nationally in this span). In these 179 games, CU has posted the following records (including bowls):

with 400-plus yards total offense	79- 6-2
with 500-plus yards total offense	38- 3-0
when leading in time of possession	83- 9-3
when making 20-plus first downs	80-15-1
when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	53- 3-1 with 500-plus yards total offense when leading in time of possession when making 20-plus first downs when punting three or fewer times	45- 6-1

=	when scoring first	76-13-1
=	when coming from behind	50-36-3
=	with two or fewer turnovers (22-3-2 with zero)	88-20-2
=	when holding opponent to 17 points or less	82-12-1
	when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	62- 2-1
=	when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	71-10-1
=	when leading after three quarters (103-5-3 in last 111)	107- 7-3
	when leading at halftime (91-6-2 in last 99)	107- 8-2
=	when scoring 24 or more points	100-10-2
	when scoring 14 or more points	123-28-2
	when held to 13 points or less	3-21-0
	when passing for more yards than rushing	45-26-2
	when holding edge in 1st downs & possession time	72- 6-2

TRENDS II... Since 1989, when the Buffs became a regular in the national rankings, Colorado has posted the nation's eighth best overall record at 98-30-4. Here's are some trends during this time frame (132 games, including bowls):

	when running more plays than the opponent	57-11-3
	with 400-plus yards total offense (42-3 with 500-plus)	65- 6-2
	when scoring 30 or more points (67 in 132 games)	63- 3-1
=	when leading in possession time (35-21-1 when not)	62- 7-3
=	when making 20-plus first downs	68-12-1
	when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	39- 2-1
	when passing for 200-plus yards	52-16-2
88	when passing for 300-plus yards (7-0-1 400-plus)	19- 4-1
	when scoring first (43-4-1 the last 48 times)	54- 7-1
	with two or fewer turnovers (16-3-2 with zero)	70-14-2
	when holding opponent to 17 points or less	58- 5-1
	when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	46- 2-1
	when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	50- 5-1
-	when average field position is CU 30+ (19-1 40+)	71-12-2
	when play selection is 50 percent rushing calls	82- 9-2
20	when rushing and passing for at least 200 yards	24- 1-0
	when passing for more yards than rushing	45-26-2
-	when holding edge in 1st downs & possession time	54- 5-2
	when holding edge in field position	77- 9-1
	when outrushing the opponent	78- 2-3
	when owning the edge in return yards	78-10-2

ROAD-SWEET-ROAD... The Buffs have enjoyed more than their fare share of success on the road over the last 14 seasons. CU has been victorious 44 of the last 61 times away from Boulder and is 51-22-1 dating back to the 1985 season (a 69.6 winning clip). During this time frame, CU won a school record 10 straight road games (between 1994 and 1996), before the streak ended in the '96 regular season finale at Nebraska, 17-12 (and bested the old mark of eight straight set between 1922 and 1924). Over the last 12 years, Colorado is 42-16-1 away from home (a 72.1 winning percentage) which stands tied for sixth nationally with Penn State and second among Big 12 Conference teams in this span. The Buffaloes own a 33-11-1 mark in their last 45 road conference games (Big 8 & Big 12-four losses at Nebraska, two at Kansas and one each at Oklahoma State, Kansas and Missouri; the tie came at School	W	L	T	Pct.

Florida State	44	11	0	.800
Nebraska	43	11	1	.791
Michigan	43	12	3	.767
Miami, Fla.	46	16	0	.742
Tennessee	39	14	2	.727
Colorado	42	16	1	.721
Penn State	42	16	1	.721
Florida	33	14	1	.691
Notre Dame	36	16	2	.685
Ohio State	37	17	2	.679

K-State in 1993). Colorado dropped three straight on the road after the 10-game win streak, but got back into the win column with a 47-30 win at Texas. CU was 2-3 on the road in 1999 (same as in 1998), including two losses by seven points or less.

NO CREAMPUFFS HERE... As previously mentioned, Colorado has the 10th best record in college football since the start of 1989 season (97-30-4). Of these 131 games, Colorado has played a whopping 56 ranked teams, the fourth most in the nation during this time frame (43%), with another 16 games against teams receiving significant (10 or more) votes. CU is 30-24-2 against ranked teams during this period (including an 11-11 record on the road); note CU is also 67-6-2 against unranked teams. CU has played the second most games against ranked teams the last five years (38 of its last 82 contests), going 3-3 in 1993, 5-1 in 1994, 5-2 in 1995, 2-2 in 1996, 1-5 in 1997, 3-3 in 1998 and 1-2 so far in 1999. NOTE: In 1990, the Buffs became only the second team in NCAA history to win the national championship after playing the nation's toughest schedule (opponents won 63% of their games; Penn State was the first to accomplish the feat, in 1982). CU again played the nation's toughest, and it's toughest-ever, in 1997: opponents won 67% of their games.

INSIGHT.COM BOWL LEFTOVERS... A few notes from CU's 62-28 thrashing of Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl:

- □ CU has now won six straight bowl games, tied for the sixth longest streak of all-time, and only the ninth time that has happened in NCAA history (and by just eight schools, as USC has achieved it twice). Colorado owns the longest active streak in the nation with the six wins, and the Buffs have tied the Big 12 best (six by Nebraska between 1969 and 1974). All-time bowl winning streaks (*—active): Florida State 11, Southern Cal 9, Georgia Tech 8, UCLA 8, Syracuse 7, Alabama 6, *COLORADO 6, Nebraska 6, Southern Cal 6, Alabama 5, Arizona State 5, Clemson 5, Fresno State 5, Georgia Tech 5, Miami, Fla. 5, Mississippi 5, Notre Dame 5, Penn State 5, Tennessee 5 and Texas 5.
- CU totally turned its postseason fortunes around in the 1990s; by posting a 7-2 mark in the decade, the Buffs are now 11-12 in bowl games, rallying from losing seven in a row between 1972 and 1989. In the current six game streak, the Buffalo have scored an average of 44.3 points (including eight non-offensive touchdowns) and have won by an average of 19 points (outscoring the foe, 266-152).
- Colorado scored in all four quarters against Boston College, extending its postseason streak to 15 consecutive (and to 26 in the last 27). The only "0" came in the first quarter of CU's 38-6 win over Oregon in the 1996 Cotton Bowl.
- □ Colorado's rushing total of 347 yards against Boston College (revised down from 365 when an 18-yard touchdown by Roman Hollowell was changed to a pass reception), still led all teams in the 1999 bowls, as did CU's 6.94 yards per carry. Utah was next with 334 yards. Cortlen Johnson rushed for 201 yards on 15 tries for the Buffs (with two touchdowns), the second most by an individual in the '99 postseason. Utah's Mike Anderson had 254 yards, but on 34 carries, while only Syracuse's James Mungro averaged more than Johnson's 13.4 per carry (Mungro had 12 for 162, or 13.5). Heisman Trophy winner Ron Dayne had the only other 200-yard game in the bowls, rushing 34 times for exactly 200 yards.
- CU also allowed the seventh fewest total yards (255), on the strength of the 11th fewest passing yards (159) combined with only 96 rushing yards (the 18th lowest).
- The bowl win was Gary Barnett's first in three tries as a head coach, and his 50th overall in 10 seasons as a college coach (eight at Fort Lewis, 35 at Northwestern and seven at Colorado).
- □ The 62 points by the Buffs marked the second time CU topped 60 for the season—the first time in school history that the Buffs accomplished that feat (CU beat San Jose State, 63-35, on Sept. 11). It was the third 50-plus scoring performance, making it the first time a CU team topped the half century mark three times in the same season (CU has topped 50 twice in six other seasons—five in the last 11 years—1905, 1989, 1991, 1992, 1994 and 1995). The 62 points bested Colorado's previous best bowl output (in a 51-43 over Oregon in the '98 Aloha), and were the third most ever in Division I-A bowl play. CU's 34-point win topped the school's previous biggest win, 32 points over Oregon (38-6) in the '96 Cotton.
- Colorado has at least one non-offensive touchdown in four straight bowls (and in five of its last six). The roll call:
 - —1999 Insight.com: Jashon Sykes 29 interception return, Rashidi Barnes 21 interception return, Ben Kelly 88 punt return
 - —1998 Aloha: Ben Kelly 93 kickoff return, Damen Wheeler 52 intercepted pitch return
 - -1996 Holiday: Nick Ziegler 31 interception return
 - -1996 Cotton: Marcus Washington 95 interception return
 - -1995 Fiesta: none
 - -1993 Aloha: Donnell Leomiti 28 fumble return
- □ Colorado has reeled off 45 unanswered points in the first quarter of its last three bowl games: the last seven in the '96 Holiday, 17 in the '98 Aloha, and 24 in the '99 Insight.com. CU's 35-0 lead against Boston College bested CU's previous largest lead out of the gate in a bowl game, 20-0 over Clemson in the '56 Orange. CU's largest bowl lead ever came early in the fourth quarter against Boston College, when it led by 48 points (62-14). The previous largest bowl lead by the Buffs was the final margin in the '96 Cotton (38-6).

TV TIME... Colorado was the most televised team in the Big 12 Conference on a national or regional basis last decade, as the Buffs had 75 of 120 games dating back to 1990 broadcast (63 percent), including nine of 12 games last year. CU was on nine times in 1998, and was on 10 of 11 games in 1997 (Missouri was the exception); including 1996, when the Big 12 began, 38 of CU's 47 games in this span have been either nationally or regionally televised, an impressive 80.9 percent. Nationally, CU trails only Notre Dame, Florida (96 of 124 games), Michigan, Penn State, Ohio State and Florida State in national or regional appearances in this time frame.

OPPONENTS IN 1999... CU's opponents last year combined for a 68-59 (.535): Colorado State (8-4), San Jose State (3-7), Washington (7-5), Baylor (1-10), Oklahoma (7-5), Kansas State (11-1), Texas Tech (6-5), Kansas (5-7), Missouri (4-7), Iowa State (4-7) and Nebraska (12-1).

OPPONENTS IN 2000... Colorado has six bowl teams on its 2000 schedule, with the combined record of all 11 of next year's opponents a whopping 79-53 (.598). Ouch: *Colorado State (8-4), Southern Cal (6-6), *Washington (7-5), *Kansas State (11-1), *Texas A & M (8-4), *Texas (9-5), Kansas (5-7), Oklahoma State (5-6), Missouri (4-7), lowa State (4-7) and Nebraska (12-1). And the only team without a winning record in the first six, USC, won its last three games of the '99 season (—denotes bowl team).

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING... Here's where the Buffs ranked statistically in some select categories in the Big 12 and the NCAA for the 1999 season (bowl games not included):

B12	NCAA	Category Stat

- Mike Moschetti was first in the league and 13th in the nation in passing efficiency (140.7 rating), and was second in the conference and 14th in the NCAA in total offense (281.8 ypg).
- Cortlen Johnson was third in the league and 40th in the NCAA in rushing yards per game (83.5), with the same figure ranking him 15th in the Big 12 in total offense; he was 15th in the Big 12 in scoring (4.8 ppg); and was sixth in the Big 12 in all-purpose yards (100.3);
- ◆ Dwayne Cherrington was 19th in the Big 12 in rushing (30.0);
- Javon Green was sixth in the league in receptions per game (3.6) and was fourth the Big 12 in receiving yards per game (60.3);
- Marcus Stiggers was seventh in the league in receptions per game (3.4) and was fifth in the Big 12 in receiving yards per game (56.8);
- Daniel Graham was 25th in the league in receiving yards per game (29.3);
- Ben Kelly tied for second in the Big 12 and fifth in the NCAA in kickoff returns (28.8), was 11th in the league in punt returns (5.9 per), was 23rd in the Big 12 in all-purpose yards per game (65.9) and tied for second in the league and 20th in the NCAA in interceptions per game (5, or .45 per game);
- Nick Pietsch was sixth in the league in punting (39.98 average):
- Jashon Sykes was second in the Big 12 in tackles (134, or 12.2 per game);
- Damen Wheeler tied for seventh in the league and 50th in the NCAA in interceptions per game (4, or .36 per);
- Jeremy Aldrich was sixth in the Big 12 and 37th in the NCAA in scoring (7.64 per), and was fourth in the league and 19th in the NCAA in field goals per game (1.45).

CRADLE OF COACHES... There are seven current head coaches in Division I college football who have had assistant coaching stints at the University of Colorado. The most obvious is right here in Boulder; Gary Barnett was an assistant at CU from 1984-91 and was head coach at Northwestern from 1992-98. Others include: Jim Caldwell, Wake Forest (1982-84), Ron Vanderlinden, Maryland (1983-91), Steve Logan, East Carolina (1985-86). Bob Simmons. Oklahoma State (1988-94), Rick Neuheisel, Washington (1994; he of course was CU's head coach from 1995-98), and the most recent, Tom Cable, Idaho (1998-99). All but Cable were assistants under Bill McCartney, CU's all-time winningest head coach (93-55-5 between 1982-94). Cable coached under both Neuheisel and Barnett.

BUFFS PROVIDE BLEMISHES... Colorado has inflicted a few blemishes on some of the teams who have the best home records in the 1990s. The top five home records in the 1990s belonged to Florida State (55-1-1), Nebraska (62-3), Florida (57-4), Texas A & M (55-4-1) and Kansas State (57-5-1). That's a combined 287-17-3; but of those 20 losses or ties, CU was responsible for five of them. CU won at Nebraska in 1990, at Texas A & M in 1996, and were 2-2-1 at Kansas State in the 90s (wins in 1991 and 1995 and a tie in 1993).

THE BUFFS AGAINST THE BEST... CU and Nebraska have been the saving grace for the Big 12: the four-year old league owns a 13-29 record against ranked non-conference opponents (including bowls) since its inception in 1996, and the Buffs own five of those wins. CU is 5-2 against ranked non-Big 12 foes; Nebraska is also 5-2, Kansas State 1-2, Baylor 1-3, Texas 1-5, Oklahoma 0-0, Kansas 0-1, Oklahoma State 0-1, Iowa State 0-2, Missouri 0-3, Texas A&M 0-4 and Texas Tech 0-4.

Against all-non league foes (non-conference schedule and bowls). Nebraska 15-2, Kansas State 14-2, Oklahoma State 11-2, Kansas 9-3, Colorado 11-4, Texas A & M 11-5, Missouri 10-4, Texas 9-6, Iowa State 7-5, Texas Tech 8-7, Baylor 6-6 and Oklahoma 5-8. Traditionally, CU is one of only a few schools in this conference that does not schedule cupcakes, creampuffs, Twinkies and other desert food for non-league games.

STREAKING... Colorado has active multiple win streaks going against 18 major schools. The list: 16—lowa State; 6—Texas; 5—Air Force, Oklahoma; 4—Baylor, Fresno State, Wisconsin; 3—Minnesota, San Jose State, Utah State, Washington State; 2—California, Iowa, Northeast Louisiana, Notre Dame, Oregon, Oregon State and Wyoming. CU's longest current losing streaks are to Nebraska (8), followed by Louisiana State (4), UCLA (4), Kansas State (3), Michigan State (3) and Southern Cal (3).

STAT SHOTS... Here are some interesting statistical bullets about Colorado football:

- ▶ In its history, Colorado is 256-8-1 when scoring 30 or more points, along with records of 184-3 with 35-plus points and 171-2 with 36-plus, 148-1 with 38-plus and 100-0 with 43 or more tallies. The three losses with 35 more points came to Air Force (58-35 in 1968), Oklahoma (82-42 in 1980) and Stanford (41-37 in 1993). Colorado has played 1,012 games in its history, and has registered final point totals of every number between 0 and 70 except 68 (and of course 1), and have hit 75 and 109 above that mark.
- ▶ Colorado has scored 30 or more points in 67 of its last 132 games, posting a 63-3-1 record. The losses were at Stanford, 41-37 in 1993, to Missouri in Boulder in 1997, 41-31, and to Nebraska in Boulder in 1999, 33-30, in overtime; the tie was a 31-31 affair with Tennessee in the 1990 Disneyland Pigskin Classic. The Buffs have scored at least three touchdowns in 99 of these 132 games, dating to the start of 1989, going 84-13-2 (CU is 14-16-2 when held to 20 or less).
- ► CU has allowed only 199 touchdowns in the last 408 times that the enemy has cracked its 20 (dating back to 1988; the other 209 times have yielded 106 field goals as well as 103 non-scores. In this time frame, that works to the opponent coming away with nothing 26 percent of the time when penetrating the CU 20, and three points or less 51.2 percent of the time, which are astonishing numbers.
- Opponents had 10 touchdowns in 31 drives started in CU territory; combined with 1998, the two-year total is just 14 touchdowns in 51 drives started on the CU side of the 50, or just barely one in four chances.
- ▶ In 1999, 35 of 180 opponent drives yielded touchdowns (but only 12 in the last 86); only 20 of 140 opponent drives produced six points in 1998, with just about half (67) ending with a punt. CU forced the foe to 3-and-out 69 out of 180 possessions in 1999 (opponents went 3-and-out 53 times in 140 possessions in 1998, both figures right around 38% of the time).

COUNTING BACK... Four signees will actually count toward last year's class: Jeremy Flores, Bobby Pesavento, and brothers Marwan and Rawad Hage. CU did not use its full allotment of scholarships last year, and anyone who enrolls prior to the next signing date can be counted in the previous class. All four of the above enrolled at CU in time for the first day of classes Jan. 18. In the chart above, though, they are listed in the 2000 numbers.

COLORADO & JUCO COUNTS... There are eight Colorado high school products in the class of 2000, the most since Bill McCartney's staff signed eight back in 1989. This is the 11th time in the last 28 classes that CU has signed as many as eight from its home state. The Buffs also recruited the most junior college players (five) this year since 1984, when Bill McCartney signed six. CU signed only five in the last eight recruiting classes combined (1992-99). The all time record is 15 signed by Chuck Fairbanks in his last recruiting class in 1982.

CLASS NOTES... Here are some quick tidbits about the 24 members of the 2000 Colorado recruiting class:

CB Corey Alexander is a first cousin of CU wide receiver Cedric Cormier, who will be a junior this fall. He's also quite a baseball player, with 98 career stolen bases, and he could be a fairly high draft pick come this June... DT Brandon Dabdoub hails from Louisiana, where CU had much success recruiting in the late 1980s and most of the 1990s. He'll be the first player from Louisiana on the CU roster since 1997, with the most famous being QB Kordell Stewart (1991-94), who hailed from Marrero... ILB J.P. diZerega set Wheat Ridge's single season solo tackle mark last fall by making 84... P/PK Jeremy Flores isn't your usual kicker; he's got 4.48 speed in the 40 and was the No. 3 ranked boxer in Golden Gloves competition in the state of Missouri for 1995. Sounds like if anyone gets near him on a punt or kickoff return that A) he'll catch them, and B) they could get hurt... OLB Chad Gardner lists working on classic Volkswagen "Bugs" as one of his hobbies, though he did admit to liking the newer versions that came out a couple of years back... Brothers OL Marwan and DE Rudy Hage will be the first siblings on the Colorado team in the same year since twins Andrew and Bryant Amador were walk-on defensive backs in 1995; the Hage's are just over a year-and-a-half apart. CU's most famous brothers to play at the same time? Dick and Bobby Anderson, of course (Hale and Phil Irwin never played together)... OL Neal Hannifin wants a number in the 50s or 60s: "I don't want a fat lineman's number. I'm coming in with a middle linebacker's mentality." He wore 56 in high school and junior college... ATH Marques Harris, who had 11 tackles for loss against Montrose as a senior, is pretty good on the mat as well: he was 32-0 as a senior, winning the state title in the 189-pound class.

TB Marcus Houston joins Chauncey Billups (basketball) and Adam Goucher (track) for those with the thickest files in the SID office prior to ever even putting on a CU practice jersey. His bio later in the packet is the longest ever for a football recruit, supplanting DE Daryl Price's (if you recall, Price had a lot of off the field accomplishments as well)... Houston also has an "imaginary" friend, Chucky, he competes against in workouts and training-sound familiar to CU observers? Running back James Hill also had one during his time at CU in the early 1990s (Douglas)... OL Rawle King, a native of the Virgin Islands, lists writing music as one of his hobbies... CB Allen Mackey scored seven touchdowns on kick returns in his career (four kickoff, three punt), including five his junior season... DE Matt McChesney has one of the more amazing statistics for a high school career: he forced 33 fumbles in four years. For comparison's sake, CU's career record is 11, by current linebacker coach Brian Cabral in the 1970s... QB Craig Ochs has the challenge of matching what other family members have accomplished in college. His older sister, Jessica, was a member of CU's 1995 national champion ski team and was an All-American in the giant slalom in 1997; his cousin, Travis Ochs, was a two-time second-team all-Big 12 linebacker with Kansas State in 1997-98... QB Bobby Pesavento is the second Italian JUCO quarterback to sign with Colorado in the last three years, joining Mike Moschetti. Ironically, when Division I-A was surveyed back in 1998 for other Italian quarterbacks, Pesavento appeared in CU's notes as being the only other in the ranks at the time... TB Bobby Purify might have a unique last name, but it's very well known in the music world: remember the pop-soul group James & Bobby Purify from the 1960's? They were cousins-James is his uncle and Bobby his grandfather. They teamed on such songs as "I'm Your Puppet," "Let Love Come Between Us," and a popular remake of "Shake A Tail Feather."

S Devvin Richardson will no doubt catch a pass in a practice drill from running backs coach John Wristen at some point. That'll make it all in the family, as one of Wristen's favorite targets when he was a quarterback at Southern Colorado in the early 1980s was Richardson's uncle, John Trahan... OL Derek Stemrich was the last member of the class to sign, doing so on Feb. 8... CB Clyde Surrell owned surreal kick return averages as a senior: 44.2 yards for five kickoff returns and 32.3 on six punt returns: let the competition to replace Ben Kelly begin... TE Quinn Sypniewski has a keen interest in journalism, particularly public relations, and will work in CU's athletic media relations office. He'll become the first active football player to ever do so in the process (a couple of skiers and soccer players have done so in the past)... ILB Sean Tufts was injured in the fourth quarter in the second game of the season, and missed the remainder of the year with a torn ACL; but he's way ahead of schedule in his rehab. How good is he? He played less than eight quarters as a senior and still made three All-America teams... TE Jesse Wallace has to like his chances of being invited to the NFL Combine in 2004 or 2005-he has two uncles in player personnel positions in the league: Lamonte Winston (Kansas City) and Kevin Winston (Tampa Bay)... DL/OL Sam Wilder was born in Dallas on Jan. 10, 1982; what rings familiar about that date? How about San Francisco 28, Dallas 27 in the NFC Championship game, and guess what? He was born at halftime. His dad's long since forgiven him.

COREY ALEXANDER, CB

5-10, 175, Fr., HS

Houston, Texas (Forest Brook)

College—This Season: He will not be eligible to play in games, as he is a partial qualifier by NCAA standards and will have to sit out this season. He will be able to practice with the team, and if he can graduate in four years, would regain the lost year.

High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar all-America honors. as he was listed as the No. 8 defensive back in the Midlands. Rivals.com placed him on its Texas Top 100 List, while Prep Football Report had him on its Top 250 (No. 199 overall); SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 39 overall player on its all-Southwest team. He earned all-district (21 4A) honors his sophomore through senior seasons, and was all-Greater Houston his senior year, when he made 40 tackles, with three interceptions (one returned for a touchdown), four forced fumbles, three recoveries and 10 pass deflections. On offense, he caught 20 passes for 423 yards and three touchdowns. He also played some quarterback and averaged 21 yards on punt returns, including an 85-yard effort for a score. As a junior, he made 32 tackles with two interceptions, two forced fumbles and a recovery, with 13 receptions for 310 yards and two touchdowns. He blocked a field goal and had an interception as a sophomore. Top games his senior year included a 42-3 win over Channelview, when he caught five passes for 105 yards and intercepted two passes, returning one for a score; and a 14-12 loss to King, when he had six catches for 112 yards, the 85-yard punt return for a score, and seven tackles. As a junior in a 27-0 win over Westbury, he held one of the state's top receivers to zero catches (Chris Cunningham, now at SMU). Forest Brook was 6-5 his senior year, 10-2 his junior season and 8-4 his sophomore campaign under coach Ron Holmes. FBHS lost all three years in the second round of the playoffs, twice to the eventual state champion and once to the state runner-up. He started four years in baseball, the last three at third base. He hit .469 as a freshman, leading the district in steals with 26, playing in the outfield. He hit .473 as a sophomore, with six home runs and a district-best 32 stolen bases. and clubbed it at .507 as a junior (eighth in the district), with 40 steals (first), 49 runs batted in (third) and eight homers (10th). He was an all-district performer his sophomore through senior years.

Academics—He is interested in criminal justice as his major at Colorado. An honor roll member throughout high school, he owned a 3.45 grade point average and was Forest Brook's student-of-themonth for December, 1999. He was a member of both the Forest Brook student council and the Key Club, serving as an officer with the latter. He was included in a special contingent that traveled to Washington, D.C., to meet senators and participate in a few meetings

Personal—Born Nov. 9, 1981 in Houston, Texas. His cousin is current Buff wide receiver Cedric Cormier, who will be a junior this fall. He was selected in the 18th round of the 2000 Major League Baseball Draft by the San Diego Padres (third baseman; the 529th pick overall).

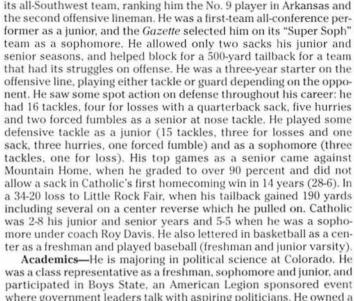

KARL ALLIS, OL

6-5, 315, Fr., RS

Little Rock, Ark. (Catholic)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the split tackle position. He had plenty of reps in the spring, as the expected starter at the spot, Tom Ashworth, was out due to an injury. 1999: Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at both tackle and guard.

High School—As a senior, he earned first-team all-state, all-conference (5A central) and all-metro (Arkansas Democratic-Gazette) honors, and was generally considered one of the top prospects in the state of Arkansas prior to the season. SuperPrep selected him to

was a class representative as a freshman, sophomore and junior, and participated in Boys State, an American Legion sponsored event where government leaders talk with aspiring politicians. He owned a solid B average in high school, and was the student body president as a senior.

Personal—Born July 15, 1981 in Little Rock, Ark. Hobbies include hunting, basketball, video games, following American politics and collecting Mark McGwire memorabilia. Grandfather (Ed Allis) was an accomplished amateur golfer who won many national tournaments. Full name is Edwin Karl Allis IV.

59 JASON ALLISON, OLB

6-3, 215, Fr., RS

Longmont, Colo. (Skyline)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed fourth at outside linebacker. He had one tackle in the two major spring scrimmages. 1999: Redshirted; practiced the entire season at outside linebacker. He joined the team as a walk-on the first day of classes (Aug. 23).

High School—Earned three letters in football, playing linebacker, and earned first-team all-conference honors as a junior and senior. He was an honorable mention all-state selection his senior year, when he had 90 tackles, six quarterback sacks and an interception. He had over 100 tackles, with five sacks and an interception as a junior. Skyline was 9-1 his senior year, 5-5 his junior year and 2-8 his sophomore season under coach Bob Knapton.

Also lettered three times in baseball (pitcher), earning all-conference honors as a senior.

DAVID ANDREWS, FB

6-4, 240, Jr., 2L Tucson, Ariz. (Sabino)

College—This Season: Enters the fall in the top spot at fullback. 1999: He had moved to

High School-As a senior, he earned SuperPrep all-Far West and Prep Football Report all-West regional honors and was a member of the Tacoma News-Tribune's "Western 100" team. SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 1 player in the state of Arizona in its preseason magazine, with PFR selecting him as the No. 92 player overall in the West. He earned first-team all-Sonoran Region, first-team all-Southern Conference and first-team all-South Arizona League honors as both a junior and senior, and was a two-time all-American by Bigger Faster Stronger. As a senior, he rushed 101 times for 802 yards (just under eight yards per carry), with 10 touchdowns and a two-point conversion run. He had two runs over 50 yards in length, and also caught four passes for 81 yards; he did not play any defense as a senior. As a junior, he had 84 carries for 525 yards and eight TDs, while making 30 tackles with three sacks and two fumble recoveries as a defensive tackle (he played five games before moving exclusively to offense). His top games included a 52-13 win over Mountain View his senior year, when he rushed 13 times for 107 yards with several pancake blocks, and a 24-21 state quarterfinal win over Phoenix Washington. when his 37-yard touchdown run helped rally Sabino from a two-TD deficit. Sabino was 12-1 his senior year and 9-4 his junior season, reaching the state semifinals both years under coach Jeff Scurran. He also lettered four times in track (discus, personal best of 170-0, and shotput, 53-0). He placed third in the discus and fourth in the shot in the state championships as a junior.

Academics—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. He is a onetime member of CU's Academic Starters team. Owned a high school grade point average of 3.3, and was an honor roll member all four years.

Personal—Born June 12, 1978, in Franklin, N.C. Grandfather (Jack Andrews) played football at Wisconsin in the 1940s, and a great-grandfather, Ivan McIntyre, played football, also at Wisconsin, at the turn of the century. Hobbies include hunting, fishing, sport shooting and basically anything in the outdoors.

TOM ASHWORTH, OT

6-6, 295, Sr., 3L

Englewood, Colo. (Cherry Creek)

College—This Season: He has bulked up to 295 pounds for his senior, season, or 30 pounds more than he was when he opened his junior year at tight end. He has also recovered from a shoulder reconstruction that forced him to miss spring drills. 1999: He saw action in all 11 regular season games (no starts), beginning the year at tight end but was moved to tackle the fifth game of the season due to injuries at the position. He played 157 snaps in four games on the line (Missouri, Texas Tech, Kansas State and Baylor), grading out to 86.0 percent (96.2 assignment, 75.8 technique). He had 17 finishing points and five touchdown blocks. He missed all of spring practice due to and recovering from knee surgery to repair a chronic injury. He was a preseason second-team all-Big 12 selection at tight end by Phil Steele's College Football. 1998: He started all 12 games including the Aloha Bowl at tight end, one of only six players to do so at the same position. He caught 10 passes for 135 yards (no touchdowns), averaging 13.5 yards per catch. He had two catches against Utah State, Oklahoma and Kansas. As an "up-man" on the kickoff return team, he had two returns for 31 yards (with a long of 29), and also had nine knockdown blocks. He was one of three players-of-the-game on offense against Colorado State as selected by the coaches. 1997: He saw action in all 11 games on special teams, several at tight end (no catches) and one at tackle (16 plays, with a pancake block). As of one of the "up-men" on the kickoff return team, he had three returns for 26 yards, including a long of 26 in which he zigzagged all over the place, showing his agility. 1996: Redshirted; did not see any action. Injuries at the tight end position forced him to move there from tackle, and he responded to the challenge well. He was one of three winners on offense of the Offensive Scout Award, presented by the coaching staff following the season.

High School—As a senior, he garnered Blue Chip all-America honors, when he earned first-team all-Colorado honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News, and was also first-team allstate for 5A schools. He was listed as the No. 1 player on the News' Colorado Blue Chip Top 10, and was also mentioned on the Post's state Blue Chip list. He was one of 15 offensive linemen to earn mention on the Tacoma News Tribune's "Western 100" squad. Blue Chip ranked him as the No. 8 offensive line prospect in the Big Eight region, SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 3 lineman in the midlands (the No. 27 player overall), Prep Football Report selected him as the No. 3 lineman in the Midlands region (No. 28 overall), and the National Recruiting Advisor selected him to its all-midlands team. He was a first-team all-Centennial league selection and was a team captain as a senior. He started two years at left tackle, allowing just one sack as a senior and only two as a junior when he earned second-team all-league honors (he also allowed only two sacks as a sophomore). Under coach Mike Woolford, Cherry Creek was 12-2 his junior and senior seasons, winning the state championship both years, and lost in the state semis his sophomore season in posting a 9-4 mark. He also played baseball as a freshman and sophomore (pitcher, first base).

Academics—He is majoring in business at Colorado. He is a three-time member of CU's Academic Starters team, as he owns the second highest grade point average of all the offensive tackles.

Personal—Born October 10, 1977 in Denver, Colo. A cousin (Mike Ashworth) was a draft pick by the Cleveland Indians in the mid-1980s. Hobbies include horses (he has a real mustang), the outdoors, four-wheeling, golf, darts and intramural sports.

JUSTIN BANNAN, NT

6-3, 295, Jr., 2L Fair Oaks, Calif. (Bella Vista)

College-This Season: One of CU's two starting defensive tackles. He has received some

High School-As a senior, when he played a grand total of eight different positions, he earned SuperPrep and PrepStar all-America honors. SuperPrep tabbed him the No. 7 "Jumbo" Athlete nationally and the No. 24 recruit overall in the Far West Region, while PrepStar ranked him as the No. 8 defensive lineman in the country. Prep Football Report selected him to its all-West squad (No. 48 overall and the No. 2 D-lineman), and he was a member of the prestigious Tacoma News-Tribune's "Western 100" team. He was a first-team allstate selection (Cal-Hi Sports) on defense, and the Sacramento Bee selected him first-team all-metro and the area's defensive player-ofthe-year. He also earned all-Capital Athletic League honors in being named the league's most valuable player, and was named to the Optimist All-Star and California Shrine All-Star teams. As a junior, he was a second-team all-state pick on the defensive line, earning firstteam all-metro and first-team all-league honors as well. He was also honorable mention all-metro as a tight end, and was named his team's offensive lineman-of-the-year. A three-year team captain, he was the team's defensive lineman-of-the-year as a sophomore after playing organized football for the first time as a freshman. As a senior, he was in on 90 tackles (38 solo), including 28 for losses and 12 quarterback sacks, five forced fumbles, two recoveries, 30 hurries and three blocked kicks. He also made 4-of-5 field goal attempts (45 long), 16-of-18 PAT kicks and averaged 44 yards per punt. He caught 21 passes for 307 yards and six touchdowns on offense, with another 50 yards and two touchdowns rushing. As a junior, he was in on 86 tackles (48 solo), with 35 stops behind the line and 15 sacks with 32 hurries and seven forced fumbles, and he averaged 38 yards per punt and caught eight passes for 140 yards. He had 89 tackles as a sophomore with 14 sacks, and caught 18 passes for 311 yards with a 38-yard punting average. A starting defensive tackle as a freshman, he was in on 70 tackles, with 10 sacks. Overall, he had 51 quarterback sacks in his prep career. Top games as a senior included a 23-7 win over Rancho Cordova, when he caught three passes for 49 yards and a score, rushed five times for 44 yards and a TD, kicked a 27-yard field goal, and made 13 tackles, two sacks and four hurries. He had eight catches for 118 yards, one rushing TD and 14 tackles, two sacks, three hurries and a forced fumble in a loss to Nevada Union. Bella Vista was 6-4 his senior year, 5-5 his junior season, 5-4-1 his sophomore campaign and 4-6 his freshman year under coaches Dale Ellingsworth and Joe Bonnano. He also lettered twice in basketball at center and forward, being named the team's MVP as a junior and serving as the squad's captain his senior campaign.

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado, and is a two-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the second highest grade point average of all the defensive tackles. He owned a 3.0 grade point in high school, and was the school's student-athlete of the month for January, 1997.

Personal—Born April 18, 1979 in Sacramento, Calif. An older brother (Jason) was a two-time all-conference offensive tackle at Sacramento State (1991-95). Hobbies include hunting, fishing, weightlifting, skiing and karate (he is a brown belt and has studied 13 years). He has added 40 pounds to his frame after he reported to Boulder (from 255).

DAMION BARTON, CB

5-10, 205, Jr., 2L

Corona, Calif. (Centennial)

College-This Season: He was suspended for spring practice due to violating team rules (he was arrested for third-degree domestic assault), and his status for the fall is dependent on him meeting all the requirements set forth by the coaching staff for reinstatement. He is also making satisfactory progress towards his degree, and is on schedule to graduate in May 2001. If that occurs, he would gain back his lost year of eligibility as a partial qualifier and could play again while taking graduate work. 1999: He saw action in 10 games including the Insight.com Bowl, missing the lowa State and Oklahoma games to tend to academics. He was third on the team in rushing with 186 yards, with the second best per carry average of those with over 20 rushes (4.0). He scored two touchdowns and had a season-high 56 yards against San Jose State. He also caught six passes for 33 yards, and had one carry for seven yards in the bowl game. He had 29 carries for 144 yards in spring scrimmage action, including 12 for 81 in the spring game. 1998: He played in all 12 games, including the Aloha Bowl, and made two starts. He finished third on the team in rushing with 195 yards, averaging 3.2 yards per carry and scoring one touchdown. He had a season-high 53 yards at Missouri, and a high of 22 carries (for 47 yards) in his first career start against Texas Tech. He rushed four times for 24 yards against Oregon in the bowl game. 1997: Did not see any action, but practiced the entire season at tailback and saw heavy scout team duty, eventually becoming a co-winner of the Offensive Scout Award presented by the coaching staff. He was a partial qualifier out of high school, thus he lost his true freshman year of eligibility.

JUSTIN BATES, OT

6-4, 295, Soph., 1L Arvada, Colo. (Pomona)

College—This Season: Enters the fall penciled in as CU's starting tight side tackle. He was a preseason third-team all-Big 12 selection by Phil Steele's College Football. 1999: He entered the fall listed second at strong-side guard, but when tackle Victor Rogers went down with a knee injury, he shifted to strong-side tackle and started six games. He played in nine games overall on the year, including the Insight.com Bowl, grading out to 84.4% percent for 315 snaps from scrimmage. He had 10 finishing points, seven touchdown blocks, four downfield blocks, and allowed two sacks and two pressures. 1998: Redshirted; practiced the entire year at offensive guard. The coaching staff selected him as one of three winners of the Offensive Scout Award for contributions to the scout team.

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, as he was a member of the Big 12 Region's Super 30 and the No. 4 offensive lineman in the area by the publication. SuperPrep tabbed him as both a pre- and postseason all-American, listing him as the No. 29 O-lineman overall in the nation. A member of the prestigious Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 list, while Student Sports selected him as a preseason all-state performer, First Down Recruiting ranked him as the No. 8 best player overall in Colorado and the National Recruiting Advisor selected him on its All-Big 12 Area team. He was also a first-team all-Jeffco selection and honorable mention all-state pick, and the Rocky Mountain News listed him as the No. 3 Blue Chip prospect in the state. He was a first-team allleague selection on offense as a junior (honorable mention on defense), and was an honorable mention all-Jeffco pick on offense as a sophomore. As a senior, he graded out for the season at just above 90 percent, and was over that figure for all but two games, while making 42 pancake blocks. As a junior, he also graded out to 90 percent for the season, with 25 pancake blocks. He did not allow a quarterback sack as a junior or senior. He graded out to just over 70 percent as a sophomore and allowed just one sack. On defense (playing both end and tackle), he had 52 tackles and five quarterback sacks as a senior, with 56 tackles (45 solo), six sacks and an interception he returned 45 yards for a touchdown his junior season. Top games included a six tackle, two sack game against Arvada West his junior year (a 35-28 loss), when he also intercepted Arvada West quarterback Steve Cutlip and outraced him to the end zone for a 45-yard touchdown. Pomona was 2-8 his senior year, 6-4 his junior year and 5-5 his sophomore campaign under coach Dirk Visser. He also lettered in track (throws), placing fifth in the shot put and seventh in the discus in the state meet as a junior.

Academics—He is majoring in business at Colorado, and is a twotime member of CU's "Academic Starters" team as he has the second highest GPA of all the offensive guards. Owned a high school grade point of 3.8 (he scored an 1110 on the SAT), earned three academic letters and was an honor roll member all four years in high school. He competed in DECA (a high school business organization), making it to "state" in marketing management.

Personal—Born Sept. 20, 1979 in Lansing, Mich. Hobbies include skiing, golf and video games, as well as making slot cars, which he builds and races. He enjoys working with children, as he is a volunteer at the Children's Museum in Denver and has been a volunteer coach for Pop Warner football and a little league roller hockey team. He also volunteers for educational programs, including National Reading Day and CU's Read with the Buffs. He was the first player to commit to Colorado in the 1998 recruiting class (doing so in June).

ALBUS BROOKS, SS

6-0, 190, Jr., 2L

Claremont, Calif. (Claremont)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at strong safety. He had a good spring, with 12 tackles and two forced fumbles in the pair of major scrimmages. 1999: He saw action in all 12 games on special teams and in 10, including the Insight.com Bowl, on defense (84 regular season plays). He had two tackles, one solo, on defense, but tied for seventh on the squad in special teams points with six (he had five tackles, two solo, and a knockdown block). In the bowl win, he had two tackles and a forced fumble. He missed spring drills, though, recovering from knee surgery that he had the previous fall. 1998: He moved to strong side linebacker during August drills and started seven games and played in two others. However, he missed the Kansas game after undergoing arthroscopic surgery on a knee he injured in high school and aggravated against Texas Tech. He had full-blown surgery on the same knee on Nov. 19, ending his year prematurely. He was in for 220 snaps from scrimmage and made 39 tackles (22 solo), with four for losses and two forced fumbles. He also racked up 13 special teams points, on the strength of eight tackles (three inside-the-20) and two knockdown blocks. 1997: Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at safety, getting work at both the strong and free spots.

High School-As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report, PrepStar and SuperPrep all-America honors, along with honorable mention accolades from USA Today. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 19 defensive back in the nation (No. 7 in the preseason), but ranked him as the No. 12 overall player in the Far West Region, while PFR ranked him No. 91 overall in the nation and the No. 11 d-back. He was a member of the prestigious Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 team, and was an honorable mention selection on the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-in-the-West team (5 votes). He was selected both the MVP and most inspirational player by his teammates. As a junior, he was first-team all-CIF, all-San Gabriel Valley (Los Angeles Times) and all-Inland Valley (Daily Bulletin). In being selected firstteam all-Baseline League, he was also selected the league's MVP. As a sophomore, he was a first-team all-league choice. As a senior, he tore the ACL in his right knee in the sixth game of the season (fourth quarter), thus his season stats were down: he was in on 54 tackles (40 solo), with five interceptions, 13 pass deflections, eight tackles for loss (one sack), three fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles. As a sophomore, when he played cornerback, he had 91 tackles (40 solo), with 20 pass deflections, three interceptions and three tackles for losses. He finished his career as Claremont's career tackles leader (269, 118 solo), and also had 44 career passes broken up and 10 interceptions. His top game his senior year was against Glendora, when he had 10 tackles, two interceptions, two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble. His top game as a junior was against Damien, when he had 23 tackles, two fumble recoveries and an interception. Claremont was 6-4 his senior year (4-1 before his injury), 3-7 his junior season and 10-2 his sophomore campaign (league champions) under coach Mike Collins. He also lettered in basketball as a sophomore, averaging 12 points and six assists per game as a point guards, and track as a junior, recording a personal best of 50.1 in the 400meter dash.

Academics—He is majoring in religious studies at Colorado. Owned a 3.0 grade point average in high school and spent some time on the honor roll.

Personal—Born March 10, 1979, in Los Angeles, Calif. His father (Terry Brooks) ran track at Arkansas in the 1960s. Hobbies include snowboarding and working in a "Young Life" program in which he takes junior high schoolers on weekend and summer trips. In the summer of 2000, he and teammate Nate Wright traveled to Uganda, where they spent two weeks helping build an orphanage as part of the youth component of "Christ Aid." His nickname is "Blackout," based on ferocious hitting style on the football field.

CEDRIC CORMIER, WR

5-11, 190, Jr., 2L

Houston, Texas (North Shore)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the "X" receiver position. He is fully

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America honors, with USA Today making him an honorable mention pick. He was a member of the Top 100 by the Houston Chronicle and the National Recruiting Advisor, and he made the Austin American-Statesman's Fab 55 (the No. 5 player overall in the state of Texas). SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 1 wide receiver in the nation (despite the fact that he never played the position), ranked him the No. 1 recruit in the state of Texas and named him the Southwest Region's offensive player-of-the-year. PrepStar ranked him the No. 2 athlete in the Big 12 region, and Prep Football Report selected him as a preseason all-American, but put him on its postseason all-Midlands team (No. 28 player overall in the region). He earned mention on Texas Football's Top 30 list, making the team as the No. 1 utility back. He also earned first-team all-state and all-Greater Houston honors, both from the Houston Chronicle, and the Touchdown Club of Houston selected him as the top offensive player in Houston. The Chronicle also named him to its prestigious Top 100 list, as did the National Recruiting Advisor (No. 64 player overall and No. 6 in the athlete category). He earned first-team all-District 22 5A honors as both a junior and senior. As a sophomore, he was selected as the sophomore player-of-the-year in the district. He was projected to be a wide receiver as a sophomore, but when the starting quarterback was hurt before the season started, he moved into the position he would keep for three years. As a senior, he completed 102 of 186 passes for 1,104 yards and 13 touchdowns (with seven interceptions), while rushing 125 times for 1,242 yards (9.9 per carry) and 26 scores. He also returned 13 punts for 221 yards (17.0 average), with two touchdowns and a long of 89. As a junior, he completed 74 of 110 passes for 994 yards and 10 TDs (with just three interceptions), while rushing 82 times for 683 yards and nine touchdowns. As a sophomore, he completed 43 of 91 passes for 674 yards and 10 scores (seven interceptions), and rushed 74 times for 725 yards (9.8 average) and six TDs. His top game as a senior came in a 34-27 win over Humble, a battle of two 10-0 teams in the first round of the playoffs: he completed 7-of-10 passes for 75 yards, rushed 16 times for 189 yards and three TDs, returned a punt 89 yards for a score and also had a kickoff return for 52 yards. In a 35-14 win over Westbrook, he completed 8 of 10 passes for 154 yards and two TDs, with six rushes for 134 yards and two more scores. As a junior against Vidor, he completed 12 of 15 passes for 197 yards and three scores in a 42-7 win. North Shore was 13-1 his senior year, reaching the District 5A semifinals after winning the bi-district, area and regional championships. NSHS was 9-3 his junior year (district champs) and 9-3 his sophomore year (bi-district champs) under coach David Aymond. Also lettered four times in baseball and track (sprints and relays), owning personal bests of 10.29 in the 100 and 21.2 in the 200. He was the district 100-meter champ as a junior. He played basketball as a freshman and sophomore.

Metairie, La. (Archbishop Rummel)

College—This Season: Projected as a defensive tackle in his true freshman year in college.

High School-As a senior, he earned SuperPrep all-Southwest honors (the No. 18 player out of Louisiana), PrepStar all-Southeast honors and Rivals.com Southeast-West Top 100 mention. He also was named first-team all-state (Louisiana Football Magazine) and alldistrict (New Orleans Times-Picayune, WWL-TV), with the Times-Picayune selected him to its Top 20 Blue Chip list. He was the third ranked defensive lineman in the state and a Purple & Gold Top 100 list member, along with making all-Catholic Elite Team, all-metro and all-East Bank. As a junior, he earned all-district honors from the area coaches, along with all-metro, all-East Bank and all-Catholic Elite Team accolades. He played both defensive tackle and end as a senior, racking up 95 total tackles, with 27 for losses including 12 quarterback sacks. He also had eight hurries, six passes broken up, four forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and an interception he returned for a touchdown. His top games included a 12-tackle, two sack and a fumble recovery effort in a 20-3 playoff loss to St. Augustine: 15 tackles, one sack and a forced fumble in a 34-27 overtime win over Jesuit; and 10 tackles, three sacks and an interception returned for a touchdown in a 28-14 win over South Lafauche. Playing primarily tackle, he had 65 tackles as a junior, 23 for losses including 10 sacks, with seven hurries, five forced fumbles, three recoveries, three passes broken up and an interception. He returned the pick and one of the fumbles for scores, and was the state playerof-the-week on one occasion (10 tackles, three sacks and the fumble return for a TD). Archbishop Rummel was 10-2 in his senior year and 7-4 his junior season, losing in the second round of the playoffs both years, under coach Jay Roth. He participated in track for the first time as a senior (shot put).

Academics—He is interested in majoring in communication at Colorado.

Personal—Born Oct. 6, 1981 in New Orleans, La. His hobbies include fishing, reading, golf, running and lifting weights. An older brother (Alan) played football at Louisiana State. He selected Colorado because he said the Buffs were a childhood favorite. Five high school teammates received scholarships at Division I-A schools. (Last name pronounced dab-doob.)

BRANDON DRUMM, FB

Anchorage, Alaska (Service)

College-This Season: He enters the fall listed second at fullback. He missed some time in the spring due to sore ribs. 1999: He saw action in 10 games, including the Insight.com Bowl and starts in the first two (Colorado State, San Jose State); he missed the Iowa State and Oklahoma games to tend to academics. Primarily used in blocking schemes, he had two rushes for nine yards (both at Texas Tech) and caught four passes for 42 yards, two for first downs. He also fielded a short kickoff and returned it for one yard. In the bowl win, he had two rushes for five yards. He had seven carries for 32 yards in spring scrimmage action, also catching two passes for 11 yards. 1998: Redshirted; practiced at fullback the entire year. High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, as he was listed as the No. 5 "athlete" in the western region. USA Today selected him as an honorable mention All-America pick and designated him as its player-of-the-year in Alaska (he was also the Gatorade player-of-the-year in the state). SuperPrep tabbed him as an all-Far West selection, as he was the No. 12 player overall on its Northwest team, and the first running back. He was a first-team allstate and all-conference performer at both fullback and kick returner, and was the state's and league's choice for offensive and overall player-of-the-year. The Tacoma News-Tribune placed him on its prestigious "Western 100" team, and designated him as a "Northwest Nugget." Prep Football Report selected him as a preseason All-American, and the National Recruiting Advisor selected him on its All-West team. He was all-state at both fullback and free safety his junior year. As a senior, he rushed 226 times for 2,273 yards (a healthy 10.1 yards per carry) and 36 touchdowns, as he set state records for yards and TDs. He added those marks to several he set in Alaska as a junior: single-game rushing yards (368), single-game touchdowns (9), longest rush (99 yards) and season interceptions (9; playing free safety). He rushed for 1,647 yards on 182 carries as a junior, scoring 32 touchdowns. He had 12 receptions for 145 yards and two scores as a senior, with 20 grabs for 368 yards and five TDs as a junior. He also returned three kickoffs for touchdowns as a senior (averaging just under 35 yards per return), when he also converted on five two-point conversion runs, and averaged 30.1 yards on nine kickoff returns as a junior. He had 24 career interceptions, as he had seven as a sophomore and eight as a freshman (which led the state). Top games included a 273-yard, 4-TD effort in the state championship game his senior year, when Service beat Chugiak, 47-14, and a 368-yard, nine touchdown game against Juneau as a junior. As

DRYDEN DUNSMORE, LB

6-2, 220, Fr., RS

Parker, Colo. (Ponderosa)

College—This season: Enters the fall listed third at the hawk inside linebacker spot. He missed the final week of spring practice due to a knee sprain, but had four tackles (three solo) in the one major scrimmage he participated in. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced the entire year at inside linebacker. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the San Jose State game, presented by the coaches.

High School—As a senior, he earned all-Colorado honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News, with both metro newspapers also selecting him first-team all-state (5A). He was a first-team Continental Conference selection (the league's November athlete-of-the-month) and earned honorable mention all-region honors from PrepStar (CNN-SI). As a junior, he was honorable mention all-state by the News and Post and first-team all-conference, and was a second-team all-conference performer as a sophomore. As a senior, he had 130 tackles, seven quarterback sacks, three forced fumbles, three recoveries, three interceptions, two pass deflections and one blocked field goal. He had 145 tackles (82 solo) as a junior, with five sacks and three fumble recoveries. Thus, he had 275 career tackles, with 12 quarterback sacks, six fumble recoveries and three interceptions. As a sophomore, he played right guard on offense (did not play any defense)... His top games as a senior came against Arapahoe (12 tackles, three sacks), Cherry Creek (17 tackles and an interception) and Aurora Central (13 tackles and two interceptions). He started 38 consecutive games in his career (the last 26 at middle linebacker and the first 12 at offensive guard). Ponderosa was 11-1 his senior season, reaching the state quarterfinals, was 9-4 and a state semifinalist his junior year, and was 9-3 and a state quarterfinalist his sophomore campaign under coach Jamie Woodruff. He also lettered four times in track (throws; he holds the school record of 52-3 in the shot put and is a state two-time qualifier).

Academics— He is majoring in kinesiology at Colorado. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the highest grade point average of all the inside linebackers. An honor roll student in high school, he scored 24 on the ACT and owns a 3.4 grade point average.

Personal—Born July 28, 1980 in St. Paul, Minn. Hobbies include archery, hunting, hockey and weightlifting. He is active in community service, and has served breakfast often at Parker's Senior Center. An uncle, Mark Dunsmore, competes in the Iron-man Triathlon.

MATT DUREN, DB

6-0, 190, Jr., TR

Denver, Colo. (Mullen/Cornell)

College—This season: He enters the fall listed third at strong safety. He had a good spring and posted seven tackles in one major spring scrimmage; he missed the second one due to thumb surgery. 1999: Redshirted; he joined the team as a walk-on the first day of classes after transferring to CU from Cornell. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the Baylor game. Other Years: He earned two letters playing free safety at Cornell, where he won the award for the freshman who contributed the most to the varsity for 1997. He had 25 tackles that year, 18 solo, with two passes broken up and an interception in starting one game and playing in a backup role in several others. He had a career high nine tackles (7 solo) against Lafayette as a freshman.

High School—He lettered three times in football at outside line-backer for coach Mick McCall at J.K. Mullen. He was a two-time honorable mention all-conference performer his junior and senior seasons. He also lettered three times in track, and was a member of both the two-time state champion 4x100 and 4x200 relay teams as a junior and senior.

Academics— He is majoring in environmental studies at Colorado. He just missed out on making CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he has the third best GPA of all the safeties.

Personal—Born April 1, 1979 in Denver.

JEFF FLORA, ILB

Arvada, Colo. (Arvada West)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed fourth at the ike inside linebacker position. He had three tackles, two for losses, in the two main spring scrimmages, as due to injuries, he got plenty of reps. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action, but practiced the entire year at inside linebacker. He joined the team prior to the start of August drills.

High School—He lettered two times in football at Arvada West, where he was named both the Athlete-of-the-year and Student-of-the-Year his senior year. He was a two-time all conference performer in both football and basketball (junior and senior years), as was A-West's defensive MVP as a senior, when he was in on 135 tackles (80 solo). He also had 11 tackles for loss (five quarterback sacks), three passes broken up and three fumble recoveries. He had 115 tackles (65 unassisted) as a junior, with seven TFLs (two sacks), four passes broken up and two fumble recoveries as a junior. He had 15 tackles, including three sacks, against arch-rival Arvada his senior year. Arvada West was 8-3 his senior year and 12-2 his sophomore and junior seasons under coach Dave Logan, the former CU star, and won the 5A state title his junior year. He also lettered twice in basketball (forward; he averaged 10 rebounds per game as a junior) and once in track (throws and jumps, career best of 47-0 in the shot put).

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the highest grade point average of all the inside linebackers, as well as the entire team (in excess of 3.7).

Personal—Born June 14, 1981 in Denver, Colo. Hobbies include weightlifting and going to the movies. Two uncles (Tim and Tom) both played football at lowa State.

JEREMY FLORES, P/PK

5-10, 170, Jr., JC, Willard, Mo. (Willard/Scottsdale Community College)

College—This Season: Enters the fall as the lead candidate for both the punter and place-kicking jobs. He averaged 40.6 yards on six punts and made 2-of-3 field goals in the two spring scrimmages, but overall kicked the best day-in and day-out. He won the Bill McCartney Award for spring practice, selected by the coaching staff as the outstanding special teams player. He has two years of eligibility remaining, and has a redshirt year available as well.

Junior College—He earned second-team NJCAA All-America honors as a sophomore at Scottsdale Community College, along with earning first-team all-Region 1 and all-Arizona CCAC honors at both punter and placekicker. He was 21-of-22 on PAT kicks and 9-of-10 on field goals with a long of 45, and averaged 42.9 yards on 54 punts. SCC was 2-7 his only year there. He attended Phoenix College out of high school, but did not play football, and then served his two-year Mormon Mission teaching in Anaheim, Calif.

High School-He earned All-America honors from Professional Kicking Services (Ray Pelfrey's organization), and was first-team allstate at placekicker as a senior and honorable mention all-area at running back. He was a first-team all-district and all-Ozark Conference choice at both punter and kicker as a junior and senior, and was second-team all-conference as a sophomore. As a senior, he converted 88-of-92 PAT kicks and 23-of-28 field goals, including five from 50 yards or longer. He also averaged 42.5 yards per punt as a senior, with a long of 72. In a win over Marshfield his senior year, he rushed for over 150 yards and scored 20 points on two touchdowns, two PAT kicks and two field goals—one of which was his career long from officially 63? yards out. He rushed for over 1,000 yards as a senior, and played wide receiver as a junior. He also was a defensive back as an upperclassman, but was the team's placekicker and punter for four years. His high school coach was the late Rueben Barry. He also lettered in track, participating in the hurdles with personal bests of 15.2 in the 110 and 39.9 in 300-intermediate, both school records and the latter earning him a third place finish in the state as a senior. He also ran on two relay teams.

Boxing—An accomplished boxer, he was ranked No.3 nationally in the 156-pound weight class in 1995 and was a six-time state champion.

Academics—He is majoring in EPO biology at Colorado, and is also interested in the dental program. He had a 3.8 grade point at SCC, as he had 21 hours of A and three hours of B. He was also an honor roll student in high school.

Personal—Born April 11, 1976 in Newport News, Va. Hobbies include skiing and dancing (the merengue and salsa). His younger brother (B.J.), a light heavyweight, was the 1997 Golden Gloves national champion in the 178-pound class and won the western trials to secure a spot in the 2002 Olympic Trials. He also played one year as a wide receiver at BYU. He wears No. 3 in memory of a dear high school friend, Wes Anderson, who died at the age 20 in a car accident. Anderson was an all-district quarterback and Flores' holder all four years in a high school, and the two were quite close. He is married (Felicia, they wedded on Aug. 28, 1998).

JOSHUA FOSTER, OL

6-6, 285, Soph., VR Acton, Calif. (Paraclete)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the tight side guard, as he moved to the offensive side of the ball from defensive tackle for spring drills. 1999: He saw action in two games, versus San Jose State, Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl. He played four snaps against San Jose, and around 8-10 in the bowl game. 1998: Redshirted; practice at both defensive end and tackle over the course of the fall. He was the Scout Team Defensive player-of-the-week for the lowa State game.

High School—As a senior, he earned first-team all-CIF Southern Section, all-San Fernando Valley (Los Angeles Times) and all-High Desert League honors at defensive end. As a junior, he was a first-team all-Valley and all-league selection. He was in on over 80 tackles his senior year, with 20 tackles for loss, including 11 quarterback sacks. On offense (tight end), he caught 11 passes for 67 yards and one touchdown. As a junior, he was in 60 tackles and had eight sacks on defense. Paraclete (Lancaster, Calif.) was 13-1 and won its CIF section championship his senior year, and was 8-4 in advancing to the quarterfinals his junior season and was 7-6 his sophomore year under coach Steve Haggerty. He also lettered three times in basketball (center), and was the High Desert League most valuable player as a sophomore. He lettered twice in track, throwing the shot put and discus, going to the CIF finals in both as a junior.

Academics—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado. Owned a 3.2 grade point average in high school, where he was president of the drama club.

Personal—Born Dec. 16, 1979 in Mission Hills, Calif. Hobbies include basketball, fishing, "seadoo-ing" and snowboarding. At 6-7, he ties Curt Koch (1983-87) as the tallest player in defensive history at Colorado.

ිරි PETE FRIEDRICH, DT

6-3, 280, Fr., RS

Stevens Point, Wis. (Stevens Point)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at one of the two defensive tackle positions. He had seven tackles, including three for losses and a quarterback sack, in the two main spring scrimmages, overcoming a shoulder sprain late during drills. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action, but practiced the entire fall at defensive tackle. He won the Scout Team Defense award for the Kansas game, as selected by the coaching staff.

High School-As a senior, he earned first-team all-state honors (AP, Milwaukee Journal) and first-team all-district honors at defensive tackle. USA Today selected him to its Top 10 in the state of Wisconsin, and SuperPrep honored him on both its pre- and postseason All-Midwest Team (he was the No. 77 player and No. 17 offensive lineman prior to the season, and was No. 85 and No. 15, respectively, after the year). Prep Football Report also named him to its All-Midwest team. He was a first-team all-Wisconsin River Valley Conference performer at both offensive and defensive tackle, and as a junior, he was a first-team all-conference selection at DT. As a senior, he graded out to over 80 percent on offense in not allowing a single sack and being called for just one penalty and blocked for a 1,000-yard rusher, Corey Flisowski. On defense, he was in on 122 tackles (72 solo, 20 for losses), with 11.5 quarterback sacks, three forced fumbles, two recoveries and three passes broken up. As a junior, he graded to near 80 percent and allowed just three sacks, and defensively, he made 67 tackles, with nine sacks, three forced

JORDAN GEHRING, OT

American Falls, Idaho (American Falls)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at tight side tackle. He had plenty of reps in spring drills due to injuries at both tackle positions. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced at offensive tackle the entire year. He was the Scout Team Offense award winner for the Kansas game, as selected by the coaching staff.

High School-As a senior, he earned first-team all-state, all-area and all-conference (District Five) honors, with Gridiron Team Elite naming him one of the area's top recruits and USA Today citing him as one of the top 20 players in Idaho. As a junior, he was also a firstteam all-state and all-conference pick. He was a three-year starter at right tackle, averaging four pancakes a game as a senior. He allowed just two sacks in his career, none his senior year when he also did not allow a single pressure and was called for just one penalty. He missed two-plus games as a senior with a high ankle sprain, which he suffered three minutes into the season opener; he was playing on defense and after the injury, he returned and played exclusively on offense from that point on. American Falls was 7-3 his senior year, losing in the first round of the playoffs, 6-5 his junior year and 9-2 his sophomore season (reaching the second round in the postseason) under coach Dick Brulotte. He also played two years of basketball (center), but elected not to play after his sophomore year.

Academics—He is majoring in business at Colorado. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the highest grade point average of all the offensive tackles (and third highest of all the offensive linemen). An honor roll student in high school, he scored 23 on the ACT and owned a 3.78 grade point average. He was a member of the National Honor Society and the Future Farmers of America.

Personal—Born Oct. 10, 1980 in Pocatello, Idaho. Hobbies include snowmobiling, boating, water skiing, fishing, four-wheeling and working on the family farm. He grew up on a farm in southeastern Idaho (Pleasant Valley), as his father raises wheat and potatoes. An older sister (Celeste) played basketball at Louisiana State and works at CNN-SI in Atlanta; an older brother (Jared) played basketball at Spokane Community College and is now working the family farm; and another older sister (Brook) is a pharmacist. (Last name is pronounced gare-ring.)

College—This Season: He ended spring drills listed third at free safety, but will rejoin the team the first day of classes (Aug. 28). He joined the team as a walk-on for spring drills, and had one tackle in scrimmage action. Other Years: Earned one letter playing strong safety at Valparaiso (Ind.) University in 1998.

BRANDON GIPSON, DB

5-10, 195, Soph., TR, Broomfield, Colo. (Denver Christian/Valparaiso)

High School—He lettered three times as a safety in football for coach Guy Boyer at Denver

Christian. He earned second-team all-state and first-team all-Metro League honors as a senior, and was honorable mention all-conference as a junior. DCHS was 7-4 his senior year, 9-2 his junior and sophomore years. He also lettered twice each in baseball (outfielder, owning a career .333 batting average), and basketball (guard, playing on two Metro League champion teams).

Academics—He is majoring in political science at Colorado. He was an honor roll student and member of the National Honor Society in high school.

Personal—Born Jan. 9, 1979 in Pensacola, Fla. Hobbies include reading, lifting weights and collecting watches (he had over 25 at last count).

DAN GONZALES, WR

Grand Junction, Colo. (Grand Junction)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed fifth at the "Z" receiver position. 1999:

Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced the entire season at wide receiver. He joined the team as a walk-on in time to participate in August drills.

High School-He lettered three times in football at Grand Junction, ranking in the top 10 in receptions and yards. He had 45 receptions for 469 yards and six touchdowns as a senior, 13 catches for 245 yards and a score as a junior, and 25 for 243 as a sophomore with eight TDs. As a junior, he ran the fastest 20-yard shuttle (4.13) at the NIKE training camp in Boulder. Grand Junction was 5-5 his junior year and 7-4 his senior season under coaches Doug Cogan and Rocky Whitworth. He also lettered four times in track (sprints and hurdles), with career bests of 10.67 in the 100, 21.54 in the 200 and 37.75 in the 300-intermediate hurdles (good for second in the state his senior year; it was also the fourth fastest time in Colorado state history). All three of those times were school records.

Academics-He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal-Born Oct. 28, 1980 in Mesa, Ariz., but calls Orchard Mesa, Colo., outside of Grand Junction, his hometown. Hobbies include hunting and fishing. His paternal bloodline has roots in major league baseball: his father (Daniel) was a centerfielder with the Expos and Brewers, and his grandfather (Danny) was an outfielder with the Giants and Indians.

DANIEL GRAHAM, TE

6-3, 240, Jr., 2L

Denver, Colo. (Thomas Jefferson)

College-This Season: Enters the fall projected as CU's starting tight end, despite missing all of spring drills after undergoing arthroscopic knee surgery. Playboy selected him to its "Best of the Rest" All-America team, while The Sporting News selected him second-team all-Big 12, ranking him the No. 13 tight end nationally. 1999: He earned third-team all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, though the Football News selected him first-team and the Kansas City Star second-team. He caught 19 passes for 264 yards and four touchdowns on the year, the sixth most receptions and fourth most receiving yards on the team. Those numbers ranked him 19th and 13th respectively, nationally among tight ends, despite missing the better part of three games due to injuries. He played in 10 games, starting eight including the Insight.com Bowl, missing the Texas Tech and Baylor games because of assorted injuries. He caught at least two passes in six games, with career-highs of six for 83 yards and a touchdown against Oklahoma. He earned 12 first downs, four each on first, second and third downs. In the bowl win over Boston College, he caught three passes for 51 yards. He also played 49 snaps on CU's field goal/PAT unit on special teams. He switched to tight end during the spring with the halfback position eliminated out of the CU offense, though he more or less was a tight end anyway, so the transition was smooth. He caught five passes for 54 yards and a score in spring scrimmage action. 1998: He played in all 12 games, including the Aloha Bowl, and started two (Missouri, Iowa State) as he had plays at both the halfback/fullback position and tight end. He caught three passes for 83 yards, with a long of 57 that set up a touchdown at Oklahoma. He earned two first downs and had seven knockdown blocks on special teams duty as High School-As a senior, he was a PrepStar all-America selection, and was selected as a SuperPrep all-Midlands team member. Prep Football Report selected him to its preseason all-Midlands team, and PrepStar ranked him as the No. 12 tight end in the Big 12 region. He was a member of the prestigious Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 team, and he garnered first-team all-Colorado honors from the Denver Post and the Rocky Mountain News, earning first-team allstate honors (5A class) from both papers as well. The News selected him as a Colorado Blue Chip 10 member, while the post also selected him to its blue chip List. He was first-team all-Denver Prep League at tight end as both a junior and senior. He won the Randy Brewer Award as a senior, given by the school to the most inspirational player in honor of the late former TJ coach. As a senior, he caught 33 passes for 741 yards and six touchdowns and, defensively, was in on 29 tackles (15 solo) as an outside linebacker (he started seven game), with 12 quarterback sacks, 14 passes broken up, 10 hurries, four fumble recoveries and an interception. As a junior, he caught 29 passes for 529 yards and six TDs, while making 37 tackles on defense, with nine sacks, 14 hurries and five passes broken up. He caught 10 passes for 56 yards as a sophomore. He was a two-year starter for the most part on both sides of the ball, handled long snapping chores for TJ, and occasionally handled some placekicking chores, making 6 of 10 field goals and kicking off 12 times. Top games his senior year included a 69-18 win over Kennedy, when he caught six passes for 180 yards and a TD, and an 89-0 win over Lincoln, when he had seven grabs for 193 yards and two scores (96 and 40 yards in length). TJ was 7-3 his junior and senior seasons (tying for the Denver Prep League crown his junior year) and was 6-4 his sophomore year under coach Oliver Lucas, a one-time CU assistant. He also lettered three times in basketball (averaged 17 points and 10 rebounds in six games as a senior before dislocating his shoulder), and played junior varsity baseball as a freshman.

Academics—He is majoring in ethnic studies at Colorado. Owned a 3.2 grade point average in high school, and was TJ's recipient of the Junior Class Academic Award (highest GPA of all the juniors).

Personal—Born Nov. 16, 1978 in Torrance, Calif. Hobbies include fishing. His father (Tom) played collegiately at Oregon (where he still holds the Ducks' record for career tackles), and in the NFL with the Denver Broncos (1972-74). His twin brother, Josh, played as a freshman at North Carolina, and is currently enrolled in junior college. An older brother (Phillip) played defensive back at Colorado State in the late 1980s.

ADDITIONAL STATISTICS-Special Team Tackles: 2,0-2 (1999).

6-3, 290, Soph., 1L Laguna Niguel, Calif. (Aliso Niguel) College—This Season: Enters the fall listed first at the split side guard position, though he also practiced numerous reps at center. 1999: He saw action in five regular season games, playing 73 snaps from scrimmage in grading out to 75.3 percent on the season (including 94.5 on assignments). He had two finishing points and one touchdown block, and did not allow a quarterback sack or pressure and did not get called for a penalty. However, he saw enough action as a reserve against Boston College in the bowl game to enable him to letter for the year. He shifted from center to guard in August drills, after missing spring practice due to shoulder surgery. 1998: Redshirted; practiced at guard and some center the entire fall. He was the Scout Team Offensive player-of-the-week for the Colorado State game.

High School—As a senior, he earned first-team all-Pacific Coast League honors, when he was named an Orange County All-Star and won the Wolverine Award. He was second-team all-league and all-Orange County as a junior, and was honorable mention all-league as a sophomore. He graded out to about 90 percent as a senior, when he actually had one rush for one yard, a rarity for a lineman. On defense, he played some spot defensive tackle, making 14 tackles, which included five for losses (second most on the team). Aliso Niguel was 4-7 his senior year, 14-0 his junior year (CIF Division 8 champions) and was 8-3-1 his sophomore season under coach Joe Wood. He also lettered in wrestling (heavyweight), finishing second in the league meet as a freshman and sophomore, and in track (throws; he was second in the shot put in the Pacific Coast League meet as a sophomore).

Academics—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. He owned a 2.9 grade point average in high school. He won the Golden State Award his junior year for chemistry and his sophomore year for biology.

Personal—Born April 29, 1980 in Long Beach, Calif. Hobbies include camping, fishing, skiing, the outdoors (he enjoys the snow and cold) and being with family and friends. A relative, Charles Steinmetz, was a famous inventor and scientist. Hails from the same high school as current Buff Scott Nemeth, a redshirt frosh linebacker.

JAVON GREEN, WR

6-2, 200, Sr., 3L

Inglewood, Calif. (Inglewood)

College—This Season: CU's starting receiver at the "X" position, and may return punts and/or kickoffs as well. Street & Smith's selected him a preseason honorable mention All-American, and he is a near unanimous first-team all-Big 12 selection (S&S, Lindy's, Preview Sports and The Sporting News). TSN ranked him as the No. 12 receiver nationally, while Lindy's pegged him at No. 19. He enters his senior season sixth all-time on CU's receiving yards list (1,332), ninth in receptions (88) and 51st in scoring (80 points). His 13 receiving touchdowns is fifth all-time at Colorado, and is eighth among active receivers in NCAA Division I-A. 1999: He played in all 12 games, starting four (versus Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl). He led the team in receiving with 40 catches for 663 yards and seven touchdowns, finishing fourth in the Big 12 in receiving vards per game (and sixth in receptions per game). He caught at least three passes in 10 games, but was shutout against Missouri, which snapped a streak of 16 straight games with at least one reception. He had a career-high nine receptions in the season opener against Colorado State, and closed the year with the first three 100-yard receiving games in the last four, all against ranked opponents. He had three catches for 133 yards and two touchdowns against Oklahoma, three for 139 yards and two scores at Kansas State, and five for 100 yards and a TD against Nebraska, thus setting table nicely for a run at the Biletnikoff Award as a senior. He caught 11 passes on third or fourth down situations, picking up seven first downs, and earned 27 overall on the season (all receiving). He averaged 45.4 yards for his seven touchdown receptions, including an 88yarder from Mike Moschetti versus Oklahoma, the fourth longest pass play in CU history. The Dallas Morning News selected him as a second-team all-Big 12 member, with the league coaches selecting him as a third-team choice. He had three catches for 21 yards in the bowl win. 1998: He played in all 12 games, starting nine including the Aloha Bowl, as he was second on the team in receiving with 39 receptions for 539 yards. He averaged 13.8 yards per catch and scored four touchdowns. In earning honorable mention all-Big 12 honors from the coaches, he caught at least one pass in all 12 games, including highs of eight against Missouri and five in three different games. He picked up 70 or more receiving yards four times including a high of 86 at Missouri. He caught 10 passes on third and fourth down, earning six first downs, and overall was fourth on the team with 20 first downs earned. He led the team in first down receiving with 15 grabs for 207 yards, earning 11 first downs. He caught two passes for four yards against Oregon in the bowl game, but one went for a touchdown. He was a co-recipient of the team's Most Improved Offensive Player Award as selected by the coaches, and was the team's offensive player-of-the-game against Fresno State when he caught five passes for 78 yards and a touchdown. 1997: Played in all 11 games, including one start (at lowa State). He had nine receptions for 130 yards, a 14.4 average that was third best on the team. His best game was the Iowa State contest, when he had four catches for 92 yards and a touchdown. He had two scores overall on the season, with the other coming against Kansas. He was a tri-winner of the Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaches to the most outstanding freshmen. 1996: Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at receiver.

High School—As a senior, he garnered Blue Chip and Who's Who All-America honors, when he earned first-team all-CIF (southern section), all-area and all-Bay League honors. He was one of 11 wide receivers selected to the Tacoma News-Tribune's "Western 100" squad, the National Recruiting Advisor selected him to its All-West team, and he earned Best-of-the-Rest mention on the Long Beach Telegram's Best-In-West squad (received three votes). As a senior (when he was Inglewood's "Athlete-of-the-Year"), he played eight different positions (WR, TE, FS, CB, SS, DE, OLB and P); he caught 56 passes for 1,131 yards and nine touchdowns, leading the CIF southern section in receptions. He added six more touchdowns coming on kick returns (four punt, two kickoff). On defense, he was in on 46 tackles, with six interceptions (two for touchdowns), with two sacks and six deflections, he thus scored 17 touchdowns overall as a senior. He played seven games at quarterback as a junior (when he was second team all-league), passing for 1,336 yards and 11 touchdowns; he caught 17 passes for 410 yards and three touchdowns as a tight end. He played cornerback and defensive end on defense, making 35 tackles with two sacks. He played quarterback on the junior varsity as a sophomore (rushing for 1,000-plus yards in an option attack, playing tailback occasionally as well). Inglewood was 7-4 his senior year and was 2-8 his junior year under coach Rico Perez. He lettered three times in basketball, averaging 21 points and 11 rebounds as a junior in helping Inglewood to a third straight league title. He also ran sprints and relays in track.

Academics—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. He owned a 3.4 grade point average in high school, where he was a member of the honor roll and worked as a sports reporter on the school newspaper.

Personal—Born May 10, 1978 in Inglewood, Calif. A cousin, Cedric Jones, played defensive tackle at Oklahoma, and a distant cousin is former NFL receiver Louis Lipps.

ERIK GREENBERG, QB

6-2, 190, Fr., RS

Colorado Springs, Colo. (Rampart)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at quarterback. He got plenty of reps in the third at quarterback. He got plenty of reps in the spring as just one of three signal callers on the roster, which wasn't reflected in his statistics in the two major spring scrimmages (2-of-7 for four yards). He will likely begin his two-year Mormon Mission to fulfill the traditional requirement either next spring or summer. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at quarterback, and was actually No. 3 on the depth chart at times due to injuries and other attrition at the position. He joined the team as a walk-on prior to the start of August drills.

High School—He lettered three times as a quarterback at Rampart, setting a school record for passing yards and touchdowns as a senior. He earned first-team all-state (4A) and all-league honors as a senior, when he completed 106-of-153 passes for 2,053 yards, throwing 27 touchdown passes and only seven interceptions. Rampart was 14-0 his senior season, winning the state's 4A title, and was 9-1 his junior year and 10-1 his sophomore season under coach Mike Sirko. He also lettered three times in baseball (outfielder), starting all three years and helping Rampart to a league title as a senior.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He earned honorable mention academic all-state honors as a senior. He was an Honor Roll student in high school.

Personal—Born Oct. 2, 1980 in Mesa, Ariz. Hobbies include all sports.

TY GREGORAK, ILB

6-3, 250, Jr., 3L

Spokane, Wash. (West Valley)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the ike inside linebacker position, as he did nor participate in spring drills while rehabbing from arthroscopic knee and shoulder surgery on Feb. 3. 1999: Played in 11 games including the Insight.com Bowl, starting eight, as he missed the Baylor game recovering from arthroscopic knee surgery. He was fourth on the team in tackles with 64 (39 solo), with one tackle for loss, a third down stop and a fumble recovery. He had 12 tackles against Colorado State and Washington, 11 at Iowa State and 10 versus Missouri. He saw limited action in the bowl game, as knee and shoulder problems surfaced again. He also missed spring ball as he continued rehab following shoulder surgery, but returned 100 percent for August drills. 1998: He saw action in all 12 games, 11 on defense, including two starts (at Missouri, and Oregon in the Aloha Bowl). He was fourth on the team in tackles with 55 (40 solo), with six for losses, three third down stops and a fumble recovery, a forced fumble and a pass deflection. He was one of the team's defensive players-of-the-game against Texas Tech, when he was in on 11 tackles (eight solo). He also had 10 tackles against Baylor and seven each against Colorado State and Missouri. He was selected by the media who cover the team on a regular basis for the Best Interview Award. 1997: The only member of the '97 recruiting class to see action, as he played in all 11 games, including starts in the final three contests of the season. He was in for 316 plays from scrimmage, racking up 38 tackles (19 solo). He also had three quarterback pressures, two third down stops, a forced fumble and a pass broken up. He had seven tackles in his first career start at lowa State, becoming the first true freshman to start at linebacker since Ted Johnson did so at Oklahoma in 1991. He had eight tackles against Nebraska, along with six at Kansas State and five at Michigan. On special teams, he tied for the team lead in knockdown blocks with 11, and tied for seventh in Bigger Faster Stronger, PrepStar, SuperPrep, Schutt, Student Sports, Who's Who and USA Today (honorable mention). He was a member of the prestigious Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-in-the-West squad, receiving eight of a possible 10 votes), and the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 team. The Sporting News ranked him as the No. 5 linebacker in the country, and he was also a member of the National Recruiting Advisor's Top 100 List (No. 32 player overall, and the No. 6 linebacker). PrepStar ranked him as the No. 9 linebacker nationally (No. 1 in the West) and placed him on its Dream Team. SuperPrep selected him as its Far West defensive player-of-the-year, ranking him as the No. 9 linebacker in the nation and No. 3 overall in the Northeast 27. Prep Football Report selected him as a preseason all-American, and placed him on its all-West team in the postseason (No. 26 overall, and the No. 4 tight end, but made no mention of him at linebacker). He also earned unanimous all-state, all-area and all-Frontier League honors, and went ont o play in the 1997 All-American Bowl and Washington State All-Star game. As a junior, he earned first-team all-league honors at both tight end and inside linebacker, and was second-team all-state at tight end. As a sophomore, he was all-league at linebacker. He led his team in tackles all four years in high school, and was team captain all four years as well. As a senior, he was in on 92 tackles (57 solo), with 17 for losses and six quarterback sacks, nine forced fumbles, three recoveries, an interception (which he returned for a TD), 18 hurries and five passes broken up. On offense, he played quarterback and rushed 110 times for 820 yards (7.5 per carry), with eight touchdowns. He also completed 21-of-48 passes for 550 yards and five touchdowns, with just tow interceptions. As a junior, he recorded 105 tackles (70 solo), with 20 for losses and three sacks, along with seven forced fumbles, four recoveries, four passes broken up and an interception. He caught 22 passes for 260 yards and six touchdowns playing tight end. As a sophomore, he was in on 80 tackles (53 solo), with six forced fumbles and two sacks. He played backup quarterback on offense as both a sophomore and freshman. On defense as a frosh, he made 48 tackles (26 solo), with five forced fumbles and a pair of sacks. His career totals include a school- and league-record 325 tackles (216 solo), 13 quarterback sacks, 27 forced fumbles and three interceptions. Top game his senior year came in a 44-7 win over Riverside, when he scored four touchdowns (three rushing, one interception return), and had 22 tackles and two quarterback sacks in playing just the first half. He had 20 or more tackles in three games as a senior. West Valley was 2-7 his senior year, 4-4-1 his sophomore and junior seasons, and 4-5 his freshman year under coach Steve Kent. He also lettered in track (sprints and throws; personal bests of 11.3 in the 100 and 50-0 in the shot put), baseball (catcher as a freshman and sophomore) and basketball (three letters playing the wing).

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. Owned a 3.6 grade point average in high school and scored 24 on the ACT. He was an honor roll student every academic grading period since the first grade, and earned honors in English all throughout

Special Team Tackles: 0,1-1 (1998).

Personal—Born Sept. 12, 1978 in Seattle, Wash. Hobbies include golf, weight training, hunting, playing the piano, karate, water and snow skiing and coaching youth basketball. He was also heavily involved in DECA, a nationwide marketing competition for high school students. Other interests include world affairs, geography, dogs and horses. He was the senior class vice president, and was the student body president in junior high. His father (Bill Gregorak) played college golf at Washington, with a grandfather (Jack Pring) a football player at Idaho and Washington State.

ANDRE GURODE, C

6-4, 320, Jr., 2L

Houston, Texas (North Shore)

College—This Season: Enters the fall projected as CU's starting center, though he

High School-As a senior, he was a PrepStar and SuperPrep all-American, with USA Today selecting him honorable mention. He was named to the prestigious Houston Chronicle Top 100 List, and made the equally credible Austin American-Statesman "Fab 55" team (No. 44 overall, and the No. 5 offensive lineman). PrepStar placed him on its "Dream Team," the No. 15 lineman in the nation, and the No. 10 overall prospect in Texas (and the No. 2 offensive lineman). He was a member of Texas Football's Top 30, the fourth lineman). He earned first-team all-area honors as a senior (second-team as a junior), and was first-team all-district (22 5A) and first-team all-Greater Houston as a junior and senior (when he also was his team's most outstanding offensive lineman). He was second-team all-district as a sophomore. As a senior, he owned better than an 86 blocking grade, with 67 pancake blocks, and allowed just one sack. He blocked for two backs who gained a combined 3,200 yards. He played some defensive tackle for the first time in his career as well, as he was in on 61 tackles (16 solo), with 6? quarterback sacks, 10 tackles for loss, 16 hurries and two forced fumbles. As a junior, he graded out to 89 percent, with 54 pancake blocks, and allowed just three sacks. As a sophomore, he owned a 79 percent grade, with 33 pancakes and five sacks allowed. Top games his senior year included a 55-17 win over Alvin in the second round of the playoffs, when he had 10 pancake and three touchdown blocks along with three tackles, five hurries and a sack on defense. North Shore was 13-1 his senior year, reaching the District 5A semifinals after winning the bi-district, area and regional championships. NSHS was also 8-3 his junior year (district champs) and 9-3 his sophomore year (bi-district champs) under coach David Aymond. He also lettered three times in basketball, and lettered four times in track (throws; he owns personal bests of 186-0 in the discus and 54-1 in the shot put). He was his team's most improved track athlete as a sophomore.

Academics—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado, and is a one-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team. Owned a 3.1 grade point average in high school, and won third place in a drafting competition for intermediate computer design as a junior. He was selected as one of the school's most improved students his junior year.

Personal—Born March 6, 1978 in Houston Texas. Hobbies include drafting, spending time with his family and talking on the phone. A second cousin played for the Kansas City Chiefs. He has added 30 pounds of muscle to his frame since his arrival at CU.

ROBERT HAAS, DE

6-5, 250, Jr., 2L

Boulder, Colo. (Fairview)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the rush defensive end position, as he had limited work in the spring while battling a chronic arthritis condition in both knees. 1999: He played in all 12 games, including the Insight.com Bowl, and made one start (Oklahoma), as he posted 15 tackles on the year, including 10 solo stops. He was in for 351 snaps from scrimmage, the second most of any non-regular starter on defense. He also had two tackles for loss, including a quarterback sack at Iowa State, five hurries, two third down stops, a fumble recovery and a pass deflection. He had two special team points, one on an assisted tackle and the other on a block/pressure on a punt. He had a season-high three tackles against Nebraska, and had one stop in the bowl win. He participated in spring drills after fully recovering from the knee injury that forced him to miss the majority of his redshirt freshman year. 1998: He saw action in the first two games and was getting into a groove when he tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee in practice on Sept. 15. He had surgery to repair the injury on Sept. 24 and subsequently missed the remainder of the season. He had been in for 51 snaps from scrimmage in the two games. 1997: Redshirted; practiced the entire year at defensive end. He was a co-winner of the Defensive Scout Award, selected by the coaching staff at the end of the season. He turned a few heads in spring drills, an effort that culminated with a spring game that saw him register two tackles and three quarterback hurries. He was recruited in the 1996 class, but did not enroll in school until January of '97, as he had shoulder surgery the spring of his senior year, necessitating the later enrollment.

High School—As a senior at Boulder Fairview, he garnered Blue Chip, Prep Football Report, Schutt Sports, SuperPrep and Who's Who all-America honors, when he was also made first-team all-Colorado by the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. In earning first-team all-state honors by the Post and News, he also made the blue chip lists by both newspapers (he was the No. 4 player in Colorado as ranked by the New). PFR tabbed him as the No. 8 overall player in the Midlands region, with Blue Chip calling him the No. 6 line recruit in the then-Big Eight area. He was one of 15 defensive linemen selected to the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 squad, and the National Recruiting Advisor selected him to its all-Midlands team. He earned first-team all-Centennial League honors on defense and second-team on offense. As a senior, he started every game at offensive tackle and defensive end, and was in on 62 tackles, with 41 quarterback hurries, eight sacks, five forced fumbles and two blocked punts, and caught two passes on offense. He had eight tackles, six hurries, to sacks and a forced fumble against Smoky Hill. As a junior, when he was secondteam all-county and all-league at offensive guard, he graded out to 89 percent for the year and allowed just one sack. Fairview was 5-5 his senior year and 3-7 his junior season under head coach Tom McCartney (the son of former Colorado head coach Bill McCartney). He also lettered in track (twice), as he was sixth in the state in the discus (165-0) and owned a personal best of 53-11 in the shot put.

Academics—He is majoring in business (marketing) at Colorado, but is also loading up in management and information system coursework and could graduate with a degree in three fields of study. He is a three-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he currently owns the second highest grade point average of all the defensive ends. He scored an 1190 on his SAT.

MARWAN HAGE, OL

6-3, 275, Fr., HS

Montreal, Quebec (Vanier Prep)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at center, as he enrolled at CU in January in time for classes, and thus, the opportunity to practice with the team in the spring.

High School-He attended Vanier Prep for one semester (fall 1999), and played high school football at Sun Youth High, as his own high school, Mont de La Salle, did not sponsor the sport. He earned SuperPrep All-Far West honors, as the publication groups the country into its West review, and was ranked as the No. 3 player in Canada. As a senior, he earned first-team Team Canada, Team Quebec and Quebec all-star honors. As a junior, he earned first-team Team Canada and Team Quebec accolades, and was the youngest member on the Team Quebec squad. He was a four-time most valuable player in the Quebec All-Star game. He played offensive guard his last three years as a prep. Vanier was 7-2-1 in 1999, while Sun Youth posted records of 3-7 (his 11th grade year) and 8-2 (10th grade). Top games included a great effort in a 24-14 loss to Vieux Montreal, when he held Michigan recruit Alain Kachama to no sacks. He also had four pancakes against Marc Andre Dion, a top prospect in Quebec, in a 28-14 loss to Lennoxville. Prep coaches were Ray Gagnon (Vanier Prep) and Earl De La Peralle (Sun Youth).

Academics— He is interested in business as his major at Colorado, but is currently enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he has the third highest GPA on the team, the best on offense. He owned an 82 percentile average in high school.

Personal—Born Sept. 14, 1981 in Beirut, Lebanon. Hobbies include volunteering to work with kids at Christmas ("Wherever I am in life, I'm always going to help people."). One older brother, Rudy, was also a member of the 2000 CU recruiting class, and another older brother (Elias) plays football at East Texas State. His mother (Hayat) was a member of the Lebanese National Volleyball Team. A cousin (Fade Bouras) played defensive tackle at UTEP, and a distant cousin (Hisham el Mashtoub) played collegiately at Arizona and with the Houston Oilers and in the CFL. The Hage family moved to Montreal from his native Beirut, Lebanon, in 1990, fleeing a war-torn neighborhood to a Canadian city that had a sizeable Lebanese community. He speaks English, French and Arabic all fluently. (Last name pronounced similar to age with an h: hayg)

Montreal, Quebec (Vanier Prep)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at the rush defensive end spot, though he had a brief trial the final part of spring practice at tight end. He enrolled at CU in January in time for classes, and thus, the opportunity to practice with the team in the spring.

High School-He attended Vanier Prep for four semesters, and played high school football at Sun Youth High, as his own high school, Mont de La Salle, did not sponsor the sport. As a senior, he earned first-team Team Canada, Team Quebec and Quebec All-Star honors, as he was rated the No. 1 defensive player on Team Quebec. He was a Team Quebec squad member for four years (1996-99). In his second year at Vanier (13th grade), he was in on 64 tackles, 24 for losses including 10 sacks, along with recovering four fumbles, forcing two, and breaking up six passes. In his first year at Vanier (12th grade), he was in on 30 tackles and blocked a punt before missing the rest of the season with an injury. In his final year at Sun Youth (11th grade), he had 98 tackles, with 21 quarterback sacks and two interceptions. Vanier Prep was 7-2-1 and 8-2 his two years there. while Sun Youth was 8-2 his final year there. Top games included a seven tackle, four sack, one tackle for loss and one pass broken up effort in a 21-21 tie with Lennoxville, and a seven sack game against North Shore in 11th grade... Prep coaches were Ray Gagnon (Vanier Prep) and Earl De La Peralle (Sun Youth). He also lettered in basketball, averaging 18 points per game in earning Team Ouebec and allstar honors.

Academics—He is interested in business (information systems) as his major at Colorado, but is currently enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal—Born Feb. 27, 1980 in Beirut, Lebanon. His younger brother Marwan was also a member of the 2000 CU recruiting class, and an older brother (Elias) plays football at East Texas State. NEAL HANNIFAN, C

6-2, 290, Jr., JC

Cypress, Calif. (John F. Kennedy/Cerritos College)

College—This Season: He figures to assume a high spot on the depth chart on the offensive line (center or possibly guard), and is a lead candidate for long and short snapping duties (he snaps one-handed, to the amazement of most who have watched him perform the rare ability). He has two years of eligibility remaining, and has a redshirt year available as well.

Junior College-He earned PrepStar Super JUCO 75 and SuperPrep JUCO 100 (the No. 59 player overall and the 10th lineman) honors as a sophomore last fall at Cerritos College in Norwalk, Calif. He played center, and also handled short and long snapping duties. He also earned honorable mention all-state and first-team all-Mission Conference accolades (which he also earned as a freshman as well). He graded out to 90 percent or better in all 10 games as a sophomore (and to around 92 percent for the season), as he did not allow a sack and was called for just two penalties. He allowed one sack and flagged just once as a freshman, and never muffed an exchange either year with his quarterbacks. Says his top game as a JUCO came in the Strawberry Bowl as a sophomore, one of the few games he had a nose guard assigned to him. In the win over Santa Ana, he had at least 12 pancake blocks, including three in a row at one point in a very dominating performance. Cerritos was 7-3 his sophomore year, winning the Strawberry Bowl, and was 8-2 his frosh season under coach Frank Mazotta.

High School—He earned first-team all-Empire league honors at center his sophomore, junior and senior seasons. He did not allow a quarterback sack as a junior or senior (and just one as a sophomore), and was never called for a penalty in high school. He also handled all snapping chores for three years as a prep as well. He played some defense, seeing action at both inside linebacker and defensive end. As a senior, he was in on 50 tackles, with 14 for losses and five quarterback sacks, along with four fumble recoveries, three forced fumbles and an interception out of his DE spot ("and it was beautiful," he recalled). John F. Kennedy was 8-2 his senior year, 7-3 his junior year and 9-1 his sophomore season, winning the Empire League title twice under coach Mitch Olson. He also lettered three years in baseball (catcher), earning second-team all-conference honors as a junior and senior.

Academics-He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in the School of Arts & Sciences. He earned his A.A. degree from Cerritos in May 2000. He was in student government for four years in high school, and ascended to student body president as a senior.

Personal-Born Dec. 26, 1979 in Torrance, Calif. Hobbies include surfing, skateboarding, running and lifting weights. He played with a cousin, Jack Tucker, in both high school and junior college, and the two will be separated for the first time as Tucker, an inside linebacker, signed with Ohio State. An uncle (Peter Quartararo) played football at Stanford. While attending junior college, he worked at Vons, a California supermarket chain, bagging, stocking and checking-similar to what St. Louis Ram linebacker London Fletcher was doing 18 months before becoming a member of a Super Bowl champion team. (Last name pronounced hann-uh-fin.)

-4}(r)-MARQUES HARRIS, ATH

6-2, 210, Fr., HS

Grand Junction, Colo. (Grand Junction)

the coaches decided where to permanently place him for this season, his true frosh year in college.

High School-He played outside linebacker and slot-back his senior year in high school, when he earned PrepStar All-America honors. SuperPrep selected him to its all-Midlands team, and made the all-Colorado team by the Denver Post, which included him on its list of the state's top Blue Chips. The Post selected him first-team allstate (5A) at linebacker, while the News picked him first-team allstate (5A) at tight end. He was a first-team all-Southwestern League as a junior and senior, and a first team Colorado Springs Metro League (5A) performer as a senior. He played eight games on defense as a senior, racking up 72 tackles (47 solo), with 20 for losses, including 10 quarterback sacks; he also forced five fumbles, had three passes broken up and blocked a punt. On offense, he caught 48 passes for 632 yards and seven touchdowns, averaging 13.2 yards per catch. He also scored two touchdowns rushing, and returned 10 kickoffs for 298 yards (no TDs). As a junior, he was in on 112 tackles (86 solo), with 13 tackles for losses and four sacks. He added three blocked punts, two interceptions, three fumbles recoveries, two passes broken up and averaged 15.2 yards on six punt returns. Top career games included a 32-29 loss to Arapahoe in the first round of the state playoffs his senior year. He had 12 tackles, 10 receptions for 111 yards and a touchdown (including five catches on the last drive, where a field goal to tie the game was no good), and blocked a punt his team returned for a score. In a 54-14 win over Montrose, he had a whopping 11 tackles for loss, including four sacks. Grand Junction was 5-5 his sophomore and senior years and 6-5 his junior season under coaches Doug Cogan and Rocky Whitworth. He lettered four times in wrestling, winning the 5A state title as a senior, going 32-0 in his weight class (189-lbs). He finished fourth in the state as both a sophomore and junior, earning all-state honors three years in all. He also lettered as a freshman and sophomore in baseball as a catcher and outfielder.

Academics—He is interested in business or education as his major at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, as he owned better than a 3.0 grade point average.

Personal—Born Sept. 20, 1981 in Salt Lake City, Utah. His hobbies include snowboarding, backpacking, camping and fishing. An uncle (Chuck Wiman) was a one-time member of the CU football team in the 1970s, and his biological father is Alvin Phillips, who played linebacker and defensive line for the Buffs from 1972 to 1976.

KATIE HNIDA, PK

5-9, 150, Fr., RS Littleton, Colo. (Chatfield)

College-This Season: She will rejoin the team the first day of classes (Aug. 28). She practiced the entire spring (mostly live drills), but did not kick in the two major scrimmages. 1999: Redshirted; she joined the team the first day of classes and practiced the entire season, though she missed a few weeks after a bout with mononucleosis. She became the first woman ever to be on the football roster at the University of Colorado, as well as in the Big 12 Conference. She was the second woman to ever dress for an NCAA Division I-A game when she suited up Sept. 18 against Kansas (joining placekicker Kathy Klope, who did so for Louisville in 1995). Hnida became the first woman to ever dress for a bowl game on Dec. 31 versus Boston College at the Insight.com Bowl.

High School-As a senior, she earned honorable mention all-Jefferson County honors at Chatfield, was named the Colorado Sportswoman-of-the-Year (football) and was listed as one of the 20 most influential teenagers in America by Teen People Magazine. In her prep career, she converted 83-of-87 extra point attempts and made four-of-five field goals, with a long of 39 (as a junior). She was 27-of-28 on PAT kicks and made all three field goal tries as a senior for a total of 36 points. She lettered four times in football for coach Keith Mead, as Chatfield was 4-6 her senior season, 1-9 her junior year, 5-5 her sophomore year and 6-4 her freshman season. As a senior, she was elected homecoming queen and participated in the halftime ceremony wearing her uniform. She also lettered twice in track (400-meter run and the pole vault), and played one year of junior varsity soccer.

Academics-She is majoring in sociology at Colorado, and is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team with the best grade point average of all the kickers. She was an Army Reserve Scholar-Athlete winner in 1998, and was a district champion in the Colorado State Debate and Forensics Championships.

Personal—Born May 17, 1981 in Denver, Colo. Her father (Dave) played college basketball and baseball at the University of Pennsylvania, and is the medical reporter for KCNC-TV in Denver. She has worked as a hospital volunteer in her spare time. Full name is Katharine Anne Hnida (last name is pronounced ny-duh).

ROMAN HOLLOWELL, WR Denver, Colo. (Mullen) College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the "Z" receiver position, and is penciled in as the top return man on punts and kickoffs. He had a good spring, catching seven passes for 75 yards in the two major spring scrimmages. Though only 5-6, he's not the most diminutive player in the NCAA Division I-A ranks; Navy's Cee Harris stands 5-3, and two others check in at 5-5. 1999: He played in all 12 games, including in the Insight.com Bowl, but didn't make any starts. He was third on the team in receiving with 24 receptions for 244 yards, averaging 10.2 yards per catch with a touchdown (a 43-yard reception against Colorado State). His top game statistically was against CSU, when he caught sic passes for 90 yards, followed by efforts against Kansas (five for 49) and Nebraska (five for 56). He caught 10 passes in third and fourth down situations, picking up eight first downs. He earned 18 overall on the season (15 receiving, two rushing, one passing). He also completed his only pass attempt for 40 yards to Eric McCready on a little trickery against Missouri, and averaged 10.8 yards on five punt returns and 14.0 yards on six kickoff returns. In the bowl win, he caught three passes for 38 yards, including an 18-yard touchdown pass. He missed spring practice rehabilitating from shoulder surgery, but was 100 percent by the time August practice rolled around. 1998: He sampled everything in seeing action in all 12 games, including the Aloha Bowl (no starts), as he had 247 all-purpose yards. He had nine receptions for 110 yards, including a 20-yard touchdown at Oklahoma and three third down receptions that all earned first downs. He returned two kickoffs for 91 yards, including a 77-yard return against Texas Tech, and six punt returns for 41 yards. He had one rush (for five yards) and had three tackles on special teams coverage units. He had a good spring, as in scrimmage action, he caught five passes, averaged 19.3 vards on three punt returns and 24.3 on three kickoff returns. 1997: Redshirted; practiced the entire year at wide receiver.

High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar all-America honors. with USA Today selecting him as an honorable mention choice. He was first-team all-state by the Rocky Mountain News (second-team by the Denver Post), and was a member of the News' Colorado Blue Chip 10 and the Post's Blue Chip List. He was a member of the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 team, while Prep Football Report and SuperPrep both selected him to their all-Midlands teams. PrepStar ranked him as the No. 8 wide receiver in the Big 12 Region. SuperPrep ranked him No. 35 overall in the Midlands, while PFR tabbed him No. 36 (and the No. 5 receiver; they also called him Colorado's top kick returner in the preseason). He also garnered first-team all-Centennial League honors as a sophomore, junior and senior, was all-state as a sophomore, junior and senior, and was all-Colorado his junior year. As a senior, he caught 50 passes for 645 yards and eight touchdowns, when he also ran six reverses for 74 yards and two scores. As a junior, he caught 37 passes for 853 yards and seven additional scores. He caught 59 passes for 996 yards and 15 touchdowns as a sophomore, when he averaged 32 yards on kickoff returns (with three TDs). Top career games included a 45-44 win over Cherry Creek his junior year, when he caught six passes for 135 yards and three touchdowns, including the game winner. In a win over Golden that same year, he touched the ball six times for a net 325 yards and one score (three receptions, three kickoff returns). Mullen was 10-3 his junior and senior seasons, reaching the state semifinals both years (and was co-Centennial league champion his junior year), and was 5-4 his sophomore year under coach Mick McCall. He also lettered three times in track (sprints and relays); he owns a personal best of 10.7 in the 100 (finishing fourth in the state meet), and he helped Mullen to the state title in both the 4x100 and 4x400 relays as a junior.

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado, and is a one-time member of CU's Academic Starters team. He owned a 3.5 grade point average in high school and was a member of the honor roll throughout his career as a prep, earning Mullen's geometry and Spanish awards.

Personal—Born Jan. 10, 1979 in Denver. Hobbies include basketball and listening to music.

MARCUS HOUSTON, TB

Denver, Colo. (Thomas Jefferson)

High School-Perhaps the most celebrated recruit Colorado history, for his on the field accomplishments as well as off. As a senior, he was named an All-American by Parade, Prep Football Report/ESPN-Reebok, PrepStar (Dream Team), Rivals.com, Student Sports, SuperPrep, USA Today (first-team) and the Dick Butkus Football Network. He was the Gatorade Player-of-the-Year in Colorado, the recipient of the Sports Illustrated/Old Spice Player-ofthe-Year, and won the prestigious Denver Post Gold Helmet Award, given for athletic and academic excellence. He was ranked as the nation's No. 1 running back by both Parade and SuperPrep, with the latter ranking him the No. 2 recruit overall on its National Top 50 and selecting him, along with PrepStar, as the Midlands Region offensive player-of-the-year. PFR ranked him No. 5 overall on its Top 100 list. and he was No. 11 on The Sporting News Top 101 list (the No. 2 running back). As a junior and senior, he earned all-Colorado and allstate (5A) honors from both the Post and Rocky Mountain News, as both newspapers listed him as the top blue chip recruit for the state of Colorado for 1999. He was also a first-team all-Denver Prep League choice both years (he was honorable all-league at safety as a sophomore). As a senior, he rushed 231 times for 1,743 yards and 23 touchdowns, averaging 7.5 yards per attempt. He rushed for 100 or more yards in 10 of 12 games, and his long rush was a 92-yard scoring run against Denver North. He also caught 13 passes for 295 vards (22.7 per) and three more scores, averaged about 28 yards per kickoff return, and completed the only pass he threw for a 40-yard gain. The numbers would have been higher, but TJ had substantial leads in many games and he did not play in several fourth quarters. On defense, playing both safety positions, he was in on 74 tackles, and had three interceptions, six forced fumbles, three recoveries and four pass deflections. Top games his senior year included a 52-0 win over North, when he had 267 yards and five touchdowns on just 10 carries (mostly in the first half). In a 14-7 win over Montbello, he had over 100 yards rushing but scored the game-winning touchdown in the fourth quarter that guaranteed a fourth straight DPL title for Thomas Jefferson. As a junior, he rushed 155 times for 1,612 yards, averaging 10.4 yards per carry, and scored 29 touchdowns. He also caught about 20 passes for 350 yards as he played in only 10 games (he was overseas and missed the first two games of the season). On defense, he had two interceptions and had around 50 tackles playing mostly strong safety. He only appeared occasionally on offense as a sophomore, but had three interceptions at strong safety defensively, including a 62-yard return for a touchdown. He was limited a bit by an ankle injury as a freshman, but he did see action at tailback, scoring the Spartans' first touchdown of the year. TJ posted 10-2 records his sophomore, junior and senior years and was 11-1 his freshman year under coach Tim Cross. The Spartans won four straight Denver Prep League titles during his career, posting 7-0 records in league play all four years. In all, 21 prep teammates earned collegiate scholarships, including fellow Buffs, Dan Graham and Gabe Oderberg. He lettered in track as a freshman, finishing fourth in the state in the 400-meter run (47.9).

Academics—He is interested in international business as his major at Colorado. An honor roll student throughout high school, as he graduated with a 3.6 grade point average. He was elected as class president in each of his freshman, sophomore, junior and senior years (serving as co-president in the latter two), and served as the president of Interact, a school organization associated with Rotary Club International, as a junior and senior. He was the Colorado State representative for Youth Senate Washington, D.C. in March 2000.

Mistralian Mistralian Mistralian Mistralian

Personal— Born May 27, 1981 in Denver. His hobbies include model trains, collecting baseball cards and coins. Father (Herman) lettered in football and track and field at Washington, as he played running back and ran the 440-yard dash, respectively. Mother (Patricia) also graduated from Washington (MPA in public administration). Oldest brother Polica is a junior football team member at Northern Colorado (after transferring there from Kansas State), and another older sibling (Lovell) is a sophomore defensive back at UCLA. Younger sister (Nicole) is a senior and is on the TJ basketball team. And a cousin, Ken Houston, is an NFL Hall of Fame defensive back who played for Washington and Houston. He traveled to Ghana in the summer of 1999 as a guest of Princess Asie Ocansey, who was in attendance when he was made Juneteenth King at Denver's annual African-American celebration in 1998 (called Juneteenth) in Five Points. He returned there the summer of 2000 to complete a ceremony where he was named chief of the village of Matsekope (he's the Chief of Development), and he brought farm tools, educational materials and books for the village children. He traveled to Europe as a junior as a guest of Amnesty International to discuss world problems in youth and race (in fact, he was the keynote speaker at its youth campaign on human rights). Founded and sponsored Just Say Know, a learning and motivation oriented program for Denver area youth concerning everything from knowing yourself, goals and priorities to how to dress and speak. He initially funded the program himself by shoveling snow and mowing lawns, and then received some donations (he's kept full books, and plans on the continuing and expanding the program in college to whatever degree the NCAA allows, and then for certain following college). In fact, he lists his biggest moment in his high school career as the Manual game his senior year, when he brought 14 of the program's winners to the game in a stretch limousine, and then scored on a 60-yard touchdown run on the very first play. Other awards he has earned include the Prudential Community Spirit Award (for being the state's top student volunteer), Denver Mayor Wellington Webb's Great Kids Mile High Scholar Award, the Franklin D. Watkins Award (premier African-American Scholar Athlete), KUSA-TV's (Denver) 9Kids Who Care Award, the Urban Spectrum Award (African-American who makes a difference), the Colorado Masonic Fraternities Community Service Merit Award, and the National Football Foundation Scholarship Award. In May 2000, he was named one of America's Top 10 Youth Volunteers. He was a national winner for the best story about a nonhigh school topic by the American Scholastic Press Association (he was also a reporter for the Thomas Jefferson Journal). He also "dabbled" in television, as he announced several DPL basketball games on Channel 22 in Denver, a local cable station.

PHIL JACKSON, CB

6-1, 175, Fr., RS

Colorado Springs, Colo. (Sierra)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at right cornerback. He had an outstanding spring, and was in on 10 tackles with standing spring, and was in on 10 tackles with a pass deflection in the two major spring scrimmages. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced the entire fall in the secondary. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the Oklahoma game as selected by the coaches.

High School—As a senior, he earned honorable mention All-America honors from USA Today, as well as first-team all-Colorado and all-state honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. He also earned first team all-Colorado Springs Metro South League honors. He played only four games due to a back injury as a junior, but still earned second-team all-league honors, the same accolades he garnered as a sophomore. As a senior, he was in on 47 tackles playing cornerback, including four for losses. He had nine interceptions, of which he returned five for touchdowns and had 219 total return yards, and also had 11 passes broken up and a fumble recovery he returned 46 yards for a touchdown. On offense, he had 23 receptions for 549 yards and five touchdowns, and rushed 11 times for 133 yards and two scores. He also had 11 kickoff returns for 319 yards (2 TDs), and 16 punt returns for 109 yards (1 TD). All told, he scored 16 touchdowns and three two-point conversions for 102 total points. He had five interceptions in four games in his injuryshortened junior season, but as a sophomore, he was fourth in the state in interceptions, snaring 10. Top games as a senior came against Green Mountain (four touchdowns: two on interception returns, one punt return and one rushing), Air Academy (three interceptions, one for a TD, and the fumble return for a score) and Palisades (three interceptions). Sierra was 12-2 his senior year, losing to cross-town rival Rampart in the state's 4A championships game; the Stallions were 10-1 his junior season and 5-5 his sophomore year, and were Colorado Spring Metro South champs as a junior and senior under coach Kirk Sullivan. He also lettered three times in basketball (guard, averaging 18.5 points as a senior), and four times in track. He participates in the 110-high hurdles (owns the school record of 14.13) and the high jump (6-6 career best); he medaled in both events as a junior at the state meet.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal—Born Oct. 29, 1979 in Wichita, Kan. Hobbies include video games. A brother (DeWayne Long) is a wide receiver at Northern Colorado, where a cousin (Martin Jones) plays cornerback. Another cousin (B.J. Williams) played basketball at Kansas, and yet another cousin (Kendall Boyd) plays hoops at Mesa Community College in Arizona.

SEAN JARNE, DT

6-6, 295, Sr., 3L

Yorba Linda, Calif. (Esperanza)

College—This Season: 1999: He played in all 12 games, including the Insight.com Bowl, and made three starts, but was bothered the latter portion of the season for a "stinger" (nerve contusion) that eventually required arthroscopic surgery. He had the procedure in early December and returned in time for the bowl game (where he was in on one tackle). He had 18 tackles on the year (six solo), with three hurries, a forced fumble and a third down stop in 301 plays from scrimmage. He had a fine spring, with 12 tackles and one quarterback sack in spring scrimmages. 1998: He played in all 12 games, including the Aloha Bowl, and made four starts. He was in on 360 snaps from scrimmage and made 24 tackles (12 solo), with four quarterback hurries and two passes broken up. He had one total disruption, helping cause the fumble on a goal-line stand against Fresno State, and caused an interception at Nebraska. 1997: He saw action in just one game (at Oklahoma State), as he missed the first four games (and all of spring practice) after suffering a broken foot in March. The foot was slow to heal, and then he developed a bulging disc in his back that forced him to miss the rest of the season. He was granted a medical hardship, as he played just 16 snaps in the one game (no tackles). 1996: He played in nine games and the Holiday Bowl (no starts), seeing action for 143 plays and mostly in key junctures of games. He had two fumble recoveries against Texas A&M, and posted seven tackles on the season including a quarterback sack (for 13 yards against Washington State). He had two tackles and a quarterback sack in the bowl win over Washington. He had a bout with mononucleosis prior to reporting to CU in the fall, which set back his personal conditioning program.

High School—As a senior he garnered Blue Chip, National Recruiting Advisor and SuperPrep All-America honors, when he also earned first-team all-state, all-CIF (Division 1) and all-Sunset League honors. SuperPrep tabbed him the No. 3 defensive line prospect in the nation and the No. 22 player overall in the Far West, while Blue Chip ranked him No. 6 in the west. He was one of 15 defensive line-

Marie and wife and wife and wife and men selected to the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 squad. He was in on 93 tackles (68 solo), with 14 quarterback hurries, eight sacks, 12 passes broken up and three fumble recoveries. He also had an interception he returned for a touchdown. In a 34-27 win over Locke, he had a huge game, as he returned an interception for a score, recovered a fumble and had six tackles and a sack. As a junior, he had 40 tackles and one sack in earning all-league honors. He did not play as a sophomore, as he missed the season with a serious back injury (a fractured vertebra). Esperanza was 8-3 his senior year (league champs) and 7-4 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Gary Meek. He also lettered in track (shot and discus, with a personal best of 161-0 in the latter).

Academics—He is majoring in political science and psychology at Colorado, along with taking enough hours to earn a minor in history. His goal is to graduate with three degrees in four-and-a-half years. He is a three-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the highest grade point average of all the defensive tackles. He owned a 3.4 grade point average in high school and scored a 1210 on his SAT.

Personal—Born May 22, 1978 in Anaheim, Calif. He owns an NFLcaliber standing long jump of 10-6. Hobbies include listening to good music. He is also a nationally competitive weightlifter, as he was the heavyweight national champion for the 17-18 age group in 1995. He competed in the 1997 USWF National Junior Championships in the snatch and clean and jerk, and was the runner-up in the '98 Junior National Olympic competition.

JUDD JOHNS, TB

5-11, 180, Soph., VR, Murfreesboro, Tenn. (Fork Union Military Academy, Va.)

College—This Season: Projected as a reserve tailback this fall, but has a good work ethic so he could wind up on some special team units. He missed all of spring practice while rehabilitating from quadricep and shoulder surgery, both done to relieve chronic conditions. 1999: He saw action in two games, versus Kansas and Boston College in the Insight.com Bowl. He had one carry for a yard against the Jayhawks, and rushed twice for five yards late in the bowl win. 1998: Redshirted; practiced at both wide receiver and tailback.

High School—He lettered four times as a tailback and free safety at Fork Union Military Academy in Fork Union, Va., which boasts such alums as Eddie George and Vinnie Testeverde. He earned second-team all-state and first-team all-prep honors and was a team captain as a senior. Fork Union was 10-1 his senior year, 12-2 his junior year, 10-2 his sophomore season and 13-4 his freshman campaign under coach Mickey Sullivan, winning two divisional titles. He also lettered in twice in wrestling (all-state as a freshman) and four times in track (all-state in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles and 4x100 relay). He had a career best of 38.3 in the hurdles, a school record.

Academics—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado. He was a three-year member of the honor roll and Dean's List as a prep.

Personal—Born June 1, 1979 in Murfreesboro, Tenn. Lists his hobbies as anything that will "broaden his horizon," and is also enjoys yoga, boxing, and visiting children at hospitals. Older brother (Tommy) played linebacker at Middle Tennessee State and is now flying F-18 jets as a second lieutenant in the Marines, sister (Rebecca) is a professor at MTSU, and brother-in-law Rankin Roth is the drummer in the band, "Tabasco Cats." He received the William Hatfield Award in the state of Virginia for the student-athlete who exhibited the best sportsmanship his senior year. He enrolled at Fork Union in the seventh grade. Full name is Judson Johns.

CORTLEN JOHNSON, TB

5-9, 195, Jr., 2L St. Louis, Mo. (Hazelwood Central)

as a preseason honorable mention All-American, and along with Athlon, made him a first-team preseason all-Big 12 choice (Lindy's and The Sporting News selected him to their second-teams). Lindy's also ranked him as the No. 19 running back in Division I-A. He missed the last two weeks and both major scrimmages of spring drills due to a severe knee sprain he suffered in practice. However, he was fine by the middle of May and should be 100 percent by August drills. He enters his junior year with 1,010 career rushing yards, 42nd on CU's all-time list. 1999: He played in 11 games, starting 10 including the Insight.com Bowl, as he missed the Kansas State game with a severely sprained knee. He earned second-team all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches and the Kansas City Star, as he was third in the conference in rushing with 835 net yards, averaging 4.9 yards per carry with a team-high eight touchdowns. His top game was in the bowl win against Boston College, when he rushed 15 times for 201 yards and two touchdowns. It was the second most rushing yards in the 1999 postseason, trailing only Mike Anderson's 254-yard performance in Utah's Las Vegas Bowl win over Fresno State. Sports Illustrated selected him to its All-Bowl team for 1999 for his effort. His best regular season effort came at Iowa State, when he rushed 31 times for 185 yards and a touchdown, along with earning six first downs on six third down rushing tries. It was one of four 100-yard games he had on the year, as he also had 104 and three touchdowns against San Jose State, 107 at Texas Tech, and 135 against Nebraska. The latter was the most rushing yards by a Buff against the Huskers since 1993, and the only 100-yard game by an opponent back against Nebraska in 1999. He earned 44 first downs on the year (39 rushing, five receiving), picking up 12 on third down, when he averaged 4.9 vards on 19 attempts. He also caught 18 passes for 168 yards, or 9.3 per reception. He won the Fred Casotti Award following spring practice, as the coaching staff selected him as the most outstanding back. He had 31 carries for 164 yards and two touchdowns in spring scrimmages. 1998: He played in all 12 games, including the Aloha Bowl, and had one start (against Baylor), as he was fourth on the team in rushing. He had 40 carries for 175 yards (no touchdowns), and caught three passes for 24 yards. He also completed one pass, a two-yard effort to Mike Moschetti on a little trickery against Nebraska. His top game was a 40-yard effort on just three carries at Kansas, and he had 30 yards against Baylor in his start and against Missouri in front of many family members and friends near his hometown. He carried three times for five yards against Oregon in the bowl game. He had eight tackles on special teams, including a 12yard tackle for loss on the punter in the Colorado State game. Overall, he had 12 special team points for eighth place on the team. He rushed for 70 yards and a touchdown on 13 carries in spring scrimmage action. 1997: Redshirted; practiced the entire season at tailback.

High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America honors, along with Prep Football Report all-Midwest Region honors (PFR had selected him as a preseason all-America). PrepStar ranked him as the No. 4 athlete in the Big 12 Region, while SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 13 overall player in the Midlands (and the No. 23 running back in the nation). PFR tabbed him No. 14 overall in the Midwest and the No. 5 running back. He was also a first-team all-district, all-metro (St. Louis) and all-Suburban North Conference selection. He was second-team all-metro and first-team all-district as a junior, and first-team all-conference as a sophomore and junior (he was second-team all-district as a sophomore). He likely would have won several more honors as a senior had he not suffered a fractured scapula (shoulder blade) in practice after just four games; he did, however, come back to play in the state semifinal and championships games. Prior to the injury, he rushed 52 times for 767 yards (14.8 per carry), scoring 11 touchdowns. He also caught 18 passes for 389 yards and four scores, which included five catches for 181 yards and 2 TDs after he returned from the injury (he saw action only at wide receiver upon his return). He had close to 150 return yards in each of the first two games of the season and he played some cornerback early in the season, registering 13 tackles, two interceptions, six pass deflections, two fumble recoveries and one forced fumble. When he returned to action, he caught two passes for 86 yards in a semifinal playoff game, and had three grabs for 95 yards and a score against Kansas City-Oak Park in the title game (which HCHS rallied to win, 21-20). As a junior he rushed 190 times for 811 vards and 16 touchdowns, while making 21 receptions for 683 yards and another 13 scores, and he averaged 38 yards on 13 punt returns. As a sophomore, he had 187 carries for 950 yards and 14 touchdowns, while catching 23 passes for 651 yards and 10 TDs. His top game came in a 44-6 win his senior year against Ritnour, when he set a school record for rushing yards in a game with 379 (on just 26 carries), along with scoring four touchdowns, but he injured his should in practice following that game. In a last-second, 34-32 loss in the playoffs to Hazelwood East his junior year, he returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown, caught 145 yards in passes and two touchdowns, and rushed for 115 yards and a fourth TD. Hazelwood Central was 13-1 his senior year, winning the state championship, was 10-2 his junior season (district and section champs) and was 9-2 his sophomore season (district champs) for coach Norm Ryan. He also lettered three times in basketball (guard), averaging 12 points and four assists per game as a junior, but he elected not to play his senior year. He earned three letters track (sprints, jumps and relays), owning personal bests of 10.9 in the 100, 21.3 in the 200 and 20-11 in the long jump.

Academics-He is a pre-journalism and sociology major at Colorado.

Personal-Born June 28, 1979 in St. Louis, Mo. An older brother (Corey) played fullback at Oklahoma earlier this decade. Two cousins, Kevin Pointer and Ron Pointer, were wide receivers at Kansas State and Missouri, respectively. Hobbies include bowling, basketball, fishing and basically all sports.

6-3, 210, Soph., 1L San Antonio, Texas (MacArthur)

College-This Season: Enters the fall listed second at the hawk inside linebacker position, and is coming off a good spring. He had nine tackles, three for losses, including a quarterback in the two major spring scrimmages. 1999: Due to injuries, he was pressed into action in the fifth game of the season, and wound up seeing action in seven games including the Insight.com Bowl. He played in three games on defense, making one tackle in 17 snaps from scrimmage, but had three stops in the bowl victory.

Academics-He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. An honor roll student in high school, he scored 1080 on the SAT and owns a 94 average on a 100 scale.

Personal-Born April 8, 1981 in Aurora, Colo. (he lived there for five years before moving to Texas). Hobbies include hunting and fishing, and he has worked as a fishing guide.

Van Nuys, Calif. (Montclair Prep/ Northwestern/L.A. Valley College)

second at defensive end. He had an outstanding spring, as he was in seven tackles, including three for losses and two quarterback sacks, in the pair of major spring scrimmages. The Sporting News selected him as the preseason defensive newcomer-of-the-year in the Big 12. 1999: He reported to CU in time for fall camp, but an eligibility snafu in counting previous applicable transfer credits led to him sitting the year out. He took it with class, as he was twice selected as the Scout Team Defense award winner by the coaches, for the Colorado State and Missouri games. He even jokes that he made the All-American "Scout" Team for 1999. He joined the team in August drills, as he was completing junior college coursework in the spring. He weighed about 40 pounds more than he did the last time he suited up in Division I-A, in 1997 for Northwestern. 1998: He attended Laney College (Oakland, Calif.) and then Los Angeles Valley College, but did not join the football team at either institution. 1997: As a sophomore linebacker, he was eighth on the team in tackles with 42 (21 solo) at Northwestern. He had six tackles for loss, including one sack, and a blocked kick. He had a season high nine tackles against Ohio State and added eight versus Illinois. 1996: He was one of only two true freshmen to see action at Northwestern, seeing a playing time at drop linebacker and special teams. He was in on nine tackles (five solo), with one tackle for loss and a pass broken up.

High School—He earned All-American honors from Prep Football Report, with Blue Chip Illustrated selecting him to its all-Western Region team and SuperPrep to its All-Far West Region squad. He was also a first-team all-state, all-area and all-CIF selection as a senior. He was a first-team all-area and second-team all-state performer as a junior. As a senior, playing outside linebacker, he was in on 98 tack-les (71 solo), with 12 quarterback sacks, five forced fumbles, five recoveries and two interceptions, one of which he returned for a touchdown. At tight end on offense, he caught 16 passes for 430 yards and four touchdowns. He was in on 90 tackles as a junior, with seven sacks and a blocked kick, and played more of a blocking role on offense. He was a free safety (three interceptions) and wide receiver as a sophomore. Montclair Prep was 11-2 his senior year and 12-1 his junior year, claiming the CIF Divisional title, under coach George Giannini. He also lettered in basketball, as he was a two-time John Wooden Award winner, a one-time state player-of-the-year and a first-team all-state and honorable mention All-America performer. He averaged 27 points and 15 rebounds per game as a senior and 23 points and 14 rebounds per outing as a junior.

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. He was an honor roll student as a junior and senior in high school.

Personal—Born Dec. 23, 1978 in Los Angeles, Calif. Hobbies include reading, eating, lifting weights and being an "easy going activity oriented kind of a guy." An older brother, Mike, played football at Southern California and arena football with the San Jose Sabercats.

JAKE JONES, TE

6-5, 240, Fr., RS Yucaipa, Calif. (Yucaipa)

College—This Season: He enters the fall listed third at tight end. He had the chance to get plenty of reps in spring drills, as injuries played havoc with the position. He caught one pass for 16 yards in the two major spring scrimmages, 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action, but practiced the entire fall at tight end.

High School-As a senior, SuperPrep named him to its All-Farwest Team (the No. 158 player in the region and the No. 15 tight end), and earned second-team all-Southern CIF Section, first-team all-CIF, all-San Andreas League and all-San Bernardino County honors. He was a first-team all-league performer as a junior. He started three years at tight end, posting career numbers of 93 receptions, 1,486 yards and 17 touchdowns, and caught 63 passes for 1,003 yards and eight TDs as a senior. He had 27 catches for 432 yards and seven scores as a junior, and three for 51 yards and two touchdowns as a sophomore. As a senior, he played defensive end for a couple of games, making about 10 tackles, and also punted, averaging 35 yards for around 30 punts. His top games his senior year included the season opener against Redlands, when he caught 10 passes for 120 yards, and in a playoff loss to Cathedral City, when he had six catches for 120 yards and two touchdowns. He had four catches for 100 yards and a touchdown against Redlands as a junior. Yucaipa was 5-6 his senior year, 12-2 his junior season (league champ and CIF finalists) and 7-5 his sophomore campaign under coach Jim Taylor. He also lettered three times in basketball (power forward; averaged 15 points and 10 rebounds per game as a senior) and lettered twice in baseball (first basemen).

Academics—He is majoring in business at Colorado, but is undecided on which sequence. He owned a 3.7 grade point average in high school and was a three-time Scholar Athlete Award winner.

Personal—Born July 20, 1981 in Fontana, Calif. He advanced to the next-to-last stage in the national Punt, Pass & Kick competition as a 13- and 14-year-old (he was six yards on a kickoff away from advancing to the finals at the NFC Championship one year). Hobbies include working on and restoring cars (he recently restored a '59 Chevy pickup), golf, water sports and snowboading.

್ರವ BRIAN KEOGH, DT

6-0, 250, Fr., RS Longmont, Colo. (Skyline)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed fourth at one of the two defensive tackle positions. He had one tackle (for a loss) in spring scrimmage action. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action, but practiced the entire season at defensive tackle. He joined the team as a walk-on prior to the start of August drills.

High School—He lettered three times as a defensive lineman at Skyline, earning first-team all-state, all-conference, all-league, all-Boulder County and all-city honors as a senior, when he had 60 tack-les, including 10 quarterback sacks and three forced fumbles. He was an honorable mention all-conference and second-team all-city performer as a junior, when he had 34 tackles, five sacks and five fumble recoveries. He had 30 tackles, four quarterback sacks and five fumble recoveries as a sophomore. Skyline was 9-2 his senior year, 5-5 his junior season and 2-8 his sophomore year under coach Bob Knapton. He also lettered once in wrestling (heavyweight) and in track (throws).

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal—Born Oct. 10, 1980 in Detroit, Mich. Hobbies including fishing.

LEON KIEL, DT

5-11, 265, Fr., RS, Denver, Colo. (Kent Denver/Air Force Academy Prep)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at one of the two defensive tackle positions but will rejoin the team the first day of classes. He moved to the defensive line from fullback for spring drills, and posted three tackles, one for a loss, in the major spring scrimmages. 1999: Redshirted; he did not see any action, but practiced the entire season at fullback. He was the Scout Team Offense award winner for the Missouri game, as selected by the coaching staff. He joined the team as a walk-on prior to the start of August drills.

Prep School—He lettered at fullback at Air Force Preparatory School in Colorado Springs for coach Matt Newby (this does not count against his college eligibility).

High School—He lettered four times as both a running back and linebacker at Kent Denver, earning first-team all-state and first-team all-league honors as both a junior and senior. He had 192 rushes for 1,308 yards and 27 touchdowns as a senior, when he also was in on 110 tackles on defense. He rushed for 453 yards and five TDs as a junior, when he had 138 tackles on defense, with 28 for losses including 11 quarterback sacks. Kent Denver was 9-2 his junior and senior years and 10-1 his freshman and sophomore seasons under coach Todd Schayes. He also lettered twice in lacrosse (defenseman; Kent won the league and state title his junior year).

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal—Born Sept. 13, 1980 in Denver. Hobbies including basketball, PlayStation and spending time with his family, along with a newfound love of reptiles. His cousin, Mark Haynes, was an All-American cornerback at CU in the late 1970s and went on to play with the New York Giants and Denver Broncos. He won the Joint Effort Citizenship Award as a senior in high school.

6-3, 235, Soph., 1L Kingwood, Texas (Kingwood)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at the "ike" inside linebacker position, but

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-Big 12 Region and SuperPrep All-Southwest Region honors, as he also earned mention on the Houston Chronicle's Top 100 list. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 78 overall player in Texas. He was a first-team all-District 21 (5A) selection, earning defensive most valuable player honors for the district, and was a second-team all-Greater Houston pick. He was a finalist for player-of-the-year by the Greater Houston Touchdown Club. As a senior, when he was team captain and Kingwood's MVP, he was in on 128 tackles (80 solo), with two interceptions. He was in on 96 tackles as a junior (when he was honorable mention all-district) and 85 as a sophomore, leading the team in tackles all three seasons. He also served as long snapper for punts and played on the kickoff coverage unit on special teams. Kingwood was 4-6 his senior year, 3-7 his junior season and 2-8 his sophomore campaign under coach Ken Herring. Also lettered in soccer as a freshman and sophomore and in track (throws; he won the district meet in the shot put as a junior and had a career best of 59-3).

Academics—He is undecided on his major, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a one-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, but still owns one of the top grade point averages among the linebackers. He owned a 3.3 grade point average in high school.

Personal—Born Jan. 24, 1980 in Laredo, Texas. Hobbies include hunting, fishing, off-roading in his truck and sleeping. Father (Kirk) was a tight end and punter at Oklahoma in the early 1970s (won a national championship ring with the Sooners in 1974) and played one pro season in Canada; uncle (Kent Killion) was a defensive end at Rice in the late 1970s. He has an interest in becoming a Secret Service Agent after college.

RAWLE KING, OL

Houston, Texas (North Shore/Trinity Valley CC)

College—This Season: Will provide much needed depth on the offensive line, as he figures to line up at one of the tackle positions. He was not on campus for spring drills, as he was finishing up his junior college course work for his A.A. degree at Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, Texas. He has two years of eligibility remaining, and does have a redshirt year available as well.

Junior College—He earned second-team All-America honors from J.C. Gridwire Magazine as a sophomore at Trinity Valley, when he was first-team all-Southwest JUCO Conference and a member of the PrepStar Top 300 JUCO list. He played offensive tackle both years, posting 58 pancake blocks as a sophomore, when he did not allow a sack and was called for just two penalties. He only allowed one sack and had around 40 pancakes as a freshman. Trinity Valley was 9-3 his sophomore year, No. 12 in the final rankings, and was 8-3 his freshman year under coach Scott Conley.

High School—He started all 11 games as a high school senior at offensive tackle, allowing just two sacks. He played some defensive tackle in practice. He came out late in his prep career for football, as he was on the junior varsity team as a junior. North Shore was 5-6 his senior season under coach David Aymond. He is a product of the same high school that produced current Buffs Andre Gurode and Cedric Cormier (he was one year behind them, so they never played together).

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is interested in going into coaching so he may look at education.

Personal—Born April 21, 1980 in St. Croix, in the Virgin Islands. He originally signed with Southwestern Louisiana out of high school, but opted for junior college instead. His hobbies include listening to and writing music, working out and PlayStation. (First name pronounced raul, as in paul.)

BARRY KUNKEL, WR

6-2, 190, Fr., RS

Broomfield, Colo. (Horizon)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed fifth on the depth chart at the "X" receiver position. He caught one pass for eight yards in the two major spring scrimmages. 1999: Redshirted; he did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at wide receiver after joining the team as a walk-on prior to the start of August drills.

High School—He lettered three times as a quarterback at Horizon, setting school records for the most rushing yards and touchdowns by a quarterback as a senior, when he earned first-team all-conference honors. He was a second-team all-metro performer as well, earning offensive player-of-the-year honors. As a senior, he rushed 160 times for 1.204 yards and 16 touchdowns, while completing 74-of-112 passes for 800 yards, with 10 touchdowns and four interceptions. As a junior, he completed 50-of-85 passes for 700 yards (two touchdowns, seven interceptions), and rushed 75 times for 555 yards and eight touchdowns. He returned punts and kickoffs as a freshman and sophomore, returning three kicks for scores. Horizon was 5-5 his senior year, 1-9 his junior season and 3-7 his sophomore year under coach Glenn Gielas. He also lettered three times in baseball (pitcher) and twice in basketball (guard/forward).

Academics—He is interested in architecture as his major at Colorado, and is currently enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He was a three-time academic all-conference selection in high school, earning his way on the academic all-state team as a senior.

WAYNE LUCIER, OL

Salem, N.H. (St. John's Prep/Northwestern)

College—This Season: Transferred to Colorado from Northwestern after the spring semester. He will be ineligible to compete this fall, but can practice with the team. 1999: He started all 11 games for Northwestern at right offensive guard. 1998: He played in seven games as a true freshman at Northwestern, starting the season at tight end and catching one pass for four yards against UNLV. He then switched to offensive guard and saw action in six more games. He was a member of Gary Barnett's last recruiting class at Northwestern.

High School—He was the SuperPrep player-of-the-Year in New England, and he earned all-state honors from both the Boston Globe and the Boston Herald. He lettered four times at St. John's prep playing on both the offensive and defensive lines for coach Jim O'Leary. As a senior, he was in on 20 pancake blocks, scored one touchdown out of the fullback position, and had five quarterback sacks, six passes broken up and two fumble recoveries on defense. St. John's Prep was 11-0 his senior year, ranked No. 1 in the state and No. 23 in the final USA Today Super 25. He also lettered twice in basketball and once in track.

Academics—He will select a major this fall; he was undecided on one at Northwestern. He was an Academic All-Big 10 selection as a sophomore, and was an honor roll student in high school.

Personal—Born Dec. 5, 1979. (Last name is pronounced loo-sear.)

6- 1, 170, Fr., HS

Bakersfield, Calif. (Bakersfield)

College—This Season: Projected as a defensive back, most likely a corner, in his true freshman year of college.

High School—He earned PrepStar all-West and SuperPrep all-Far West region honors as a senior, when he also made the Rival.com Top 100 list for the state of California. SuperPrep ranked him No. 81 among all players from California, Hawaii and Nevada, in noting his "good cover skills and quick feet." He also earned all-state honors from Cal-Hi Sports, which ranked him as the No. 4 cornerback in California, and was a Hometown All-Star. He was also a first-team all-

Southeast Yosemite League and all-area pick as both a junior and senior. As a senior, he had 35 tackles, four for losses, with 13 pass deflections, a forced fumble and an interception he returned for a touchdown playing corner. He also saw action at running back, rushing for 580 yards and eight touchdowns on 92 attempts (6.3 per rush), and caught nine passes for 250 yards (27.8 per) and two more scores. As a junior, he was in on 51 tackles, with 21 passes broken up and three interceptions, while rushing for 850 yards and 15 TDs on 106 attempts (over 8.0 per carry). He scored seven touchdowns on kick returns in his prep career (four kickoff, three punt), including five as a junior. Top games included a 34-13 win over Footbill his senior year, when he scored three touchdowns (one each receiving, interception and kickoff return). He also held No. 1 ranked De La Salle's star receiver, Charles Savroth (Washington State bound), to zero catches in a 48-20 loss. As a junior, in a 28-0 win over Golden West, he had 13 carries for 186 yards and two touchdowns in the first game he ever played. Bakersfield was 5-6 his senior year and 13-3 his junior season under coach Tim Harnett. He has also lettered in track (sprints), and was third in the Valley 100 as a junior.

Academics—He is interested in history but is really undecided on his major at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, as he owned a 3.2 grade point average.

Personal—Born Oct. 30, 1981 in Bakersfield, Calif. His hobbies include PlayStation, lifting weights and watching movies. A cousin (Jason Howard) in a high jumper at Texas Christian, and another cousin (Brian Howard) also ran track at TCU and is a member of the Santa Monica Track Club, one of the west coast's premier teams. He was the recipient of Bakersfield's Jockey Club Award as a prep. Full name is Joseph Allen Mackey, Jr., but he's always gone by Allen.

6-4, 250, Fr., RS Boulder, Colo. (N.M. Military Institute)

College-This Season: Projected as a reserve defensive end this fall. He will rejoin the team on the first day of classes (Aug. 28). He was hampered a bit during spring drills with a deep shin bruise and did not participate in the two major spring scrimmages. He had surgery in June to relieve compartmental pressure in his lower right leg, and was expected to complete his rehab by the end of August. 1999: Redshirted; he practiced most of the season on the defensive line, but was hospitalized for a month with an unidentified stomach illness, from which he lost 40 pounds. He initially joined the team on the first day of classes as a walk-on.

High School-He attended New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N.M., a private high school. He lettered three times in football and basketball (forward/center) and twice in baseball (outfield, designated hitter). As a senior, he earned all-city honors on defense, as he had close to 100 tackles at defensive end, with forced 10 fumbles, six recoveries, 11 quarterback sacks, four passes broken up and an interception. On offense, as a wide receiver, he caught 38 passes for 500 yards and seven touchdowns. He was an all-district selection his senior year in basketball.

Academics-He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal—Born Sept. 4, 1979 in Boulder. Hobbies include golf, fishing and anything to do sports. Father (Bud) was a two-time all-Big Eight performer at middle guard and linebacker for CU in 1971-72 (and was an All-American linebacker his senior year). A grandfather (John Holloway) was a one-time mayor of Boulder in the 1950s.

DAN MAJOR, OL

6-6, 275, Fr., HS

Redmond, Wash. (Redmond)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at split-side tackle. He got plenty of work in the spring at the position, which he needed after taking a year off from the sport. 1999: He reported for fall camp as a member of the '99 recruiting class, but then decided to take time off and left the team. He lost a redshirt year in the process.

High School-As a senior, he earned consensus first-team allstate, all-King County League honors, all-area and all-East Side honors. SuperPrep named him to its All-Northwest team (No. 9 overall. and the second offensive lineman in the Washington/Oregon region), and the Tacoma News-Tribune selected him as a Northwest Nugget. He was co-most valuable player of the King Co League his senior year, and also garnered first-team all-league honors as a junior. He was a three-year starter at offensive tackle (right side), with 82 pancake blocks as a senior, when he did not allow a sack or pressure and was called for just one penalty. He had one rush for 24 yards on a 'guard-around" play. As a junior, he had 55 pancakes and did not allow a sack, though he missed the last three games with a broken left arm. On defense, he had 30 tackles as a senior (playing end), with five passes broken up and two sacks. As a junior, he played tackle and was in on 30 stops, with five fumble recoveries and two sacks. Top games his senior year came in wins over Eastlake (14 pancake blocks) and Roosevelt (13 pancakes and four hurries and a sack on defense). His high school coach was Rik Haines, the son of Dick Haines, who coached late CU quarterback Sal Aunese at Vista in San Diego. Redmond was 10-1 his senior year, the King Co League champs and a state quarterfinalist, and was 7-2 his junior year and 5-4 his sophomore campaign.

Academics—He is majoring in philosophy at Colorado.

Personal—Born April 18, 1981 in Seattle, Wash. Hobbies include skiing and golf (a career best 78). An older brother (Joe) was an offensive guard at California earlier this decade.

MARK MARISCAL, P/PK

6-2, 190, Soph., VR

Tallahassee, Fla. (Lincoln)

College—This Season: He enters the fall

listed second at both punter and placekicker, and will continue to get a look in August, especially at punter. He averaged 44.3 yards on three punts in the two major spring scrimmages, and posted good numbers in daily drills. 1999: He saw action in two games, as he made an extra point and kicked off once against San Jose State, and made good on two extra points kicks and kicked off twice in the Insight.com Bowl win over Boston College. 1998: He saw action in three games, but he was sub-par after trying to return to action following a severe back strain. He kicked off 20 times on the year, 16 being returned, three for touchbacks and one that was fair caught. The average starting yard line for the opponent after his kicks was the 27.

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors (and was a preseason Dream Team selection), as he was the No. 1 ranked kicker in the Southeast Region, with the National Recruiting Advisor selecting him on its All-America team as well. He also was a Border Wars all-South first-team selection, and earned first-team allstate (6A level) and all-Big Bend (area) honors. As a junior, he was third-team all-state and first-team all-Big Bend. As a senior, he made 7-of-10 field goals, including a 58-yarder against Leon, and all 33 extra point attempts. He had a 44.6 average on 30 punts, including 23 kicks inside-the-20 and 15 of 50 yards or longer, with 70 percent of his kickoffs reaching the endzone (he averaged 63.2 yards in the air for 54 kickoffs). In practice, he once made six of seven field goal attempts from 60 yards, with a long practice field goal of 65 yards, and he once booted a 92-yard punt in a scrimmage that traveled 70 yards in the air. As a junior, he was 6-of-8 on field goals, with a long of 49, and converted all 46 PAT kicks for a school record 64 points (and averaged 42.5 yards per punt). He had 19 career field goals (in 26 attempts), was 88-of-88 in career PAT kicks, scored 145 career points and averaged 42.9 yards per punt for his career (which were four of his nine school records). Lincoln was 7-4 his senior year, 10-1 his junior season and 5-5 his sophomore season under coach David Wilson (losing in the first round of the playoffs his junior and senior years). Also lettered four times in soccer, as he was one of the region's best goalkeepers. He set a state record for career shutouts with 59, as was a first-team all-state selection three times. Lincoln was a four-time city, district and regional champ and a one-time state champ (1996) with him in goal.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a one-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team. Owned a 4.56 grade point average (weighted to 3.98 on a 4.00 scale), scored an impressive 1240 on the SAT, graduated Summa Cum Laude and earned Kodak Academic All-America honors. A Florida Academic Scholar, he earned honors in AP calculus, literature and government.

Personal—Born Sept. 10, 1979 in Tallahassee, Fla. Hobbies include soccer, basketball and skateboarding. His father (Dick) played soccer and freshman football at Stanford, and his mother (Elaine) lettered in field hockey and tennis at Judson College. (Last name is pronounced mare-riss-cal.)

MATT McCHESNEY, DE

6- 5, 275, Fr., HS

Longmont, Colo. (Niwot)

College—This Season: Projected as a defensive end in his true freshman year in college.

High School-He earned PrepStar, SuperPrep and USA Today (honorable mention) All-America honors as a senior, and also made Prep Football Report's Top 250 list (the No. 117 player overall in the nation). Rivals.com ranked him No. 20 on its Top 100 DE list in the preseason, while SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 32 defensive end in the nation (and the No. 22 player overall in the Midlands). He earned 4A first-team all-state honors from the Rocky Mountain News (the Denver Post selected him honorable mention), but the Post placed him on its top Blue Chip list for the state. He earned first-team all-area honors his sophomore through senior years, while the Boulder Daily Camera selected him first-team all-Boulder County as a junior (defense) and senior (offense, though the Camera selected him second-team on defense). He was a three-time all-conference selection, in the Metro North League his final two years and in the Front Range League as a sophomore. As a senior, he posted some monster numbers: he was in on 107 tackles, including 25 for losses and 11½ quarterback sacks, along with 11 forced fumbles, five fumble recoveries and nine passes broken up. On offense, playing left tackle, he had 25 pancake blocks with about 75 percent of Niwot's rushing yards coming on his side of the line. As a junior, he made 89 tackles, with 17 for losses and nine sacks, forced 14 fumbles, recovered eight, and had four PBU's. He also returned an interception and a blocked punt for touchdowns and had about 20 pancake blocks on offense (tackle). He had 60 tackles, 14 sacks and two caused fumbles as a sophomore, and 55 tackles, nine sacks and five forced fumbles as a freshman. That's 33 forced fumbles in his prep career, which saw him start all four years on defense. As a frosh, he sacked Longmont's Joe Chrisman (now at Nebraska) three-and-a-half times and knocked him out of the game. Top games included a 25-24 win over No. 1 Dakota Ridge his junior year when Niwot was No. 2; he had 12 tackles, blocked a punt for a touchdown, and had a PBU on the last play of the game to help preserve the win. He had a school record 22 tackles in a 48-14 win over Hinkley, also as a junior, and had three sacks and a 78-yard interception return for a score in the game as well. In a 27-24 loss to Centaurus as a senior, he had 11 tackles, three forced fumbles and a recovery. Niwot was 3-7 his senior year, 7-3 his sophomore and junior seasons, and 5-5 his freshman year under coach Tiny Koehler. He ended his prep career with six tackles and a quarterback sack in the All-State game in June 2000.

Academics—He is interested in broadcasting or psychology as possible majors at Colorado.

Personal—Born Nov. 6, 1981 in Santa Cruz, Calif. His hobbies include snowboarding, and he's worked six years on a family ranch. He was the first commit of the 2000 class, doing so on March 7 of the previous year, fulfilling a childhood dream of wanting to play at CU since he was in grade school.

BRADY McDONNELL, DE

6-4, 265, Sr., 3L Quinn, S.D. (Wall)

College—This Season: Projected once again as the starter at defensive end. The Sporting News selected him as a preseason second-team all-Big 12 performer. He is the second among active team members with 20 career tackles behind the line of scrimmage. 1999: He played in all 12 games, starting 11 including the Insight.com Bowl at defensive end. He had 28 tackles (15 solo) in 405 snaps from scrimmage, which included four tackles for loss and two third stops. He also had five pass deflections, a fumble recovery, nine quarterback hurries and an interception, returning the latter 24 yards to the 1-inch line against Missouri. He added two tackles and a knockdown block on special teams duty. He had six tackles against Kansas State and five versus Nebraska, his top tackle efforts of the season, and had two tackles for loss in the Kansas game. He had two tackles and a pass broken up in the bowl win over Boston College. 1998: He played in all 12 games and started 11, including the Aloha Bowl, at defensive end, earning honorable mention all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches. He was also the team's defensive player-of-the-week against Colorado State, when he had five tackles, one for a loss, and two hurries. He had a seasonhigh seven tackles against both Utah State and Baylor. On special teams, he had eight knockdown blocks on return units, and one kickoff return at Kansas in which he fumbled (he was an up-man trying to field a pop-up kick). 1997: He played in all 11 games on special teams, and in 10 on defense including one start (Oklahoma State). He played 267 snaps from scrimmage and racked up 37 tackles (20 solo), with eight tackles for loss, including one sack. He also had four third down stops and one forced fumble. He had seven tackles (five solo, two for losses) against Kansas, five tackles and a forced fumble versus Texas A & M, and four tackles (two for losses, one sack) at Oklahoma State. He was the winner of the Most Improved Defensive Player Award, as selected by the coaching staff after the season. On special teams, he had nine knockdown blocks, the third most on the squad, and returned one kickoff 18 yards, fielding it as the "up-man" on the return unit. 1996: Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced first at tight end, but made a move to defense permanent, where he practiced as both an end and a tackle.

High School—As a senior, he garnered USA Today (honorable mention) All-America honors, and was a preseason choice by SuperPrep. He also earned first-team all-state, South Dakota High School Elite, all-Western Conference and both South Dakota's and Gatorade's Player-of-the-Year honors. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 6 "Jumbo" Athlete in the preseason, with the National Recruiting Advisor selecting him to its All-Midwest team. As a senior, he had 30 receptions for 750 yards and 15 touchdowns, while on defense, he led the team in tackles with 105 along with nine quarterback sacks. He was also his team's punter, averaging 42 yards per kick (he owned a 55-yard average in the state championship game as a junior). As a junior, when he was first-team all-state and all-conference, he had 25 catches for 420 yards and six touchdowns, and was third on the team in tackles with 97. He had 95 tackles and 21 sacks as a sophomore, when he was all-conference. Wall, which fielded a 9-man team, was 10-1 his senior year, 12-0 his junior year (state champs) and 7-3 his sophomore year under coach Kent Anderson. He also lettered four times in basketball (scoring over 1,200 career points, averaging 22 points per game over his career), and participated in track in sprints, relays and throws (qualifying for the state meet in six different events as a junior).

Academics—He is majoring in sociology and is also taking plenty of business courses. He is a former two-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team. Owned a 3.4 GPA in high school, and was president of the Wall Student Council and a member of the National Honor Society. He was also Wall's junior class president and served four years on the student council.

the depth chart at the "Z" receiver position, and is coming off a fine spring. He won the Fred Casotti Award, as presented by the coaching staff to the outstanding offensive back during spring drills. He had nine catches for 119 yards in the two main spring scrimmages. 1999: He showed why the offensive coaches wanted him back after "loaning" him to the secondary his freshman year. He finished fifth on the team in receptions with 20, but third in receiving yards (312) and average per catch (15.6). He caught two or more passes in seven games and at least one in nine games, as he played in all 12 including the Insight.com Bowl (five starts in all). He scored his first touchdown early in the third quarter on a 37-yard pass from Mike Moschetti at Texas Tech, and had his other TD catch from 14 yards out versus Nebraska, when he had three grabs for 68 yards. He caught for balls for 45 yards against Oklahoma in another top game. He had eight third or fourth down receptions, converting five into first downs, and all told, 14 of his 20 passes earned first downs. He also had two tackles and a knockdown block on special teams. He had a great spring, as the coaching staff named him as the Most Improved Offensive Player, He caught 10 passes for 103 yards in spring scrimmage action. 1998: He played in all 12 games on special teams and in seven on defense, including the Aloha Bowl, and a couple early on offense. He was projected as a wide receiver, and practiced there during fall camp and the first month of the season. But as injuries mounted in the secondary, he switched sides of the ball and became a free safety. He was ready to play there the fifth game of the year at Oklahoma, but wound up trotting in for the first time defensively a week later versus Kansas State. He would wind up seeing action at both safety positions over the course of the season and was in on 18 tackles (11 solo and one for a loss), with three pass deflections and three third down stops. He had eight tackles, including one for a loss, two third stops and a pass broken up, against Texas Tech. He tied for second in special team points with 19 on the strength of 11 tackles and seven knockdown blocks, and was named by the coaches as one of the recipients of the Brian Cabral Award for special teams achievement.

High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, as he was listed as the No. 5 wide receiver in the West. USA Today selected him as an honorable mention All-American, while SuperPrep placed him on its all-Far West team (the No. 61 player overall and the No. 8 receiver) and the National Recruiting Advisor selected him on its All-West team. He was a first-team all-state selection (Cal-Hi Sports), first-team all-Orange County (Los Angeles Times and Orange County Register), first-team all-CIF Southern Section and was the most valuable player of the Sea View League. He was also the CIF District 5 defensive player-of-the-year for his play at free safety. He was first-team all-CIF as a defensive back his junior year, when he was first-team all-league and second-team all-Orange County at wide receiver. As a senior, he caught 70 passes for 1,469 yards (21.0 average) and 19 touchdowns, and ran three reverses for 43 yards and another score. He had 42 receptions for 1,040 yards (24.8 per catch) and 14 TDs as a junior, and four catches for 37 yards as a sophomore. He had career numbers of 116 receptions, 2,546 yards, 22.2 average per catch and 33 touchdowns, and set or tied a total of 15 records. He owns five of the top six receiving games in Santa Margarita history. Top games included a 55-42 win over Tustin in the CIF championship tilt his senior year, when he had five catches for 125 yards and a score; and a win over Fountain Valley the same year, when he hauled down eight passes for 242 yards and two scores. He had five receptions for 160 yards and three TDs in a 38-0 win over Newport Harbor in the CIF title game as a junior. On defense (free safety), he had 107 tackles and five interceptions as a senior and 117 tackles as a junior, and was the holder on all placement kicks. Santa Margarita was the CIF district champions both his senior (14-0) and junior (13-1), and was 8-4 his sophomore season, all under coach Jim Hartigan. As a freshman, he was the MVP of the Sea View League champion team. He also lettered in basketball (small forward, guard).

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. He owned a 3.27 grade point average in high school, and was an honor roll student.

Personal—Born Oct. 19, 1979 in San Jose, Calif. Hobbies include the mountains, snowboarding and skiing. (Last name is pronounced Minn-R-dee.)

VINCE MITCHELL, DT

6-0, 250, Fr., RS Aurora, Colo. (Mullen)

tions. He switched to the position prior to spring practice, moving over from fullback. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire fall at fullback, and was the Scout Team Offense award winner for the Kansas State game.

High School—As a senior, he garnered all-Colorado team honors (Denver Post), first-team all-state (Post, Rocky Mountain News) and all-Centennial League honors at offensive guard. The News ranked him No. 7 on the Colorado Blue Chip Top 10 List. Prep Football Report selected him to its All-Midland team (No. 33 overall, the third defensive lineman, though he never played defense on the varsity), and SuperPrep also selected him as an All-Midlands pick (No. 55 overall, the ninth offensive lineman). As a junior, he was a second-team allconference pick. He allowed only one quarterback sack his senior year, and was called for just two penalties (and one of those was on special teams). He even carried the ball one time (for 1 yard). He was a three-year starter at left offensive guard, and as a sophomore, he was the primary fullback (and carried four times for eight yards, but for three touchdowns). He played defense (tackle) only on the junior varsity in ninth grade. Mullen was 13-1 his senior year, claiming the 5A state title, and was 9-2 his junior year and 10-3 his sophomore season (and won the Centennial League title his junior and senior years) under coach Mick McCall. He also lettered four times in track, and owns a career-best of 55-5 in the shot put.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal— Born March 24, 1981 in Staten Island, N.Y. Hobbies include collecting sports cards and weightlifting. He selected Colorado very early in the recruiting process, committing to the Buffs in early August ('98) and never really considered going anywhere else.

DEREK MOORE, PK

5-9, 175, Jr., 1L

Lakeland, Fla. (George Jenkins)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third on the depth chart at placekicker. 1999:

He dressed for nine games but did not see any action. 1998: He got into three games, and made his only PAT kick of the year against lowa State. 1997: Redshirted; he practiced at placekicker the entire fall after walking on prior to August drills. High School-He earned four letters in football, garnering allarea honors at placekicker as a junior and senior. He was 53-of-53 in his career on PAT kicks and 14-of-19 in field goals, with a long of 51 yards. He averaged just over 38 yards on 144 career punts, with a long of 63. He also played quarterback and wide receiver during his prep career, as he completed 54-of-114 passes for 864 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior (with just six interceptions), and caught 18 passes for 302 yards and three scores as a junior. He rushed for 793 yards on 74 tries as a senior, averaging almost 11 yards per rush from the QB spot. Jenkins was 1-9 his senior year, 2-8 his junior season and 7-4 his sophomore year under coach Kevin McMahon. He also lettered four times in soccer (forward), scoring 99 career goals with 52 assists and was the central Florida player-of-the-year as a senior. He was a two-time all-state selection and a three all-area pick. He lettered three times in baseball (centerfield), batting .323 as a senior.

Personal—Born Nov. 15, 1978 in Arlington, Texas. Hobbies include playing soccer, golf and surfing (he once had to fight off a shark while surfing in Florida) and golf. He has worked summer soccer camps with five-to-seven year olds in Florida. An alter server in his Catholic Church for three years, he also was a big brother to disadvantaged children during the same time.

Westmont, Ill. (Downers Grove South)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at tailback, and he might also get a look at wide receiver. He had plenty of reps in the spring, and had 28 rushes for 41 yards in the two major spring scrimmages. 1999: Redshirted; did not see any action, though at times he came close to being "activated" due to the injury situation. He was twice selected by the coaches as the Scout Team Offense award winner, for the San Jose

High School-As a senior, he was named first-team all-state by the Illinois High School Coaches Association, the Chicago Sun-Times and the Champaign News-Gazette (the Chicago Tribune selected him second-team). He was named to the prestigious Chicagoland Top 25 list by the Sun-Times, and was the Suburban Life selection for the area most valuable player. Prep Football Report selected him to its all-Midwest team, ranking him as the No. 57 player overall (and the No. 13 running back). He also garnered all-area and all-West Suburban Gold Conference honors, earning league MVP honors in the process, and was a first-team all-area and all-conference performer as a junior. As a senior, he rushed 204 times for 1,852 yards and 21 touchdowns, averaging 8.5 yards per carry. He also caught 12 passes for 154 yards and two scores, and returned one punt and one kickoff for touchdowns as well (thus scoring 25 times as a senior). He rushed for over 200 yards four times as a senior, and on all four occasions, played only one or two series in the second half. He rushed for 1,310 yards and eight touchdowns as a junior. He did not play on defense, as his high school had a large enough enrollment to guarantee two platoons, but he always felt he could have been a top notch defensive back. Top games as a senior came in wins over Morton (270 yards, four touchdowns) and Hinsdale South (255 yards, three touchdowns). Downers Grove South was 9-2 both his junior and senior seasons, winning the West Suburban Gold Conference both years and reach the second round of the state playoffs each time under coach John Belskis. He lettered twice in basketball, and averaged 12 points and eight rebounds per game as a senior. Also lettered in track, as he had prep bests of 10.5 in the 100, 21.4 in the 200 and 24-0 in the long jump. He earned all-state honors in track as a member of the 4x100-relay team.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the highest grade point average of all the tailbacks.

MEDFORD MOORER, FS

6-2, 195, Fr., RS

Los Angeles, Calif. (Locke)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at free safety, as he enjoyed an excellent spring. The coaches selected him as the winner of the Most Improved Defensive Player Award for spring practice in citing his play. He tied for the team-lead with 16 tackles in the two major spring scrimmages, and added two forced fumbles and a recovery. 1999: Redshirted: practiced the entire year at both free and strong safety. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the Kansas State game, as selected the coaches.

High School-As a senior, he was named the defensive most valuable player in the Southeast Division Conference, earning first-team all-league and all-city honors at free safety from the Los Angeles Times. Prep Football Report selected him on its all-West team, ranking him No. 71 overall and as the seventh best defensive back. As a junior, he was a second-team all-conference performer. As a senior at free safety, he was in on 106 tackles (89 solo), forced an incredible 18 fumbles, made seven interceptions and had 15 passes broken up. On offense (wide receiver), he caught 18 passes for 475 yards and nine touchdowns. He also was his team's punter as a senior, averaging almost 55 yards per punt on 18 kicks (with a long of 75). His junior year, he had 80 tackles (59 solo), with four interceptions, eight passes broken up and five forced fumbles, while catching 27 passes for 375 yards and seven TDs on the other side of the ball. He was called up to the varsity for the playoffs as a sophomore, and he responded with an interception and two forced fumbles. In two years of junior varsity action, he played safety and outside linebacker and racked up 125 tackles, 10 pass deflections, nine forced fumbles and seven interceptions. He played tight end on the junior varsity, with two-year totals of 57 catches for 700 yards and 19 touchdowns. His top games as a senior came in wins against Roosevelt, when he scored two touchdowns, forced two fumbles and had an interception, and against Bell, when he forced three fumbles. Locke was 7-4 his senior year, losing in the first round of the CIF playoffs, and was 3-7 his junior year under coach D.C. Robinson. He also lettered in basketball, averaging 13 points per game as a senior, and in track, reaching the city finals in the 110-hurdles as a junior.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the best grade point average of all the free safeties. An honor roll student in high school.

Personal—Born Nov. 28, 1980 in Los Angeles. Hobbies include watching football and basketball games, listening to music and golf. He has worked with kids in day care several summers and is interested in becoming a special education teacher after college. He was the first player to commit to CU from Locke since Darian Hagan and Vincent Smith in 1988; Hagan of course led CU to three Big Eight titles and a national championship. A pregame ritual is to listen to James Brown before every game he competes in.

third at fullback. 1999: He saw action in all 12 games, including the Insight.com Bowl, on special teams, but did not get into a game on defense or offense. He tied for fifth on the team in special team points with seven, on the strength of six knockdown blocks and one tackle. He entered the fall listed second at "hawk" linebacker, but switched to offense (tailback) midway through the season. He had nine tackles in spring scrimmages, seven coming in the spring game. 1998: He saw action in the final nine games of the season, including the Aloha Bowl (no starts), mostly on special teams and in two on defense. He had two tackles and a pass deflection in 14 plays at strong side linebacker, and he racked up nine special teams points, on the strength of eight knockdown blocks and one assisted tackle. 1997: Redshirted; practiced the entire season at outside linebacker.

High School—As a senior, he earned honorable mention USA Today All-America honors, along with SuperPrep all-Far West Region honors (PFR had selected him as a preseason all-America). SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 72 prospect in California in the pre-season and No. 88 in the postseason. He was the player-of-the-year in his CIF Division (8), and the Pacific Coast League most valuable player. The Laguna Niguel Daily Pilot selected him as the MVP in the area, and he also garnered all-county honors from the Orange County Register. He was a first-team all-Pacific Coast League selection his sophomore, junior and senior seasons (when he was also selected his team's offensive MVP), and he was a team captain as a sophomore and a senior. As a senior, he rushed 214 times for 1,568 yards and 32 touchdowns (with a long rush of 75 yards) while hauling in 10 passes for 166 yards and another three TDs. On defense, he had 28 tackles, two interceptions and a handful of forced fumbles and fumble recoveries, including one touchdown each on interception and fumble returns. As a junior, he rushed 100 times for 402 yards and six touchdowns, while completing 105 of 195 passes for 1,510 yards and 13 TDs (all with only six interceptions). As a sophomore, he rushed 79 times for 269 yards and three scores, and completed 82 of 168 passes for 1,157 yards and 10 TDs (with seven interceptions). He produced 64 touchdowns in his prep career, and also did some spot kicking (he had nine punts as a senior and one career PAT kick). Top games his senior year included a 40-6 win over Troy in the second round of the CIF playoffs, when he scored five touchdowns, and a 33-21 win over Pacifica, when he rushed for 244 yards and three scores. Aliso Niguel was 14-0 his senior year, winning the state championships in Division 8, 8-3-1 his junior year (reaching the second round of the playoffs) and 4-6 his sophomore year (the first year the

BOBBY PESAVENTO, QB

6-5, 230, Jr., JC, Schererville, Ind. (Lake Central/Miami, Ohio/Fort Scott CC)

College-This Season: Enters the fall tied for the top spot at quarterback. He transferred to CU from Fort Scott Community College for the spring semester, and participated in spring drills. He was 36-of-61 for 442 yards and two touchdowns in the two major spring scrimmages, overcoming a partial ligament tear in the thumb of his throwing hand suffered late in spring drills. The coaches selected him as the winner of the Most Improved Offensive Player Award for spring ball, and Lindy's Big 12 Football made him its choice for the conference's offensive newcomer-of-the-year.

Junior College—He was a second-team all-Jayhawk Conference performer as a sophomore, in arguably the top junior college football league in the nation, and made the SuperPrep JUCO 100 (No. 47 overall, the fourth quarterback) and the Super JUCO 75 by PrepStar (one of four quarterbacks on the list). He completed 146-of-269 passes for 2,444 yards, a 54.3 percent completion rate, with 22 touchdowns and 12 interceptions. In starting all 10 games for Fort Scott, which posted a 5-5 record under coach Kevin Gundy, he also rushed for 337 yards on 77 attempts (includes sacks). His 278.1 yards of total offense per game third in the JUCO ranks, and he was sixth nationally in passing with 244.4 per outing. He passed for over 300 yards on three occasions, including a season-best performance against Highland CC, when he completed 27-of-45 passes for 415 yards and four touchdowns in Fort Scott's 48-20 win.

Other College-He transferred to Fort Scott from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, after a coaching change and other factors played into his decision to try his fate elsewhere. He was at Miami for two years, redshirting there as a true freshman in 1997. In 1998 as a redshirt frosh, he played in five games for the 10-1 Red Hawks (no starts), completing eight-of-16 passes for 67 yards with an interception. He completed four-of-six passes for 32 yards against Kent in his best performance for MU. In line to start for Miami, he pulled a back muscle in the week leading up to the season opener. missed the first three games, and was then relegated to second-team status for the rest of the year.

High School-He was a second-team all-state performer as a senior in high school, when he also earned first-team all-region honors (Lake Central was an independent) in throwing for over 1,300 yards and 14 touchdowns (he also rushed for over 200 yards and six TDs). He was an honorable mention all-region pick as a junior, when he passed for 1,000 yards. His high school coach was Elmer Britton, and Lake Central was 5-5 his senior year and 7-3 his junior season. He also lettered three times in basketball, averaging 15 points and eight rebounds per game as a senior. A two-time all-region performer in hoops, he played in two all-star games, one of which being the prestigious Indiana-Illinois game.

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado, and is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the best grade point average of all the quarterbacks. He graduated with his A.A. degree from Fort Scott in December 1999 (actually wrapping up his work with a six-day course in January). He owned a 3.2 grade point average in high school and was an honor roll member for four

Personal—Born July 12, 1979 in Valparaiso, Ind. Hobbies include golf (he's passionate about it, and has a career best of 84) and watching televised sporting events. He is the second Italian junior college quarterback to sign with Colorado in the last three years, along with Mike Moschetti (Mt. SAC, 1998). (Last name pronounced pess-uh-vent-oh.)

JACOB POBRE, PK

5-11, 180, Soph., HS, Kamuela, Hawai'i (Hawaii Prep Academy)

College-This Season: Projected as a reserve placekicker, and will rejoin the team on the first day of classes (Aug. 28). He joined the team as a walk-on for spring practice

High School-He earned 11 letters at Hawaii Preparatory Academy, four in football, three in soccer and two each in track and baseball. He played quarterback, kicker and linebacker for coach Gordon Bryson, and was first-team all-league at kicker as a junior and senior (second-team at quarterback/punter). His career long field goal was 43 yards his senior year, and he also booted a 40yarder as a junior. He completed 45-of-100 passes for 450 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior, and was 35-of-75 for 350 yards and eight scores as a junior. He was honorable mention all-league at wide receiver as sophomore, catching eight balls for 125 yards and three touchdowns. He started every game for three years in soccer (fullback), was a participant in the state championships in the 4x100 relay in track, and played infield and pitcher on the baseball team.

Academics—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado. He was an honor roll student his sophomore through senior years.

Personal—Born Nov. 20, 1980 in Boulder. Hobbies include playing the ukulele and the guitar, and he has worked summers as a ranch hand (raising pigs). In high school, he earned all-state honors in choir.

BOBBY PURIFY, TB

6-1, 195, Fr., HS

Colorado Springs, Colo. (Palmer)

College-This Season: Projected as a tailback in his true freshman year in college.

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America honors, with Rivals.com naming him to its Top 100 running backs list (No. 75 nationally) in the preseason, while SuperPrep ranked him as its No. 13 skill athlete. He was a first-team all-Colorado and all-state selection by the Denver Post, while the Rocky Mountain News named him second-team all-state; both newspapers placed him on their state blue chip lists. He earned first-team all-conference honors as a junior and senior (second-team as a sophomore), and he was also honorable mention all-state as a junior (Post). As a senior, he rushed 269 times for 2,102 yards and 24 touchdowns, averaging 7.8 yards per carry and finishing second in the state overall. He also caught eight passes for 115 yards, and had seven games where he rushed for over 200 yards (and five for over 250 yards). He played sporadically on defense as a senior, seeing action at cornerback usually in goal-line situations. He may have led the nation in blocked kicks-he had seven (five extra points and two field goals). As a junior, he led the state's 5A schools in rushing with 1,865 yards on 295 carries, scoring 23 touchdowns in averaging 6.3 per attempt despite playing tailback in just eight games. He had 14 touchdown runs of 50 yards or longer, and had two interceptions playing free safety and some corner on defense. He rushed 90 times for 700 yards and 11 touchdowns as a sophomore. He had a two 300-yard plus games in his career: the first in a rout of Lakewood his junior year, when he had 17 carries for 360 yards and five TDs-and he only played in the first half. In a 48-42 win over Coronado as a senior, he had 38 carries for 396 yards and five touchdowns; he also had 275 yards and four touchdowns versus Doherty that same year. Palmer was 5-5 his senior year, 3-7 his junior season and 2-8 his sophomore year under coach Rod Baker. He rushed for 71 yards on 16 carries in the All-State game (June 2000) to end his prep career. He lettered three times in basketball (guard), averaging 10 points, seven assists and eight rebounds per game as a senior. He led his team to the 5A state championship and a 24-0 record, as he was named the MVP of the tournament by the Rocky Mountain News. He also lettered in track (high jump and relays). He finished sixth in the state in the high jump as a junior, clearing 6-5.

Academics-He is interested in elementary education or communication as his major at Colorado.

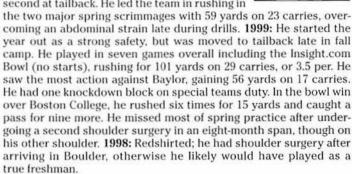

Personal-Born Dec. 19, 1981 in Long Beach, Calif. Has a most famous uncle, Webster Slaughter, who was a wide receiver at San Diego State who went on stardom in the NFL with the Cleveland Browns and Houston Oilers. And remember the pop-soul group James & Bobby Purify from the 1960's? They were cousins-James is his uncle and Bobby his grandfather. They teamed on such songs as "I'm Your Puppet," "Let Love Come Between Us," and a popular remake of "Shake A Tail Feather." He was the second member of the 2000 class to commit, doing so officially on April 7, 1999.

VINCE REED, TB

6-0, 200, Soph., VR

Yorba Linda, Calif. (Servite)

College-This Season: Enters the fall listed second at tailback. He led the team in rushing in High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar all-America honors, as he was ranked as the No. 8 "athlete" in the West Region. SuperPrep tabbed him an all-Far West selection in both its pre- and postseason publications, ranking him as the No. 75 player in the region following the year (the No. 13 running back and the No. 15 defensive back). Prep Football Report selected him to its preseason all-America team (the publication didn't tab a postseason team). He was a three-time all-Golden West League first-team selection (sophomore through senior years). As a senior, he rushed 143 times for 960 yards and 16 touchdowns, and had over 300 yards and another two scores on pass receptions despite enduring nagging shoulder and ankle injuries throughout the year. He had 149 carries for 940 yards and 10 scores as a junior, when he caught 20 passes for 210 yards and six touchdowns (he missed four games that season with a shoulder injury). He had 160 rushes for just over 1,000 yards and 19 touchdowns as a sophomore, when he caught 45 passes for 973 yards, just missing out on a 1,000/1,000 season rushing and receiving. He played defense as a freshman, making 45 tackles at safety; he played spot defense the rest of his career. He averaged over 40 yards per kickoff return his junior year. A four-year starter on the varsity, his top games included a 149-yard, three touchdown rushing effort against Tustin his senior year, as well as a mammoth game against Tustin his sophomore season (five receptions for 110 yards and two touchdowns, 15 rushes for 170 yards and two more scores, with a 60-yard touchdown both ways). Servite was 6-6 his senior year, 12-2 his junior and sophomore seasons, and 11-3 his freshman year under coach Larry Toner (losing in the CIF finals his frosh and soph campaigns). He also lettered in track, participating in sprints, relays and the long jump (he has career bests of 10.6 in the 100-meter dash, 22.0 in the 200 and 20-3 in the long jump.

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

Personal—Born March 7, 1979 in Glendale, Calif. Hobbies include video games, basketball and spending time with his brother, along with owning an impressive sport card collection. Father (Mark Reed) ran track at Tennessee State in the 1960s, and a brother (Troy) played at San Diego State in the late 1980s (and helped him select CU).

ERNEST RENFROE, TE

6-7, 250, Jr.

Memphis, Tenn. (Hillcrest)

College—This Season: He is projected as a tight end in this, his first season of college (and any organized) football. He will join the team for any organized) football. He will join the team for August drills, as he was added to the football roster last May after expressing an interest to the coaching staff that he'd like to give the sport a try. He was looking at a trial at defensive end as well, but with the shortage of tight ends on the roster, he'll line up there initially. He is a scholarship forward on the Colorado basketball team, and has two years to play two in football eligibility, though will be a senior this winter on the hoops squad. He is considered a walk-on on the football roster until he plays in a game, then his scholarship automatically counts against football's maximum of 85.

Basketball—He has lettered three times for coach Ricardo Patton in a CU men's basketball uniform. Known primarily as a defensive stopper for the Buffs, he has averaged 2.4 points and 1.7 rebounds in 85 career games, including nine starts as a sophomore. He saw action in 15 games last winter (no starts) in averaging 1.3 points and 1.2 rebounds per game, while shooting 15-of-43 (37%) from the field and 6-of-16 (38%) from the line. He scored 113 points in 33 games as a junior, connecting on 43-of-89 field goals (48.3 percent). His career high in points is 10 (versus Regis as a junior) along with six rebounds (on three occasions).

High School—He did not play football in high school, as he lettered three times in basketball and once in track. He averaged 13 points, nine rebounds and six assists per game for coach John Anderson as a senior, when he was an Adidas Blue Ribbon honorable mention All-America selection, in addition to earning first-team all-Memphis metro honors. He helped Hillcrest to league titles his sophomore and junior years, as well as the district title as a soph. In track, he was a state qualifier in the 440-yard dash.

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado. In high school, he graduated in the top 10 percent of his class and was a member of the National Honor Society.

Personal—Born Aug. 6, 1979 in Memphis, Tenn. His hobbies include drawing and playing video games. He has been active with D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education), serving as a role model.

DEVVIN RICHARDSON, DB

5-11, 195, Fr., HS

Chandler, Ariz. (Chandler)

College—This Season: Projected as a defensive back in his true freshman year in college.

High School-He earned PrepStar All-America honors, as the publication ranked him as the No. 8 defensive back in the west. SuperPrep tabbed him for its all-Far West team, ranking him as the No. 16 player out of Arizona (and the No. 3 defensive back). He earned first-team all-state honors at kick returner and first-team all-East Valley honors at running back and defensive back, and was a three-time all-region performer at running back. As a senior, he played a host of positions, including running back, linebacker, cornerback, strong safety and kick returner. He rushed for 1,227 yards and 11 touchdowns, caught four passes for 103 yards and two more scores, and averaged 38.7 yards on eight kickoff returns, including of touchdowns. On defense, he was in on 105 tackles, with 16 for losses including three quarterback sacks, along with forcing three fumbles, two recoveries, three pass deflections and an interception. Top games included a 50-9 win over Mesquite, when he rushed eight times for 230 yards and five touchdowns (playing only the first half), and a 35-27 loss to Sabino, when he had 25 tackles and a quarterback sack. As a junior, he rushed for 927 yards and 17 touchdowns, while getting in on 85 tackles (13 for losses, one sack), with three caused fumbles, two recoveries and two passes broken up, and he rushed for 863 yards and seven touchdowns as a sophomore. Chandler was 4-6 his senior and 2-8 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Richard Grey. He also lettered in track, and was a state finalist in the 100-meter dash as a sophomore and junior, earning all-region honors as a junior. His father was his track coach, and also his offensive coordinator for football.

Academics—He is interested in computer engineering and accounting for possible majors at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, as he owned a 3.4 grade point average.

Personal—Born July 4, 1982 in St. Louis, Mo. A fairly accomplished singer, he sang the black national anthem at the Black Cultural Assembly his junior year. Father (Eric) played football at Arizona State (safety), and an uncle, John Trahan, was a receiver at Southern Colorado when current CU running back coach John Wristen quarterbacked there in the 1980s.

ROBBIE ROBINSON, FS

5-11, 195, Soph., 1L, Oceanside, Calif. (Vista/California/Palomar)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed first at strong safety. An ankle sprain limited his participation in final 10 days of spring practice. 1999: He played in all 12 games, both on defense and special teams, and made four starts. He had 33 tackles (26 solo) in 415 plays from scrimmage, with four hurries, three pass deflections, two third down stops, a fumble recovery and an interception. He also caught a pass on a fake punt against Kansas State and gained 26 yards. He had a career-high 10 tackles against Missouri and had nine against San Jose State, when he also made his interception. In the bowl win over Boston College, he had seven tackles and two third down stops. He saw action at both strong and free safety during the course of the season, and was second on the team in special teams points with 11, on the strength of three tackles, four knockdown blocks, a forced fumble and recovery, a downed punt and a recovered on-side kick.

Midwell an Midwell an Midwell an Midwell

Junior College-1998: He was a preseason JUCO all-America by JC Gridwire, earned all-conference honors and was ranked as the No. 56 junior college prospect nationally by SuperPrep. At Palomar College, he had around 100 tackles (63 solo), with five quarterback sacks, seven hurries, five pass deflections, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and an interception playing weakside linebacker. He saw some spot action on offense, rushing six times for 48 yards and one touchdown. One of his top JUCO games was in a win against Orange Coast College, when he had 15 tackles and a sack. Palomar was 11-1 under coach Tom Kraft, winning the California junior college championship, along with the Mission Conference title. 1997: He signed with California out of high school, but never really felt comfortably in Berkeley. He was there for the 1997-98 academic year, but did not practice with the team as he had surgery to repair a partially torn MCL in his knee (which he injured in the California-Texas Shrine All-Star Game).

High School-As a high school senior, he was named the San Diego Defensive Player-of-the-Year by the North County Times, and earned first-team all-CIF, all-North County, all-San Diego and all-Palomar League honors. He was also the player-of-the-year for his CIF division. SuperPrep selected him to its All-Farwest team (No. 67 overall, the 10th defensive back). He was second-team all-league and all-county his junior year. As a senior, he had 125 tackles, five quarterback sacks and three interceptions playing both inside and outside linebacker, and rushed 63 times for 549 yards and 11 touchdowns as a fullback. As a junior, he was in on 75 tackles, with five sacks and four interceptions (returning three for scores) as a rover/safety. One of his top prep games was against Fallbrook his senior year, when he scored four touchdowns, made 16 tackles and had an interception. Vista was 10-3 his senior year, winning the Palomar League, county and CIF regional championship, and was 7-5 his junior season, both under coach Steve Silberman. He also lettered once each in basketball (18.6 scoring average as a senior) and Academics—He is majoring in political science at Colorado. He owned a 3.4 grade point average in high school and earned Academic All-County honors. He was a first-team Academic All-American as a JUCO.

Personal—Born Dec. 7, 1978 in Oceanside, Calif. Hobbies include playing reading, working out and fishing. He hails from the same high school that produced the late CU quarterback, Sal Aunese.

VICTOR ROGERS, OT

Federal Way, Wash. (Decatur)

College—This Season: Enters the fall as CU's tight-side offensive tackle. He was selected as a preseason honorable mention All-America by Phil Steele's College Football, which also selected him first-team all-Big 12. 1999: For the second straight year, injuries forced him to miss substantial playing time, but he again overcame his troubles. Rallying from seven surgeries in just over a 15 month span, he started all six games he played in, the first four of the year at weak-side tackle and the Nebraska and Insight.com Bowl games on the strong-side. He was injured in his home state, suffering a dislocated patella against Washington. His perseverance to return from the injury earned him the Tyronee "Tiger" Bussey Award, presented by CU's sports medicine staff. He saw action in 328 snaps from scrimmage, posting 14 finishing points and 12 touchdown blocks, along with four down field blocks in grading out to 87.2 percent. He did not allow a quarterback sack, gave up just one pressure, and was called for a single penalty. He added 21 plays on CU's field goal/PAT unit on special teams. 1998: He played the first seven games of the season, including five starts, until knee and ankle surgery on Oct. 20 sidelined him for the remainder of the year. He suffered a ligament tear in his lower leg against Texas Tech, so while under the knife to repair that injury, he also had his knee scoped to clean up a chronic injury. He was in for 338 snaps from scrimmage, grading out to 96.7 percent on his assignments and 69.8 percent for his technique, for an overall 83.3 grade. He had 18 finishing points for the year, with six touchdown blocks and two downfield blocks. He allowed 2½ sacks and two pressures, and was not called for a penalty. He suffered a small setback during spring practice, when he was suffered a dislocated shoulder in the first week of drills. He had surgery to repair the injury, but was expected to be 100 percent by August drills. 1997: Redshirted; he practiced the entire season at offensive tackle.

High School-As a senior, he was a unanimous all-American, as he earned first-team honors from Parade, Prep Football Report, PrepStar, Schutt Sports, Student Sports, SuperPrep, USA Today and Who's Who. Prep Football Report classified him as the No. 1 offensive lineman in the nation (the No. 38 prospect overall). He was named to the prestigious Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-in-the-West team (9 out of 10 possible votes), and to the Tacoma News-Tribune's and National Recruiting Advisor's Top 100 lists. He was the No. 30 player overall and the No. 4 offensive lineman on the NRA listing. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 4 offensive lineman nationally, and the No. 1 player overall on its Northwest 27. PrepStar ranked him as the No. 6 O-lineman in the nation, and the No. 1 lineman in the Pac-10 Region, in placing him on its Dream Team. He was a first-team all-state performer on both sides of the ball, as the Seattle Times selected him at defensive tackle and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer selected him at offensive tackle. The Rocky Mountain News placed him on its National Blue Chip 10 List, and he was a first-team all-South Puget Sound League selection as a junior and senior. As a senior, he blocked at 93 percent on the offensive line, with 21 pancake blocks, 45 downfield blocks and 11 touchdown blocks, while allowing just one quarterback sack and being whistled for just two penalties. On defense (he started every game at tackle), he was in on 80 tackles (38 solo), with 17 for losses and four quarterback sacks, 23 hurries, three forced fumbles and one recovery. As a junior, he blocked at 91 percent, with 31 pancake blocks, 44 downfield blocks and 12 touchdown blocks, while allowing just three sacks and being called for two penalties. As a sophomore, he saw spot action on the varsity but started every game at offensive tackle his junior and senior seasons. Top games in his career included a loss to Enumcian as a senior, when he had 13 tackles, five for losses, two sacks and four pancake blocks, and in a 22-20 win over Kentwood as a junior, when he had eight pancake, eight downfield and three touchdown blocks. Decatur was 2-7 his senior year, 5-4 his junior season and 1-8 his sophomore year under coach Kent Rodseth. He also lettered in basketball (12 points and 10 rebounds his senior season as the starting Academics—He is communication major at Colorado, and is a former member of CU's "Academic Starters" team. He owned a 2.8 GPA in high school.

for spring drills, trying his hand at both tailback and fullback. He had 14 rushes for 11 yards in the two major spring scrimmages. 1999: He missed the entire year due to academic reasons, and did not practice with the team in the spring or fall. 1998: He saw action in all 12 games, including the Aloha Bowl, and made seven starts, as he was primarily a blocking back in CU's offensive scheme. He rushed five times for 19 yards and caught four passes for 27 yards, including a 5-yard touchdown pass at Oklahoma. He had two rushes for 13 yards against Utah State and caught his passes in four different games. He led the team in rushing with 139 yards on 33 carries (and a touchdown) in spring scrimmage action. 1997:

High School-As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report all-Midlands and PrepStar all-Big 12 Region honors and was a SuperPrep all-Midlands pick as well (they ranked him as the No. 29 player overall in the region). He was also a member of the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 team and earned first-team all-Colorado honors from the Denver Post (honorable mention from the Rocky Mountain News). He was all-state (5A) by both the News and Post, and was a member of the News' Colorado Blue Chip 10 list and the Post's Blue Chip List for the state. He was a finalist for the coveted Denver Post Gold Helmet Award (he finished as the runner-up), but was the recipient of the Post's/Denver Athletic Club student-athlete of the year award for 1996-97. He was first-team all-Centennial League as a senior, as a junior he was second-team all-league, and as a sophomore he earned honorable mention all-league honors. As a senior he rushed 79 times for 605 yards (7.7 per carry) and nine touchdowns, including a long run of 65 yards for a score. He also caught 12 passes for 132 yards and two TDs, and scored a pair of two-point conversions. As a junior, he had 61 carries for 491 yards (8.0 per attempt), with five touchdowns, while catching 11 passes for 121 yards and a touchdown. As a sophomore, he had 51 attempts for 483 yards (9.5 per) and six touchdowns, along with nine receptions for 103 yards and three TDs. As a freshman at Eaglecrest High School (in Aurora), he had 154 carries for 1,248 yards and 13 touchdowns with a long run of 76 yards, and he had 12 catches for 111 yards and four more scores. He played fullback at Creek while he was a tailback at Eaglecrest, where he also played some middle linebacker his frosh season (38 tackles, 26 solo, with 13 hurries, 10 passes broken up, four forced fumbles and four recoveries). Top games included a 20-0 win over Wheat Ridge his senior season, when he rushed 12 times for 91 yards and two touchdowns, and caught two passes for 12 yards. In a 46-20 win over Gateway (as a freshman at Eaglecrest), he had 27 carries for 176 yards and three touchdowns. In a 29-20 win over Overland as a senior, he had 12 carries for 97 yards and caught eight passes for 95 yards. Cherry Creek was 14-0 his senior year and 12-2 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Mike Woolford, winning the state's 5A championship all three seasons. He also lettered four times in basketball and twice in baseball (first base, outfield). In 1994-95, he was a member of three championship teams at Creek: football, basketball and baseball.

Academics—He is majoring in chemical engineering at Colorado. He owned a 3.8 grade point average in high school (weighted to 4.3 including advanced courses), and scored a 1,320 on the SAT and a 28 on the ACT. He was a member of the National Honor Society, a National Merit Scholar, a DECA state finalist in both 1995 and 1996 (and a regional finalist in 1996 and 1997). He was also a finalist for the academic award from the National Football Foundation. He aspires to go on to medical school after college, and already has designs on Johns Hopkins.

Personal—Born March 28, 1980 in Englewood, Colo. Hobbies include participating in Big Brothers (he has sponsored six children), playing the saxophone, music and collecting baseball cards and memorabilia (he owns a Babe Ruth card, and Michael Jordan and Eric Dickerson rookie cards). He caught a home run off the bat of Dante Bichette at Mile High Stadium in 1993, the Colorado Rockies' inaugural season. Father (Mark Spivey) was a reserve outside linebacker with the Dallas Cowboys in the 1970s. Grandfather (R.W. Mapp) was a United States Olympic alternate in the high jump for the 1956 games.

DEREK STEMRICH, OL

Hesperia, Calif. (Sultana)

College—This Season: Projected as an offensive lineman in his true freshman season in college.

High School-As a senior, he earned first-team all-CIF (Division VIII) honors at defensive tackle, the same position he was afforded all-san Bernardino County, all-area (Victor Valley Daily Press) and all-Mojave River League honors. He was also the Mojave River League's Defensive Player-of-the-Year as a senior. As a senior, he was in on about 60 tackles, including 15 for losses and five quarterback sacks playing defensive end (he was often assigned to either rush or play the gaps). He added eight hurries, two forced fumbles, two recoveries and a pass broken up. On offense (guard), he allowed just three sacks and had about a dozen pancake blocks in grading out to 90 percent or better in eight of 11 games. Top games his final prep season included a win over rival Hesperia, when he had 10 tackles and two sacks, and a victory over Burroughs, when he had three pancake blocks in grading out to a perfect 100 percent on pass plays and 85 percent in run-blocking. As a junior, he did not allow a sack on offense and played end on defense. He started the final 21 games of his high school career, as he was a special teams performer as a sophomore. Sultana was 9-2 his senior year, claiming the Mojave River League championship, and was 3-7 his junior year and 1-8-1 his sophomore season under coach Pete Delagardelle. He lettered twice in track & field, participating in the discus (140-0 career best), shot put (46-0) and weight throw (51-7). He also placed ninth in the weight throw in the National NIKE Indoor Championships as a senior.

Academics—He is interested in computer engineering as his major at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, and posted a perfect 4.00 in the fall semester of his senior year.

Personal—Born Dec. 12, 1981 in Arcadia, Calif. His hobbies include mountain biking and lifting weights.

DONALD STRICKLAND, CB

5-10, 180, Soph., 1L, San Francisco, Calif. (Archbishop Riordan)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed first at left cornerback, but will have a battle for the starting honors come September. He missed the latter portion of spring practice as he had surgery to repair cartilage in a shoulder, and thus missed the two major scrimmages. 1999: He saw action in eight games including the Insight.com Bowl, and started one (San Jose State). He missed the last four games of the regular season due to a severely sprained shoulder. Used primarily in nickel and dime packages, he showed signs of being CU's next brilliant defensive back. He was in for 125 plays from scrimmage, and made 11 tackles (six solo), with three third down stops, two pass deflections and a forced fumble. He had four tackles in the San Jose game, and two in the bowl win over Boston College. He also had six special teams points, on the strength of five tackles (three solo) and a knockdown block. He had 13 tackles, one sack and a forced fumble in spring scrimmage action. 1998: Redshirted; practiced at cornerback and tailback over the course of the fall. He was the Scout Team Offense player-of-the-week on two occasions, for the Oklahoma and Iowa State games. Following the season, he was one of three winners of the Offensive Scout Award presented by the coaching.

High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, as he was rated as the No. 6 defensive back in the West.

Some wife and wife and wife and wife and SuperPrep selected him to its All-Far West team, as he was ranked the No. 41 prospect in the west, but the No. 5 defensive back; his stock rose dramatically, as he was ranked No. 146 by SuperPrep on the California/Hawai'i prospect list its preseason issue. The National Recruiting Advisor selected him on its All-West team, and was a member of the prestigious Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 list. He was also a first-team all-Bay Area and all-league selection, and was the offensive back-of-the-year for the West Catholic Athletic League. He did not have any honors as a junior, as due to injuries, he played in just four games. As a senior, he rushed 93 times for 1,095 yards (11.8 per carry), with seven touchdowns and a 75-yard run for score; he also caught three passes for 108 yards and two more touchdowns and averaged 40.5 yards on two kickoff return. On defense, playing both cornerback and safety, he was in on 92 tackles (70 solo), with eight tackles for loss, five pass deflections, four forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. As a junior, he had 33 tackles, five passes broken up, three tackles for losses and two forced fumbles in just four games. He played sparingly as a sophomore. Top games his senior year included a win over Serra, when he rushed nine times for 211 yards and two scores, and a 26-25 loss to Sacred Heart, when he had 11 carries for 208 yards and two TDs. Riordan was 5-5 his senior year, 4-6 his junior season and 2-8 his sophomore campaign under coach Ken Peralta. He also earned four letters in track, participating in the long jump (22-9 career best, which was good for 15th in the state meet as a junior), relays, and for the first time this spring, the 100meter run. He long jumped 19-2½ and was an all-city performer in middle school.

Academics—He is majoring in mechanical engineering and psychology at Colorado. He owned a 3.2 grade point average and was on the honor roll throughout high school (he was a member of Who's Who Among America High School Students).

Personal—Born Nov. 24, 1980 in Redwood City, Calif. His hobbies include working out and playing video games. An uncle (Raymond Bell) played football at UCLA from 1975-77, and a cousin (Herb Ward) played for Southern Cal and the Dallas Cowboys. He was a high school teammate of Buffalo redshirt frosh Terrance Wood.

College—This Season: Projected as a defensive back in his true freshman year in college.

Academics—He is interested in international affairs as his major at Colorado. An honor roll student as a high school senior.

Personal—Born March 23, 1982 in Stockton, Calif. Hobbies include lifting weights and playing basketball.

JASHON SYKES, ILB

6-3, 230, Jr., 2L

Los Angeles, Calif. (Serra)

College—This Season: CU's starting "hawk" inside linebacker, and a candidate for the Butkus Award. He has received a host of preseason honors, most notably first-team All-America mention from Blue Ribbon College Football Yearbook, Football News and Lindy's Big 12 Football. He was a second-team choice by Athlon, collegefootballnews.com and The Sporting News, while being a near unanimous first-team all-Big 12 choice. The Sporting News ranked him as the No. 3 inside linebacker, while Lindy's had him pegged the No. 2 outside 'backer in the country, despite him lining up on the inside. Lindy's also ranked him as the No. 2 choice for both the Butkus and the Nagurski awards. He missed the last half of spring practice, opting to undergo surgery to mend some chronic shoulder problems, and was back to 100 percent by the first part of July. He is 59th all-time in tackles at Colorado with 186, and his 22 tackles for loss has him poised to crack the top 25 on that list. 1999: He blossomed into one of the nation's top linebackers at CU's new defensive position, "hawk" linebacker, one of two inside positions in the CU scheme. He no doubt set the table for a run at the Butkus Award in 2000, capped by his earning defensive MVP honors in the Insight.com Bowl, when he had nine tackled and returned an interception for a touchdown against Boston College. He earned second-team All-America honors from both BCS Online and the Football News, with the Associated Press selecting him first-team all-Big 12 (though the coaches placed him on their second team). He was selected by his teammates as the Zack Jordan Award winner as CU's most valuable player, and he also won the Dave Jones Award for the most outstanding defensive player as presented by the coaching staff. He led the team and was second in the Big 12 in tackles with 134 (including 82 solo), as he started all 11 games and played the second most snaps on defense (677). It was the first time a sophomore led CU in tackles since 1990, and only the fifth sophomore to lead the Buffs since tackles started being tracked in 1965. He also had a team-high 15 tackles for loss, including three sacks, and tied for the team-high with 13 third down stops. He forced seven fumbles, which not only set a school record, but led the nation as well. He recovered three fumbles, returning one 26 yards, and had four passes broken up and four pressures. He had 10 or more tackles in nine games, with highs of 20 against Missouri (10 solo), 18 at lowa State (11 solo), 17 at Washington (11 solo) and 14 versus Nebraska (nine solo). He was the Big 12's defensive player-of-the-week for his effort at Iowa State; aside from the 18 tackles, he also had three third down stops and two tackles for loss in playing all 70 snaps. In the preseason, The Sporting News ranked him as the No. 9 linebacker in the nation, in addition to selecting him preseason first-team all-Big 12. Lindy's Football followed suit, tabbing him as the 16th best linebacker nationally. He had team highs of nine tackles in the spring games and three quarterback sacks in spring scrimmages. 1998: He developed rapidly his true freshman year, as he played in all 12 games and started four of the last five, including the Aloha Bowl. He finished seventh on the team in tackles with 52 (31 solo), but he had 28 in the last four regular season games including a career-high 14 at Nebraska. He had 10 solo stops in that game including three tackles for loss, two quarterback sacks and three third down stops. He had seven tackles for loss on the season, including two-and-a-half sacks, with six third stops, a pass broken up and an interception. The 52 tackles were the most by any freshman since 1991, when Ted Johnson had 53 as a redshirt frosh; the 52 were the most ever by a true freshman since tackles started being recorded in 1965. Against Oregon in the bowl game, he had seven tackles (four solo), with a quarterback sack, a forced fumble and pass broken up. He also had four tackles on special teams and a knockdown block. He was a cowinner of the Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaching staff to the most outstanding freshmen, and the Sporting News selected him as a first-team freshman All-American.

High School-As a senior, he earned a host of All-America honors, as he was honored by the National Recruiting Advisor, PrepStar and SuperPrep, USA Today named him to its honorable mention All-America team, while Prep Football Report named him on its preseason team. He received the maximum 10 votes in being names to the prestigious Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-In-West team, and he was also a member of the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 8 linebacker in the nation, and the No. 4 player overall in the Far West Region. The NRA/ESPN Sportszone ranked him No. 54 on its Top 100 list, while The Sporting News ranked him No. 88 on its list of 100 national prime prospects. He also earned first-team all-CIF Division 3 honors, as he was the division's defensive player-of-the-year. He garnered first-team allarea accolades and first-team all Mission League honors; he was voted the league's most valuable player. As a junior, he was firstteam all-league and second-team all-area, and as a sophomore, he was second-team all-league. As a senior, he was in on 137 tackles (62 solo), with 36 tackles for losses (including 12 quarterback sacks). He also had five interceptions (two returned for scores), seven fumble recoveries (one for a TD), four forced fumbles, and 10 quarterback hurries. On offense (tight end), he caught 37 passes for 417 yards and 10 touchdowns. As a junior, he had 122 tackles (50 solo), with nine for losses (six sacks), four interceptions (two returned for TDs), seven forced fumbles and three recoveries. He caught 39 passes for 319 yards and eight touchdowns. As a sophomore, he had 50 tackles (22 solo), with five quarterback sacks, while catching 14 passes for 260 yards and six touchdowns on offense. As an outside linebacker, he owned the most unique career stat of returning four of nine interceptions for touchdowns. Top games his senior year included a 6-0 win over Riverside Poly, when he had 15 tackles and three sacks, and a tackle for loss at fourth-and-goal from the one in the game's final minute to help save the game for Serra. He also returned a fumble 65 yards for a score in the fourth quarter to rally his team to a win over St. Francis. Serra was 8-3 his senior year, 5-6 his junior year and 8-3 his sophomore season under coach Charles Nash. He also lettered three times in track (sprints), with career bests of 10.8 in the 100meter run and 21.9 in the 200, and once in basketball (forward).

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

Personal—Born Sept. 25, 1979 in Los Angeles, Calif. His hobbies include watching television, especially old college football games, listening to music and playing basketball. He is interested one day in becoming a screenwriter. An older brother, Kelron, played defensive end at Oregon State. Since his junior year in high school, he's played with a small bible on the left side of his football pants. It was given to him from his grandmother on her deathbed before he watched her take her last breath, and he thinks about her and that situation before every game. (First name is pronounced jay-shon.)

マティー QUINN SYPNIEWSKI, TE

6-7, 255, Fr., HS

Granger, Iowa (Johnston)

College—This Season: Projected as a tight end in his true freshman year in college. He could easily work his way on to the depth chart considering the attrition at the position since the spring.

High School-Considered by many to be one of the top two recruits in the state of Iowa, he earned All-America honors from Prep Football Report, PrepStar, Rivals.com, SuperPrep and USA Today (honorable mention). He was the Gatorade Player-of-the-Year in Iowa, and earned first-team all-Central Iowa Metropolitan League honors. SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 1 jumbo athlete in the preseason, and ranked him as the No. 3 tight end nationally following the season (the No. 46 player overall on its National 50 and the No. 7 player overall in the Midlands). PrepStar ranked him as the No. 3 tight end overall as well, while PFR had him the No. 25 overall player on its ESPN-Reebok Top 100 list. As a junior, he earned honorable mention all-league honors. His senior year he caught 22 passes for 453 yards and a touchdown, and carried the ball on occasion (six times for 30 yards). On defense, as rush defensive end, he was in on 35 tackles, with nine tackles for loss including six quarterback sacks, along with 18 pressures, two forced fumbles and a blocked punt. Top games came against Valley, when he caught a 74-yard touchdown pass, the longest in league play, and against Ankeny, when he caught five passes for 95 yards. As a junior, he had 13 catches for 130 yards and a score on offense, while posting six sacks on defense. He had eight catches for 86 yards a touchdown as a sophomore (he did not play defense). Johnston was 3-6 his senior year, 2-7 his junior season and 8-3 his sophomore year under coach Spence Evans. He also lettered four times in basketball (center), averaging 10 points and eight rebounds per game as a senior, earning honorable mention all-conference honors. He matched that with four letters in track: he was ranked No. 1 in the state in the discus as a junior (career best throw of 173-9), and also ran the 200-meter dash (23.6 PR) and the 400meter dash (54.0).

Academics—He is interested in journalism, particularly public relations, as his major at Colorado, and is interested in working as a student assistant in the athletic media relations office. He was an honor roll student in high school, owning better than a 3.1 grade point average, which included several advanced courses.

Personal—Born April 14, 1982 in Des Moines, Iowa. His hobbies include most outdoor activities, especially hiking, fishing and skiing, and working on his truck. He was a member of the show choir for four years in high school, participating in several shows. Father (George) lettered four years as an outside linebacker at Drake in the early 1970s. (Last name pronounced sip-new-ski.)

SAM TAULEALEA, DT

6-0, 320, Soph., 1L Aiea, Hawai'i (St. Louis)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at one of the two defensive tackle spots.

He had a solid spring, and posted five tackles, one for a loss, and a hurry in the two main spring scrimmages. 1999: He played in 11 games including the Insight.com Bowl (no starts), getting in for 120 snaps from scrimmage. He had 12 tackles (four solo), with one tackle for loss, a third down stop, a forced fumble and a pass broken up. He had three tackles against Texas Tech, Baylor and Boston College in the bowl game for his season highs. He didn't participate in spring drills as he tended to academics, but returned in good standing for August drills. 1998: Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at defensive tackle. He was a two-time winner of the Scout Team Defense player-of-the-week, for the Utah State and Oklahoma games. Following the season, the coaching staff named him one of three winners of the Defensive Scout Award.

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, as he was rated as the No. 15 defensive tackle in the West. He was a second-team all-state selection by the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, and was a first-team all-Interscholastic League of Honolulu (IHL) pick. He was first-team all-ILH as a junior, when he was second-team all-state, and he was second-team all-ILH and honorable mention allstate as a sophomore. As a senior, he was in on 47 tackles (30 solo), which included 16 tackles for loss and two quarterback sacks. He also had 19 quarterback hurries and four forced fumbles. He was in on 40 tackles as a junior (15 solo), with seven behind the line of scrimmage and five sacks; he also had 12 hurried throws and forced five fumbles. He had 20 tackles, including three sacks, as a sophomore, when he worked his way into the starting lineup the second half of the season. Top games included a 64-6 rout of Iolani his senior year, when he had eight tackles, including three for losses, and limiting the state's top rusher to just 37 yards (when he needed just under 100 to set a new state single-season record). St. Louis was 13-1 his senior year, 13-0 his junior year and 13-1 his sophomore year under legendary coach Cal Lee, winning the state championship all three seasons. He also lettered twice in wrestling (heavyweight), finishing second in the state as a junior with a 28-2 record (he was 21-7 as a sophomore, claiming fifth in the state). He also participated in track (throws).

Academics—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is currently enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

Personal—Born Sept. 27, 1980 in Wahiwa, Hawai'i. His hobbies include body surfing, reading and going to the movies. His full name is Samuelu Taule'ale'a usu mai o le Tagaloa. (Last name is pronounced "taugh", as in pow, lay-ah-lay-ah.)

JESSE WALLACE, TE

6-4, 220, Fr., HS, Kansas City, Mo. (Blue Valley Northwest)

College—This Season: Projected as a tight end in his true freshman year in college.

High School-Played primarily in two-tight end sets, sharing time, but came on late according to his high school coach. He earned first-team all-Eastern Kansas League honors as a senior, when he was also a team captain. He caught 13 passes for 200 yards and four touchdowns, and played sporadically on defense as an end (posting 11 tackles, two for losses, with five quarterback hurries, a forced fumble, one recovery and a pass broken up). He caught five passes for around 80 yards as a junior (no TDs), and had 20 tackles and a quarterback sack on defense. His top games as a senior included wins over Bishop Miege (four catches for 75 yards and a touchdown), Shawnee Mission West (five grabs for 50 yards) and Olathe East (when he caught his first career touchdown pass). Blue Valley Northwest was 10-3 his senior year and 9-3 his junior season under coach Steve Harms, winning the district title both years and the league title his senior season (losing in the Kansas state semifinals). He also lettered two times in basketball, as he averaged nine points and six rebounds per game as a senior, and lettered twice in track, participating in the 100-meter dash and javelin throw as a freshman and sophomore.

Academics—He is interested in business administration, marketing or physical therapy as potential majors at Colorado. He owned a 3.0 grade point in high school and was an honor roll member all three years.

Personal—Born Aug. 20, 1982 in Oakland, Calif. His hobbies include PlayStation, reading and rap music. Two uncles who played in college have gone on to high positions in NFL administration: Lamonte Winston, a wide receiver at San Francisco State, is the director of pro personnel with the Kansas City Chiefs, and Kevin Winston, a wide receiver at Indiana University who is now the director of player programs with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He participated for two years in Shoulder Pads & Paragraphs, a Kansas City area program in which high school football players read with area second graders.

JAMES WEINGARDT, DE

6-2, 230, Soph., VR Broomfield, Colo. (Thornton)

College—This season: Enters the fall listed fourth at the rush defensive end position. 1999:

He did not see any action, but dressed for seven games, including the Insight.com Bowl. 1998: Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at outside linebacker after joining the team as a walk-on for August drills. He was the Scout Team Special Teams player-of-the-week for the lowa State game.

High School—He lettered three times at defensive end at Thornton, earning all-conference honors as a junior and senior. He was had 20 tackles for loss (including 10 quarterback sacks) and around 80 tackles as a senior. Thornton was 4-6 his senior year, 3-7 his junior season and 8-4 his sophomore year under coach Matt Craddock. He also lettered four times in track (pole vault), three times in wrestling and once in basketball (center). He earned all-conference honors in wrestling as a sophomore in the 189-lb, class. As a senior, he was selected as Thornton's "Athlete-of-the-Year."

Academics—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. He is a former member of CU's "Academic Starters" team.

Personal—Born Sept. 16, 1979 in Denver, Colo. Hobbies include skiing, riding and playing the drums.

SAM WILDER, DL

6-5, 260, Fr., HS

Dallas, Texas (First Baptist Academy)

College-This Season: Projected as a defensive tackle in his true freshman year in college.

High School-As a senior, he earned first-team all-state honors at defensive tackle and earned mention on the Top 100 list by the Dallas Morning News. He was all-district as a sophomore and as a senior, as the Tapps 4A district selected him as the defensive playerof-the-year as a senior (he was second-team all-state as a sophomore). He missed his entire junior year in three sports after tearing his ACL in the final football scrimmage of the summer, but rebounded very well from it in time to play summer baseball prior to his senior year. As a senior, he was in on 120 tackles (40 solo), with 15 tackles for loss including six quarterback sacks. He also had five passes broken up, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries, one of which he returned for a touchdown, and a blocked punt (which his team returned for a score). On offense, he allowed just two sacks playing strong side tackle. He was in on 90 tackles as a sophomore, and played right tackle on offense. One of his top games came during his sophomore year, when FBHS played perennial state champs Dallas Christian to the end in a 6-0 loss: he had 13 tackles, two fumble recoveries and a sack against Jordan Black, one of the area's top players. First Baptist was 4-6 his senior year and 7-4 his sophomore year under coach Troy Miller. He also lettered as a freshman and sophomore in basketball, and was quite an accomplished baseball player (first baseman): he hit .550 with six home runs as a sophomore. He was a member of Team USA, an all-star team comprised of Texas high school players, and they played in a goodwill baseball tournament in Vera Cruz, Mexico, in the summer of 1999.

Academics-He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but has an interest in business.

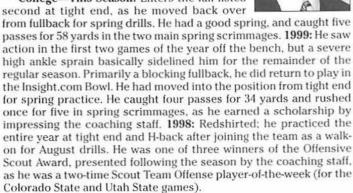

Personal—He selected Colorado over Colorado State, Kansas and Louisiana Tech. A great uncle (Ted Wilder) played college football at lowa. Hobbies include skiing and golf (career best of 80). Has 5.1 speed in the 40 and bench presses 310 pounds. Born Jan. 10, 1982 in Dallas, Texas; he was a "halftime" baby, as he was born during halftime of the '81 NFC Championship game between Dallas and San Francisco (San Fran won, 28-27, on the famous Joe Montana to Dwight Clark catch).

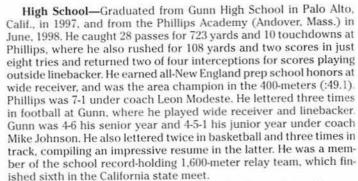

BEAU WILLIAMS, TE

Palo Alto, Calif. (Gunn/Phillips Academy)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed

Academics—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

Personal—Born June 12, 1979 in Stanford, Calif. Hobbies include weightlifting. His father (Brad) played football at Stanford. He has aspirations of being an actor, screenwriter and director.

TERRENCE WOOD, CB

5-10, 175, Jr., 2L

Pacifica, Calif. (Archbishop Riordan)

College-This Season: He enters the fall penciled in as CU's starting right cornerback.

He has finally recovered from a nagging hamstring pull and tear, an injury that lingered from last fall throughout spring ball. 1999: He played in 10 games on special teams and in six games on defense, including a start in the Oklahoma game when the Buffs played their dime package throughout. He missed the Nebraska season finale and the Insight.com Bowl due to a severely sprained hamstring he suffered in a Nov. 16 practice. For the year, he was in for 99 plays from scrimmage, recording nine tackles (six solo), with a third down stop and a pass deflection. He had six tackles (five solo) in the OU game. He also had three tackles on special teams duty, along with a knockdown block. 1998: He saw action in five games, including the Aloha Bowl. He played 33 snaps from scrimmage during the regular season, getting in on one tackle. He had 11 special team points on the strength of three tackles and eight knockdown blocks. He was one of three players selected the special teams players-of-the-game against Texas Tech, as he had two knockdown blocks on key returns. He had an active spring, and was in on 12 tackles (nine solo) in scrimmage action. 1997: Redshirted; practiced the entire year at cornerback.

High School-As a senior, he earned PrepStar all-Pac 10 Region honors and was named to the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 List. He was also a first-team all-Bay area selection (honorable mention as a junior), and was a first-team all-West Catholic Athletic League selection as both a junior and senior. He was an honorable mention all-state selection his final year as a prep. As a senior, he was in on 56 tackles (32 solo), with 12 pass deflections, two interceptions (one for a TD) and four fumble recoveries. He also rushed 74 times for 620 yards and five touchdowns, while completing 54 percent of his passes for 830 yards and eight scores. He hauled in eight receptions for 155 yards in one game alone, as he was called upon to play four positions: cornerback, quarterback, wide receiver and kick returner. He averaged 28 yards on three kick returns and 15 yards on four punt returns. As a junior, he was in on 45 tackles (28 solo), with 10 passes broken up, two interceptions and one fumble recovery. He rushed 40 times for 463 yards and five touchdowns on offense, including a 97-yard touchdown run, the longest run by a quarterback in Archbishop Riordan history. He completed 53 percent of his passes for 700 yards and six touchdowns, and averaged 24 yards on 12 kickoff returns with one touchdown (and returned a punt 78 yards for a score). His top career games included a 41-23 win over Sacred Heart as a junior, when he ran back the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, rushed for a score and passed for yet another, and had an interception. Against St. Mary's as a senior (a 28-21 win), he passed for two touchdowns and rushed for a third. Archbishop Riordan was 4-6 his senior year and 2-8 his junior year under coach Ken Peralta (he played junior varsity ball as a sophomore, when he was the school's MVP in football, basketball and track). He lettered three times in (sprints, relays and jumps), and he was the state champion in the 200-meter dash as a sophomore. He also lettered in basketball as a freshman and sophomore.

Academics—He is majoring in pre-journalism and sociology at Colorado. He is a former member of CU's Academic Starters team.

Personal—Born May 21, 1979, in San Francisco, Calif. Hobbies include working out, going to the movies and spending time with children. His grandfather is an NFL legend, Hall-of-Famer Willie Wood, who played free safety and has two Super Bowl rings from his days with the Green Bay Packers.

second at left cornerback, but is expected to compete for the starting job in August drills. He missed all of spring practice recovering from January surgery to mend chronic shoulder problems. 1999: He played in nine games, all on special teams and in six on defense, including the Insight.com Bowl. He missed the first three games of the season after spraining knee ligaments in practice on Aug. 31. He also started the Oklahoma game, when the Buffs played their dime package the entire way. He was in for 128 snaps for the season, racking up 10 tackles (seven solo), with two for losses, two third down stops, a forced fumble and a pass deflection. All of his tackle statistics occurred in the OU game, as he played every snap (75 in all). He also caught a pass for 21 yards and a first down from Gabe Leonard on a fake punt against Nebraska. In the spring, he returned an interception 48 yards in the spring game. 1998: He played in eight games, including the Aloha Bowl, and started the lowa State game, as he was sidelined early in the season after breaking a bone in his hand during summer workouts. He was in for 75 snaps and made seven tackles (six solo), but was in the right place often with three third down stops and two pass deflections. He also had six special team points, as he had four tackles, one inside-the-20, and a knockdown block. 1997: Redshirted; he practiced the entire

High School—As a senior, he earned PrepStar and SuperPrep all-America honors, along with honorable mention accolades from USA Today (which selected him first-team all-state). He earned secondteam all-state honors from Cal-Hi Sports, and was the recipient of the Coca-Cola Golden Helmet Award. SuperPrep ranked him the No. 16 defensive back in the nation, and ranked him as the No. 8 player overall in the Far West (the No. 2 defensive back). PrepStar placed him on its "Dream Team" and ranked him as the No. 10 athlete in the nation (and the No. 3 athlete in the Pac-10 area), while Prep Football Report selected him to its all-West team, ranking him as the No. 40 player in the region and the No. 8 defensive back. He was also a member of the Tacoma News-Tribune's Western 100 team, and he received three votes for the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-in-the-West squad. He was a first-team all-county selection as a senior and was a first-team all-division and all-Eastern League selection as both a junior and a senior (he was all league on both offense and defense as a junior). As a sophomore at cross-town Serra, he was an all-division selection. As a senior, he was in on 81 tackles with five interceptions (one for a TD), as he spent more time playing offense; he rushed 184 times for 1,365 yards and seven touchdowns, and caught 32 passes for 406 yards and two more scores. As a junior, he had 94 tackles (48 solo) and two interceptions, with 87 carries for 882 yards and eight touchdowns and 31 receptions for 345 yards and six more scores on offense. He was in on 105 tackles and had two interceptions as a sophomore at Serra, also in San Diego. Top games his senior year included a win over San Diego State High School, when he rushed for 267 yards and three touchdowns and returned an interception for 75 yards and a TD to secure the victory. He also had a 50-yard touchdown run against LaJolla in the final minute to rally his team to a win. Point Loma was 5-5-1 his senior year and 5-7 his junior season under coach Benny Edens; Serra was 3-8 his sophomore season. He also lettered four times in basketball (point guard; he was recruited by UCLA) and twice in track (sprints and relays).

Academics—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado, and is a three-time member of CU's Academic Starters team, as he has the highest grade point average of the left cornerbacks. He owned a 3.5 grade point average in high school, and was a member of his high school honor roll for four years. He won the Golden Pyramid Award for academics in high school, and was also named the winner of the scholar-leader athlete award as a senior by the Walter J. Zable/San Diego Chapter of the National Football Foundation.

Personal—Born Sept. 25, 1978 in Edina, Minn., but was raised mostly in California. His hobbies include lifting weights and playing basketball. His father, Nate Wright, Sr., was an all-pro with the Minnesota Vikings (1971-80) and played collegiately at San Diego State. In the summer of 2000, he and teammate Albus Brooks traveled to Uganda, where they spent two weeks helping build an orphanage for the impoverished as part of the youth component of "Christ Aid."

HISTORICAL NOTE

In this, the 10th anniversary of the famous "Fifth Down" game between CU and MU, a simple reminder that CU spiked the ball on what everyone thought was third down to stop the clock; it was discovered later that it was really fourth down. Had it known, CU would obviously have run a play.

1999 IN-REVIEW

COLORADO ST. 41, COLORADO 14 Game One—September 4, 1999

DENVER—Kevin McDougal rushed for 190 yards and two touchdowns as Colorado State forced six CU turnovers in defeating the No. 14 Buffaloes, 41-14. It was the first win by the Rams in the series since 1986, snapping an eight-game winning streak by CU in dealing the Buffs their first season-opening loss in 12 seasons.

Both teams went three-and-out on their first possession, but the Buffs were on the move on their second try, driving from the CU 7 to just across midfield. However, Mike Moschetti was intercepted by Rick Crowell, and his ensuing 54-yard return for a touchdown set the tone of the game and got CSU started. McDougal rambled 59 yards on the first play of a drive two series later to give Colorado State a 14-0 lead after one quarter.

The Rams added another pair of touchdowns in the second quarter, the first coming on a 67-yard strike from quarterback Matt Newton to receiver Frank Rice. McDougal scored from a yard out to make it 28-0 after Clark Haggans batted down a Moschetti "bubble" pass attempt to Stiggers. Ruled an intercepted lateral, Haggans caught his own deflection and returned it to the 1.

Any momentum swing that might have gone CU's way was ended when the Rams opened the second half with a 14-play, 80-yard drive resulting in a one-yard dive by Newton for a score and a 35-0 CSU lead. The Rams added a pair of field goals off two more CU turnovers to take a 41-0 lead before CU would get on the board with 10:58 left in the game. Moschetti connected with Roman Hollowell, who broke away from the secondary for a 43-yard touchdown. Moschetti hit Cedric Cormier for the two-point conversion and later hooked up with Javon Green on a 5-yard scoring toss to end the night's scoring.

The loss marred the debut of Colorado's Gary Barnett, who was named the 22nd head coach in CU history on Jan. 20, 1999. Unfortunately for Barnett and the Buffaloes, he became the 11th of the last dozen Buff head coaches to lose his first game. The defeat also dropped CU out of both national polls, and falling out from No. 14 in the Associated Press poll topped an 11-slot slide in 1990, when CU dropped from No. 9 to No. 20 after losing to Illinois in the third game of the season.

Looking at the final statistics, at first glance it appears CU should have won the game, as the Buffs had decided edges in first downs (23-12), time of possession (34:37-25:23) and in third down conversions (39-18 percent) and a slight edge in total yards (373-336). However, six turnovers and a spectacular kicking game led to great field position by the Rams, who averaged its own 46 as the starting point for 15 drives. CSU punter Deone Horinek placed all six of his punts inside-the-CU 20, as the Buffs started eight of 17 drives in its own red zone.

The evening was tainted as unruly CSU fans showered the Buffaloes with debris, including glass bottles, after the game, and Denver police used tear gas, mace and pepper spray to keep CSU fans off the field.

COLORADO 63, SAN JOSE STATE 35 Game Two—September 11, 1999

BOULDER—Mike Moschetti passed for a school-record 465 yards and accounted for three touchdowns, with Cortlen Johnson rushing for three more as Colorado got into the win column in 1999 by defeating San Jose State, 63-35.

Colorado took control of the game in the first 63 seconds, driving 70 yards in just four plays and taking a 7-0 lead on a Moschetti 12-yard run, exorcising the ghosts of the season-opening loss to Colorado State a week before. The Buffs would score on their first four possessions, moving to a 28-0 lead barely 11 minutes into the game. Moschetti hooked up on a 23-yard touchdown pass to Daniel Graham and Johnson scored on a pair of 1-yard runs to account for the scoring.

Before 41,716 in attendance at a "grand re-opening of sorts" for Folsom Field, CU led 42-15 at the half and 49-22 after three quarters, never letting San Jose State back into the game. It was the first game on natural grass at Folsom since Nov. 7, 1970, and the game also marked the debut of video display boards at two ends of the stadium.

Moschetti, who completed 25 of 32 passes, broke the CU passing record of 457 yards set by Koy Detmer at Missouri in 1996. His 78.1 completion percentage was also a single-game best for a Buff quarterback with 20 or more attempts, and when adding in 35 yards rushing, his 500 yards of total offense also broke Detmer's record, the same 457 in the '96 Mizzou game.

Marcus Stiggers proved to be a favorite target, with career bests of five receptions for 174 yards and a touchdown. It was the fifth-best receiving day in CU history, and with catches of 65 and 63 yards, the former for a touchdown, he became the first Buff receiver to have two 60-plus yard receptions in the same game.

With Stiggers going over 100 in receiving yards and Johnson rushing for 104 yards on 14 carries, it marked just the 18th time in CU's 1,002game history that the Buffs had a 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver in the same game.

As a team, the Buffs amassed 767 yards that established another school mark, just edging the previous best of 758 against Northeast Louisiana in 1995. It was also the most yardage ever allowed by San Jose State, as the Spartans also allowed its most points since Stanford put a similar number on the scoreboard in the 1969 season opener. CU had 259 yards in the first quarter and generated 443 by halftime, a figure the Buffs had topped just once in 12 games during the 1998 season.

The win evened CU's record at 1-1, but was the first by new head coach Gary Barnett, who took over the reins of the program in January.

COLORADO 51, KANSAS 17 Game Three—September 18, 1999

BOULDER-Mike Moschetti continued his hot streak, throwing for 216 yards and two touchdown passes before leaving the game with a knee injury, and Jeremy Aldrich added a school record five field goals as Colorado defeated Kansas 51-17 in CU's annual homecoming game.

The Buffaloes avenged an embarrassing 33-17 upset last year at the hands of the Jayhawks, the only Big 12 win posted by Kansas in 1998. CU's goal of stopping David Winbush was more then met, as the KU junior tailback was limited to 12 yards on 11 carries after rushing for a CU opponent record 268 yards in the '98 game.

Colorado raced to a 27-0 second quarter edge and led 33-3 early in the third quarter, before Kansas rallied for two quick touchdowns to cut the lead to 33-17, the last points coming when Greg Erb recovered a blocked punt in the end zone. But the Buffs countered with 18 points in the first three minutes of the fourth quarter, highlighted by Ben Kelly's 96-yard fumble return for a touchdown, the longest miscellaneous return in CU history.

Moschetti threw touchdown passes of 21 yards to Javon Green and 16 yards to Marcus Stiggers in the second quarter before leaving with a severely sprained knee. X-rays and an MRI were both negative, but he did not return to the game. He opened the contest by establishing a school record for consecutive pass completions with 15. He completed his last nine passes the previous week against San Jose State, and a 25yard pass to John Minardi midway through the first quarter was his sixth straight completion on the day. It enabled him to break the school record of 14 set by Koy Detmer against Colorado State in 1996. His next pass was dropped to end the streak.

CU set the tone early, driving 77 yards in 14 plays on the first possession of the game, taking a 7-0 lead on a 1-yard run by Cortlen Johnson. Moschetti was 5-of-5 for 51 yards on the series.

Aldrich kicked field goals of 49, 42, 48, 41 and 40 yards, setting a Colorado standard for most field goals in a game. He also broke the Colorado career field-goal record with 37, one more than Tom Field (1979-83) achieving the mark in 11 fewer kicks. The 49-yard kick was his career long, and it gave CU a 10-0 lead late in the first quarter. CU won for the 45th straight time when leading by two or more scores at any point during the game.

The Buffaloes took total command on the second play of the second quarter, when defensive end Tyler Brayton deflected a Dylen Smith pass and linebacker Drew Wahlroos made a diving interception at the Kansas 21. On the next play, Moschetti hit Green for a touchdown and a 17-0 CU lead.

Zac Colvin replaced Moschetti on the second play of the last possession of the first half, and he piloted the Buffs to a field goal as time expired. Colvin led CU to 13 points in the second half as well, as CU held Kansas to just 36 yards in the half, and to 172 for the game, including just 26 rushing yards.

There were a few historic fronts to the game, as Colorado scored 50 or more points in back-to-back games for only the third time in its history, the first time since 1923. And freshman kicker Katie Hnida became the second woman to ever suit up for an NCAA Division I-A game (she would go on to redshirt).

WASHINGTON 31, COLORADO 24 Game Four—September 25, 1999

SEATTLE, Wash.—Chris Juergens caught a 9-yard touchdown pass from Marques Tuiasosopo with 3:17 left in the game to lead the Washington Huskies to a 31-24 win over Colorado, marking the first time CU ever lost to a team coached by one of its former head coaches.

Rick Neuheisel left CU on Jan. 9 to accept the Washington job, clearing the way for Gary Barnett's return to Colorado. Despite all the pregame hype, the game turned into a classic battle that featured three ties, three lead changes and basically just about a little bit of everything.

Washington (1-2) clinched the victory when Anthony Vontoure intercepted a fourth-down pass by Mike Moschetti in the end zone with 1:07 remaining. The Buffs had driven to the Washington 21 in the game's final minute when Moschetti hit Javon Green on a 31-yard catch and run, also on a fourth-down play.

The game broke down into two separate ones, as the first half was a defensive battle. Washington broke the ice with 4:13 left in the second quarter, when Willie Hurst capped a 14-play, 44-yard drive with a 1-yard run to give the Huskies a 7-0 lead. But one of the nation's most exciting players, CU's Ben Kelly, quickly quieted the hostile crowd by returning the ensuing kickoff 98 vards for a touchdown to tie the score. Kelly broke four tackles en route to the fifth kick return for a touchdown in

The schools combined for just 173 yards of total offense in the first half (Washington 105, Colorado 68), but traded rushing touchdowns in the first seven minutes of the third quarter. Hurst scored again, this time from three yards out, to put UW back up 14-7, only to see Cortlen Johnson ramble 24 yards for six just three plays after Damen Wheeler intercepted a Tuiasosopo pass.

On the next series, Jashon Sykes forced his fourth fumble in as many games, with Kelly once again being in the right place at the right time, scooping up the pigskin and racing 38 yards for a touchdown and CU's first lead (21-14) of the game. A 40-yard field goal from John Anderson late in the quarter pulled the Huskies to within 21-17, but with Washington dominating time of possession, one could tell the Buff defense was starting to feel the effects.

Washington went ahead 24-21 on Tuiasosopo's 36-yard scoring pass to Gerald Harris with 1:24 gone in the final quarter, driving 79 yards in six plays. Jeremy Aldrich's 29-yard field goal on CU's next possession knotted the score at 24-24 with 8:54 to play, setting the stage for the Huskies' 11-play, 70-yard game winning drive.

The Huskies controlled the ball for 36:27 the Colorado's 23:33 in dropping the Buffaloes to 2-2 on the season. Washington gained 310 second half yards and 415 for the game, including 205 on the ground—after the Buffs had allowed Kansas just 26 total the previous week.

CU was 3-0 against former head coaches entering the game, and the loss marked the fifth time in six games the Buffs went into an open week without a win.

COLORADO 46, MISSOURI 39 (OT) Game Five—October 9, 1999

BOULDER-Since the Colorado-Missouri series began the decade with a fifth down, perhaps it was only fitting that it would come to a close with a fifth quarter, so-to-speak.

Ben Kelly's goal-line interception of a fourth down Kirk Farmer pass, after the Buffs had taken the lead on a 24-yard pass from Mike Moschetti to Marcus Stiggers, preserved a wild 46-39 victory for Colorado, which played the first overtime game in school history.

In the longest football game ever played involving CU (exactly four hours), Kelly finished what he started, as when it was still "a.m." he took the game's opening kickoff and raced 100 yards for a touchdown, the sixth kick return of his career for a score. Kelly also helped set the stage for the final play, as he tackled DeVaughn Black for a three-yard loss at the CU 12 on a third down option play.

The roll call of what transpired in the game proved it was a quirky as the final score. Two safeties, a missed extra point, two missed two-point conversions, kickoff and interception returns for touchdowns, two blocked punts, an out-of-bounds punt on a free kick, a successful fake field goal, a kicker recovering his own on-side kick and finally the overtime made it one of the strangest games in recent CU history. Well, at least since Oct. 6, 1990, when CU had five downs in a 33-31 win at Missouri, albeit no one on the field knew at the time.

Kelly's game opening play preceded a 10-play, 89-yard march by Colorado, culminated by a seven-yard Mike Moschetti scramble for a touchdown and a 13-0 lead (Jeremy Aldrich missed the PAT kick). Missouri battled back to take a 17-13 lead, on the strength of a safety, two touchdowns and a field goal, though the Tigers failed on a pair of pass plays to make the two-point conversion. Aldrich made good on a 25-yard field goal right before halftime, and in another quirky instance, CU took the lead just over a minute into the second half when it earned a safety, forcing Missouri into an intentional grounding in the end zone call after a high center snap. Joe Chirumbolo scored his second touchdown on the day, a 16-yard pass from Kirk Farmer, and the Tigers had their big lead at 25-18 heading into the fourth quarter.

That's how things remained until the 7:01 mark of the fourth quarter, when the scoring flurry got underway. Moschetti scored from a yard out to cap a 14-play, 80-yard drive to tie the game, the first of three Buff scores over a 2:49 span. Brady McDonnell intercepted a Farmer pass at the MU 25 and took it to the 1, setting up another Moschetti plunge. Six plays into the next series, Damen Wheeler picked off a Farmer pass and raced 37 yards for a touchdown and a seemingly safe 39-25 Colorado lead with only 4:12 left to play.

But Missouri countered with a 6-play, 88-yard drive that saw Farmer scamper 21 yards for a touchdown, cutting the lead to 39-32 with 3:04 on the clock. Mizzou kicker Brad Hammerich then recovered his own onsides kick, and the Tigers drove 54 yards in seven plays, tying the game on a 27-ard pass from Farmer to Eric Spencer. Aldrich attempted to get Colorado the win in regulation, but his 53-yard field goal sailed just wide right.

There were 176 plays in the game (96 by Missouri, 80 by Colorado), along with 934 yards of total offense.

TEXAS TECH 31, COLORADO 10 Game Six—October 16, 1999

LUBBOCK, Texas-Freshman Shaud Williams ran for 230 yards and two touchdowns, with Rob Peters throwing a pair of 13-yard touchdown passes to Darrell Jones to lead Texas Tech to a 31-10 win over Colorado.

The Red Raiders used a balance attack in ending the Buffaloes' sixgame winning streak in the state of Texas, amassing 460 total yards, including 279 on the ground. CU was its own worst enemy at times, committing six turnovers and allowing Tech several big plays which accumulated much of its yardage.

The six miscues (four fumbles, two interceptions) led to only 10 Red Raider points, as they mostly killed CU's offensive momentum. However, one of the fumbles was by Damen Wheeler after Tech had scored to take a 7-0 lead early in the second quarter. Following the first Peters-to-Jones touchdown play, Wheeler ran up on a short kickoff and couldn't field the ball, with Tech's Mark Washington recovering the ball as he rolled out of bounds. Three plays later, Tech took a 14-0 lead on the first of Williams' two short scoring runs.

Bill wife and wife and wife and wife and Later in the quarter, Tech converted a CU interception into a 36-yard Chris Birkholz field goal, with the Red Raiders taking the 17-0 lead into halftime. The shell-shocked Buffaloes came to life early in the third quarter, converting a Red Raider turnover right off the bat. Peters hit Tim Baker on a 50-yard catch and run, but Wheeler forced a fumble that Robbie Robinson scooped up and returned to the Tech 47. Two plays later, Mike Moschetti connected with John Minardi on a 37-yard touchdown pass, the first scoring reception in Minardi's career.

However, any momentum CU gained from pulling to within 17-7 went by the wayside when Williams ran 66 yards on Tech's first play from scrimmage on its next possession. The three play, 80-yard drive was completed with Peters' second scoring toss to Jones, and the Red Raiders regained its 17-point lead just 81 seconds after CU's score.

Jeremy Aldrich made good on a 45-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter, with the kick making him the all-time leading kick scorer in CU history with 192 points. But CU would come no closer, as Williams added a 6-yard touchdown run to close the game's scoring on Tech's next drive.

Cortlen Johnson rushed for a career-high 107 yards for the Buffaloes, but CU's offense was held in check much of the day an inspired Tech defense. Colorado had just two plays over 20 yards in the entire game, after averaging six per game coming in.

Though it appeared that Tech had a huge advantage in time of possession, the Red Raiders actually only had a 16-second edge on the day (30:08-to-29:52). That was largely due to the fact that six Tech plays over 20 yards totaled 258 yards in all, or 56 percent of its yardage on just nine percent of its plays.

Both teams moved to 3-3 for the season with the result, as well as to 2-1 in Big 12 Conference play.

COLORADO 16, IOWA STATE 12 Game Seven—October 23, 1999

AMES, Iowa—Zac Colvin, subbing for an injured Mike Moschetti, became just the fifth freshman to ever start a game at quarterback for Colorado, and only the second to lead the Buffaloes to a victory as CU defeated Iowa State, 16-12.

Colvin, a redshirt freshman, coolly led the Buffs in the two-minute drill prior to halftime, with his 6-yard touchdown pass to Daniel Graham with 11 seconds left proving to be the game winning points. The teams would duel to a scoreless tie in the second half, only the second league game in Big 12 history that did not produce points after intermission (CU was also involved in the other one, against Kansas State in Boulder in 1996).

lowa State led 6-0 after the first quarter on the strength of a pair of Mike McKnight field goals from 42 and 35 yards, respectively. Jeremy Aldrich answered for CU with a 45-yard field goal a third of the way into the second quarter, the first three of what would be a 16-point quarter for the Buffaloes,

The Buffaloes came back on their next possession to take their first lead, as Cortlen Johnson scored from four yards out and Aldrich added the PAT for a 10-6 lead. lowa State went up for the final time at 12-10, on Sage Rosenfels' 21-yard touchdown pass to J.J. Moses with just 1:14 left in the half.

Colorado answered with a five-play, 49-yard drive, scoring the game's final points with Graham's touchdown reception. The drive was set up by a 33-yard kickoff return by Ben Kelly, who scooped up a pooch kick in front of the CU sideline and somehow managed to avert several tacklers in bringing the ball back beyond midfield.

Defense dominated in the scoreless second half, as with the winds remaining at constant 20 to 25 mile per hour gusts, running the football was the play of choice. Each school had only four possessions after half-time, and CU ended two of Iowa State's with interceptions. Damen Wheeler made a spectacular pick in the end zone to thwart one drive, and Kelly stole another pass at the CU 33 to stall another.

Johnson would enjoy the sixth best rushing day by a sophomore in school history, as he had career highs of 31 carries for 185 yards. He earned 11 first downs, all rushing, the most by a non-quarterback since Rashaan Salaam had 12 against Kansas on Nov. 12, 1994. Six of those came on third down runs, as he ran for a first down all six times he was handed the ball

Colvin completed 14-of-23 passes for 116 yards, with one touchdown and one interception, and displayed poise in his first collegiate start. He joined Marc Walters as the only freshmen to lead CU to a win in their first starts, as Walters led CU to a 49-3 thrashing of Kansas State back in 1986.

Iowa State outgained the Buffaloes, 379-296, but CU held the nation's third leading rusher, Darren Davis, in check. He rushed for 172 yards on 33 carries, but he had 77 of the yards on two rushes, and was held to two yards or less 17 times. Jashon Sykes spent much of the game hunting down Davis, and his 18 tackles, including two for losses, netted him the Big 12's defensive player-of-the-week honor.

COLORADO 38, OKLAHOMA 24 Game Eight—October 30, 1999

BOULDER-Returning to action after missing a game with severe headaches believed to be caused by a concussion, Mike Moschetti passed for 382 yards and four touchdowns to lead Colorado to a 38-24 win over No. 24 Oklahoma.

Moschetti added a team-high 64 yards rushing and a fifth touchdown in accumulating 446 yards of total offense, the third-highest total in team history. But even though the Colorado offense gained 537 yards, the story of the day was the CU defense wreaking havoc on the Sooners' high powered offense, limiting OU to the fewest rushing yards (minus-11) ever in its illustrious history.

Utilizing a dime package on defense most of the game (six defensive backs), CU's speed help account for four interceptions, 15 hurried throws and 10 pass deflections against Oklahoma quarterback Josh Heupel, who had been taking the conference-and the nationby storm.

Heupel completed 26-of-58 passes for 328 yards, but was upstaged by Moschetti, who was 22-of-31 for his 382, including 49- and 88-yard scoring passes to Javon Green. The latter came midway through the fourth quarter with CU leading 31-24, and was the fourth longest pass play in CU history. After a holding penalty gave the Buffaloes a 1st-and-20 on their own 12, Green ran a fly route down the Folsom Field's east sidelines, and was aided when the cornerback on the play fell down. Moschetti easily hit Green and he streaked in for the clinching, and the game's, final score.

Oklahoma's only leads came at 3-0 and 10-7 in the first half. The Buffs took a 14-10 halftime lead on Moschetti's first touchdown pass to Green. Less than a minute into the second half Moschetti scored from a yard out to make it 21-10, with the play set up when CU's Ben Kelly intercepted a screen pass and returned it inside the Oklahoma 1.

Kelly intercepted a second pass two possessions later, setting up a 33-yard Jeremy Aldrich field goal for a 24-10 lead. But the Sooners wouldn't roll over, and Heupel's six yard shovel pass to Reggie Skinner started fourth quarter fireworks which saw 28 points put on the board by both teams in just over six minutes of play.

Once CU took the 21-10 lead early in the second half, Oklahoma never had possession of the ball within one score of tying the game or taking the lead. It marked the 47th straight game Colorado won in which it led by two or more scores at any point during a game.

Moschetti's running bolstered the CU attack after starting tailback Cortlen Johnson left the game with a sprained knee. Dwayne Cherrington rushed for 62 yards in Johnson's absence.

It was the fifth straight win over Oklahoma for the Buffaloes, who moved to 8-0-1 against the Sooners in their last nine meetings. It marked the first time in their history that OU had gone winless against any opponent over a nine-game span. The win also marked the 12th consecutive year CU has defeated at least one ranked opponent, second nationally only to Florida State's 13-year run.

KANSAS STATE 20, COLORADO 14 Game Nine—November 6, 1999

MANHATTAN, Kan.— No. 6 Kansas State built a 20-0 lead and for the second straight year held off a furious Colorado rally in defeating the Buffaloes, 20-14. But if you liked defense, this was the place to be.

The Wildcats edged CU in the defensive chess match, as the teams combined for just 411 yards of offense—with just under half (202) coming on three long scoring plays. There were 18 punts, 16 three-and-outs on offense, six turnovers and only one of 69 rushing attempts that gained more than nine yards.

K-State might argue that Colorado touchdowns were flukes—a pair of late Mike Moschetti-to-Javon Green passes that covered 64 and 70 yards, but the Wildcats two scores weren't the products of sustained drives, either. A 68-yard touchdown pass from Jonathan Beasley to Quincy Morgan on a blown coverage in the first quarter opened the game's scoring. Then a Joe Hall three-yard run for a 14-0 KSU lead with 37 seconds left in the half came one play after a blocked punt put the Wildcats in business at the CU 12-yard line.

Two Jamie Rheem field goals from 20 and 42 yards in the third quarter provided the only other points in the game, and those came on scoring drives of just 28 and nine yards, respectively, the second of which came after an interception.

Four Colorado turnovers, three coming in Kansas State territory, help to do the Buffaloes in. Though leading only to three KSU points, one that hurt was when CU apparently had converted a fake punt on fourth down, with punter Nick Pietsch connecting with Robbie Robinson on a 26-yard pass play in the third quarter. But Robinson dropped the ball when switching hands, and KSU recovered to end the threat.

After closing to within 20-14 with 4:12 remaining in the game, CU tried and recovered an on-side kick, only to have it negated when one of the outside men was called for being offside on the play. The Buffs then kicked away and held, giving the offense one more chance. But on a 4th-and-6 from its 38, CU's comeback attempt ended when Green couldn't snare a Moschetti pass with 1:29 to go.

The defenses were so dominant that of the 115 plays in the game, 71 gained two yards or less (36 by Kansas State, 35 by Colorado). Each team had just 12 plays of five yards or more. The CU defense clamped down when it had to, as K-State ran 23 plays in Buff territory for just 68 yards. K-State countered by allowing CU to run just two plays inside its territory the entire game. The teams also combined for only 17 first downs, with KSU earning 10, but four of those came via penalty.

Green caught three passes for 139 yards, with Moschetti completing 11-of-25 passes for 187 yards. Morgan had three catches for 82 yards to lead Kansas State.

In the last two games in the series, Kansas State outscored Colorado 36-0 in the game's first 53 minutes; the Buffs owned a 23-0 scoring edge in the final seven minutes. And the Buffaloes held K-State to under three touchdowns for the second straight game, the only two times over a 26-game span that the Wildcats did not score at least 21 points.

COLORADO 37, BAYLOR 0 Game Ten—November 13, 1999

WACO, Texas-The Colorado offense methodically took apart a beleaguered Baylor team and the Buffalo defense posted its first shutout in 36 games as CU defeated the Bears, 37-0.

CU systematically built a 27-0 halftime lead in improving to 6-4 on the season, becoming bowl-eligible in the process. The Buffs didn't do it with a whole lot of flash, but amassed 504 yards of offense in running 98 plays on a very warm Texas afternoon.

Baylor countered with just 45 offensive plays for 114 yards, including just five attempts in the one time it crossed into CU territory in the entire game. CU's defense allowed Kansas State just 197 yards the previous week, making the two-game total of 311 the fewest it allowed since 1975.

The Buffaloes scored on their first possession, as Cortlen Johnson returned from a knee injury to score from four yards out just six minutes into the game. Two drives later, David Andrews scored on a 1-yard plunge to make it 14-0, as the sophomore scored on his first career carry. The score was possible because Mike Moschetti found Marcus Stiggers for a 57-yard gain to the Baylor 1 on a 4th-and-1 play, one of five that the Buffs would convert in the game.

In the second quarter, a pair of Jeremy Aldrich field goals sandwiched a three-yard touchdown pass from Moschetti to Miles Koon, his first career TD reception, to provide for the 27-0 halftime lead. Aldrich added a 47-yard field goal on CU's first second half possession, and then the Buffs closed out the game's scoring later in the quarter on a 2-yard run by Dwayne Cherrington.

The Bears never penetrated the CU 20, and missed a field goal the only time they crossed the 50. Otherwise, they were stifled as the Buffs forced a Baylor into a "three-and-out" situation eight times in 12 drives.

Moschetti completed 19-of-28 passes for 215 yards and a touchdown, but was an impressive 12-of-13 on third and fourth downs for 165 yards. Stiggers had four receptions for 80 yards, with Vince Reed pacing the tailbacks with 56 yards on 17 carries, all with the second-team offense.

Colorado also had decided advantages in first downs (28-6) and time of possession (42:13-17:47). It was the second most possession time in a game in CU history, topped only by a 42:17 mark against Indiana in 1981. The Buffs also did not commit a turnover for the first time since the 1998 season opener against Colorado State. Baylor didn't turn the ball over either, one of the few highlights on the afternoon for the Bears, who fell to 1-9 on the year.

It was CU's first shutout since the Buffs whitewashed Kansas State, 12-0, on Nov. 16, 1996 in Boulder, and was the Buffs' first shutout on the road since Oct. 8, 1992, when Colorado beat Missouri in Columbia, 6-0.

NEBRASKA 33, COLORADO 30 (OT) Game Eleven-November 26, 1999

BOULDER-Eric Crouch's 1-yard quarterback sneak in overtime gave No. 3 Nebraska a 33-30 overtime victory over the Colorado Buffaloes, putting an end to what would have been the greatest CU comeback in history

Colorado trailed 27-3 to start the fourth quarter, and it looked like smooth sailing for the Cornhuskers, especially when CU was held to a Jeremy Aldrich 49-yard field goal after a drive stalled at the Nebraska 32. The 27-6 score stood posted on the boards at Folsom Field when CU regained possession with only 9:34 remaining when Jashon Sykes forced and Robert Haas recovered a Bobby Newcombe fumble at the Nebraska 47.

What would happen over the next 574 seconds would run the gamut of emotions for the sellout crowd of 52,946 in attendance. The Buffs cut the lead to 27-13 in just three plays: a Marcus Stiggers eight-yard gain on a reverse, a 25-yard pass from Mike Moschetti to Javon Green, and then a 14-yard touchdown pass from Moschetti to John Minardi. The trio of plays took just 47 seconds, and the Buffs bluffed an on-side kick and held Nebraska on its next possession.

The Buffs took over on their own 20 with 6:32 left, and at first went backwards. A 27-yard screen pass from Moschetti to Dan Graham was wiped out on a peculiar downfield holding penalty, and CU was eventually faced with a 2nd-and-17. But the Buffs eeked out a first down, and proceeded to finish off an 11-play, 80-yard drive with a 3-yard TD pass from Moschetti to Graham. All of a sudden, it was Nebraska 27, Colorado 20, with 3:51 remaining.

This time CU tried the on-side kick, as Aldrich lined it off a Nebraska player and Damen Wheeler recovered at the Colorado 44. Moschetti sprinted for a 22-yard gain, followed by Cortlen Johnson picking up 18 on a draw. After an illegal shift penalty on CU, Moschetti threw a perfect pass to Javon Green in the corner of the end zone, and the junior hauled it in and kept a foot in-bounds for a 21-yard touchdown. Aldrich's PAT kick tied the score at 27-27 with 2:59 to play.

CU forced Nebraska to punt, and took over at its own 5 with 2:03 left. But on the second play, Johnson had the ball torn from him by Mike Brown, and Nebraska took over at the CU 16 with 1:49 on the clock. The place went almost dead silent except for the NU fans in the house, but almost surreal like, the Cornhuskers fumbled the ball on the option on the very next play, with Sykes recovering the ball at the 15. Folsom came back to life as CU took over with 1:43 remaining at its 15.

Johnson made up for his fumble and gained 27 through the middle, and after an incompletion, Moschetti hooked up with Minardi for a 36yard play and CU was at the Nebraska 22 with less than a minute to go. The Buffs positioned the ball in the middle of the field for a game winning 34-yard field goal attempt by Aldrich, but the most accurate field goal kicker in CU history missed wide right by just inches, sending the game into overtime.

Nebraska won the toss, elected to play defense, and held CU to a 33yard field goal by Aldrich. The Buffs had their first lead at 30-27, reeling off 27 unanswered points, but Nebraska got its turn. In five plays, the Huskers punched the ball into the endzone on the sneak by Crouch, quieting the Folsom crowd for once and for all.

Three touchdown runs by Dan Alexander, two of which came on 50and 80-yard runs, helped build a 24-3 halftime lead for the Huskers. CU was stifled on offense, netting just 24 first quarter yards (to 205 by Nebraska) and only 112 in the first half. Alexander's 50-yard run came on the first play of the game after an on-side kick by the Buffs didn't catch NU by surprise. It was the fourth time in the last six games in Boulder that Nebraska scored on its first play from scrimmage.

Moschetti completed 21-of-41 passes for 317 yards, with Green catching five for 100. Johnson rushed for 135 yards, marking only the 19th time CU has had a 100-yard rusher and receiver in the same game. Alexander led NU with 180 yard on 17 carries, with Crouch gaining 123 on 19 tries.

CU awoke in the second half and would wind up with 504 yards, 392 after intermission, while NU had only 88, and 25 of those came in the overtime. The single most amazing stat was the Buffs put 284 yards on the Huskers' No. 3 ranked national defense in the fourth quarter alone. CU ran 89 plays to the Huskers' 63 and forced five Nebraska turnovers.

Since 1950, CU has averaged 4.9 yards on the first play from scrimmage. Of the 50 plays, CU has passed 11 times (completing seven). CU has not scored on the first play from scrimmage since 1950, but did commit a turnover on the first play in 1990 (lost fumble). (*—at Anaheim).

NOTE—CU did score the first time it touched the ball in the 1975 season opener. Mike McCoy returned a California punt 61 yards for a touchdown two minutes into the game.

DID YOU KNOW?... The last time Colorado scored on its first offensive play of a game was at Texas A&M on Sept. 28, 1996. Rae Carruth scored from 28 yards out on a reverse after CU recovered a fumble on the opening kickoff.

Miss Les Com FIELD COM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after the legendary CU Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the home of Buffs ever since. This will be the 77th season the Buffs will play their home games on the "hilltop."

It was dedicated on Oct. 11, 1924, as CU defeated Regis College, 39-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street, honoring the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. The original Colorado Stadium had a seating capacity of 30,000, tripling that of the old Gamble Field.

With the addition of an upper deck in 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level pressbox facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to 51,748. In 1992, the addition of a yellow concourse wall on the southeast side took away a few hundred seats, and corporate boxes (in 1995) brought the capacity to its current 51,655 level.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with AstroTurf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on Sept. 18 (the Buffs won 56-13). The original Astroturf surface was replaced with a "new rug" for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, "Astroturf-8" was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school's history.

In the spring of 1999, Folsom Field returned to natural grass, as "SportGrass" was installed on the stadium floor. The project, which included bio-thermal heating, drainage and a sub-air system, cost $1.2 million. Video display boards, known as "BuffVision" were also added in the summer of 1999 at a cost of $3.6 million.

#-Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn.

#-Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Texas.

Usual Lineup: Offense (Switching T: Slot-I Triple Option)—TE Bob Masten/J.V. Cain, TT Greg Horton, TG Bill Kralicek, C William McDonald, SG Chuck Mandril, ST Jake

Zumbach, SE Cliff Branch/Willie Nichols, QB Ken Johnson/Joe Duenas, TB Charlie Davis, FB John Tarver/Bo Matthews, SB Larry Brunson. Defense (Wide-tackle 6)—LE Rick Kay, LT Herb Orvis/Mark Cooney, LB Randy Geist, LG Carl Taibi, LB Billie Drake/Lenny Clufo, RT Chris Havens, LB Bud Magrum/Dave Orvis, RE John Stavely, LH Cullen Bryant, RH Brian Foster/Loren Richardson, S John Stearns. Specialists—PK J.B. Dean, P Stearns.

Notes: Artificial surfacing makes its debut in Boulder, as an AstroTurf carpet blanketed Folsom Field. CU's stunning road upsets of Louisiana State and Ohio State pave the way for a 10-2 season, as the Big Eight owned the top three spots in the final Associated Press poll after the bowls. With Nebraska (#1), Oklahoma (#2) and Colorado (#3), it was the first and to date only time in history one conference has occupied all top three positions at the end of the year.

#-Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla

Head Coach: Eddie Crowder. Assistant Coaches: Dan Radakovich (DC), Duke Benz (DE), Kay Dalton (QB), Rick Duval (WR), C.B. McGowan (RB), Jim Mora (DE/OLB), Steve Ortmayer (DL), Steve Sidwell (ILB), Augie Tammariello (OL), Dan Stavely (freshmen), Irv Brown (freshmen assistant).

Note: CU almost knocked off No. 1 Oklahoma, but did knock the Sooners from No. 1 to No. 2 in the polls. CU pulled to within the eventual final score of 21-20 with 1:19 left, but elected to go for the tie against OU, which was riding a 32-game unbeaten streak at the time, but the extra point kick sailed off to the left. Mallory went for the tie on the belief that a tie could give CU the conference championship later in the year.

Specialists—PK Jim Harper, P Tom Rouen.

Notes: Colorado clinches its first national championship in football with the Orange Bowl win over Notre Dame. Alfred Williams wins the Butkus Award, becoming the first player in CU history to win one of college football's major postseason trophies. And unbeknownst to all involved at the time, CU gets a fifth down at Missouri to score the winning touchdown as time expired. In actuality, Colorado had two second downs when the marker and scoreboard did not change (and when factoring in reality, CU spiked the ball to stop the clock on what it thought was third down, and never would have called that play on fourth down).

Notes: CU scored 50 or more points three times for the first time in its history; the Buffs defeat at least one ranked opponent for a 12th straight year (second best in the nation); and the bowl win, CU's sixth in a row, added to the longest active streak in the nation.

KEY

^{*—}conference game; (N)—night game. Ranks listed are those of the Associated Press polls. All TV games listed are national unless indicated with an "r" (regional) or an "l" (local). Terminology listed following offense and defense in usual lineup indicates the formation Colorado utilized that particular season. Usual line-up includes players who started close to half of the games that year or saw significant game time in a non-starting role.

Colorado's wacky weather, for the most part, has not played havoc with the Buffaloes through the years. Here are the last times the elements affected games in Boulder. Snow: There has seldom been snowfall during a game in Boulder. In fact, only five times since 1949 has any real snowfall of note occurred during a game. It last happened on Nov. 16, 1996, in a 12-0 win over Kansas State, with light snowfall throughout the first half before tapering off. That was the first time in five years that snow fell during a game, as it snowed late in a 30-24 win over Kansas on Nov. 16, 1991. There was light snowfall in a 21-6 win over Kansas State in 1979, but nothing major. In 1971, about two feet of snow feel the morning of a 56-13 win over Wyoming; what made that day unique is that it was Sept. 18, and was CU's first home game on artificial turf. The two most famous snow games came in 1969 (a 30-7 win over Indiana) where it snowed all game, and in 1949, when it was sunny at kickoff prior to a 14-7 win over Utah. But the clouds rolled in and by halftime, there were snow flurries. By game's end, there was six inches of snow on the ground. There have been major snowstorms on Fridays but the weather cleared prior to game time (in 1986 before Kansas, in 1987 and 1991 before Nebraska, and in 1992 and 1994 before Iowa State). Rainfall: Rain during a game in Boulder is about as rare as snowfall; light rain or annoying drizzle have happened on occasion. A light rain fell sporadically during the Fresno State game on Sept. 12, 1998. The last time there was heavy rain during a game in Boulder was in the fourth quarter in a 20-13 loss to Michigan in 1996; otherwise you have to go back to Sept. 11, 1982, in a 31-17 loss to California (Bill McCartney's first game). Bitter Cold: There have been only two occasions where the temperature was below 20 degrees at kickoff at Folsom Field in the last 30 years. The last time was Nov. 16, 1996, when it was 16 degrees at the start of both halves in a 12-0 win over Kansas State. The mercury reached 12 degrees with a wind-chill of minus-8 in a 19-19 tie against Nebraska on Nov. 2, 1991. Wind: The last time, and the only time in the last 25 years that wind has really affected a game came on Nov. 11, 1995-winds gusting from 30 to 67 miles her hour were prevalent in most of CU's 21-0 win over Missouri.

Colorado has appeared on either national or regional television 124 times since the 1951 season, posting a 66-55-3 record in these games (28-19-2 in Boulder). The 3uffaloes have been on national TV a total of 72 times, owning a 36-33-3 record (17-8-2 in Boulder). Since 1990, The Buffaloes have been one of the most televised teams in he nation, as 75 of their 120 games (63 percent) have been broadcast either nationally or regionally. The first appearance on TV by Colorado was in 1951, as the Nebraska game in Lincoln on Nov. 17 was broadcast to 19 states in the central part of the nation as part of the NCAA television testing program; an estimated 8-to-10 million people watched the Buffs win in impressive fashion. An interesting fact is that the first college football game ever televised on ESPN involved Colorado, as the fledgling cable network broadcast the Oregon-CU game on Sept. 8, 1979. A detailed look at Colorado's all-time national and regional televised games (with announcers, if known):

DID YOU KNOW . . . Several University of Colorado graduates have made their careers in the field of sports broadcasting. The first was also a football letterman, Tom Brookshier, who did NFL color commentary for several years on CBS. Another has made his niche in broadcasting, as Dave Logan is the playby-play voice for the Denver Broncos, following up a stellar career as an NFL receiver. One of the most visible people on the national college football beat is ESPN's Chris Fowler, a 1985 CU graduate who worked three years in CU's sports information office. Another '80s' grad and SID office veteran, Jim Gray, is a reporter with NBC who has made a name for himself in breaking several stories. Solomon Wilcots, who lettered two years at cornerback and played several seasons in the NFL, is a reporter for ESPN. Kevin Corke, another CU journalism grad, was recently hired by ESPN after a long career as a weekend anchor at Denver's KUSA-TV. Behind the scenes, Peter Lasser was a top producer for TNT's NFL football coverage, and Jay Rothman is one of ABC's and ESPN's most respected producers, working college football and several other events.

DID YOU KNOW... That despite not having beaten a No. 1 team, Colorado has twice knocked Oklahoma out of the No. 1 slot? CU's efforts in 1957 and 1975 knocked the Sooners from No. 1 to No. 2 in the AP poll.

COLORADO VS.

The Buffs are 0-9 in their history when they have come up against the number one ranked team. Colorado has played only three teams with number one rankings—Nebraska (0-3); Oklahoma (0-5) and Southern Cal (0-1). In seven of these games, the Buffs have given the nation's best a solid run for their money. Here's a look at each CU No. 1 matchup (both AP & UPI/Coaches unless otherwise noted):

- Dec. 30, 1985—Colorado loses to Washington, 20-17, in the second annual Freedom Bowl.
- Oct. 25, 1986—Colorado defeats Nebraska (20-10), the first Buff win over the Huskers since 1967.

Bustan And Istan And Istan And Istan

Nov. 22, 1986—Buffs destroy Kansas State, 49-3, to finish second in the Big Eight. CU's 6-1 league record is its second best ever.

Dec. 31, 1986—Baylor defeats Colorado, 21-9, in the 28th annual Bluebonnet Bowl.

Oct. 17, 1987—Colorado defeats Kansas, 35-10, for its 200th win at Folsom Field.

Oct. 31, 1987—Buffs roll over Iowa State at Ames, 42-10, for CU's 500th win in its history.

Nov. 28, 1987—Buffs lose to Nebraska, 24-7, in first game at Folsom Field with lights (mid-afternoon kickoff).

Oct. 22, 1988—Oklahoma edges CU, 17-14, in the first night game ever played at Folsom Field.

Dec. 29, 1988—Colorado loses to Brigham Young, 20-17, in the fifth annual Freedom Bowl.

Aug. 23, 1989—Colorado's No. 14 ranking in both the AP and UPI polls marks the first time the Buffs are ranked in the preseason since 1977.

Nov. 18, 1989—The Buffs' 59-11 win at Kansas State gives CU its first undefeated regular season since 1937, and clinches the Big Eight Conference Championship (CU's first outright title since 1961). In the game, sophomore quarterback Darian Hagan goes over the 1,000-yard mark for the season in both rushing and passing, becoming only the sixth player to accomplish that feat in NCAA history.

Nov. 27, 1989—Colorado ascends to the nation's No. 1 ranking, the first time in its 100-year history that CU earns the wire service top spot.

Jan. 1, 1990—Colorado loses its bid for its first-ever national championship, losing 21-6 to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl.

Jan. 2, 1990—The Buffs finish the year ranked No. 4 in the polls, the second-highest final ranking by any Colorado team.

Jan. 18, 1990—Bill McCartney is named the Bear Bryant Coachof-the-Year, giving him a sweep of the national coach-of-the-year honors.

July 26, 1990—Bill McCartney signs a 15-year contract to continue as head coach at Colorado, the longest contract extension in CU's athletic history.

Aug. 26, 1990—Colorado and Tennessee battle to a 31-31 tie in the inaugural Disneyland Pigskin Classic at Anaheim, Calif.

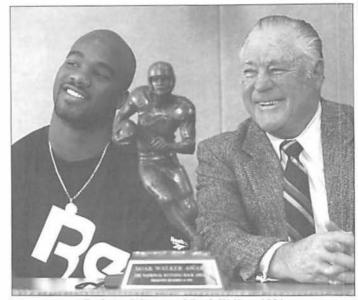

Oct. 6, 1990—Eric Bieniemy rushes for 217 yards in a 33-31 win at Missouri, in the process passing Charlie Davis as the school's all-time leading rusher.

Nov. 17, 1990—Colorado crushes Kansas State, 64-3, as the Buffs roll to the first back-to-back titles in Big Eight Conference play. The following Monday, CU is ranked No. 1 in the nation, the second straight year the Buffaloes end the regular season as college football's number one team.

Dec. 4, 1990—Senior outside linebacker Alfred Williams is named the recipient of the Butkus Award, the first CU player to win one of college football's big-time trophies.

Dec. 10, 1990—With the announcement of the UPI All-America team, tailback Eric Bieniemy, guard Joe Garten and outside linebacker Alfred Williams become the first three unanimous All-Americans in CU history.

Jan. 1, 1991—A 10-9 win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl ends a seven-game CU bowl game losing streak and positions the Buffaloes for the national title.

Rashaan Salaam and Doak Walker, 1994

Jan. 2, 1991—Colorado is named the national champion by both the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN, the first national championship in football in the school's history. United Press International tabbed CU second, one point behind Georgia Tech, in its poll.

Jan. 8, 1991—Quarterback Charles Johnson, the most valuable player in the Orange Bowl, appears on NBC's "Tonight Show," the first CU athlete to ever appear on the program.

Dec. 9, 1991—Jay Leeuwenburg becomes the fourth player in CU history to earn unanimous All-America honors when he is selected to the AP and UPI teams.

Dec. 28, 1991—Alabama defeats Colorado, 30-25, in the second Blockbuster Bowl.

Dec. 5, 1992—Jim Hansen becomes the fifth CU football player to earn the prestigious Rhodes Scholarship. He was the 19th University of Colorado student to be afforded the honor. The senior offensive tackle became CU's first three-time Academic All-American three days later (and CU's first "Academic All-American-of-the-Year.")

Dec. 6, 1992—Senior cornerback Deon Figures is named the recipient of the Jim Thorpe Award, given to the nation's top defensive back.

Jan. 1, 1993—Syracuse defeats Colorado, 26-22, in the 22nd annual Fiesta Bowl

Oct. 16, 1993—Colorado defeats Oklahoma, 27-10, as Bill McCartney wins his 78th game as head coach, thus passing Fred Folsom and becoming the all-time winningest coach in school history. In that game, Lamont Warren throws a 34-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson; Warren slipped on the turf as he threw it and Johnson was interfered with but still made the catch lying on the ground in a play that was selected as the national play-of-the-year.

Nov. 30, 1993—Charles Johnson is named offensive player-ofthe-year in the Big Eight, the first wide receiver to ever win the award.

Dec. 25, 1993—Colorado defeats Fresno State, 41-30, in the 12th annual Aloha Bowl.

Sept. 24, 1994—In what would eventually be selected as the national play-of-the-year, Kordell Stewart throws a 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael West-brook, via a Blake Anderson tip, as Colorado rallies to beat Michigan at Ann Arbor after time expired, 27-26.

Nov. 19, 1994—One of the most eventful days in CU football history: tailback Rashaan Salaam becomes just the fourth player ever in the NCAA to rush for over 2,000 yards in a season; quarterback Kordell Stewart becomes the Big Eight Conference's all-time total offense leader; and following CU's 41-20 win over Iowa State in Boulder, head coach Bill McCartney announces that he will retire following CU's bowl game.

Nov. 28, 1994—Rick Neuheisel named the 21st head coach in Colorado history (took over program on Jan. 3, 1995).

Dec. 1, 1994—Junior tailback Rashaan Salaam wins the Doak Walker Award as the nation's top running back. The previous day, Salaam won the Walter Camp Player-of-the-Year Award.

Dec. 8, 1994—Senior cornerback Chris Hudson wins the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back.

Dec. 10, 1994—Junior tailback Rashaan Salaam becomes the first player in University of Colorado history to win the Heisman Trophy. The announcement is made at New York's Downtown Athletic Club and televised nationally on ESPN.

Jan. 2, 1995—In Bill McCartney's final game as head coach, the Buffs defeat Notre Dame, 41-24, the 24th annual Fiesta Bowl. Quarterback Kordell Stewart and defensive tackle Shannon Clavelle are named the game's most valuable players.

Sept. 2, 1995—Rick Neuheisel becomes the first coach at CU since 1932 to win his first game, as the Buffaloes defeat Wisconsin in Madison, 43-7.

Sept. 30, 1995—John Hessler sets a school record with five touchdown passes in CU's 38-17 win at Oklahoma, which was his first career start. He duplicated the feat a little more than a month later (Nov. 4) in a 45-32 win at Oklahoma State.

Jan. 1, 1996—Colorado defeats Oregon, 38-6, in the 60th annual Cotton Bowl.

Nov. 29, 1996—Koy Detmer becomes the first player in school history to pass for over 3,000 yards in a season in CU's 17-12 loss at Nebraska.

Dec. 14, 1996—Matt Russell is named the winner of the Butkus Award as the nation's best linebacker, the second CU player to win the trophy.

Dec. 30, 1996—CU defeats Washington, 33-21, in the 19th annual Holiday Bowl, securing a third straight 10-win season for the Buffaloes and a four-game bowl winning streak, the first of both in school history.

Nov. 14, 1998—CU's 37-8 win over lowa State is the 600th in the program's history.

Dec. 25, 1998—In the 1,000th game in its history, Colorado defeats Oregon, 51-43, in the 17th annual Aloha Bowl. Mike Moschetti throws four touchdown passes and Ben Kelly returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown as the Buffs built a 44-14 third quarter lead.

Jan. 22, 1999—Gary Barnett named the 22nd head coach in Colorado history.

Oct. 9, 1999—Colorado plays the first overtime game in its history, with Mike Moschetti's 24-yard touchdown pass to Marcus Stiggers in the first overtime paving the way for a 46-39 win over Missouri in Boulder. (The NCAA added overtime in 1996.)

Nov. 26, 1999—The Buffs play their second overtime game ever, losing to Nebraska, 33-30 in Boulder. However, CU rallies from its largest deficit ever to tie the game, coming back after trailing 27-3 with a 24-point, 284-yard fourth quarter against the No. 3 Cornhuskers.

Dec. 31, 1999—CU defeats Boston College, 62-28, in the 11th annual Insight.com Bowl at Tucson. The Buffs race to a 45-7 halftime lead and set numerous records in their sixth straight bowl win, adding to the nation's longest active streak.

CU'S 1990 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1990 edition of the University of Colorado football team accomplished two of the biggest "firsts" in its storied history. The Buffaloes played the nation's toughest schedule and posted an 11-1-1 record overall, with the win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl cementing the school's first national championship. For the second straight year, CU logged a 7-0 record in league play, marking the first time that the Buffs had claimed the Big Eight Conference title in back-to-back years.

Colorado had flirted with the national championship just one season earlier, owning an 11-0 regular season record and entering the Orange Bowl ranked as the nation's No. 1 team. A 21-6 loss to Notre Dame, however, ended CU's dream season and the Buffs finished No. 4 in the national polls. Little did anyone know at the time that the Buffaloes would have the chance to redeem themselves.

Questions prior to the start of the 1990 season included, "What do you do for an encore?" and "Is Colorado for real or was last season a fluke?" Coach Bill McCartney didn't set winning the national championship as the team goal; winning back-to-back Big Eight titles was what he wanted his men to aim for. Shooting for all the marbles includes too many variables that are out of a team's control, while one holds its own destiny in pursuit of a league title. McCartney was not the kind to set a national title as a goal, anyway.

In the Associated Press preseason poll, the Buffs were ranked No. 5; it's first opponent, Tennessee in the Disneyland Pigskin Classic, was ranked No. 8.

Colorado overcame three first-quarter turnovers against the Volunteers (that was almost one-fourth of the entire turnover total of the season before) to lead 24-10 early in the fourth quarter. The Buffs couldn't sustain the lead, and Tennessee caught CU with the game ending in a 31-31 tie.

In game two, Eric Bieniemy scored on fourth-and-goal from the one with 12 seconds remaining to give CU a 21-17 win over Stanford. This was alarming in that Stanford had the worst record in 1989 of the five non-league teams on CU's schedule, along with the fact that the Cardinal led 14-0 at halftime and had stifled the high-powered CU offense.

Illinois dealt CU what proved to be its only loss of the season on Sept. 15, as the 23-22 defeat to the Illini sent the Buffs reeling to No. 20 in the polls. A game that Colorado should have won (CU led, 17-3, in the second quarter) turned into a loss and gave CU a 1-1-1 start. Talk of 1989 being a fluke started to surface, that CU had won only because of emotion in response to the death of quarter-back Sal Aunese.

The next two games put the Buffaloes back on track, and ended talk that Colorado was not for real. A 29-22 win at No. 22 Texas, with CU rallying from a 22-14 deficit early in the fourth quarter, was the game that McCartney and the team pointed to as the turning point of the season. Then a 20-14 win over No. 12 Washington a week later reinforced the national opinion of the Buffaloes, as CU took over the No. 12 spot in the polls after its defeat of the Huskies.

Colorado came through the fierce non-league portion of its schedule with a 3-1-1 record and prepared to defend its Big Eight crown earned the season before. The Buffs topped Missouri, 33-31, in their league opener amid controversy of the now famous "fifth down." CU's Charles Johnson scored the game-winning touchdown as time expired on what turned out to be fifth down. The play, created through an incredible mistake by the officiating crew, and unnoticed by Missouri game administration and virtually everyone in the stadium, tainted the CU win and hurt the Buffs' image. Even though the Buffs defeated lowa State, 28-12, the following week, Colorado had dropped back to No. 14 in the rankings though it sported a 5-1-1 record.

Still, the Buffaloes were off to a 2-0 start in league play, and improved to 3-0 with a 41-10 drubbing of Kansas at Lawrence in week three of the Big Eight season. The win pushed CU back into the top 10 (No. 10), with the "Big Reds" next up on the schedule.

Colorado knocked off Oklahoma, ranked No. 22 nationally, 32-23 to deal the one-time fourth-ranked Sooners their third straight defeat. The Buffs trailed, 14-6, late in the first half, with OU in position to kick a field goal. Greg Thomas skied to block the attempt, and quarterback Darian Hagan took over to lead the Buffs to a touchdown right before the halftime gun. Bieniemy broke free for a 69-yard TD run in the third quarter, and the Buffs pulled away in the final 15 minutes to dispose of the first of the Big Reds.

A week later, Colorado, now No. 9, traveled to Lincoln and defeated No. 3 Nebraska, 27-12, in rainy, cold and windy conditions. Bieniemy overcame five fumbles to score four touchdowns in the fourth quarter to rally the Buffaloes to the win. The end result was that Colorado had defeated both Oklahoma and Nebraska for the second straight year, and in back-to-back weeks, no less. The Buffs, with an 8-1-1 record, zoomed to No. 4 in the nation in the polls, and needed just one win in their last two games to get back to the Orange Bowl.

The Buffs steamrolled both Oklahoma State (41-22) and Kansas State (64-3) to finish the regular season at 10-1-1. The wins also marked the second straight year that CU took the Big Eight title with an undefeated 7-0 record in league play.

When Penn State knocked off Notre Dame hours after CU's win over K-State, the Buffs became the nation's new

No. 1 team. Thus, as was the case in 1989, the Buffaloes entered the Orange Bowl to defend the nation's top ranking against Notre Dame, the team that lost to hand CU the No. 1 claim.

Colorado had the rare chance to play for the national championship a second straight year, and this time around, the Buffs made the most of their opportunity. Colorado overcame the loss of Hagan and Kanavis McGhee to injuries in the first half, taking the lead for good in the third quarter in defeating the Irish, 10-9. The win kicked off a wild celebration by some 20,000-plus CU fans in Miami and hundreds of thousands back home in Colorado.

McCartney's ninth Colorado team attained its goals of claiming the Big Eight title in back-to-back years, and surpassed it by winning the national championship. In the process, CU established itself among the elite in college football.

BIGGE

Nov. 26, 1891—Colorado 24, Colorado College 4

(at Colorado Springs)

The first win in the program's history (after eight straight losses).

Sept. 27, 1904—Colorado 6, Nebraska 0 (in Boulder)

Referred to as the program's biggest victory at that point in history, as CU upset heavily favored Nebraska.

Nov. 25. 1920—Colorado 40, Oklahoma A&M 7

(at Stillwater, Okla.)

In Myron Witham's first year as coach, CU won its only non-league game to close with a 4-1-2 record.

Nov. 6, 1937—Colorado 17, Utah 7 (at Salt Lake City, Utah)

The win secures CU the title in the first year of the Mountain States Conference, and paves the way for CU's first-ever bowl game appearance (against Rice in the Cotton).

Oct. 9, 1948—Colorado 19, Nebraska 6 (in Boulder)

Another benchmark in the program, as the win was both CU's first in the Big Seven Conference, and the first for coach Dal Ward.

Oct. 6, 1951—Colorado 35, Kansas 27 (in Boulder)

Colorado's first-ever win over a ranked opponent (Kansas was No. 20).

Sept. 27, 1952—Colorado 21, Oklahoma 21 (in Boulder)

Not a win, but not just a tie—the only blemish on Oklahoma's amazing 47-0-1 record in Big Seven Conference play (1948-57).

Jan. 1, 1957-Colorado 27, Clemson 21

(Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.)

The first-ever bowl victory by the Buffs comes over No. 19 Clemson.

Nov. 4, 1961-Colorado 7, Missouri 6 (in Boulder)

The win over No. 10 Missouri paved the way for CU's first Big Eight Conference title.

Nov. 18, 1961-Colorado 7, Nebraska 0 (at Lincoln, Neb.)

On a cold day in Lincoln, CU limits Nebraska to zero first downs and just 31 yards on offense to clinch the Big Eight crown.

Oct. 21, 1967—Colorado 21, Nebraska 16 (at Lincoln, Neb.)

The win vaults CU to a No. 3 national ranking, its highest in history at the time, and returns CU to the national college football map.

Oct. 25, 1969—Colorado 31, Missouri 24 (in Boulder)

CU stops unbeaten and No. 5 Missouri.

Dec. 13, 1969—Colorado 47, Alabama 33

In one of the most exciting bowl games ever, CU defeats Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide to climb back into the final national rankings (No. 16).

Sept. 26, 1970—Colorado 41, Penn State 13 (in Boulder)

CU blows out No. 4 Penn State, ending the Nittany Lions' 31-game unbeaten streak.

Sept. 11, 1971—Colorado 31, Louisiana State 21

(at Baton Rouge, La.)

CU grabs season-opening win over No. 9 LSU in Cajun Country.

Sept. 25, 1971—Colorado 20, Ohio State 14

(at Columbus, Ohio)

Colorado's second win on the road at a top 10 school (Ohio State was No. 6) gives CU instant national respect and a No. 6 ranking.

Dec. 31, 1971-Colorado 29, Houston 17

(Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Texas)

CU posts its first-ever 10 win season (10-2), and the win enables the Big Eight to finish 1-2-3 in the nation (Nebraska No. 1, Oklahoma No. 2, Colorado No. 3-still the only time one conference has had the top three spots in the final poll).

Oct. 21, 1972—Colorado 20, Oklahoma 14 (in Boulder)

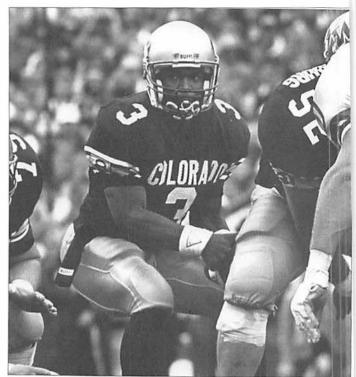

CU tops No. 2 Sooners, the highest-ranked team CU had defeated at the time (and to this date—CÜ has beaten No. 2 twice).

Nov. 20, 1976—Colorado 35, Kansas State 28 (at Manhattan, Kan.) Buffs stave off Wildcats in a wild one, and the win enables CU to claim a share of the Big Eight title-and with CU winning the tiebreakers, the Buffs earn a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Sept. 28, 1985—Colorado 14, Arizona 13 (at Tucson, Ariz.)

CU holds off Arizona, ranked in the coaches poll, to move to 3-1 on the season and show the first indication that the program is headed for its first winning season since 1978.

Darian Hagan

Oct. 25, 1986-Colorado 20, Nebraska 10 (in Boulder)

Referred to as "The Turning Point" in CU's return to national prominence, as the Buffs defeat Nebraska, ranked No. 3 in the nation, for the first time since 1967.

Oct. 31, 1987—Colorado 42, Iowa State 10 (at Ames, Iowa) The 500th win in Colorado's history, as the Buffs join a select group of schools to accomplish the feat. Sept. 17, 1988—Colorado 24, Iowa 21 (at Iowa City, Iowa) The Buffs dominate from the start to finish and rally to win at No. 19 lowa in a big challenge the second week of the season. Sept. 4, 1989—Colorado 27, Texas 6 (in Boulder)

Expectations are high, as CU is ranked in the preseason for the first time since 1978 (No. 14)—Darian Hagan erases the butterflies with a 75-yard run to set up a score on the game's second play.

Sept. 30, 1989—Colorado 45, Washington 28 (at Seattle, Wash.) No. 5 Colorado wins at No. 21 Washington, but the real story is the emotional win one week after quarterback Sal Aunese died due to complications from stomach cancer.

Oct. 28, 1989—Colorado 20, Oklahoma 3 (at Norman, Okla.) The nation finds out the Buffs are for real with CU's first win in Norman since 1965.

Nov. 4, 1989—Colorado 27, Nebraska 21 (in Boulder)

No. 2 Colorado defeats No. 3 Nebraska to all but clinch league title and the Orange Bowl berth that goes with it.

Sept. 22, 1990—Colorado 29, Texas 22 (at Austin, Texas) Called the impetus for CU's national title run after a 1-1-1 start, CU rallies from 22-14 deficit in the fourth quarter to grab the win.

Oct. 27, 1990—Colorado 32, Oklahoma 23 (in Boulder) The win over the No. 22 Sooners, only the third time CU had ever beaten OU back-to-back, set up CU for a title showdown at Nebraska

Nov. 2, 1990—Colorado 27, Nebraska 12 (at Lincoln, Neb.) Colorado beats No. 2 Nebraska on four fourth-quarter Eric Bieniemy touchdown runs to win Big Eight for second straight season.

Jan. 1, 1991—Colorado 10, Notre Dame 9

the following week.

Colorado wins its first national championship in football with the win over the Irish.

Oct. 16, 1993—Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10 (at Norman, Okla.) The 78th win of Bill McCartney's coaching career, making him the program's all-time winningest coach.

Sept. 24, 1994—Colorado 27, Michigan 26 (at Ann Arbor, Mich.) The Catch." Kordell Stewart's 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, via a Blake Anderson tip, wins the game after time expired. It was the national play-of-the-year in all of sports and won in ESPY.

Nov. 19, 1994—Colorado 41, Iowa State 20 (in Boulder)

The win had two significant highlights: eventual Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam went over the 2,000-yard mark in rushing and quarterback Kordell Stewart became the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader. And following the game, head coach Bill McCartney announced his retirement.

Sept. 23, 1995—Colorado 29, Texas A&M 21 (in Boulder) CU rallies for win over No. 3 Aggies, as John Hessler comes off the bench to lead CU to the win after replaced injured quarterback Koy Detmer.

Sept. 30, 1995—Colorado 38, Oklahoma 17 (at Norman, Okla.) CU becomes only the third school in history to win four straight times in Norman, defeating the No. 10 Sooners and moving to No. 4 in the nation.

Dec. 30, 1996—Colorado 33, Washington 21

(Holiday Bowl at San Diego, Calif.)

The win enables CU to enjoy its third straight 10-win season, a first in school history.

Dec. 25, 1998-Colorado 51, Oregon 43

(Aloha Bowl at Honolulu, Hawaii)

The win is CU's fifth straight in bowl games, the longest active streak in the nation, and comes in the program's 1.000th

Dec. 31, 1999—Colorado 62, Boston College 28

(Insight.com Bowl at Tucson, Ariz.)

Colorado defeated the No. 25 Golden Eagles in one of its most dominant performances ever. The Buffs built a 35-0 lead in the second quarter on touchdown runs by Cortlen Johnson and Mike Moschetti, interception returns for scores by Jashon Sykes and Rashidi Barnes, and the longest punt return in NCAA bowl history, 88 yards, by Ben Kelly. It was also the sixth straight bowl win for the CU, adding to its nation's best active streak.

DID YOU KNOW?... That CU's records for rushing yards in a single game and a season have a common link? In 1971, Charlie Davis rushed for 342 yards in a 40-6 win over Oklahoma State, and in 1994, Rashaan Salaam rushed for 2,055 yards en route to winning the Heisman Trophy. The link? Davis also went over the 1,000-yard mark for the season in the OSU game, doing so on a 67-yard touchdown run around the right end. Salaam went over the 2,000-yard mark in the finale against lowa State—on a 67-yard touchdown run around the right end.

BIG PLAYS "NOT IN THE BOXSCORE"

Often a play takes place which makes the difference between winning and losing, but it gets lost in the shuffle and then forgotten as time passes by. The following is a listing of some of these moments and the players who created them in the history of Colorado football:

Zack Jordan, 1952 vs. Oklahoma

CU tailback Zack Jordan's powerful right leg was the Buffs' best weapon in a 21-21 tie which was the Sooners' only blemish in what was to become a 47-game undefeated string. Jordan's 72-yard quick kick to the OU 3 set up CU's first TD. His 77-yarder put the Buffs in position for their second score. For good measure he added a 78-yard boot in the fourth period which quickly produced the setting for CU's final score. It was the finest exhibition of kicking in the nation that year and earned Jordan a spot in the NCAA record book. To make his day even more impressive, he scored all three CU touchdowns.

Frank Bernardi, 1954 vs. Missouri

It was a relatively meaningless game but Frank Bernardi played to the end as though it was for the Big Seven championship. CU's chances had faded a week earlier in Boulder with a bitter last quarter 13-6 loss to Oklahoma. The Buffs struggled to a 19-13 advantage over Missouri as time ran out in Columbia. When the Tigers scored with 1:06 left the winning PAT kick seemed a certainty. But Bernardi lined up wide at left end and used his sprinter speed to deflect the ball. The effort cost him two black eyes and a broken nose and a place in the CU record book for unlikely heroes.

John Bayuk, 1956 vs. Missouri

The forearm, not the pounding legs, of fullback John (The Beast) Bayuk provided the impetus for a 14-14 tie at Missouri which ultimately sent CU to its first Orange Bowl appearance. Beaten at the wire by Oklahoma in Boulder a week earlier, the Buffs could clinch a bowl bid with at least a tie with a Tiger team which had made a living annually by catching CU down after a tough battle with OU. Predictably, the Buffs struggled in this one, trailing 14-0 late in the third period. CU scored, then recovered a fumble at the Tiger 37. But Bob Stransky fumbled on first down. At the bottom of the pile, Bayuk was bitten by a Missouri lineman. Getting a reprieve with the 15-yard penalty, CU drove to a tying touchdown which was good enough to send the Buffs to Miami and a 27-21 win over Clemson on New Year's Day.

Chuck Weiss, 1959 vs. Oklahoma

A mighty effort by fullback Chuck Weiss preserved CU's 7-0 victory over Oklahoma, the first victory over the Sooners since the Buffs joined the Big Seven Conference. Colorado held a precarious one-touchdown lead late in the third quarter when OU quarterback Bennett Watts broke into the open from the Sooner 14. He headed for the end zone at full speed with Weiss, a power fullback not noted for his speed, in pursuit from his linebacker post on the far side of the field. Using his angle perfectly, Weiss caught Watts at the CU 17. The Buff defense held at the four and CU had a landmark triumph.

Hale Irwin, 1965 vs. Oklahoma

It was Eddie Crowder's third season at the helm and his CU team was on the way back from the depths of three straight 2-8 campaigns. A win over his alma mater's perennial Big Eight champions would be a big step forward for the Buffs. They led 10-0 nearing the half but the Sooners were rallying, driving to a first and goal with less than a minute left. The Oklahoma quarterback spotted the hole in the line and directed a play there. But CU safety Hale Irwin, better known for his golfing prowess, alertly jumped into the breach and helped jam up the play. The Sooners failed to score and CU went on to give Crowder a homecoming victory, 13-0.

Phil Irwin, 1969 vs. Oklahoma State

En route to a furious finish which saw CU annihilate Alabama in the Liberty Bowl, the Buffs needed a clutch last-second theft by linebacker Phil Irwin to preserve a 17-14 tri-umph over OSU in a game which CU had to win to keep its bowl hopes alive. After the Buffs seemingly had won the game with a touchdown with 1:22 left to play, the Cowboys launched an aerial attack which moved them to the CU five in less than a minute. There were 30 seconds remaining, and a Cowboy receiver was open in the end zone. The ball was headed for him when Irwin came from nowhere to intercept it. When he downed the ball there was time for one play and the Buffs had taken a big step to Memphis.

John Stearns, 1971 Bluebonnet Bowl vs. Houston

Your team is up by six, 23-17, with seven minutes remaining in the bowl game and it's fourth-and-9 from your own 10-yard line. Punt, right? Don't tell that to John "Bad Dude" Stearns. Moments earlier, Stearns had knocked the ball out of tight end Riley Odoms' hands on fourth down in the end zone to prevent Houston from taking the lead in its home stadium. So perhaps still fired up, Stearns, who doubled as CU's punter, scooped up a bad center snap, looked around, and took off downfield for the first down. He needed nine yards, and the 12 he earned were the impetus the Buffs needed to take the ball in for the clinching score. The win gave CU its best record ever at the time, 10-2, and secured the nation's No. 3 ranking (behind Big Eight rivals Nebraska and Oklahoma).

Steve Vogel and Derek Singleton 1981 vs. Oklahoma State

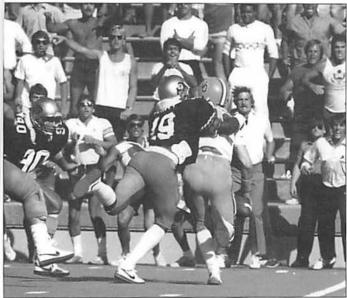

Colorado is out of time outs, is faced with second-and-14 at its own 4, there's one minute left in the game, and Oklahoma State holds a 10-3 lead in Boulder. Quarterback Steve Vogel and tailback Derek Singleton would play key roles in one of the greatest comeback drives in CU history. Vogel hits Singleton on a 10-yard pass to get CU into and fourth-and-4 at its 14, and on fourth down, the two hooked up again on a 17-yard play for a first down. From there, it took CU just five plays to get into the end zone to pull to within 10-9. Vogel then found Singleton in the end zone for the two-point conversion and CU won, 11-10. There was some sadness to this story, as it would be the last time Singleton would touch the football in a game for Colorado. He was struck with spinal meningitis the next Friday and would be hospitalized in Ames, lowa. He would later pass away on New Year's night in California.

Mickey Pruitt, 1985 vs. Oregon

It's year No. 4 of the Bill McCartney Era, and the second game of the season against Oregon in Boulder, while early, is important. A win would double CU's win total of the previous season and could provide momentum for CU's first winning ream in six years. Oregon, trailing Colorado, 21-17, drives from its own 13 to the CU 3 and is faced with a fourth-and-goal with nine seconds left. The Buffs called for relentless pressure on Duck quarterback Chris Miller, the game obviously on the line. Miller was flushed out of the pocket, and before he could get the ball off, was sacked for a loss by sophomore safety Mickey Pruitt. The Buffs went on to finish the regular season with a 7-4 mark and earn their first bowl invitation since 1976.

Mickey Pruitt's last-second sack against Oregon in 1985.

Dan McMillen, 1985 vs. Kansas

On his way to setting the Colorado school record for most quarterback sacks in a game, Dan McMillen could have lost his head. Actually, it was just his helmet. As he chased down Kansas quarterback Mike Norseth for his fifth and record-setting sack, McMillen's helmet was knocked free. But that didn't stop the Buff senior outside linebacker from running down Norseth and making the tackle. CU won the game, 14-3, and went on to post its first winning season in seven years.

Darian Hagan, 1989 vs. Texas

The season opener against Texas in Boulder was filled with anticipation, as the Buffs were nationally ranked in the preseason for the first time in 12 years, and ESPN was in town to televise the game to the entire nation. On the second play of the game, quarterback Darian Hagan set all the butterflies free as he scampered 75 yards around the left side to the Texas 2, setting up CU's first touchdown as well as the tone for the game and CU's 11-0 regular season. The Buffs went on to build a 14-0 first quarter lead and a 27-6 win.

Deon Figures, 1990 vs. Washington

Colorado, at 2-1-1 on the season and riding high after an emotional 29-22 comeback win at Texas, leads No. 12 Washington, 20-14 in the final moments. The Huskies are faced with a fourth-and-goal at the CU 7 with 1:04 left, and quarterback Mark Brunell throws a lob pass in the direction of Mario Bailey in the end zone. However, CU sophomore Deon Figures is in the way, making the game-saving interception to preserve CU's victory. Later in the same season, Figures also made an interception at the end of CU's 10-9 win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, a play which prevented Notre Dame from getting into field goal range. Figures picked off the Rick Mirer pass and ran out the clock, helping CU cinch the national championship.

David Gibbs, 1990 vs. Nebraska

This game on a cold and rainy day in Lincoln had both Big Eight title and national championship implications riding on the outcome. Colorado had just taken a 13-12 lead over Nebraska, rallying from a 12-0 deficit, but the Huskers were trying to mount a comeback. Faced with a fourth-and-3 on their own 28 and seven minutes remaining, Nebraska called for a fake punt, the snap going to the upback, Tim Johnk. But the play was sniffed out by David Gibbs, who stopped Johnk for only a two-yard gain, giving possession back to the Buffs. CU scored in just five plays to take a 20-12 lead, and went on to win, 27-12, CU's first win in Lincoln since 1967. Colorado jumped from No. 9 to No. 4 in the polls, eventually going on to win the national championship.

Ron Bradford, 1991 Orange Bowl vs. Notre Dame

Bradford, a sophomore who eventually would go on to play in the National Football League, saw action in 1990 mostly in nickel situations and on special teams. However, on this New Year's night, Bradford made one of the biggest plays in CU history. Midway through the second quarter, after Notre Dame scored a touchdown to take a 6-3 lead over the Buffs, Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Colorado rallied to win the game, 10-9, with that one-point margin, courtesy of Bradford, giving CU's its first national championship in football.

Jeff Brunner and Greg Thomas, 1991 vs. Nebraska

On a frosty night in Boulder before an ESPN national television audience, two plays stand out from a game that ended in a 19-19 tie, which would lead to Colorado and Nebraska sharing the 1991 Big Eight Conference championship. The first one is best remembered because it seemed to take five minutes for Greg Biekert to return a blocked extra point 85 yards for a defensive two-point conversion; however, the play was made possible because of Jeff Brunner's block. Then later, on the game's final play and after three CU timeouts, Greg Thomas skied high to block a Byron Bennett 41-yard field goal try to preserve the tie and CU's share of the title.

Blake Anderson, 1994 vs. Michigan

Anderson, the son of CU great and college football Hall-of-Fame member Dick Anderson, made his mark at CU primarily on special teams. In fact, he was so committed to special teams play that he earned an invitation to the Hula Bowl based on that commitment. But on Sept. 24 in Ann Arbor, and Colorado trailing Michigan 26-21 with only six seconds to go, Anderson played a huge role in what would become college football's play of the decade. As time expired, Kordell Stewart threw the ball over 70 yards downfield in the direction of a quartet of CU receivers: Anderson, Michael Westbrook, Rae Carruth and James Kidd. The play, "Rocket Jet," called for Anderson to be in position for a deflection, with the other three a few yards back to make the catch. The play, so improbable it rarely worked in practice, worked to perfection. Anderson tipped the ball to Westbrook, who landed in the end zone with 0:00 on the clock to give CU a 27-26 win.

GREAT FAREWELLS AND ME

Bill Harris finds a hole in the Air Force defense in the 1962 game.

Rashaan Salaam on his way to 2,000-plus yards versus Iowa State in 1994.

Throughout its history, University of Colorado football fans have been treated to some special moments the last time a player or coach took the field for the Buffaloes, either in the final game of the regular season or in a bowl game. Here's a look at a few of these that stand out:

Byron White, 1937

Not a farewell game as much as it was a farewell tour for the man who would go on to become a U.S. Supreme Court Justice. In the final home game of the year, Byron White scored three second half touchdowns to defeat Colorado College, 35-6. In the final regular season game at Denver, he accounted for every CU point in a 34-7 win over the Pioneers, scoring three touchdowns, passing for two and making four extra points. Then, in the first bowl game ever for CU, he passed for one touchdown and scored another on a 47-yard interception return in a 28-14 loss to Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

Frank Bernardi & Carroll Hardy, 1954 vs. Kansas State

The final game of the 1954 season didn't really have anything riding on it as far as Colorado was concerned, except that it was the final game in a CU uniform for five Buffalo seniors. Kansas State, however, could have earned an Orange Bowl berth with a win and a Nebraska loss. Coach Dal Ward told the underclassmen to dedicate the final game to the quintet, and in particular, to four-year lettermen Carrol Hardy and Frank Bernardi, who had carried the team to a 6-2-1 record at that point. The Buffs would easily defeat the Wildcats, 38-14, but when Hardy and Bernardi carried the ball, they must have thought they were playing against just the clean Rocky Mountain air. The CU offensive line dominated from start to finish, as Hardy rushed for 238 yards and three touchdowns on just 10 carries, while Bernardi picked up 113 and a score on only nine tries.

John Bayuk, 1957 Orange Bowl

Known as "The Beast," John Bayuk rallied Colorado to its first-ever bowl win, a 27-21 verdict over Clemson in the Orange Bowl. He rushed for 121 yards on 23 carries and scored two touchdowns, including the game winner with 7:13 left to play.

Coach Bud Davis, 1962 vs. Air Force

Though he coached only the one season in Boulder, the transitional year between Sonny Grandelius and Eddie Crowder, the season finale in 1962 was special for Bud Davis. Heading into the rivalry game against Air Force with just a 1-8 record, CU was a 21-point underdog to the Falcons. But the Buffaloes gave Davis, who resigned the day of the game, a tremendous sendoff, convincingly defeating the "Zoomies," 34-10. Bill Harris rushed for 108 yards and Bill Symons scored twice to lead the Buffs.

Bobby Anderson, 1969 Liberty Bowl

He placed 11th in the Heisman Trophy balloting, but who knows where he would have finished had the voting taken place after the Liberty Bowl. Bobby Anderson led a ground gain to the most explosive offensive attack, still to this day, by any Colorado team in a bowl game, as CU defeated Bear Bryant's Alabama Crimson Tide, 47-33. Anderson rushed 254 yards on 35 carries and scored three touchdowns, including a pair in the fourth quarter to seal the win for Coach Eddie Crowder's Buffaloes. And for good measure, he completed 3-of-4 passes for another 41 yards, giving him 295 yards of total offense (over half of CU's 563 on the afternoon).

Bill Roe, 1979 vs. Kansas State

The game meant nothing, except that it would signal the end a very disappointing season for first year coach Chuck Fairbanks. But nobody told that to Bill Roe, who was a one-man wrecking crew on defense in CU's 21-6 win. He had 24 tackles in the game, the second most at the time in a game by a Buffalo, along with two interceptions.

Mike Pritchard & Others, 1990 vs. Kansas State

Colorado had already clinched the Orange Bowl, but needed to stay sharp as the Buffs moved to No. 1 in the polls after a 64-3 pasting of Kansas State in Boulder. In the final game for some 21 seniors, Mike Pritchard gained 152 yards on just four touches, scoring two touch-downs. Eric Bieniemy rushed for 115 yards in his final home game, but would lose out on the NCAA rushing title by 12 yards when he didn't play in the second half. O.C. Oliver scored for the first time since he was a freshman in 1986, and outside linebacker Alfred Williams got his wish, playing a few snaps at tight end and catching a pass for 17 yards.

Rashaan Salaam, 1994 vs. Iowa State

Only three others had accomplished what Rashaan Salaam had in front of him this November afternoon. Salaam, who went on to win Colorado's first Heisman Trophy, came into the game needing 204 yards to become the fourth player in NCAA history at the time to rush for 2,000 yards in a single season. With CU ahead, 27-13, and just under 11 minutes left in the game, Salaam had 192 in the game and 1,988 for the season, and Colorado had a first-and-10 at its own 33. He took the handoff from Kordell Stewart and sprinted around the right side, heading 67 yards down the Colorado sidelines for a touchdown and 2,055 yards. One of the most single exciting plays in CU history, with 40,000-plus fans jumping up-and-down holding onto yellow placards with a simple 2,000 printed on them in black. Also in this game, Kordell Stewart became the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader with 7,770 yards, as he passed for 196 and ran for 89, also eclipsing the mark in the fourth quarter. And to cap off the events of the day. CU's head coach of 13 years, Bill McCartney, announced to his team and the world after the game that he would retire following CU's bowl game.

Coach Bill McCartney & Kordell Stewart, 1995 Fiesta Bowl

It was the rubber game in the postseason between Colorado and Notre Dame in the 1990s, as the two split a pair of Orange Bowls to start the decade, both with national championship implications for the Buffs. CU built up a 31-3 lead over an outmatched Fighting Irish team and cruised to a 41-24 victory in Bill McCartney's final game as head coach. He would exit as CU's all-time winningest head coach with a 93-55-5 record. With all eyes on Heisman winner Rashaan Salaam, who scored three touchdowns and rushed for 85 yards, Kordell Stewart had a field day against the Irish. He rushed for 143 yards and a touchdown on just seven carries, and completed 11-of-20 passes for 205 yards and another score in being named the game's most valuable player.

Koy Detmer & Rae Carruth, 1996 Holiday Bowl

The senior duo, which hooked up for 54 completions and eight touchdowns in the regular season, obliterated almost every passing and receiving record in Colorado bowl history. Detmer completed 25 of 45 passes for 371 yards and three touchdowns, while Carruth caught seven of those for 162 yards, including two touchdowns. Their first touchdown, a 76-yard bomb that got CU on the scoreboard, was the longest play from scrimmage in the Buff postseason. Colorado rallied from a 14-0 deficit to defeat Washington, 33-21.

#24 BYRON "WHIZZER" WHITE

Colorado's first All-American and one of the greatest students in the history of the school, Byron (Whizzer) White, retired as a justice of the Supreme Court in March, 1993, after serving 31 years on the nation's high court.

White made all the All-America teams after a brilliant 1937 season in which he led CU to an 8-0 record and Cotton Bowl bid as he set national records with 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points. Those marks, erased nationally only after colleges went to 10- and 11-game schedules, set CU records.

White was a Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, two-time All-Pro halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, leading graduate of the Yale Law School in 1946, decorated naval intelligence officer in World War II, leading Denver attorney, and deputy attorney general for the United States. White is a member of the NFL Hall-of-Fame, the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall-of-Fame, the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame, and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1998, he was the first inductee into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame.

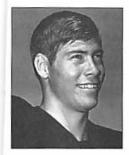

#67 JOE ROMIG

Romig, a two-time All-American selection, is a member of the Big Eight Hall-of-Fame and the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. Now a senior research associate in radio physics in Boulder, Romig was the Buffs' 1961 team captain and the United Press International Lineman of the year. Romig had no peers as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle linebacker position behind a four-man line. Fast and strong, he was consistently in on most of CU's tackles.

Offensively, Romig developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Like White, he was an inspirational leader gifted with extraordinary physical and mental abilities.

Romig was a tremendous student, logging straight A's in his last six semesters and building a 3.9 grade-point average. He was also a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Scholar. A Rhodes Scholar, Joe received his master's degree in physics at Oxford University in England and a doctorate in physics at Colorado in 1975. He is a member of the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he was part of the second class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame.

#11 BOBBY ANDERSON

Anderson set 18 single-game, single-season and career marks during his three-season career with the Buffs along with earning All-Big Eight and All-American honors.

A professional player with Denver (the team's No. 1 draft choice), Washington and New England, Anderson started his CU career as a quarterback but switched to tailback for the third game of his senior season (1969). In his career, he rushed for 2,729 yards and had over 5,000 yards in total offense.

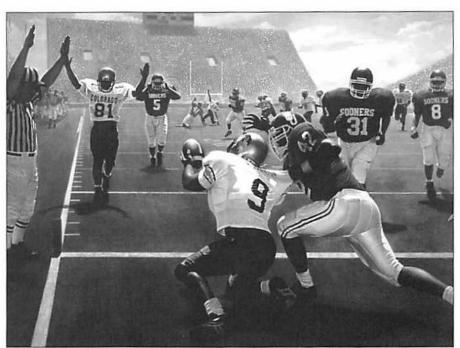

Anderson concluded his Colorado career with a 254-yard rushing effort in the 1969 Liberty Bowl as the Buffs beat Alabama 47-33. He currently is a Denver-area businessman, and has worked over two decades for KOA-Radio handling pre- and post-game shows on the CU Football Network. He is a member of CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he received the prestigious University Medal, awarded to those who have performed outstanding service to or for the University.

THE NATIONAL PLAY-OF-THE-YEAR

In 1992, Nu Skin International and CoSIDA started sponsorship of "The National Play-of-the-Year," honoring the most outstanding play annually in college football. Notre Dame won the inaugural honor in 1992, but the University of Colorado won for both the 1993 and 1994 seasons. Here's a closer look at CU's winning plays:

1993 (October 16; Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10)— Lamont Warren throws a 34-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson on the halfback option play. What made it special? Warren slipped on the slick artificial surface as he threw the ball, and some 40 yards later in the end zone, Johnson made the catch on the ground after he was interfered with. The play defied imagination, and is truly appreciated when looked at in slow motion.

1994 (September 24; Colorado 27, Michigan 26)—Already called college football's play of the decade, this effort also won an Espy from ESPN for the play of the year in all of sports for 1994. As time expired, Kordell Stewart throws a 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, who made the catch after a Blake Anderson deflection. CU had trailed, 26-14, with under four minutes remaining, and trailed by five with 15 seconds left on its own 15-yard line after stopping Michigan on defense.

An artist's conception of CU's 1993 award-winning play.

ALL-TIME LETTERMEN

Throughout the years, various standards have been used to determine who has been awarded letters at CU (as well as at every school ir the nation, as all set their own criteria). From the 1930s until the late 1970s, letters were awarded based on a player seeing action in at least half of the quarters played by CU in a particular season. In recent times, criteria have ranged from a minimum of 100 plays in a season or possessing a special skill (the Bill McCartney Era) to playing at least one snap in at least one game (Rick Neuheisel Era). Under Gary Barnett, the Buffs returned to the criteria that McCartney first instituted. In addition, it has been a standing policy since 1982 to award letters to all seniors in the program, regardless of playing time.

Jersey numbers, heights and weights are generally those listed in CU publications (or other sources) in the player's final letter-winning year. Positions are listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterman played; if more than one position is listed, then that player saw substantial game time at those positions. Hometowns are usually the place from which the player came to CU, followed by the high school and any previous institution, be it a junior or senior college.

There are 1,620 known football lettermen at the University of Colorado, but information prior to 1940 is sketchy at best and thus many holes do exist. The list below was researched and expanded with the help of Colorado athletic historian Fred Casotti in 1999. CU appreciates his invaluable effort; if you have additional information on yourself or someone on this list, please call the Athletic Media Relations Office at 303/492-5626.

That several others also earn letters who are associated with the University of Colorado football program, even though they never dressed for a game? Student equipment managers and trainers who put in as many hours as the players also earn varsity letters for their efforts. Perhaps the most famous letterman at CU in this category is Steve Hatchell, the former commissioner of the Big 12 Conference. Hatchell earned four letters as a student manager in the 1960s, which back then included duties such as scout team quarterback, film coordinator and caring for the grass fields. After graduating from CU with a journalism degree, he went on to work full-time in the athletic department, first in the equipment office and then as co-sports information director. His travels took him to Colorado State (SID), the Big Eight Conference (assistant commissioner) and the Orange Bowl (executive director). Prior to his service as Big 12 commissioner, he was the commissioner of the Southwest Athletic Conference.

Leon White, 1977

Leon White, 1994

Leon White has a flair for the unique. He is believed to be the only person in Big Eight history (and one of just a handful nationally) to have lettered at three different positions since players stopped performing on both sides of the ball (which ended in the early 1960s). Leon lettered at offensive guard in 1974, at offensive tackle in 1975 and at center in 1977, earning all-America honors as a senior. Leon now makes his living as a professional wrestler, best known as the "Baby Bull" and "Vader," and resides in Boulder.

MINISTER ALL-CENTURY TEAM AND LESS

The University of Colorado selected an "All-Century Football Team," as public balloting in 1989 tabbed 11 All-Americans among the top 25 selected to the 100-year squad.

Over 6,200 ballots were received in the public selection process, with over 150,000 votes cast from those ballots. Former CU players pared a list of 881 lettermen down to 118, which were in turn presented to the public for the final team selection.

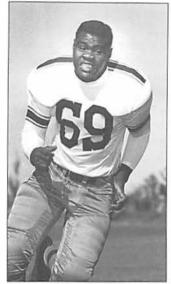

Byron "Whizzer" White, the U.S. Supreme Court Justice who was CU's first All-American (1937), received 5,812 of a possible 6,265 votes. Bobby Anderson, who starred at both quarterback and tailback between 1967 and 1969, was the second leading vote-getter with 5,636, and two-way-star Joe Romig, who led CU to its first outright Big Eight Championship in 1961, was third with 5,145. White (#24), Anderson (#11) and Romig (#67) are the only Buffs to ever have their numbers retired.

One other player topped the 5,000 vote mark, as flashy Cliff Branch, whose name still frequently appears in the CU record book and who played a big part in the Buffs' No. 3 national ranking of 1971, captured 5,111 votes. The player with the fifth most votes, 3,989, was the only active Buff at the time to make the top 25, tailback Eric Bieniemy (a junior in 1989).

Joining White, Anderson and Romig as All-Americans on the century squad were Dick Anderson (67), Pete Brock ('75), Mark Haynes ('79), Dave Logan ('75), Herb Orvis ('71) and Bob Stransky ('57).

Four players in the early years of CU football made the team, led by Walt Franklin, who played center and end between 1917 and 1921. Back Lee Willard ('21), Judge Hatfield Chilson ('25) and guard Bill McGlone ('26) round out the quartet which represents the formative seasons of CU football, when the team was known as the "Silver and Gold."

Other familiar names on the team include Hale Irwin, who starred at defensive back in the mid-60's but gained his fame on the PGA Tour; John Stearns, another pivotal player of the 1971 team who went on to be a star catcher with the New York Mets; Dave Logan, a veteran of 10-plus NFL seasons and current sportstalk celebrity in Denver; Carroll

John Stearns

Hardy, who played in the early 1950's and is the only man ever to pinchhit for Ted Williams; and John Wooten, one of the first African-American players at CU who has spent several years in the scouting departments of the NFL Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles.

Listed below are the 25 members of the University of Colorado All-Century (1890-1989) Football Team, selected by lettermen and the public over a three-month voting period. Another 28 players were selected to an honorable mention team:

COLORADO ATHLETIC HALL-OF-FAME

The University of Colorado started an Athletic Hall-of-Fame in 1998, initiating the process by inducting one member, the honorable Justice Byron R. "Whizzer" White. Four more members were presented for induction in 1999.

In conjunction with the Hall-of-Fame, CU also utilizes the gala to honor athletes who have been standout performers. In two years, 24 such athletes have had their jerseys, and thus careers, honored and recognized. Twenty met the automatic criteria to be honored in 1998 (three-time all-conference selection, two-time All-American, trophy winner and/or previously retired jersey).

All Hall-of-Fame members and those athletes who have been honored are recognized with a display case in the Dal Ward Athletic Center on the CU-Boulder campus.

Carroll Hardy

Two-Sport Star

CU's Carroll Hardy is one of just a handful of athletes who played both professional football and one other professional sport. He played one year with the San Francisco 49ers (1955), catching 12 passes for 338 yards (28.2 average) and four touchdowns in 10 games. He went on to play eight different seasons in the major leagues, with Cleveland (1958-60), Boston (AL, 1960-62), Houston (1963-64) and Minnesota (1967). Hardy became best known for being the only man to ever pinch-hit for Ted Williams.

Jim Kelleher

Colorado's "Mr. Irrelevants"

Colorado remains the only school in the nation to "boast" about having two "Mr. Irrelevants." Begun in 1976, the honor is bestowed on the last selection of the annual National Football League draft. In 1977, the Minnesota Vikings made fullback Jim Kelleher the last pick of the draft, and in 1984, the Los Angeles Raiders selected quarterback Randy Essington to close the books on that year's proceedings.

Dave Logan

Three-Sport Star

CU's Dave Logan enjoyed a nine-year career in the NFL, spending eight seasons with the Cleveland Browns and his final year with the Denver Broncos. He caught 263 passes for 4,250 yards (a 16.2 average) and 24 touchdowns. Logan might just be the only athlete ever drafted in three sports. A third round pick of the Browns in 1976, Logan was also drafted by Kansas City in the ninth round of the 1976 NBA draft (forward), and was drafted as a shortstop in the 19th round out of high school by the Cincinnati Reds in the June 1972 Major League Baseball draft. He lettered in football and basketball at Colorado.

Randy Essington

Dick Anderson

Other Tidbits

Colorado has had its share of flurries in the NFL Draft. In the 1995 draft, seven CU players were selected among the first 71 picks, believed to be the most ever from one school in the first 75 picks of any NFL Draft . . . In the 1991 draft, six Buffs were selected in the first 69 picks of the draft, and in 1976, six were picked in the first 72 . . . In the 1977 draft, five Buffs were selected in the second round, and within 18 picks of each other . . . Colorado had 58 players drafted in the last decade (1991-2000 drafts), the second most in the nation ... On four occasions, Buffaloes have been selected back-to-back: in 1968, 1976 (twice) and in 1993; in '76 and '93, it happened in the first round . . . Colorado had at least one player selected in the first round in three consecutive years (1993-94-95), and had players picked in the first round five times in the 1990s . . . A real unique quirk came in 1996, when CU had five of its seven seniors selected. with a sixth signing as a free agent . . . A couple of Colorado football lettermen, Bob Frederic ('45) and Alabama Glass ('53) were long-time officials in the National Football League . . . Dick Anderson ('67) was the Defensive Most Valuable Player in the NFL in 1973 . . . Rashaan Salaam ('94) was selected as the Rookie-of-the-Year in the NFC for 1995.

COLORADO BOWL HISTORY

1938 COTTON BOWL

Jan. 1, 1938 at Dallas, Texas

Rice 28 Colorado 14

In Colorado's first bowl appearance ever, the Buffaloes fell short to Rice 28-14, in the second annual Cotton Bowl. Other than the Rose Bowl, which began in 1902, bowls were relatively new in college football, as the Orange and Sugar came on the scene in 1935 and then the Cotton in 1937, with those four games considered the cream of the crop for the next 50 years.

The Buffs, champions of the Rocky Mountain Conference with an 8-0 overall record, were heavy underdogs ("4 to 1" according to newspaper articles at the time) to the Southwest Conference champion Owls, who entered the game with a 5-3-2 mark, but 5-1-1 down the stretch of the season.

It was a one-man show for both teams, as All-Americans Byron "Whizzer" White (Colorado) and Ernie Lain (Rice) dominated for their respective squads. White was involved in both Colorado scores and Lain in all four Owl touchdowns.

CU sprinted to a 14-0 advantage in the first quarter, when White threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Joe Antonio for the first TD, and then returned an interception 47 yards for a score five minutes later. Rice battled back and scored 21 second-quarter points to take a 21-14 lead at the half. Lain threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score.

The Owls, also called the "Feathered Flock" at the time, added the game's final score in the middle of the third quarter when Frank Steen caught an 11-yard pass from Lain. One of the major differences in the game came down to offensive style, as the passing game was much further along in the southwest and it showed in the statistics, as Rice had 158 yards passing as compared to just eight for Colorado.

Still, accounts at the time in the newspapers in both Colorado and Texas praised the CU effort, and Buff coach Bunnie Oakes blamed the outcome on CU's quick start. He told the team and reporters that things might have turned out differently had CU not gone up 14-0 and then relaxed, figuring it was easy to score. But Rice's only two turnovers had set up both Colorado scores, and the Owls didn't punt until their first series of the second half.

Lain and White were both named the outstanding players of the game.

Colorado 27 Clemson 21

Big Seven runner-up Colorado stormed out of the chute and had Atlantic Coast champion Clemson down 20-0 at the half as 72,552 fans yawned and went for refreshments at the 23rd Orange Bowl Classic.

But a lot of those drinks were spilled in the second half as Clemson rallied to take a 21-20 lead in the final period before the resurgent Buffs buckled up and drove for the winning score to take their first bowl triumph in history by a 27-21 score.

Fumbles, eight of them, three lost to Clemson, were a nemesis Colorado managed to overcome in the school's first national television appearance in history. One at the goal line at the end of the first half perhaps prevented CU being able to put the game away, and one on its own 27 with three minutes remaining in the game gave the Tigers one last shot to pull out the win.

Dal Ward's Buffaloes got first half touchdowns from John Bayuk, Howard Cook and Boyd Dowler to take the seemingly safe 20-point halftime lead. But Frank Howard's Tigers roared back to go ahead by 21-20 with 11:12 left in the game on a one-yard run by fullback Bob Spooner.

But the Buffs sucked it up and drove 53 yards for the winning score after a Clemson onside kick attempt following the score had failed. Eddie Dove carried four times and Bayuk three in the drive, with Bayuk getting the TD from the one-yard line with 7:13 left to play. Ellwin Indorf's kick gave CU what proved to be the winning margin.

With less than three minutes to go and facing a 2nd-and-9 on the Buff 26, Clemson's Charlie Bussey was intercepted at the 17 by Bob Stransky, nailing down the decision for the Buffs.

Louisiana State 25 Colorado 7

Jittery Big Eight champion Colorado was out-classed by Louisiana State's smooth football hordes, and the Buffaloes lost a 25-7 decision in the 28th Orange Bowl Classic before 62,391 onlookers.

Coach Paul Dietzel's Southeast Conference champions built up a 5-0 first quarter lead on field goal and a safety scored when Gary Kinchen blocked a Charlie McBride punt out of the end zone. Colorado came back to grab a 7-5 lead on Buff defender Loren Schweninger's 59-yard pass interception return for a score early in the second quarter.

But the Tigers then methodically dismantled the Buffaloes, and though down by only four at halftime, one had the feeling that the struggling CU offense might not be able to get going in the second half. Colorado had only three plays, for as many yards, in the first quarter, and ran just 17 for 48 in the first half.

LSU took the lead for good in the second quarter, marching 82 yards for the score with Chuck Crawford going in from the one with 8:57 left in the first half to give the Tigers an 11-7 margin that held until the half. The Tigers scored twice quickly in the third quarter to put the game away, going 43 yards after a poor 18-yard punt and blocking another McBride punt for a touchdown just as the period ended.

Sonny Grandelius' Buffs managed only 129 yards in total offense against the LSU "Chinese Bandit" defense, while the

1967 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Dec. 31, 1967 at Houston, Texas

Colorado 31 Miami, Fla. 21

Sophomore quarterback Bobby Anderson ignored a painful ankle injury and ignited Colorado's 31-21 victory over Miami, Fla. at Rice Stadium in the 9th annual Bluebonnet Bowl.

One of the more entertaining games of the '67 bowl season, there were five lead changes and neither team had a two-score lead until Wilmer Cooks put the game away with a 2-yard touchdown run with just 62 seconds to play.

Anderson, the 19-year-old Boulder-bred signal caller, led the Buffaloes on an 80-yard TD march in the third period to give the Herd a 17-14 lead. Then, after the Hurricanes recaptured the lead on the first play of the fourth quarter, Anderson sped 38 yards for a touchdown with 6:55 left in the game to put CU back ahead by 24-21. Anderson then took the Buffs 34 yards for the clinching score with 1:02 to play (Cooks' run) after Isaac Howard had picked off a Miami pass at the Hurricane 43-yard line and returned it nine yards...

The Buffs opened the scoring on a 7-yard run by Larry Plantz with just under five minutes left in the first quarter, as it took CU just two plays to capitalize on a Miami fumble. The Hurricanes answered that score on their next possession, and then took a 14-7 lead on a 77-yard interception return for a touchdown by Jimmy Dye.

Anderson was the complete player in winning game MVP honors, running for 108 yards on 17 carries, scoring two touchdowns, and completing 5-of-10 passes for 49 yards. Oddly, Anderson did not start the game, giving way to fleet Dan Kelly because of his bothersome ankle. Bobby entered the game in the second period after Miami went in front.

1969 LIBERTY BOWL

Dec. 13, 1969 at Memphis, Tenn.

Colorado 47 Alabama 33

All-American tailback Bobby Anderson and his herd of Bison stampeded into Memphis and outslugged Alabama, 47-33, before 50,042 fans and a nationwide television audience in the 11th annual Liberty Bowl.

The 80 combined points by the teams marked the most ever scored In a major bowl game, and the second most at the time in any NCAA postseason game, surpassed only by the 91 points scored in the 1968 Tangerine Bowl (a 49-42 Richmond win over Ohio U.).

Anderson, a bullish 6-0, 208-pounder, capped his All-America campaign by rushing for a Liberty Bowl record 254 yards and scoring three touchdowns. It gave him a total of 5,017 yards in total offense for his career and enabled him to become the first Big Eight player ever to hit the 5,000-yard mark for a career, including bowl games.

Fullback Ward Walsh scored twice on short runs, Dave Haney kicked a 30-yard field goal, Anderson scored from the two, and Steve Engel and Bob Masten collaborated on a 91yard kickoff return as CU stormed to a 31-19 halftime lead. The Crimson Tide rallied to take a 33-31 lead with two third quarter touchdowns, but CU blitzed 'Bama for 16 unanswered points in the final stanza to post the win.

Defensively, the Buffaloes harassed two Tide quarterbacks all afternoon, posting eight sacks, several knockdowns and seven pass deflections. End Bill Brundige was in on five sacks for 41 yards in losses.

It was the only match up between college coaching legends, as Eddie Crowder's Buffaloes prevailed over Paul "Bear" Bryant's Crimson Tide. It was a classic, as 'Bama

A total of 16 new Liberty bowl records were set in the long and exciting afternoon in Memphis Memorial Stadium before the ABC-TV cameras.

Tulane 17 Colorado 3

Hungry Tulane ruined Colorado's return to the Liberty Bowl and the Green Wave walked off with a stunning 17-3 upset of the Buffs as 44,640 fans shivered in the cold at the 12th annual event at Memphis Memorial Stadium.

Colorado, playing without injured quarterback Jim Bratten, and going with sophomore Paul Arendt, mounted little offense and fell to the emotional Tulane effort. CU had come into the game with just a 6-4 record, but had upset powers Penn State and Sugar Bowl-bound Air Force during the season. Tulane used the win to improve to 8-4 on the year and added CU to the list of impressive teams it had beaten, including Georgia, Illinois, North Carolina and Miami, Fla.

CU's only points came on a 32-yard second quarter field goal from Dave Haney as the Buffs managed only 175 yards in total offense after leading the Big Eight with a per-game average of almost 425 yards. Tulane's David Abercrombie returned a second half kickoff 66 yards and scored himself on runs of two and four yards to cap drives that broke a 3-3 halftime tie and sent Tulane to its eighth win of the year. Linebacker Rick Kingrea set up the second tally with a 44-yard interception return off Arendt in the Colorado sophomore tailback Charlie Davis returned to his hometown and ripped host Houston for a whopping 202 yards on 37 carries as the Buffs whipped the Cougars, 29-17, in the 13th annual Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Classic at the Astrodome.

Davis scored twice and was a one-man show in the first half. CU took a 23-14 lead into the dressing rooms. CU marched 70 yards in nine plays on the games first possession, and thanks to a 27-yard run by Davis, took a 7-0 lead less than four minutes into the game. After a pair of Robert Newhouse runs spotted Houston a 14-7 after the first quarter, but CU answered with a 16-point second quarter. A touchdown pass of five yards from Ken Johnson to Larry Brunson, a 32-yard field goal by J. B. Dean, and another TD run by Davis enabled the Buffs to take the nine-point half-time lead.

Houston, behind the running of Newhouse, roared back to narrow the margin to 23-17 with 2:16 left in the third quarter as Mike Terrell kicked a 29-yard field goal. Newhouse, who lost out to Davis for the game's MVP Award, had 168 yards on 35 carries and also scored twice.

Safety John Stearns was a Colorado hero in the fourth period, making the gutsiest fourth down play in school history. On a fourth-and-9 from the Buff 10, he surprised everyone, including the Buff coaching staff, by sprinting 12 yards for a crucial first down after Houston had turned the momentum around and narrowed the margin to just a touchdown on the Terrell field goal. Stearns then knocked down a sure TD pass on fourth down with the Cougars at the CU nine. The Buffs turned that one around and marched for the clinching tally with 3:48 left in the game.

CU finished the season with a 10-2 mark, its only setbacks coming at the hands of national champion Nebraska and to No. 2 Oklahoma. In the Associated Press poll. the Buffs rose to No. 3 in the final balloting with the victory over No. 15 Houston (9-3), marking the first and only time one conference had three schools finish 1-2-3.

1972 GATOR BOWL

Dec. 30, 1972 at Jacksonville, Fla.

Auburn 24 Colorado 3

Auburn, an 11-point underdog to Colorado, took comnand in the second period and went on to beat the Buffs, 24-3, in the 28th Gator Bowl Classic before 71,114 fans.

It was 17-0 in favor of the Tigers before CU got on the poard with just 7:31 left in the game on a Freddie Lima field goal. Auburn shut off the fearsome Colorado rushing attack, imiting the Buffs to just 63 yards in 29 attempts and forced CU quarterback Ken Johnson to the air.

Auburn, sixth-ranked in the nation, took it to Colorado by capitalizing on two CU fumbles and two pass thefts. Iohnson, who had directed No. 13 Colorado to an 8-3 regular season coming into the game, hit on 17 of 29 passes for 169 yards, but the Buff running game was shut down.

Garner Jett's 27-yard field goal and a fumble recovery at the Colorado 16-yard line a minute later led to the 10-0 half-time lead for Auburn. Then, in the second half, wingback Mike Fuller hit tight end Rob Spivey with a 22-yard TD pass late in the third quarter. Holder Dave Beck threw a 16-yard TD pass off a fake field goal to Dan Nugent with just 1:10 left in the game to ice the win.

The Tigers managed only 233 yards on the afternoon, including only 153 on 58 rushing attempts, or just 2.6 per attempt, as the CU defense had 11 tackles for losses totaling 36 yards. But largely due to the turnovers, Auburn's four scoring drives consumed a grand total of only 116 yards.

Auburn finished 10-1 and moved up to a number five ranking for the season.

1975 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Dec. 27, 1975 at Houston, Texas

Texas 38 Colorado 21

Colorado rolled up a commanding 21-7 halftime lead over Texas, then kicked it away as the Longhorns rallied to a 38-21 win in the 17th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in the Houston Astrodome before 52.748.

In the first half, Colorado built up sizeable advantages in first downs (16-5), total yards (225-89), total plays (48-20) and time of possession (20:50-9:10) in building the 21-7 edge. After overcoming Texas returning the opening kickoff to the CU 14, when Russell Erxleben's 25-yard field goal was low into the line, CU fullback Terry Kunz scored on a one-yard dive with 2:29 left in the first quarter for a 7-0 lead. Quarterback David Williams threw a four-yard TD pass to Dave Logan with 12:42 left in the second period, then added a 25-yard scoring aerial to huge end Don Hasselbeck with 0:24 left in the half to provide the two touchdown margin.

But Kunz opened the second half with a costly fumble at the Buff 34 and Texas halfback Jimmy Walker scored eight plays later to make it 21-13, though CU blocked the extra point. UT end Tim Campbell blocked a CU punt a minute later and roared 25 yards for the touchdown, with a two-point conversion pass from quarterback Marty Akins to full-back Earl Campbell tying the game at 21-21 with 10:56 left in the third quarter.

Erxleben booted an NCAA bowl record 55-yard field goal with 6:25 left in the third period to give the Longhorns a 24-

Despite 59 points being put on the score-board, the game really wasn't an offensive showcase. The Buffs outgained Texas by 294-237, but CU struggled on offense in the second half, gaining only 69 yards.

1977 ORANGE BOWL

Jan. 1, 1977 at Miami, Fla.

Ohio State 27 Colorado 10

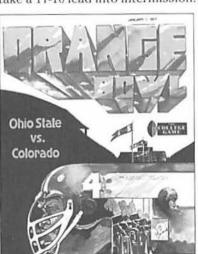

Colorado returned to the Orange Bowl as Big Eight tri-:hampions for the first time since 1961, but Ohio State's lefense and an injury to CU middle guard Charlie Johnson in he first half killed CU's chances in a 27-10 Buckeye win pefore 65,537.

The Buffs got the Orange Bowl nod over Oklahoma and Oklahoma State by virtue of their wins over both schools as all finished with 5-2 league records. CU came into the game anked No.12, while Ohio State, the Big 10 runner-up, was 8-2-1 and ranked No. 11.

Colorado opened with a bang, getting ahead 10-0 in the first quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Mark Zetterberg with 5:56 elapsed, then a touchdown pass of 11 yards from sophomore quarterback Jeff Knapple to wingback Emery Moorehead with 3:43 left. At that point, CU held a 114-to minus 7 edge in total offense and had run 19 plays to just 6 for OSU. But Johnson, who had a quarterback sack and a pass pressure in those six plays, went down with a broken ankle. Ohio State coach Woody Hayes substituted fleet Rod Gerald at quarterback for a harassed Tom Pacenta and the Buckeye offense came alive in the second quarter.

OSU tailback Jeff Logan rambled for a 36-yard touchdown up the middle as the first period came to an end, then the Buckeyes tied it on a 28-yard field goal by Tom Skladany with 9:29 left in the half.

Ohio State engineered a 99-yard drive, capped by fullback Pete Johnson's three-yard run, with 0:20 left in the half to take a 17-10 lead into intermission. That advantage stood up until Skladany added another 20-yard field goal with 2:30 left in the third quarter to make it 20-10 in favor of OSU.

The Buffs could not do anything offensively in the second half, and a pass interception at the Colorado 28 with 3:08 left led to the final Ohio State touchdown and the winning margin of 27-10.

1985 FREEDOM BOWL

Dec. 30, 1985 at Anaheim, Calif.

Washington 20 Colorado 17

Washington staved off a pair of late Colorado rallies and held on to defeat the Buffaloes, 20-17, in the second annual Freedom Bowl at Anaheim Stadium.

It was a close game throughout, as neither team ever held a two-score advantage. Washington took a 3-0 lead late in the first quarter on a 30-yard field goal by Jeff Jaeger. The Buffs came back to take what would be their only lead of the night early in the second quarter. Fullback Anthony Weatherspoon scored from a yard out and Larry Eckel added the point after to give CU a 7-3 edge with 5:59 remaining in the first half. The Huskies' David Toy scored on a three-yard run with only 30 seconds left in the first half to put Washington up 10-7 at intermission, capping a 14-play, 80 yard drive engineering by quarterback Chris Chandler.

Eckel tied the score at 10-10 with a 33-yard field goal with 8:41 left in the third quarter, but Washington countered three minutes later with a one-yard scoring run by Tony Covington for a 17-10 lead. Jaeger added an 18-yard field goal three seconds into the fourth quarter to make it 20-10.

All-American punter Barry Helton threw out of punt formation to Jon Embree for a dazzling 31-yard touchdown pass and Eckel added the extra point with 11:05 to go to pull CU to within three. The Buffs would get no closer, but had the ball at inside the Husky 10 in the final five minutes. Halfback Mike Marquez fumbled the ball at the two ending the drive, although television replays indicated the ground may have caused the fumble.

The game capped CU's turnaround season, as the Buffs went from 1-10 the previous year to 7-5 and captured the NCAA's most-improved team honor.

Marquez led the Buffs with 80 yards on carries. while Chandler led the Huskies with 72 yards on seven tries. It was a defensive game, with each team committing just a single turnover. but Washington was penalized 13 times for yards on the evening.

Baylor 21 Colorado 9

Baylor turned two Colorado turnovers into touchdowns d then thwarted two Buff scoring threats in the fourth arter as the Bears defeated CU, 21-9, before 40,470 in endance at Rice Stadium in the 28th Bluebonnet Bowl.

It was CU's fourth appearance in the Houston-based me, with its last two games here played indoors in the trodome (1971 and 1975). As in 1967, this one was played tdoors on natural grass.

Baylor drew first blood with 3:34 left in the first quarter on one-yard plunge by Derrick McAdoo on a fourth-and-goal ay. Colorado countered two drives later with a 36-yard dld goal by Dave DeLine to slice the lead to 7-3 early in the cond stanza. But the Buffs turned the ball over on their vn eight and it took Baylor three plays to score to extend e lead to 14-3, which stood at intermission. Cody Carlson poked up with Darnell Chase on a 2-yard pass play for e score.

CU turned the ball over on its second play from scrimage in the second half and McAdoo scored again from a ard out to put Baylor up 21-3. The Buffs finally put six on the bard late in the quarter on a 31-yard touchdown run by ark Hatcher, but CU couldn't convert the two and score emained 21-9 in favor of the Bears.

The Buffs twice had the ball deep in Baylor territory in the burth quarter, but the Bear defense held, as CU couldn't convert either time on fourth down. In a game dominated by efense, Baylor outgained Colorado 279-194. Each team had 2 first downs, and the Buff defense held the Bears to over 200 yards under its per-game average for the season.

The running game, CU's bread-and-butter the last two seasons, was held in check by a ferocious Bear defense. Baylor had 14 tackles for loss in holding Colorado to just 83 rushing yards on 47 attempts. CU's running defense wasn't too shabby either, as Baylor netted just 114 yards on 43 tries.

1988 FREEDOM BOWL

Dec. 29, 1988 at Anaheim, Calif.

Brigham Young 20 Colorado 17

Brigham Young's only lead of the game came when it counted the most, as Jason Chaffetz' 35-yard field goal with 2:33 remaining in the fourth quarter rallied the Cougars to a 20-17 win over Colorado in the fifth annual Freedom Bowl.

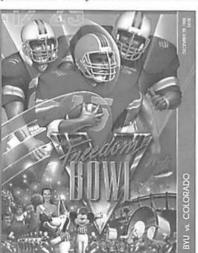

The Buffs turned a BYU turnover into seven points just two-and-one-half minutes into the game, as Eric Bieniemy scored from one vard out to cap a six-play, 49-yard drive. Pat Blottiaux's PAT kick put CU up 7-0, but the Cougars tied the score some seven minutes later on a 19-vard touchdown pass from Sean Covey to Mike Salido.

Bieniemy's second touchdown of the game, also from a yard out, enabled CU to forge ahead 14-7 with 1:04 left in the half, with the margin standing at halftime.

The Buffs couldn't convert on several scoring opportunities in the second half, and twice penetrated the BYU 20 and came away with just three points. In the meantime, Ty Detmer's 14-yard scoring strike to Chuck Cutler knotted the score at 14 with 4:46 left in the third quarter. Blottiaux made good on a 19-yard field goal early in the fourth to give CU its last lead (17-14), but Chaffetz countered with a 31-varder before nailing the game winner in the final minutes.

Colorado outgained the Cougars, 337-320, on the evening, but its on mistakes and penalties (nine, the most in CU bowl history), added up to the fifth straight bowl loss by the Buffaloes. Detmer, a sophomore and future Heisman Trophy winner (1990), came off the bench to complete 11 of 17 passes for 129 yards and a touchdown.

Bieniemy rushed for 144 yards and two scores on 33 carries, the second highest rushing performance to date in CU bowl history, and he also led the team in receiving yards in the game with 30. Alfred Williams posted three sacks for 25 vards in losses for the Buffs on defense.

1990 ORANGE BOWL

Jan. 1, 1990 at Miami, Fla.

Notre Dame 21 Colorado 6

Fullback Anthony Johnson's second touchdown run of e game late in the fourth quarter put an end to Colorado's idefeated season and national championship hopes as otre Dame defeated the Buffaloes, 21-6, before a record ,191 in the 56th annual Orange Bowl Classic.

Colorado came into the game with an 11-0 record and s first-ever No. 1 national ranking. The Buffs appeared eaded to the national championship in the first half, as CU ominated the line of scrimmage in gaining 186 yards, but ouldn't convert on three golden scoring opportunities. stead of leading 17-0 or 21-0 at halftime, the Buffs found nemselves in a scoreless deadlock and that thanks to Gary owe's block of a Notre Dame field goal attempt at the termission gun.

The Irish took control of the game in the third quarter, sing a two-yard scoring run by Johnson and a 35-yard ouchdown run on a reverse by Raghib Ismail to take a 14-0 ad midway through the period. Colorado sliced the lead to 4-6 on a spectacular 39-yard run by Darian Hagan to close ne quarter, but the PAT kick sailed wide by Ken Culbertson, eaving the Buffs eight points back.

The CU defense held Notre Dame on its next possession, nd then the Buffs drove to the Irish 44 where its own talled. With 10:27 remaining, there was still plenty of time emaining for the Buffs. But Johnson's second touchdown, a even-yard effort, culminated a mammoth 17-play, 82-yard rive that ate up almost nine minutes on the clock. The Buffs ot the ball back with 1:32 left in the game, and after Mike ritchard returned the Irish kickoff 28 yards to the CU 41, ould not get anything going prior to time running out and lagan was intercepted on the game's final play.

The win enabled Notre Dame to end the year with a 12-1 record and a No. 2 ranking, while CU ended up No. 4 in the polls, as the 11-1 Buffs were inexplicably jumped by a 10-2 Florida State that finished No. 3. Miami, Fla., was selected the national champion.

Jan. 1, 1991 at Miami, Fla.

Colorado 10 Notre Dame

n an Orange Bowl where there was no shortage of heroes for Colorado, the No. 1 Buffaloes toppled No. 5 Notre Dame, 10-9, enabling the school to claim its first-ever national championship in football. CU overcame two key injuries in rallying in the second half for the victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Buffaloes drew first blood on a 22-yard field goal by Jim Harper three minutes into the second quarter. Notre Dame came right back, marching 62 yards in nine plays, with Ricky Watters scoring from two yards out. The score remained at 6-3, however, as CU's Ronnie Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Just prior to halftime, CU lost the services of quarterback Darian Hagan (knee injury) and outside linebacker Kanavis McGhee (shoulder). Both missed the remainder of the game.

Hentrich booted a 24-yard field goal early in the second half to extend the Irish lead to 9-3. Charles S. Johnson took over at quarterback for the Buffs, with Notre Dame stopping CU cold on its first possession of the second half. On the first play of the next Notre Dame drive, Chad Brown forced Watters to fumble, with Paul Rose, subbing for McGhee, making the recovery.

Johnson, his feet now wet, coolly directed the Buffaloes to the go-ahead touchdown. Eric Bieniemy's one-yard touchdown run and Jim Harper's extra point kick late in the third quarter rallied CU into the lead. The Buffalo defense then held Notre Dame in check, as the Irish held on to the ball for only less than four minutes the rest of the game, mustering only 35 yards of total offense after CU went on top.

Colorado's road to the national championship wasn't without a couple of late scares. Notre Dame's Raghib Ismail broke loose on a punt return with less than a minute remaining, appearing to run 91 yards for a score, but CU's Tim James was clipped on the play, nullifying the gain. And with 13 seconds left in the game, the Irish still had a chance, especially with Hentrich's leg. On its own 38, a completion in the 20-25 yard range would have set up a winning field goal attempt, but Deon Figures intercepted the Rick Mirer pass at the Buff 36 and ran out the clock with a 27-vard return.

Bieniemy rushed for a game-high 86 yards on 28 carries.

with Johnson earning the MVP honor, completing five of six passes for 80 yards. Defensively, the Buffs limited the "Golden Domers" to just 264 and yards. Greg Thomas picked off a pair of Mirer passes in Colorado territory. The win, which gave CU an 11-1-1 record for the season, also snapped a seven-game CU bowl-losing streak. Notre Dame finished the year with a 9-3 mark, and finished No. 6 in the nation.

1991 BLOCKBUSTER BOWL

Dec. 28, 1991 at Miami, Fla.

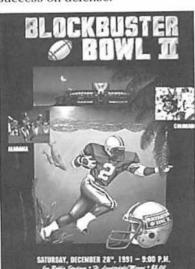

Alabama 30 Colorado 25

Jay Barker threw three touchdown passes and David Palmer scored twice to lead No. 8 and SEC runner-up Alabama to a 30-25 victory over No. 15 and co-Big Eight Champion Colorado in the second annual Blockbuster Bowl.

Palmer scored the game's first points on a 52-yard punt return six minutes into the first quarter. The Buffaloes tied the score at 7-7 late in the quarter on a one-yard run by Scott Phillips, which was set up a Ron Woolfork blocked punt. Ted Johnson tackled Martin Houston in the endzone for a safety early in the second quarter, and then the teams traded field goals to enable CU to take a 12-10 lead at halftime.

Barker hooked up with Siran Stacy for a 13-yard touchdown play in the third quarter, only to see the Buffs come back 18 seconds later on a 62-yard scoring strike from Darian Hagan to Michael Westbrook. Barker added a 12-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Lee later in the quarter to give the Crimson Tide a 23-19 lead after three quarters. Barker and Palmer connected on a five-yard TD pass with 8:10 left in the game to put Alabama ahead 30-19, but the Buffs cut the lead to five on a 13-yard pass from Hagan to Charles Johnson with 3:30 left.

Colorado got the ball back with 1:49 left and drove to the 'Bama 33-yard line before being stopped on a fourth-and-one play with 40 seconds left. Alabama outgained CU, 307-199, running more plays (81-60) and holding on to the ball for 38:10. The game marked the debut of CU's new one-back, pass-oriented offense, which had some success. The change took place in CU's bowl practices and was surprise for the game, but at times it appeared that Alabama had found out somehow in advance because of the Crimson Tide's uncanny success on defense.

Alabama finished the season with an 11-1 mark, along with a final No. 5 ranking, while Colorado followed its first national championship season in 1990 with an 8-3-1 record and a No. 20 final ranking.

1993 FIESTA BOWL

Jan. 1, 1993 at Tempe, Ariz.

Syracuse 26 Colorado 22

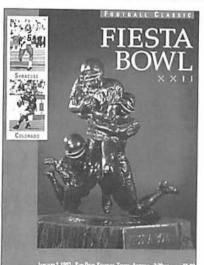

Kirby Dar Dar's 100-yard kickoff return at the end of the third quarter proved to be the winning points as the No. 6 Syracuse Orangemen defeated the No. 10 Colorado Buffaloes, 26-22, in the 22nd annual Fiesta Bowl.

A defensive battle in the first half saw Colorado go into intermission with a 7-6 lead, as the teams combined for just 226 total yards. A pair of John Biskup field goals saw the Orangemen take a 6-0 lead, but with 10 seconds left in the half, Kordell Stewart threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Sean Embree on fourth down, with Mitch Berger's PAT kick giving CU the slim one-point lead at the half.

The third quarter proved to be both pivotal and wild, with 29 points scored in just over a six-minute span. David Walker's 13-yard run with 6:22 left in the quarter put Syracuse back on top, 12-7, with a two-point conversion pass falling incomplete.

Berger nailed a 38-yard field goal on CU's next possession to cut the lead to 12-10, but the 'Cuse went back up 19-10 on a spectacular 28-yard run by quarterback Marvin Graves. Stewart led the Buffs on an 82-yard drive in just over a minute, completing the march with a 16-yard TD pass to Charles Johnson, but Berger missed the point after on the slick Arizona State Stadium surface and the score stood at 19-16. The stadium floor had problems due to too many games being played on it, between the home school, ASU, the NFL Phoenix Cardinals and high school playoffs.

Dar Dar performed his heroics on the next kickoff, rambling 100 yards as time expired in the quarter. Lamont Warren scored the day's final points on a six-yard run late in the game, with Berger again missing the PAT try. The Buffs got the ball back in the final minute, but could not muster a scoring drive.

The Buffaloes outgained the Orangemen, 370-265, including a 217-64 edge in the passing game. Syracuse neutralized the CU offensive attack by netting 178 yards on kick-off returns.

1993 ALOHA BOWL

Colorado 41 Fresno State 30

Rashaan Salaam rushed for 135 yards and three touchdowns to lead the No. 17 Colorado Buffaloes to a convincing 41-30 victory over the No. 24 Fresno State Bulldogs in the 12th annual Aloha Bowl.

The Buffs zoomed to a 17-0 lead, scoring on their first three possessions of the game. Salaam and James Hill scored on short touchdown runs, sandwiched around a Mitch Berger field goal, as CU went up 17-0 with 9:18 left in the half. After trading field goals, Fresno State pulled as close as it would get at intermission on a fluke play. Berger's squib kickoff was first fumbled by the Bulldogs' Jamie Christian, then recovered by Malcolm Seabron and returned 68 yards for a touchdown. The play pulled FSU to within 20-10 at halftime.

Salaam sprinted into the endzone from 40 yards out early in the second half, putting the daylight back into the CU lead (27-10). Fresno never got closer than 10 the remainder of the game, as Colorado was seemingly always in control, but could never put the game fully out of reach, either. CU ran the ball at will, averaging 6.4 yards per rushing attempt, minus two quarterback sacks. Lamont Warren had 68 yards on just 10 carries, and quarterback Kordell Stewart 50 on only eight tries.

The Buffs held Fresno State to just three rushing yards on the day, but the Bulldogs did put an all-time best of 523 passing yards on the board against CU (though 333 came after CU took the 27-10 lead). Salaam was named Colorado's Most Valuable Player for the game, while Chris Hudson was the game's MVP defense. Hudson had seven tackles, two forced fumbles, two recoveries, a quarterback sack and a pass deflection.

CU, the Big Eight runner-up, climbed to 8-3-1 with the win, while Fresno State. co-champions on the Western Athletic Conference, finished 8-4.

Kordell Stewart amassed 348 yards of total offense and he received plenty of help on both offense and defense as the Colorado Buffaloes easily defeated Notre Dame, 41-24, in the 24th annual Fiesta Bowl.

The game was Bill McCartney's "swan song" as CU head coach, with the win giving him a final record over 13 seasons of 93-55-5, the winningest in Colorado history.

Stewart, named the game's most valuable player, had 268 total yards in the first half alone, when the Buffs built a commanding 31-3 lead with 1:05 remaining. For the game, he rushed seven times for 143 yards and a touchdown and completed 11 of 20 passes for 205 yards and another score.

Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam rushed for 83 yards and three touchdowns, including back-to-back scores in the final five minutes of the first half that helped break the game open.

On defense, the Buffs switched from the 3-4 to the 4-3 for the game, and the result yielded relentless pressure on Irish freshman quarterback Ron Powlus. CU had seven sacks, including three by the defensive MVP in the game, Shannon Clavelle, along with 12 pressures. Butkus Award runner-up Ted Johnson led all players with 20 tackles, with two for losses and an interception.

The Buffs scored on five of their first six possessions, with Stewart the key fixture on each. He had a 29-yard run on CU's first touchdown drive, a 35-yard dash on the second, a 16-yard run and 46-yard pass to James Kidd on the third, and a 12-yard run to the 1-yard line on the fourth. And after Notre Dame had closed to within 31-17 late in the third quarter, Stewart sprinted 41 yards to set up a field goal, and threw a 37-yard pass to Kidd en route to CU's final score.

The Buffs amassed 472 yards on offense in just 23:43 of possession time, playing nearly the perfect game. CU did not commit a turnover and averaged just under eight yards per play in finishing the season with an 11-1 record and No. 3 national ranking. Notre Dame, unranked coming into the game, ended the year at 6-6.

Following the game, Salaam announced that he would forego his senior year and declared himself eligible for the NFL draft. McCartney handed the reins of the program over to new head coach Rick Neuheisel the following morning.

Bill McCartney is carried off the field by his players following his last game, CU's 41-24 Fiesta Bowl win over Notre Dame.

1996 COTTON BOWL

Jan. 1, 1996 at Dallas, Texas

Colorado 38 Oregon 6

John Hessler threw for two touchdowns and ran for another and Herchell Troutman rushed for 100 yards and a score as the No. 7 Colorado Buffaloes rallied from a sluggish start in easily defeating the No. 12 Oregon Ducks, 38-6, in the 50th annual Cotton Bowl.

The Buffs overcame two early turnovers and a long kickoff return, holding the Ducks to just two field goals. The defense clamped down all afternoon on the potent Oregon attack, especially when the Ducks worked into CU territory; Oregon had just the six points in nine penetrations across midfield.

Trailing 6-0, Hessler directed CU on a six-play, 80-yard drive in just 97 seconds, with Hessler running the ball in himself from a yard out on the first play of the second quarter. After the teams exchanged possessions, the Ducks drove to the CU 9, where a Tony Graziani pass was intercepted by freshman Marcus Washington, who then returned the ball 95 yards for the longest interception return for a touchdown in CU bowl history.

Washington's heroics enabled the Buffs to take a 13-6 lead into the lockerroom, as the weather continued to get worse. A light rainfall increased as the game went on, with winds gusting to 20 miles per hour, making the field conditions worsen.

Though the weather was more Oregon-like, it didn't appear to bother Colorado. The Buffaloes broke open the close game in the third quarter with three touchdowns, with a six-yard run by Troutman sandwiched in the middle of two Hessler touchdown passes to Matt Lepsis and Phil Savoy. Troutman ran over right tackle for a 55-yard gain, the longest run ever by a Buff in the postseason, to set up CU's first second-half score.

Troutman was named the game's most valuable player on offense, with Washington garnering the same honor on defense, making six tackles in addition to his interception return.

Colorado owned a 313-258 edge in total offense, but the day belonged to the defense, and Oregon averaged just 3.5 yards per play and was forced into five turnovers. The win enabled Rick Neuheisel's Buffs to finish 10-2 on the season and No. 4 in the nation (USA Today/CNN poll; No. 5 in the Associated Press).

1996 HOLIDAY BOWL

Dec. 30, 1996 at San Diego, Calif.

Colorado 33 Washington 21

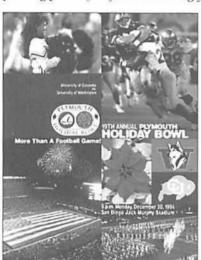

Koy Detmer and Rae Carruth completed their careers in style, rallying No. 8 Colorado from an early two touchdown deficit to defeat No. 13 Washington, 33-21, in the 19th annual Holiday Bowl.

Detmer, who was named the game's offensive most valuable player, hooked up with Carruth on a 76-yard touchdown pass with 2:25 left in the first quarter to get the Buffaloes on the scoreboard. Until that play, the Huskies used a pair of Corey Dillon touchdown runs to build a 14-0 lead, threatening CU's three-game bowl winning streak and a chance at a third straight 10-win season.

Colorado pulled even four minutes into the second quarter, when defensive MVP Nick Ziegler intercepted a Brock Huard pass and returned it 31 yards for the first touchdown of his collegiate career. Washington answered with a Jerome Pathon 86-yard kickoff return for a 21-14 lead, but those would be the last points CU would allow on the night. Darrin Chiaverini tied the score at 21 with a seven-yard TD pass from Detmer, and Jeremy Aldrich's 42-yard field goal gave CU its first lead at 24-21 with 1:50 left in the first half.

CU added nine second half points on a 36-yard Aldrich field goal and a four-yard touchdown pass from Detmer to Carruth. The Buff defense held the Huskies to just 129 yards and seven first downs in the second half, and Washington's only scoring chance resulted in a blocked field goal attempt by Mike Phillips.

Detmer and Carruth respectively set CU bowl records for passing yards (371) and receiving yards (162). The Buffs had a 414-341 edge in total offense in the game, but a 373-204 edge after UW took its 14-0 lead. It was the largest deficit in CU bowl game history in which the Buffs rallied to win, and the fifth largest comeback in NCAA bowl annals.

CU finished 10-2 for second straight season, and earned a final ranking of No. 8 in the nation.

1998 ALOHA BOWL

Dec. 25, 1998 at Honolulu, Hawai'i

Colorado 51 Oregon 43

Ben Kelly set the tone for the day by returning the openng kickoff for a touchdown, as the Colorado Buffaloes built 1 30-point third quarter lead and then held off the No. 21 Dregon Ducks, 51-43, in the 17th annual Aloha Bowl.

Kelly raced 93 yards for a score to start a busy day at Aloha Stadium, as 164 points would be tallied in college football's first-ever bowl doubleheader (Air Force beat Washington, 45-25, in the Oahu Bowl later that afternoon).

Mike Moschetti set a CU bowl record by throwing four touchdown passes in the game, the first coming late in the first quarter after Jeremy Aldrich's 48-yard field goal had given CU a 10-0 lead. Javon Green caught the five-yard toss and the Buffs were up 17-0.

Moschetti, CU's most valuable player in the game, threw scoring passes of 58 yards to Marcus Stiggers and 72 yards to Darrin Chiaverini in the second quarter, as the Buffaloes built a 37-14 halftime edge. Aldrich added a pair of field goals in the quarter, and his three in the game also established a new CU postseason best.

Damen Wheeler gave CU its biggest lead of the day at 44-14 after he raced into the backfield and plucked off an Akili Smith pass and ran 52 yards for a touchdown; he actually swiped the ball while it was traveling backwards, so the play was classified an intercepted pitch. Oregon chipped away at the CU advantage and had cut it to 44-28 early in the fourth quarter, but a 57-yard drive ended by a 20-yard TD pass from Moschetti to Daniel Graham worked the lead back up to 51-28. The Ducks wouldn't give up, adding two more scores to pull to within the final score of 51-43, as the CU defense rose to the occasion the one time Oregon had the ball with a chance to tie the game. The Buff defense forced three incompletions and Hannibal Navies added a 13-yard sack to keep the Ducks at bay.

Oregon outgained CU, 535-397, but the Buffs averaged more vards per play (6.7-6.6), basically scoring at will, and forced the Ducks into six turnovers that led to 23 Colorado points. The win was Colorado's fifth straight in the bowls, giving the Buffs the nation's longest active streak. It would also be the final game for CU head coach Rick Neuheisel, who resigned two weeks later to take over as head coach at Washington.

Colorado scored six first half touchdowns from its offense, defense as well as special teams in building an insurmountable 45-7 lead en route to a 62-28 thrashing of Boston College in the 11th annual Insight.com Bowl, CU's nation-best sixth bowl win in a row.

The Buffaloes took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards in 13 plays, with Cortlen Johnson's 10-yard run capping the drive to give CU a 7-0 lead. Boston College drove to the CU 26 on its first possession, but a 43-yard field goal sailed wide to take some steam out of the Eagles. Quarterback Mike Moschetti then engineered a 12-play, 74-yard drive, and called his own number to score on a 2-yard run and CU led, 14-0, with just 1:47 left in the period.

Then a barrage of returns for touchdowns sealed BC's fate. Thirty seconds and three plays after the Moschetti score, Jashon Sykes intercepted a Tim Hasselbeck pass and returned it 29 yards for a 21-0 lead. A little over four minutes into the second quarter, Rashidi Barnes did the same, stealing a Brian St. Pierre pass and rambling 21 yards into the end zone to make it 28-0. The Buffalo defense stopped the Eagles cold on their next possession, but the elation of a Kevin McMyler 55-yard punt to the CU 12 was short-lived as Ben Kelly raced 88 yards with the ball for a touchdown, the longest in NCAA bowl history, and a 35-0 Colorado lead. After George White intercepted a Moschetti pass and ran it back for a 78-yard score, Johnson added his second touchdown on the day and Jeremy Aldrich the first of two field goals for the 45-7 lead at intermission.

There were a couple of more quirky scores in the second half, as BC recovered its own fumble in the end zone for a score and got its last touchdown on a blocked punt return, but the game was over at halftime.

Johnson ran for 201 yards on just 15 carries, and was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl team. CU set numerous school records and the 62 points were the third most ever scored in any bowl. And by scoring in all four quarters, the Buffs extended another amazing streak, as CU ended the 20th century scoring in 15 consecutive bowl quarters and in 26 of its last 27.

The win also gave CU a final record of 7-5 under first-year coach Gary Barnett, and it was Barnett's first win as a head coach in a bowl in three games (he was 0-2 at Northwestern before coming to Colorado).

SPRING FOOTBALL HISTORY

Spring practice has for the most part ended with a game between the Colorado Varsity and Alumni. Back at the turn of the century, an Alumni team usually served as the season opener for the varsity (13 times all told, with the Varsity owning an 11-0-2 edge in those games). The Varsity held a 20-3 edge in the old format of the spring series, which started back in 1953 under then head coach Dal Ward. After a pair of games, the series became dormant until 1963 when it was revived by Eddie Crowder. There was no game between 1974 and 1976, and the 1978 game was cancelled due to a blizzard.

A new format for the Varsity-Alumni game (implemented in 1988) had the alumni playing in the first and third quarters, with the first team of the varsity playing the second and fourth quarters. They were pitted against the second- and third-team members of the varsity, resulting in a competitive and fun game. The alumni and first-team varsity always wore black. This format was discontinued following 1992 for competitive reasons.

The all-time results of the Varsity-Alumni game:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1953 -	- Varsity, 6-0	2,300	1979 —	Varsity, 31-0	5.277
1954 -	- Varsity, 7-6	1,200		Varsity, 24-14	4,688

1977 —	- Varsity, 43-27	9,000		#Black, 44-7	9,618

^{*-}played in Denver due to stadium expansion

The format for the game in 1993 and 1994 was to pit the firstteam offense and defense against the remainder of the squad. The results of this series:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1993 —	– White, 24-13	2,500	1994 -	– Black, 45-3	1,650

An intrasquad game was started in 1987 and was dubbed th "Black and White Game" (which has evolved into the "Black an Gold" Game). The team is divided by the coaching staff into tw units of equal strength. A look at this series:

Year Score	Year Score	Attenc
1987 — Black, 6-3	1995 — Silver, 20-6	2,60
1988 — White, 7-3	1996 — Gold, 30-20	7,50
1989 — Black, 14-10	1997 — Gold, 14-0	6,10
1990 — White, 14-10	1998 — Silver, 14-3	7,10
1991 — Black, 28-9	1999 — Gold, 13-10	1,40
1992 — Black, 22-19	2000 — Black, 15-6	2.00
1993 — Black, 17-7
1994 — White 14.7

One of the most emotional moments in CU football history came at halftime of the 1989 spring game, when the varsity and alumni saluted cancer-stricken quarterback Sal Aunese (center). Aunese passed away on Sept. 23 later than same year.

MEDIA HISTORY

Throughout the history of University of Colorado athletics, three newspapers (Boulder Camera, Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News) and KOA-Radio have been, year-in and year-out, the ones to turn to for coverage of CU sports. Here is a look at those "beat" people who have covered the Buffaloes during the years:

NOTE: Prior to 1973, as many as four radio stations originated CU football broadcasts. Stations such as KBOL, KLZ and KHOW and personalities like Jim Kithcart, Mark Schreiber, John Henry, Starr Yelland, Bob Martin, Dick Carlson, Don Cole, Mike Wolfe, Fred Casotti, Glenn Perkins, Irv Brown and many more have called the action of CU football.

Television

Stations that have had the rights through the years for broadcasts of CU games and coaches' shows:

1959-1972 1973 1974-1975	KOA-TV (NBC) KLZ-TV (CBS) KBTV (ABC) KLZ-TV (CBS)	KBTV (ABC) KWGN-TV (Independent) KCNC-TV (NBC/CBS)
	KOA-TV (NBC)

^{#-}First-team varsity and alumni wore black jerseys, remainder of varsity white jerseys.

he University of Colorado has been blessed with a fiercely loyal athletic staff through the years, starting right at the top. CU as had only five faculty representatives since the end of World War II and has had but four athletic directors in its history. Not ncluding coaches, 21 people have worked at least 15 years for the athletic department in various capacities. Five have worked ver three decades; athletic director Harry Carlson (38 years), sports information director and assistant/associate athletic irector Fred Casotti (35), equipment manager Silver Akins (34), current associate AD Jon Burianek (33), and business manger/assistant AD Kayo Lam (31). The most famous all-time short stint at CU? That could be Wayne Duke, who was SID for a 'ear (1950) before eventually becoming commissioner of the Big Ten Conference. Here's a look at who's held some of the more otable managerial and support positions in the history of CU athletics:

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

JON BURIANEK

Senior Associate Athletic Director/Facilities Development & Business Affairs

Jon Burianek is in his 33rd year with the CU athletic department, his 18th as the associate athletic director for internal affairs. He was named a senior associate AD on July 1, 1999, with the added responsibility of facilities development to his role.

Burianek, 55, was also CU's athletic ticket manager from 1970 to 1987. He assumed those duties the same year he graduated from Colorado with a degree in chemistry. He is truly one of the athletic department's "home grown" veterans. His first job was a student assistant in the business office while attending CU in the late 1960s. After becoming ticket manager, his duties were expanded in 1979, as he became an assistant athletic director.

In fact, his 33 years of full-time service to the department ranks fourth all-time among non-coaches at the University. CU's first athletic director, Harry Carlson, spent 38 years with the program, followed by sports information director and assistant/associate AD Fred Casotti (35 years) and equipment manager Lee "Silver" Akins (34). In 1984, he was awarded the "Honorary C" for his contributions to CU athletics.

Born Aug. 29, 1945 in Chicago, Ill., Burianek attended Pueblo South High School where he lettered in cross country, track, and golf. Burianek was the tournament manager for the 1985, 1989 and 1996 NCAA West Regionals, hosted by the University and held in Denver, and served in a similar capacity for the 1990 Final Four. He is a past president of the Collegiate Athletic Business Management Association, and has been an officer in the organization since 1985. He is married to the former Nancy Tilden of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The couple have two children, Jason (20, a sophomore receiver on the CU football team) and Elsa (17). The Burianek family resides on a farm on the outskirts of Boulder, and they raise cattle and pigs and participate regularly in stock shows around the region.

JOHN MEADOWS

Senior Associate Athletic Director/ Director of Major Gifts

John Meadows is in his second year as a senior associate athletic director and director of major gifts, joining the Colorado staff on Feb. 1, 1999.

Meadows, 57, was a long-time executive with the Coors Brewing Company. He worked for over 33 years at Coors' main operation in Golden, retiring in 1998 as the director of corporate relations, a position he held since 1984. In that role, he coordinated marketing and promotions, including building local, regional and national relationships with community leaders in a number of cities. He also worked with different local chapters in the area of community relations with organizations such as the Urban League and the National Council of LaRasa.

He was also responsible for setting forth relationships with a variety of colleges and universities around the country, primarily in the markets where Coors had breweries (Colorado, Virginia and Tennessee). He developed corporate contributions and strategies with almost a dozen schools

He started at Coors in 1965 as an iron worker apprentice. He went into brewery administration a year later, and spent a number of years (1966-81) working in employee, labor and industrial relations. He then spent four years (1981-84) as a manager in Coors' corporate relations department, and was named the director of the same area in 1984. In his last four years at Coors, he developed and implemented strategies for Coors in diversity management.

A long-time Boulder resident, Meadows has plenty of ties to CU. H lettered twice in football, playing tight end and defensive end, in 19€ and 1961. A history major, he was a member of CU's 1961 Big Eight chan pionship team that went to the Orange Bowl. He caught three passes for 24 yards in the 25-7 loss to Louisiana State in that game.

Born Jan. 31, 1943 in Detroit, he graduated from Royal Oak Hig School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is marrie to the former Lindalu Parker, a CU graduate, and they have four chidren, Robert, Brooke, Dodge and Sara. He is a board member of th National Council of LaRasa and the Denver Urban League, two community service organizations, and is on the advisory board for th Sportswomen of Colorado and the Women's Sports Foundation.

BOB CHICHESTER

Associate Athletic Director, Academic Affairs & Administration

Bob Chichester is in his second year as CU's associate athletic director for acade mic affairs and administration, officially joining the athletic staff in November, 1998 He is the first to ever occupy the position and oversees initial eligibility, academics and other administrative responsibilities, including departmental contracts.

Chichester, 43, "crossed-over" to athletics from the other side of Boulder campus, where he had worked three years (1996-98) as associate university counsel.

He earned his bachelor's degree in American studies in 1979 from Occidental College, where he lettered twice in basketball (playing guard, center and forward) and twice in golf. He earned his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Colorado in 1984.

Following his graduation from CU, he enlisted in the United States Air Force. He attained the rank of captain and was stationed at both Goodfellow Air Force Base in San Angelo, Texas, and Ramstein AFB in Germany. He was awarded the Air Force achievement and commendation medals.

He returned to the Los Angeles area in 1989 and worked two years as an attorney with the Northrop Corporation, and in 1991, then moved to Cincinnati, where he was an attorney for five years with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Born June 12, 1957 in Inglewood, Calif., he graduated from Polytechnic School in Pasadena, Calif., in 1975, where he lettered in basketball, football, baseball and golf. He is married to the former Phyllis Watson, and enjoys gardening, fishing and water skiing.

CHRIS MAY

Associate Athletic Director/ Marketing & Revenue Development

Chris May is in his second year as the associate athletic director for marketing and revenue development, as he was promoted to the position on July 1, 1999.

He is in his 15th year in the athletic department, as he joined CU as a special assistant to the associate athletic director in September, 1985. He was named promotions director the following June (1986), when he also took over management of the athletic department's executive car club. He was promoted to assistant athletic director for marketing and promotions on July 1, 1990, and spent nine years in that capacity.

He oversees the entire marketing and promotions area, which generates over $2 million annually from radio, television, signage and event sponsorships and sales, licensing and event development. He supervised the purchase of CU's BuffVision video display boards in 1999, hanlling aspects of the $5.2 million project, including the raising of sponorship dollars and donations of equipment to the selection of the loards and mobile truck.

May is also the department liason and operations director for the file High Showdown, the now three-year old series between CU and Colorado State at Mile High Stadium in Denver.

Also included in his duties are working with KCNC-TV and KOA-Radio, CU's official television and radio stations.

May, 37, graduated from Iowa State University with a B.S. degree in narketing in 1985. He lettered twice in cross country and track at Iowa state, running the 800-meters and on the relay teams. He earned his naster's from CU in business administration in August, 1988.

Born March 12, 1963 in Princeton, Ill., he is married to the former loanne Crone. They have two children, Lucy (5) and Jack (3). He attended Muscatine (lowa) High School, where he lettered in cross country, track and basketball.

JEANNIE DIXON

Assistant Athletic Director/ Community Relations

Jeannie Dixon is in her second year as the assistant athletic director for community relations, as she was named to the position on Dec. 14, 1998. She is the first to ever officially hold the position at CU, which is unique to college athletics.

She came to CU from the City and County of Denver Division of Theatres and Arenas, where she was the event manager for Red Rocks, the Denver Coliseum and McNichols Sports Arena. In addition to managing several concerts, she also worked with the U.S. Gymnastics Association and their Olympic Trials. She was in that position for three years, and invested 15 years overall working with community interests in and around Denver.

She also worked five years (1992-96) as the event manager for the Myriad Convention Center in Oklahoma City, Okla., including the 1994 NCAA Midwest Men's Basketball Regional. In Oklahoma, she also worked with the American Lung Association.

She earned her bachelor's degree in education and psychology from Metropolitan State College in Denver in 1975.

Born Dec. 1, 1952 in Oklahoma City, she graduated from Manual High School in Denver in 1970 where she was a member of the gymnastics team as well as a cheerleader. She is married to Lonnie Dixon, a retired master sergeant in the U.S. Air Force and current Division I-A and FIBA men's basketball official. They are the parents of two, Algena and Jelani, who is a member of the CU football team.

ED GOW

Assistant Athletic Director/ Ticketing

Ed Gow is in his second year as CU's assistant athletic director for ticketing, as he was named to the position on June 3, 1999. Gow was no stranger to CU athletics, however, as he worked both as a student assistant and a full-time employee in CU's ticket office during the early 1990s.

Gow, 32, returned to CU from the Delta Center in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he was the director ticket operations for the Larry H. Miller Sports & Entertainment Group, which encompassed all events at the Delta Center, including the National Basketball Association's Utah Jazz and the WNBA's Utah Starzz. He also worked one year with the International Hockey League's Utah Grizzlies.

Gow attended the University of Colorado, majoring in political science and sociology, between 1986 and 1990. While a student, he worked two years in the ticket office, and was named basketball ticket manager in September, 1990. He held that position for two years before being hired by Ascent Entertainment, where he was the manager of ticket operations for the NBA's Denver Nuggets for three seasons and the National Hockey League's Colorado Avalanche for one year before relocating to Utah.

Born June 16, 1968 in Greeley, Colo., he graduated from Greeley Central High School in 1986, where he played basketball and tennis. He is married to the former Andrea Newton.

JOHN KRUEGER

Assistant Athletic Director/ Facilities

John Krueger is in his 15th year as a member of the athletic department, and was promoted to the assistant athletic director for facilities on July 1, 1999. He will continue to oversee CU's athletic facilities and grounds, as he assumed that position on Aug. 1, 1986.

Krueger, 36, is responsible for all maintenance and scheduling for all facilities and grounds, as well as set-up procedures for athletic and special events. He also is the liaison for events such as the Bolder Boulder, the Fourth of July Fireworks and numerous concerts and graduations. As a student at CU, he worked four years under the facilities director, first working for Mark Simpson as a freshman in 1982.

He was born Oct. 11, 1963 in Oak Park, Ill. He graduated from Lyons Township High School (LaGrange, Ill.) in 1981, and graduated from CU in 1986 with a B.S. degree in Economics. A caddy for six years, he attended CU on a prestigious Evans Scholarship. He married Colleen Reilly, CU associate sports information director this past July.

KAREN MORRISON

Assistant Athletic Director/ Compliance & SWA

Karen Morrison is in her fourth year as the assistant athletic director for compliance at the University of Colorado, and her 11th year overall associated with the CU athletic program. In 1998, she was also named CU's Senior Woman Administrator.

In her position, she monitors eligibility certification, academic satisfactory progress and the jobs program, as well as monitoring and enforcement of NCAA, Big 12 Conference and University rules.

Morrison, 39, was appointed to the position in March, 1997, after working as the assistant compliance coordinator since April, 1996. Prior to that, she was an assistant coach for six seasons for Ceal Barry and the CU women's basketball team. She was on the staff of five Big Eight champion teams (regular or postseason), and played a major role in the Buffs securing four top 20 recruiting classes and handled scheduling chores.

She also was an instructor in kinesiology for two years on the CU campus (1989-91), and worked for two years as an attorney with the Fort Collins law firm of Frey, Lach & Michaels, P.C.

She is the newest member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Selection Committee, being placed on the 12-member working board starting for the 2000-01 season.

Born Jan. 13, 1961, in Tulsa, Okla., she graduated from the University of Oklahoma with honors, earning a B.A. degree in management in 1983. She earned her Juris Doctorate in 1987 from the University of Notre Dame School of Law. At Oklahoma, she was on academic and athletic scholarship and was a member of the women's basketball team.

MARK NELSON

Assistant Athletic Director/ Academic Support Services

Mark Nelson is in his first year as the assistant athletic director for academic support services, as he joined the Colorado staff on May 30, 2000. He oversees all aspects of the academic needs of CU's 300-plus student-athletes.

Nelson, 36, came to CU from Utah State University, where he had spent five years as the Aggies' assistant athletic director for student services. He accepted the position under very difficult circumstances, as it had been vacant for nearly a year and he had to reorganize it from practically square one. Prior to his position at USU, he worked three years as the academic advisor at Muskingum College, a Division III school in New Concord, Ohio.

He graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1988, earning his bachelor's degree in social work. He was a two-time all-Mid American Conference offensive tackle at BGSU, and as a junior, he was on the Falcons' 11-1 team in 1985 that lost to Fresno State in the California Bowl but at one time was ranked No. 18 in the nation. Following the completion of his undergraduate degree, he worked four years as a substance abuse counselor at The Toledo Hospital, in conjunction with earning his master's degree in rehabilitation counseling in 1992.

Born June 22, 1964, in Grand Forks, N.D., he graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School (Bloomington, Minn.) in 1982, lettering in football, basketball and track. He was a member of the state high school champion basketball team in 1982, unknowingly having some tie to his future CU job. CU skier Eric Meyer is also a TJ alum, while the school it beat for the title, Duluth East, eventually produced CU track star Kara Wheeler. He is married to the former Jacquie Gierl, and they have three children, Lindsay (8), Jessica (6) and Kyle (2).

DAVID PLATI

Assistant Athletic Director /Media Relations

David Plati is entering his 17th year as the athletic department's director of media relations, and his 23rd year overall in CU's Athletic Media Relations Office. He was promoted to assistant athletic director for media relations on July 1, 1988.

Plati, 40, assumed his current role on Aug. 1, 1984, after serving for three years as the assistant SID. The youngest SID in the nation at the time of his hiring, he previously was a student assistant and statistician since he was a freshman at CU in 1978.

Plati will also be an instructor in CU's School of Journalism in the spring of 2001, teaching a sports media relations class, While attending CU, Plati served four years as the information director for the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. He also worked for the Colorado Golf Association and for the Rocky Mountain News.

He spent his senior year in college (1982) as the public relations director with the Denver Bears Baseball Club of the American Association. He has been a member of the Denver Broncos statistics crew since 1980 (and was presented with game balls by the NFL team for their back-to-back Super Bowl wins). He has worked as a statistician for TBS (for NBA games) and works freelance for ESPN, ABC, CBS and KOA-Radio in a similar capacity. He has worked as the media relations liaison for the Bolder Boulder 10K since 1987, worked as a media relations assistant for the Colorado Open Golf Tournament for 12 years (1980-1991), and served as the media coordinator for the 1985, 1989 and 1996 NCAA West Regionals. He also was the local media coordinator and NCAA liaison for the 1990 Final Four. He was the Hula Bowl's director of game week communications for four years (1995-98).

He is in his 12th year as the executive director of the Rocky Mountai. Athletic Media Relations Directors Association (RMARA), a group he confounded in 1989 with Bronco PR director Jim Saccomano.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in public relations from CU in 1982, along with a minor in geography. He was a member of the journal ism student council and wrote for the school newspaper.

Born April 19, 1960 in New Rochelle, N.Y., Plati graduated fron Woodlands High School (Hartsdale, N.Y.) in 1978, where he lettered it football and golf (and was also the school's SID his senior year). In 1984 he was awarded the "Honorary C" for his service to CU athletics. His younger brother, Mark, was nominated for two Grammy Awards with David Bowie in 1998 (he is a guitarist in Bowie's band), and also engineered the Song-of-the-Year for 1997 (Shawn Colvin's "Sunny Came Home"). He is single.

SCOTT SCHEIFELE

Assistant Athletic Director/ Fundraising Development

Scott Scheifele is in his 16th year as a member of the CU athletic department, his ninth as the assistant athletic director for fundraising development.

He joined the department as assistant director of development in August, 1985, and was promoted to Buff Club Director on July 1, 1988. He was named director of development in December, 1991, and assumed his current title on July 1, 1992. He is also a vice president in the CU Foundation.

He is responsible for all aspects of athletic fund raising, including major gifts, endowments, capital projects and the annual fund, which combined generate almost $5 million of support annually. He oversees a staff consisting of three fund-raisers, a business manager, two support personnel and two student interns.

Scheifele, 41, returned to Colorado from private business. He was the general manager of the Class A Salinas Spurs in the California League (1984), after serving one year as the director of marketing for the Salt Lake City Gulls of the Pacific Coast League (AAA). He graduated from CU in 1981 with a degree in biology. While attending CU, he lettered as a varsity cheerleader.

Born Oct. 27, 1958 in San Francisco, he graduated from Radnor High School in Philadelphia, where he lettered in soccer and gymnastics. He is married to the former Jennifer Heenan, and the couple have three children, Peyton (8), Joseph (6) and Allie (2).

MIKE SMITH

Director of Equipment

Mike Smith is in his second year as director of equipment, and his sixth year as football equipment manager, as he was hired full-time on Aug. 1, 1995. He is an EMC, or certified equipment manager, a status he has earned for his years of service in the profession.

Smith, 30, returned to his alma mater from Utah State University, where he was head equipment director for one year. Prior to his employment in the Aggies athletic department, he worked for IN2 Sports for two years as a team sales specialist.

He also has worked the last three Hula bowls (1998-2000) as its equipment and operations manager, coordinating the many needs of almost 100 of college football's most outstanding players.

He graduated from the University of Colorado in 1992 with a bachelor's degree in mathematics. While he was a student at CU, he worked n the grounds crew, served as a Ralphie runner (accompanying the eam to the 1989 Orange Bowl), and worked three years as a student quipment manager, and was head manager his senior year.

Born May 26, 1970, in Denver, Smith graduated from Broomfield High chool in 1988, where he lettered in golf, basketball and baseball.

BRIAN WINKELBAUER

Special Assistant to the Athletic Director

Brian Winkelbauer is in his fifth year as the special assistant to the athletic director, as he was appointed to the position in February, 1996. He was hired by then-athletic director Bill Marolt to the newly created position, and has continued in that capacity for Dick Tharp.

Winkelbauer, 32, had previously worked two years as the business manager for the Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund. He joined the CU staff from Wasson High School in Colorado Springs, where he taught instrumental music for two years.

He graduated from the University of Colorado in 1991 with a bachelor's degree in music education. As a student at CU, he was a member of the Golden Buffalo Marching Band, serving as the drum major for four years. He also was a member of the legendary "CU Buffoons," an all-male a cappella singing troupe.

Born Aug. 10, 1968, in Denver, he graduated from Aurora Gateway High School in 1986. He helped compose "Ralphie's Dance," a musical number played prior to the CU mascot's taking the field before football games in 1997 and 1998. He is married to the former Dr. Lindy Lynch, and is an avid music enthusiast and softball player.

KRISTIN COLON

Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund Director

Kristin Colon is in her eighth year in the CU athletic department, her fifth as the Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund Director. She had worked the previous three years as the director of the Golden Buffalo Volunteer Network prior to her promotion in 1996.

Colon, 33, started working in the department as an intern in November, 1992, after working three years as a director with Maritz Travel Corporation.

She graduated from Scripps College in 1989 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and communications. At Scripps, she lettered four times in soccer, earning all-conference honors three times, and also lettered three times in water polo.

Born July 29, 1967, in Bad Kreuznach, Germany, she graduated from Fairview High School in Boulder, where she participated in soccer and swimming. Formerly Kristin Heath, she is married to Eric Colon, and they have a son, Heath (born this past spring).

TOM DOYLE

Director of Sports Video

Tom Doyle is in second year as director of sports video, returning to the CU staff for his second "tour of duty" in August, 1999. He oversees the day-to-day operations of scouting video for all varsity sports at CU.

He was CU's assistant director of sports video in 1996 and 1997 under Bill Wong before serving as the director of football video at the University of North Carolina for the 1998 season. Prior to coming to CU for the first time, he was the video coordinator at his alma mater, East Carolina for six years (1991-96). He graduated from ECU with a bachelor's degree in communications in 1991.

A 10-year veteran of producing videos for coaching staff uses in scouting and evaluation, he was elected this past May (2000) to the post of vice president of the Collegiate Sports Video Association, a professional group of national video directors.

Born June 10, 1962 in Chicago, Ill., he graduated from West Carteret High School (Morehead City, N.C.) in 1980. He was a member of the United States Air Force for five years (1981-85), and also has an extensive background in many forms of mass media, having worked in radio, television and print. He is married to the former Renee Shamblin, and has three children from a previous marriage, twin boys Thomas and Charles (19) and daughter Mary (17).

DERIC SWANSON

Director of BuffVision

Deric Swanson is in his second year as the Director of BuffVision, coordinating all aspects of production involving the new $3.6 million video display board operation for athletics (first installed for the 1999

Swanson, 26, came to CU from Ascent Sports, Inc., in Denver, where he had worked for a brief time as the manager of game entertainment and video production. He had previously worked three-plus seasons with the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club, first as a stadium camera operator, and then as video production coordinator, including shooting, editing, producing and directing features and programming. He also worked the 1998 Major League Baseball All-Star Game at Coors Field, shooting and scripting special features leading up to and following the event.

He also worked as an independent contractor with the NHL's Colorado Avalanche, working as an in-game director for the 1998-99 season. He also works as a freelance photojournalist, producer and editor, handling video production for private business and community groups. His clients have included Winter Park Resorts, US West, Colorado State University, the National Sports Center for the Disabled, and Colorado Time Systems.

He has worked numerous times as a production assistant for regional sports productions, including for Turner Sports, Mountain Mobile Productions and TCI Digital TV.

He is a 1996 graduate of Colorado State University, earning his bachelor's degree in technical journalism and broadcasting. He graduated Magna Cum Laude.

He was born May 24, 1974 in Oakland, Calif., and attended two high schools. His father was stationed in the Azores, Portugal, and he spent two years at Lajes High School, where he lettered in football, soccer, volleyball and basketball. After moving to Colorado, he graduated from Liberty High School in Colorado Springs, where he lettered in football. He played volleyball on CSU's club team for three years. He is single.

BLAKE ANDERSON

Alumni C-Club Director

Blake Anderson is in his third year as the Alumni C-Club Director, as he was named to the position in August, 1998. He is responsible for developing relationships with letterwinners in all sports, maintain communication with them, and provide opportunities for them to return to campus and participate in various functions and activities.

Anderson, 28, is the son of College Football Hall-of-Fame member Dick Anderson, and the nephew of All-American Bobby Anderson, both members of CU's All-Century Football Team. But Blake himself will always be remembered for his participation in one of college football's plays of all-time. He tipped the ball to Michael Westbrook on the infamous "The Catch" play at Michigan in 1994, when Kordell Stewart heaved the ball some 73 yards into the end zone where the tip and catch produced a 27-26 Colorado victory.

He graduated from CU in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in communication. He played four years and lettered as a senior, and made a trip to the Hula Bowl that year for his efforts on CU's special teams. He led the Buffaloes in special teams points as a senior, racking up 24, with 17 coming on tackles on coverage units. He finished his CU career as a wide receiver (two receptions in his senior year, one for a touchdown against Kansas), but also saw game time at free safety and played some quarterback during spring ball as a redshirt freshman. He was a member of CU's national champion team in 1990 as a true frosh, but he redshirted that year though practicing at safety.

He went on to play two years of football in Europe (one each in Italy and France) before returning to Colorado where he worked one year as a customer service representative for Spyder (ski and outdoor gear).

Born Nov. 13, 1971 in Miami, Fla., he graduated from Palos Verdes (Calif.) High School in 1990, where he lettered in football, soccer and baseball. An avid golfer and fisherman, he also excelled as an amateur boxer. He is single.

LINDSAY ANHOLD

Assistant Sports Information Director

Lindsay Anhold is in her second year as an assistant sports information director, as she was promoted from graduate assistant on Aug. 6, 1999. She had worked the previous year as the GA in the media relations office and one year as a student assistant.

She is the sports information director for the women's soccer and basketball teams, and assists with women's tennis and track. She worked the NCAA Women's Soccer Final Four in Palo Alto, Calif.

He earned his bachelor's degree in biomedical engineering from Vanderbilt University in 1984, graduating Summa Cum Laude. He received his M.D. from Vanderbilt's School of Medicine in 1988, and then came west to Colorado where he did his internship at CU's Health Sciences Center in Denver in 1988-89. He then took up residence at the HSC from 1989-93, and had a fellowship with the University of Florida Sports Medicine department in 1993-94. He was born Dec. 1961 in Baltimore, Md., and is single.

DR. PETER EWING

Team Physician Emeritu.

Dr. Peter Ewing is beginning his 28th sea son as a CU team physician. Ewing attended most football practices and took care of gen eral illness and orthopedic screening fo years, and remains an active participant or game days. He is a member of the Dakoti Ridge Medical Center staff. Born in Portchester, N.Y., Ewing graduated from Union College in Schenectady, N.Y. in 1965 with a bachelor of art degree in modern lan guage. He graduated from the Albany Medical College, in Albany, N.Y., in 1969. He first came to Boulder as an intern in the CU-Denver Family Residency program, and has practiced in Boulder since 1972. He is married (Mary Jean) and is the father of two children.

DR. TOM KUNSTMAN

Team Physician

Dr. Kunstman is his third year working with the CU athletic program. Board certified in pediatrics, he attended medical school at the University of Wisconsin.

He completed his residency in pediatrics at Dartmouth University in Hanover, N.H., and completed fellowships in adolescent medicine at Harvard University and the University of California at San Francisco.

His areas of medical interest are sports medicine, men's health, travel medicine, health risk assessments, and attentionrelated problems.

Team Physician

Dr. Michael Brager is in his first year as a Colorado team physician, as he joined the sports medicine staff in August 2000.

Brager, 33, joins CU from right down the road, as he completed his Fellowship at the University of Colorado Sports Medicine Clinic prior to his appointment as a team doctor. He served as a fellow to the team physicians at CU, the University of Denver, the Colorado Avalanche and the Denver Broncos, as well as working with two Denver area high schools, Overland and Littleton Heritage.

He graduated from Johns Hopkins University in 1989 with a double degree in biomedical and materials science engineering. He earned his doctor of medicine degree from the University of Florida in 1993, and then did his internship in general surgery at the Orlando (Fla.) Regional Healthcare System the following year. He completed his residency in orthopedic surgery, also with the ORHS, in 1999.

He has amassed an impressive career resume in the medical profession, one that includes several research studies and presentations.

Born Aug. 6, 1967 in Washington, D.C., he graduated from Moorestown (N.J.) High School in 1986, where he lettered in track (pole vault; he also was a pole-vaulter at Johns Hopkins). He is single.

THE BIG 12 CONFERENCE

The Big 12 Conference became a reality on February 25, 1994, when Southwest Conference members Baylor, Texas, Texas A & M and Texas Tech merged with Big Eight Conference institutions Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State to pursue common academic and athletic endeavors.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in its classrooms and its stadiums. In all, league institutions have received numerous accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, Big 12 teams have accounted for more than 130 NCAA team championships and 16 football titles, while its student-athletes have claimed more than 750 NCAA crowns entering the 2000-01 academic year. The formation of the Big 12 represents an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve even higher levels of performance heading into the 21st century.

Steven J. Hatchell, a Colorado graduate, became the conference's first commissioner on March 26, 1995, and was in no small part responsible for the immediate success of the nation's newest conference. Under his direction, the Big 12 took a big step toward community service in May, 1996, by adopting Special Olympics as its primary philanthropy.

Hatchell stepped down in May, 1998, and Kevin Weiberg was named the league's second commissioner later that year. Donnie Duncan, formerly the athletic director at Oklahoma, is the league's associate commissioner for football operations. Tim Allen and Prentice Gautt are associate commissioners, with Tim Millis the supervisor of football officials.

BIG 12 CONFERENCE

Another innovative venture of the Big 12 is the development of the Life Skills Program and Academic Service which seeks to enhance the "total person" concept bot on and off the field. Programs such as the Studen Athletic Advisory Committee, Special Olympics and the NCAA's heralded YES program of clinics and stay is school messages to youngsters are just a few life skill areas promoted by the Big 12.

Exposure is key in any endeavor of this magnitude, anthe Big 12 has one of the most comprehensive regions and national telecast agreements in the country.

ABC and Fox Sports Network combine to produc nearly 40 football games annually in syndicated, regiona national and prime time windows. The Conference dom nates network television annually on the Friday afte Thanksgiving with back-to-back national telecasts o Texas versus Texas A&M and Colorado versus Nebraska

In all, the packages with ABC, Fox Sports Network and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through the year 2000 (2008 with ABC for footbal television) and at least $145 million into the coffers of the member institutions.

The Big 12 utilizes a North-South divisional format in football, with the two Oklahoma schools and the four Texas schools making up the Big 12 South with the remaining six schools competing in the Big 12 North. The champions of each respected division face each other in a showdown in early December to determine the Big 12 representative to the Bowl Alliance.

Institution chancellors and presidents serve as the chief policy makers of the Conference, operating as the Council of Chief Executive Officers. Administration of the league occurs through the Faculty Athletics Representatives, Athletics Directors and Senior Woman Administrators.

In all, the Big 12 is home to more than 1,500 student-athletes on 209 teams in the 21 men's and women's Big 12-sponsored sports. Men's programs regulated by the league include basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor and outdoor track, swimming, tennis and wrestling. Big 12-regulated women's programs include basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor and outdoor track, soccer, softball, swimming and tennis. Colorado, of course, also offers the prestigious programs of men's and women's skiing.

COLORADO'S CONFERENCE HISTORY

The Big 12 Conference is technically the sixth conference in which the University of Colorado will be a member.

There were no organized leagues in the Rocky Mountain region when CU started playing football in 1890. In 1893, Colorado was a charter member of the Colorado Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA; also known as the Colorado Football Association), joined by Denver, Colorado College, Colorado Mines and Colorado A & M. CU remained a member through 1908 (except 1905, when it withdrew from the state conference prior to the season).

In 1909, a new alignment called the Colorado Faculty Athletic Conference came into existence, with CU, CC, A & M and Mines the charter members. One year later in 1910, the name was changed to the Rocky Mountain Faculty Athletic Conference, as the league expanded geographically to include Utah and Denver, and later, Utah State (1914), Montana State (1917), Brigham Young (1918), Wyoming (1921), and Colorado Teachers College (now Northern Colorado) and Western State (1924). This new league, built on a foundation of faculty control, lasted through the 1936-37 school year.

In 1937, a serious gap that had developed between the elite of the RMAC and the smaller schools was corrected with the formation of the Mountain States Conference. This new league consisted of CU, DU, A & M, Wyoming, Utah, Utah State and BYU. The remaining five schools continued on as the RMAC, which today remains one of the oldest conferences in the nation.

A decade later, CU athletics would change forever, as the Buffaloes were accepted into the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association (also known as the Big Six) on Dec. 1, 1947. Colorado started competition in this league in the 1948-49 school year, thus changing the name to the Big Seven. Other schools in the league were lowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma. When Oklahoma State rejoined the group after a three decade absence in 1958, the conference became known as the Big Eight.

On Feb. 25, 1994, it was announced that Baylor, Texas, Texas A & M and Texas Tech accepted invitations to join all Big Eight schools to form a new super-conference known as the Big 12. The four former Southwest Conference schools joined the eight Big Eight schools in starting the new league on July 1, 1996; it was considered a new conference and not a merger.

MEDIA INFORMATION DE LA COMPANION DE LA COMPAN

MEDIA CREDENTIALS for covering athletic events at the University of Colorado can be obtained by writing the Athletic Media Relations Office two weeks in advance of the scheduled contest. Requests which are approved will either be mailed or left at the will call window (located in the ticket building adjacent to Gate 6, just off Colorado Avenue). Coverage of all CU athletic events dictate approval of press credentials for Colorado media outlets; radio and television stations must cover practice and/or get postgame and postpractice tape on a regular basis to qualify for credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS will be issued only to officially recognized media outlets and/or individuals on special assignment. Only working photographers will be allowed on the sidelines. Photographers must have their passes displayed at all times on the sidelines, and must remain outside the 25-yard lines on both sides of the field. Due to the constraints of Folsom Field's sidelines, a limit of 25 field photo passes will be permitted for members of the media which cover the visiting team.

FAX SERVICE is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please contact the Athletic Media Relations Office either in advance or on the day of the game.

TELEPHONE SERVICES are available through Qwest Communications, but it is advised that you make your arrangements at least one week in advance of the game. To order a phone line, contact Jeff Tietz of Qwest at 800/301-9220 (FAX: 800/705-3307) for installation. The address of the press box when asked is 2005 Colorado Avenue. Qwest provides a line only; you must make arrangements for your own telephone set. The campus communications office (303/492-5194, Marianne Holcomb) will assist you with your telephone orders. Note: Please check with the athletic media relations on your telephone needs. There are seven courtesy lines in the press box after the game, and four available for use during the game.

VISITING RADIO personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Athletic Media Relations Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. The station is responsible for making its own arrangements with Qwest (Jeff Tietz, 800/301-9220). Qwest will contact th Athletic Media Relations Office for booth assignment. Spotter and/or statisticians are available upon request (please request a least 72 hours before the event).

PRESS BOX SERVICES include play-by-play and statistical highlights at the end of each period. Full statistical facts and figure along with quotes from coaches and players will be available following the contest. The media will be escorted to the locker room: following the event for postgame interviews. Coach Barnett's postgame press conference can also be heard over the audio system in the press box for those media members who can't make it down to the lockerroom after the game. An informal luncheon will be served in the press box starting two hours prior to kickoff.

HANDICAP ACCESS is available via elevator to the Folsom Field press box facility at the north end of Balch Fieldhouse.

A "NO SMOKING" POLICY is in effect at Folsom Field, including the press box, to conform with University of Colorado policy concerning smoking on campus. Those members of the media who do smoke will be directed to those areas of the stadium where smoking is permitted.

PARKING passes are limited. The media must request parking along with their credentials request. Media outlets covering the University of Colorado on a regular basis will have first priority.

FOLSOM FIELD is located in the University of Colorado campus at the corner of Colorado Avenue and Folsom Street. Driving time from Denver International Airport is approximately 50 minutes via the Denver-Boulder Turnpike (U.S. 36). The Press Box is located on the west side of the stadium, and the entrance for the media is on the west side of the field through Gate No. 1. The press box phone numbers are 303/492-5626 and 303/492-3209.

The University of Colorado has been cited for "Outstanding Press Box Working Services" in 1982, 1987 and 1992 by the Football Writers Association of America. (Schools were eligible to be honored once every five years; the FWAA discontinued the awards in 1996.)

ress Luncheons: Gary Barnett will hold Monday press conferences starting Sept. 4 through Dec. 4 (except the Mondays prior to open weeks) in the Dal Ward Center. Lunch is served at 11:30 a.m., with Barnett starting the conference at Noon.

/ideo Highlights: Colorado football highlights can be obtained through the CU Sports Video department (303/492-7354).

Weekly Releases: Colorado's weekly news release will be available through its website and a FAX network. Weekly mailings are limited but can be requested, but media members can call one number and access a menu that will provide information on demand. For further details, call the CU Athletic Media Relations office at 303/492-5626.

nternet: All Colorado media relations information is available on the Internet at: www.cu-sports.com. The weekly release is scheduled to be posted by Noon Mondays.

Big 12

Monday Coaches Briefing: All 12 league coaches are available Mondays throughout the season (Aug. 28 through Nov. 27) on a Big 12 Football Coaches Teleconference. Barnett is on weekly at 10:40 a.m. mountain; to access the conference, please call 913/981-5507.

Video Highlights: Details were not finalized at press time; please call the league office for information (214/742-1212).

Weekly Releases: All Big 12 schools and the league office offer a FAX-on-demand service. Releases, statistics, game notes, schedules and other information is available through this system, which allows the media to retrieve information easily and instantaneously. Everything can be done through the handset of a FAX machine. To participate, media members can contact the CU Athletic Media Relations office or the Big 12 Conference office at 214/742-1212, or on the internet log on to www.mediateamlink.com.

- Media representatives desiring access to players, coaches and facilities must obtain the consent of the Athletic Media Relations (AMR) office. A general idea of what interviews are about will be requested; however, players and coaches will determine if they will do interviews or answer questions, not AMR personnel.
- Most practices will be open to the local media, as well as to any member of national media organization who is not connected with a future opponent on the team schedule. Opponent media must obtain authorization to attend practice through the AMR office, which in turn will seek approval from the head coach. Media (or invited guests approved by the coaching staff) must wear laminated passes at all times during practice.
 - A. Photographers (still and video) are allowed to shoot the first 20 minutes of practice. Certain plays and formations are not to be taped, filmed, photographed or reported (i.e., "trick" plays, option plays, or anything that reveals an entire formation. All video at practice is to be shot tight (drills, warm-up and some of special teams excluded). In addition, no microphones at any time can be placed in a position where they can pick up the cadence from the line of scrimmage. Violation of this will result in the revocation of all privileges.
 - B. Members of the media are not to interview the players during the daily moratorium period (2:15 p.m. through the end of practice). In addition, media members are to be on the sidelines only and are not to be in the end zones or on the playing field at any practice.
 - C. Live television shots must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations office and/or the head coach in advance.
- The following are times when football players are available for interviews (in-season):

9:00 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday After Practice tuesday, Wednesday (—2:00 p.m. after return to standard time.)

The cutoff point for player interviews is after practice on Wednesday prior to the game (Tuesday for Friday games). Monday is the standard day off for players, as per NCAA rule (one day off per week); they are available at their discretion. Any exceptions to this must be approved by the head coach (including any interviews on the road: newspaper, radio or television).

The head coach will be available to the media at the following times: his Monday Luncheon (Noon), post-practice on Tuesday and Wednesday (other times at his discretion), and pre-practice (approximately 2:00-2:15 p.m.) on Thursday. Exceptions: television and radio broadcast rights holders' requirements, usually fulfilled Fridays. Assistant coaches are available for interviews Monday through Thursday (pre-practice), then afterwards at their discretion. All are available following games.

Television interviews can take place with the most ease between 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. and following practice. Photographers are allowed to shoot practice footage, as long as they follow the guidelines set forth above, under No. 2, parts A & B.

No posed pictures (either for newspapers or television) are to be taken between 2:15 p.m. and the end of the practice.

Exceptions to any of the above must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations office and the head coach. Exceptions will be limited, but would include standard rights fee network interviews on the day preceding the game, or if a student-athlete did not meet an obligation he agreed to earlier in the week.

- 4. The lockerroom shall be closed to the media during preseason practice, game week and spring football. THE PLAYERS WILL VOTE ON whether it will be open following games and scrimmages. When the lockerroom is closed, nearby meeting rooms and hallways are utilized for interviews. A member of the AMR office will be on hand to help arrange interviews following all practices. Members of the media are to advise the AMR office that they will need to conduct interviews following practice (advance notice is not required since all practices are staffed).
- 5. The training and equipment rooms, the strength and conditioning center and the academic/tutorial areas are AT ALL TIMES off-limits to the media. The only exception to this rule is if a special feature involving one of the areas is requested; approval must be sought in advance from the AMR office and the proper department head.
- 6. Sunday is a private day for the team. Coaches and players will generally not be available for interviews; exceptions will be few and must be approved in advance by AMR and the head coach. Coaches will be grading film, coordinating practice and briefing the squad on scouting the opponent and preparing game plans, and will have little or no availability on Sundays.
- Road practices are open only to members of the media that cover CU on a regular basis, as well as any members of the national media. The head coach is available for interviews with opponent media based on his personal discretion, as is their admittance to any road practice.
- 8. It is the request of the University of Colorado football program that players are not to be called at home, unless permission has been granted by the player or through the director of media relations. Even though most phone numbers are generally listed in directory information, players are allowed to decline interviews when contacted at home if the interview was not approved or scheduled in advance.
- 9. Those who regularly cover the team will be provided with E-mail addresses of coaches and players. The process will be such where you can E-mail coaches directly, and the players directly with a cc: to the Athletic Media Relations director. E-mail interviews will not replace in-person interviews, we will offer them as a supplement.

The Colorado Football Network originates in Denver with KOA-Radio (850am) serving as the flagship, feeding the broadcast to N 20 radio stations in the Rocky Mountain region.

CU and KOA are entering the final year of their latest five-year contract, the fourth between the two entities since they were reunited in 1985. The first two agreements were three years in length, with the next two five-year deals. KOA, a 50,000-watt powerhouse, also handled the Buff broadcasts from 1940 through 1981. All told, KOA is entering its 58th season of Colorado football broadcasts.

For the fourth straight year, the KOA announcing team for Buffalo football will be comprised of Larry Zimmer, Jim Ryan and Bobby Anderson. Zimmer and Ryan also team up on CU men's basketball broadcasts.

Zimmer is in his 27th season with the Buffaloes, the third longest current tenure in the Big 12 Conference. The 1957 Missouri graduate (journalism) served as the voice of the Buffs from 1971 through 1981, and since 1985, when KOA came back on board as the radio rights holder. Zimmer did four years of play-by-play for the University of Michigan (1966-69) prior to moving to Colorado, where he was also a fixture on Denver Bronco broadcasts as well. Zimmer was selected the 1995 Broadcaster-of-the-Year by the Colorado Broadcasters Association. He was also the Sportscaster-of-the-Year for Colorado as selected by the National Sportscaster and Sportswriters Association for 1988, 1990 and 1991. Most recently, he was selected for mention in the Millennium Edition of Who' Who in America, based on his quarter century of announcing CU and Bronco games.

Ryan is in his sixth season as color analyst. A 1979 graduate of the College of William & Mary (business management), he lettered four years in football and signed as a free agent with the Denver Broncos. He went on to play 10 seasons with the Broncos, seven as a starting linebacker and missing only one game in his entire NFL career. One of his many career highlights came when he was named the most valuable player in Denver's win over Cleveland in the 1987 AFC Championship game. He also works as an independent freelance broadcaster for college and pro football games, and is a motivational speaker.

Anderson is in his 24th season (21st on KOA) of handling pregame, postgame and in-game sideline coverage on Buf broadcasts. He graduated from CU in 1970, lettering three year: in football in setting numerous school records. He is one of jus three football players at Colorado to have had his number (11) retired. Following his illustrious CU career, he went on to play for the Broncos and Washington Redskins in the NFL.

KOA also originates the Gary Barnett Show, which is airec Wednesdays during the football season at 7:00 p.m. The show features a live audience at the Ramada Inn in Boulder (Oliver's Restaurant), and goes out over the entire network and solicits callers from around the state.

The list of stations on this year's CU Football Network (all AM stations unless otherwise noted):

KALQ-FM	Alamosa	KKPR	Kearney, Neb.
KNFO-FM	Aspen	KBZZ	La Junta

Anderson

KCNC-TV, the CBS affiliate and Channel 4 in Denver, will again televise "The Gary Barnett Show" this season.

The half-hour program is hosted by Mark McIntosh and it airs at 10:35 p.m. Sunday nights during the season. It is the 17th consecutive year in which CU and KCNC have maintained a partnership to produce the CU coaches shows. The station also broadcasts the Ricardo Patton and Ceal Barry shows for basketball.

McIntosh is in his 13th year of hosting the program, as well as covering the Buffaloes for KCNC.

Prior to the Big 12 Conference's television contract which exclusively guarantees games on ABC and FOX Sports, KCNC televised 51 Colorado games between 1985 and 1995, with CU posting a 44-6-1 record in those games.

Barnett

McIntosh

.C Joint — Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the houlder where acromion process of the scapula nd the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shouler separations occur at this point.

.bduct — Movement of any extremity away from he midline of the body. This action is achieved by n abductor muscle.

(brasion — Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess — An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adduct — Movement of an extremity toward the nidline of the body. This action is achieved by an adductor muscle.

Adhesion — Abnormal adherence of collagen ibers to surrounding structures during immobization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic — Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required for sustained periods of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.

Anabolic Steroids — Steroids that promote tissue growth by creating protein in an attempt to enhance muscle growth. The main anabolic steroid is testosterone (male sex hormone).

Anaerobic — Exercise without use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercises.

Anaphylactic Shock — Shock that is caused by an allergic reaction.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome — Condition in which swelling within the anterior compartment of the lower leg jeopardizes the viability of muscles, nerves and arteries that serve the foot. In severe cases, emergency surgery is necessary to relieve the swelling and pressure.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) — A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Anterior Talofibular Ligament — A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is often subject to sprain.

Anti-Inflammatory — Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Anteriogram — A film demonstrating arteries after injection of a dye.

Arthrogram — X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Anthroscope — An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.

Arthroscopy — A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means for viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.

Aspiration — The withdrawal of fluid from a body cavity by means of a suction or siphonage apparatus, such as a syringe.

Atrophy — To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Avascular Necrosis — Death of a part due to lack of circulation.

Avulsion — The tearing away, forcibly, of a part or structure.

Baker's Cyst — Localized swelling of a bursa sac in the posterior knee as a result of fluid that has escaped from the knee capsule. A Baker's cyst indicates that there is a trauma inside the knee joint that leads to excessive fluid production.

Bone Scan — An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bony injury. If the radioactive substance is taken up the bone at the injury site, the injury will show as a "hot spot" on the scan image. The bone scan is particularly useful in the diagnosis of stress fractures.

Brachial Plexus — Network of nerves originating from the cervical vertebrae and running down to the shoulder, arm, hand, and fingers.

Bruise — A discoloration of the skin due to an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.

Bursa — A fluid-filled sac that is located in areas where friction is likely to occur, then minimizes the friction; for example between a tendon and bone.

Capsule — An enclosing structure which surrounds the joint and contains ligaments which stabilize that joint.

Cartilage — Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together and grating.

CAT Scan — Use of a computer to produce a cross sectional view of the anatomical part being investigated from X-ray data.

Cellulitis — Inflammation of cellular or connective tissue.

Cervical Vertebrae — Group of seven vertebrae located in the neck.

Charley Horse — A contusion or bruise to any muscle resulting in intramuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.

Colles' Fracture — A fracture of the distal end of the radium with the lower end being displaced backward

Concentric Muscle Contraction — A shortening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to move a resistance.

Concussion — Jarring injury of the brain resulting in dysfunction. It can be graded as mild, moderate or severe depending on loss of consciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.

Contusion — An injury to a muscle and tissues caused by a blow from a blunt object Cortical Steroids — Used to suppress joint inflammation.

Costochondral — Cartilage that separates the bones within the rib cage.

Cryokinetics — Treatment with cold and movement.

Cryotherapy — A treatment with the use of cold.

Cyst — Abnormal sac containing liquid or semisolid matter.

Degenerative Joint Disease — Changes in the joint surface as a result of repetitive trauma.

Deltoid Ligament — Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side. Is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Deltoid Muscle — Muscles at top of the arm, just below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions to the front, side and back.

Disc, Intervertebral — A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. This disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Dislocation — Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction — An overall lengthening of the muscles as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; oft times referred to a "negative" contraction in weight training.

Eccymosis — Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect. Edema — Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body (swelling).

Effusion — Accumulation of fluid, in various spaces in the body, or the knee itself. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.

Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS) — An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a current to the body at select voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.

Electromyogran (EMG) — Test to determine nerve function.

Epicondylitis — Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.

Ethyl Chloride — "Cold splay," a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.

Fat Percentage — The amount of body weight that is adipose, fat tissue. Fat percentages can be calculated by underwater weighing, measuring select skinfold thickness, or by analyzing electrical impedance.

Femur — Thigh bone: longest bone in the body.

Fibula — Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.

Flexibility — The ability of muscle to relax and yield to stretch forces.

Flexibility Exercise — General term used to describe exercise performed by a player to passively or actively elongate soft tissue without the assistance of an athletic trainer.

Fracture — Breach of continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress, or transverse.

Gamekeeper's Thumb — Tear of the ulnar collateral ligament of the metacarpophalangeal joint of the thumb.

Glycogen — Form in which foods are stored in the body as energy.

Grade One Injury — A mild injury in which ligament, tendon, or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn of otherwise disrupted.

Grade Two Injury — A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally, torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.

Grade Three Injury — A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly, and in some cases totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.

Hamstring — Category of muscle that runs from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. It functions to flex the knee, and is often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility.

Heat Cramps — Painful muscle spasms of the arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.

Heat Exhaustion — Mild form of shock due to dehydration because of excessive sweating when exposed to heat and humidity.

Heat Stroke — Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the body's mechanisms for release of heat and could result in death if not cared for appropriately.

Heel Cup — Orthotic device that is inserted into the shoe and fit under the heel to give support to the Achilles tendon and help absorb impacts at the heel.

Hematoma — Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.

Hot Pack — Chemical pack that rests in water, approximately 160 degrees, and retains its heat for 15-20 minutes when placed in a towel for general therapeutic application.

Humerus — Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.

Hydrotherapy - Treatment using water.

Hyperextension — Extreme extension of a limb or body part.

Iliotibial Band — A thick, wide fascial layer that runs from the iliac crest to the knee joint and is occasionally inflamed as a result of excessive running.

Inflammation — The body's natural response to injury in which the injury site might display various degrees of pain, sweating, heat. redness. and/or loss of function.

Internal Rotation — Rotation of a joint or extremity medially, to the inside.

Lesion — Wound, injury or tumor.

Ligament — Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Lumbar Vertebrae — Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) — Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc, and meniscus injuries.

Meniscectomy — An intra-articular surgical procedure of the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus — Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage." There are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.

Metacarpals — Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers, Metatarsals — Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Myositis — Inflammation of a muscle.

Necrotic — Relating to death of a portion of tissue.

Neoprene — Lightweight rubber used in joint and muscle sleeves designed to provide support and/or insulation and heat retention to the area.

Neuritis - Inflammation of a nerve.

Orthotic — Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.

Parasthesia — Sensation of numbness or tingling, indicating nerve irritation.

Patella — The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as increase the mechanical advantage and force generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis — Inflammation of the patella ligament; also known as "jumpers knee."

Patellofemoral Joint — Articulation of the knee cap and femur. Inflammation of this joint can occur through: 1) acute injury to the patella, 2) overuse from excessive running particularly if there is an associated knee weakness, 3) chronic wear and tear of the knee, 4) as a result of poor foot mechanics. Patellofemoral irritation can lead to chondromalancia, which in its most chronic condition, could require surgery.

Peroneal Muscles — Group of muscles of the lateral lower leg that are responsible for everting the knee. Tendons of these three muscles are vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.

Phalanx — Any bone of the fingers or toes; plural is phalanges.

Phlebitis - Inflammation of a vein.

Plica — Fold of tissue in the joint capsule and a common result of knee injury.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) — A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Quadricep Muscles "Quads" — A group of four muscles of the front thigh that run from the hip and form a common tendon at the patella; they are responsible for knee extension.

Radiography - Taking of X-rays.

Radius - Forearm bone on the thumb side.

Reconstruction — Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materials.

Referred Pain — Pain felt in an undamaged area of body away from the actual injury.

Retraction — The moving of tissue to expose a part or structure of the body.

Rotator Cuff — Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by over use. The muscles are the supraspinatus(most commonly injured), infraspinatus, teres minor, and subscapularis.

Rotator Cuff Impingement Syndrome — A microtrauma or overuse injury caused by stress, and the four stages are: 1) Tendentious with temporary thickening of the bursa and rotator cuff: 2) Fiber dissociation in the tendon with permanent thickening of the bursa and scar formation; 3) A partial rotator cuff tear of less than one centimeter; and 4) A complete tear of one centimeter or more.

Sacrum — Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the low back.

Scapula - Shoulder blade.

Sciatica — Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain or tingling running down the inside of the leg.

Sciatic Nerve — Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the low back and thigh and lower leg: it is the longest nerve in the body.

Shin Splint — A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the skin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Sorbothane — An energy absorbing polyurethane utilized in some foot orthotics to absorb shock forces of the foot.

Spasm (Theory) — Muscle soreness induced by exercise; is the result of reduced muscle blood flow, which results in pain.

Spleen — Large, solid organ responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.

Spondylitis — Inflammation of one or more vertebrae

Spondylolisthesis — Forward displacement of one vertebrae over another below it due to a developmental defect in the vertebrae.

Spondylosis — Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.

Sprain — Injury resulting from a stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.

Sternum - The breast bone.

Steroids — Any one of a large number of hormonelike substances. See Anabolic steroids and cortical steroids.

Strain — Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.

Stress Fracture — A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.

Stress X-ray — A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum in order to determine joint stability. This is a test utilized in some ankle injuries.

Stretching — Any therapeutic maneuver designer to elongate shortened soft tissue structures anothereby increase flexibility.

Subluxation — Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can return to it normal position without formal reduction.

Talus — The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.

Target Heart Rate — A pre-determined pulse to be obtained during exercise when circulation is work ing at full efficient capacities.

Tarsals — Group of seven bones of the foot consisting of the calnavicular, talus, cuboid and three cuneiform bones.

Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ) — The articulation of the jaw and skull; considered by some to be vital in resolution of injuries throughout the body.

Tendinities — Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.

Tendon — Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

Tennis Elbow — General term for lateral elbow pain.

Thoracic — Group of twelve vertebrae located in the thorax and articulate with the twelve ribs.

Thoracic Outlet Compression Syndrome — A neuro-vascular disorder of the upper extremity common in throwing.

Tibia — Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and is the weight-bearing bone of the shin.

Tomograph — A special type of X-ray apparatus that demonstrates an organ or tissue at a particular depth.

Trachea — The windpipe.

Trascutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulator (TENS) — An electrical modality that sends a mild current through pads at the injury site which stimulates the brain to release the natural analgesic endorphin.

Transverse Process — Small lateral projection off the right side and left side of each vertebrae that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.

Trapezius — Flat triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.

Triceps — Muscle of the back of the upper arm, primarily responsible for extending the elbow.

Ulna — Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.

Ulnar Nerve — Nerve in elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.

Ultrasound — An electrical modality that transmits a sound wave through an applicator into the skin to the soft tissue in order to heat the local area for relaxing the injured tissue and/or disperse edema.

Valgus — Angulation outward and away from the midline of the body.

Varus – Angulation inward and toward the midline of the body.

Vasoconstriction — Decrease of local blood flow. Vasodilation — Increase of local blood flow.

"Wind Knocked Out" — Syndrome describing a contraction of the abdominal nerve truck, the solar plexus, as a result of an abdominal contusion.

Wrist — The junction between the two forearm bones (radius and ulna) and the eight wrist bones (trapezium, capitate, hamate, pisiform, triquetral, lunate and scaphoid).

Zygoma — The cheekbone.

BARNETT FOOTBALL SCHOOL

The Gary Barnett Football Technique School has become the 10st popular in the Rocky Mountain Region, as kids from ages 12 ight-to-18 have annually come to Boulder to enjoy a week's 20rth of learning and recreation.

Called one of the best football camps in America, the school satures CU head coach Gary Barnett, the Buffalo coaching staff, nd several area college and high school coaches. The strength of CU's technique school is the player-to-coach ratio (never nore than 10-1) and the emphasis on teaching.

Former CU players also return on occasion to participate in he camp. In the past, the likes of Kordell Stewart, Eric Bieniemy, leath Irwin, Mike Moschetti and Kyle Rappold have been on and to help teach.

The majority of the school is spent on the field in the actual eaching and drilling of the fundamentals and techniques of each position, the same exact things the Colorado Buffaloes are taught. Campers will learn about the importance of attitude, discipline, work, pride and team concept, the same qualities that have made CU a national championship program.

Following dinner, campers play "Buff Ball," which is best explained as fast break basketball on grass. Afterwards, they have a choice of hit movies to watch prior to lights out.

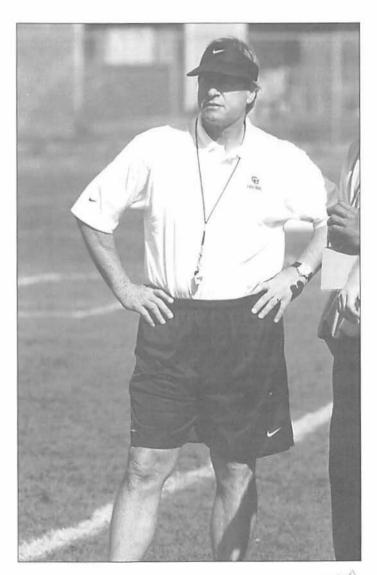

The Buffalo Technique School is annually one of the largest youth football camps in the nation, as over 1,000 participated in 1999. But even with these large numbers, kids come away from the camp with the feeling of having a quality individual experience.

Camp dates for 2000 are tentatively scheduled for June 13-15 (8 to 13 year-olds) and June 17-20 (14 years and older). Rates are available for daycampers (in the $175 range) and dormcampers ($275-325). For more information, call the CU football office at 303/492-5331.
